Seeking "New Level of Excellence," Leutze Announces Athletics Changes

In an effort to "reach a new level of excellence" for UNCW's athletic program, Chancellor James R. Leutze has announced six key changes he is implementing to strengthen fund raising, promotions and marketing efforts in athletics. This action follows completion of a review of recommendations in the Bonham Report by a committee of faculty, staff and a trustee.

The Bonham Group

The university commissioned a nationally renowned sports marketing firm, The Bonham Group, to offer ideas about how to raise additional funds as well as increase national visibility for UNCW athletic teams. Once the report was received in May, Leutze formed a committee headed by Trustee Hannah Gage to review it and make recommendations to him on how to proceed.

In calling for the study of the Athletic Department, Leutze emphasized that he has long been pleased with the excellence achieved by student-athletes at UNCW, and he commended the athletic director and his staff for their activities in this regard. "We also have made great progress in meeting gender equity requirements," he noted. "Moreover, I'm pleased with improvements in the program as evidenced by the five second place finishes this year in the CAA.

"However, I do believe that for us to reach a new level of excellence, we must do a better job of raising money and marketing our fine product," Leutze said. "Because of the cost of competing in a conference that contains many schools that have more resources available than we do, we simply must find a way to make more people positively aware of our program.

"It's for this reason that we have brought in the Bonham Group and asked Hannah Gage to chair the committee to review their report. There were many fine suggestions in the report that I'm convinced, if implemented, will achieve the desired result."

Changes to be Implemented

Specific changes include having the athletic director report periodically to the Board of Trustees through the University Advancement Committee; having the chancellor provide written annual evaluations of the athletic director; developing by September 1 a long-range plan for fund raising, marketing and promotions; and improving internal communication within the Athletic Department.

Of particular importance to fund raising, promotions, and marketing strategy will be a team-based restructuring of several management and reporting functions involving athletics and advancement. The newly-named executive director of the Seahawk Club, Kevin Donovan, will report to Vice Chancellor for University Advancement Bill Anlyan. Assistant athletic director for promotions, Jennifer Alley, will report to Athletic Director Paul Miller. These four positions will have dotted-line relationships, and teamwork will be an integral part of their performance evaluations.

In commenting on the revised organizational structure, in particular bringing the Seahawk Club management under Advancement, Leutze noted that there is "one aspect of athletic relations within a university that concerns me and every other chief academic officer, that fund raising activities be adequately coordinated and supervised.

"Many universities have unwittingly gotten into trouble by having too many individual fund-raising activities going on simultaneously. For this reason, I want the management of the fund raising aspect of athletics to be overseen by our primary fund-raising official, the vice chancellor for University Advancement," Leutze said.

He also is asking the athletic director for suggestions on how to implement other suggestions in the report by September 1. These include upgrading Trask Coliseum, constructing a marquee for advertising upcoming events and developing sponsor-vendor agreements.

Leutze expressed his appreciation for the thorough and conscientious work done by the review committee. In addition to Gage, committee members were Dr. Ken Gurganus, assistant professor of mathematical sciences; Dr. Joanne Rockness, Cameron professor of accountancy in the Cameron School of Business; Tyrone Rowell, associate vice chancellor for University Advancement; and Marvin Robison, former president of the UNCW Alumni Association Seahawk Club board member.

UNCW, Republic of Cyprus Announce International Living Treasure Program

At a news conference in Nicosia, Cyprus, June 20, the Republic of Cyprus and UNCW announced the formation of the International Living Treasure Award. Representing Cyprus was Mrs. Klairi Aggelidou, minister of education and culture. Representing UNCW was Vice Chancellor Bill Anlyan.

Also on hand was Dr. Takey Crist of Jacksonville, N.C., physician and activist in the Greek community who has worked to bring the international award to fruition.

The award is the third phase of a program begun at UNCW by philosophy and religion professor, Dr. Gerald Shinn, who founded the North Carolina Living Treasure, presented very fall, and the National Living Treasure, presented every two years. The International Living Treasure will be awarded every three years, with the first prize being granted in 1997 when the university will celebrate its 50th anniversary.

"The purpose of the Living Treasure Award program is to honor those creators whose work is not appreciated as fine art but is of a utilitarian nature," explained Mrs. Aggelidou at the press conference. "Blacksmiths, glass artisans, carvers, leather artisans, weavers and others, in other words, representatives of folk arts . . . people who attempt to integrate utility with aesthetic beauty."

Mr. Anlyan commented that the collaborative effort between UNCW and Cyprus will be a "tremendous benefit to the global community interested in the preservation of the arts and native crafts."

Details of the nomination and selection process are being developed; however, it was announced that the substantial involvement of Cyprus will occur under the auspices of the president of the Republic and will include responsibility for international promotion of the award program and formation of a committee. All countries will be invited every three years to submit their candidates to the Cyprus Republic.

The award ceremony will take place at UNCW in the presence of the president of the Republic of Cyprus, and the awarded work will be exhibited first in Cyprus.

Mrs. Aggelidou said she expects her country to benefit greatly from this program which "promotes the image of Cyprus on the international plane."

Faculty and Staff

Jeff Hill and Robert Buerger, HPER, presented their paper "Hypermedia as a Bridge between Education and Profession" at ED-MEDIA 95: The World Conference on Educational Multimedia and Hypermedia in Graz, Austria.

Dr. Sybil K. Burgess, chemistry, has been invited to organize a symposium on "Biotechnological Products Derived from Crustacean Exoskeletons" for the Industrial Chemistry Division of the American Chemical Society. The symposium will be held at the spring 1997 national meeting in San Francisco, Calif.

Dr. Robert Kieber, chemistry, and Dr. George Helz from the University of Maryland have had a paper published in the most recent issue of Estuarine, Coastal and Shelf Science titled "Temporal and Seasonal Variations of Hydrogen Peroxide Levels in Estuarine Waters."

Dr. David Webster and Dr. Jon Geller, biological sciences, have been awarded a $16,000 research grant from the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service for their proposal "The Taxonomic Status of the Dismal Swamp Southeastern Shrew."

Dr. Michael A. Mallin, biological sciences, presented a paper titled "Nutrient Limitation in Two Contrasting North Carolina Estuaries," at the annual meeting of the American Society for Limnology and Oceanography. His co-authors were Dr. Lawrence B. Cahoon and Matt McIver.

Dr. Frederick Bingham, physics, has been awarded a $36,150 research grant from the National Science Foundation to study the "Structure and Dynamics of the Current Systems North of the Hawaiian Ridge."

The N.C. Department of Environment, Health and Natural Resources has accepted a suggested plan of action from Diane Talley, Division of Public Service and Extended Education, for their 1995 N.C. Environmental Education Plan. This contribution is included in the published document the N.C. Department of Environmental Education. Talley directs the MarineQuest marine and environmental studies program for the Division for Public Service.

Dr. Rebecca Porterfield, Cameron School of Business Administration, will facilitate the Wilmington Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors' long-range planning process.

Halme Honored for Excellent Teaching

Kathleen Halme, assistant professor of English, was honored with the UNCW Board of Trustees Teaching Excellence Award during the board's quarterly meeting. Presentation of the award was shown via video due to Halme's planned trip out of the country.

The Board of Trustees based their choice on the recommendation of an anonymous committee made up of UNCW faculty members. In addition to the honor, Halme received $1,500 in cash.

In selecting her for the award, the committee cited her enthusiastic and selfless commitment to her students' creative potential and academic success and her dynamic and continuing involvement in developing various learning programs outside the classroom.

During the taped presentation of Halme to the board, Chancellor James R. Leutze excerpted several quotes from nomination letters. One student wrote of Halme, "I am greatly indebted to Professor Halme for teaching me an art and for giving me the confidence I needed to be able to practice that art. She has the dedication, the enthusiasm, the sensitivity and of course the ability that is so necessary for the teaching profession."

Another student wrote, "Professor Halme is soothingly soft-spoken, even-tempered and quietly enthusiastic about writing and about her students. I have heard her described by a colleague as nurturing. What a splendid attribute in an instructor, especially an instructor of fledgling poets and fiction writers . . . when people want to create and give their creations to their fellow humans, we need to feel that we belong and that we are worthwhile."

A UNCW graduate student wrote, "If anyone exemplifies the excellence of teaching at UNCW, it is definitely Kathleen Halme. She never breaks faith with the reason we are all here at the university in the first place — to learn and be taught by professors with excellent teaching skills."

Halme joined the UNCW faculty in 1991. Previously she taught at Virginia Tech and received her M.A. in Fine Arts from the University of Michigan.

Study Shows UNCW Has Active Role in Community

UNCW faculty and staff are significantly involved in the community through a diverse array of volunteer and professional activities, a recent survey shows.

The largest area of participation is in professional organizations, especially among faculty in the School of Nursing, Cameron School of Business and the Watson School of Education.

"It is reasonable that most contribute and volunteer in their areas of expertise," said Royce Angel, community relations representative for UNCW hired to conduct the community relations survey. "Faculty and staff serve on committees, and boards and are officers of many professional and volunteer organizations."

Within the past five years, the image and contributions of UNCW have risen to a higher level. Hopefully, using the results of this survey, UNCW can better coordinate its volunteer efforts in the community and make it even easier for the community to contact the university for volunteers, Angel said.

A steering committee, consisting of Bob Fry, Richard Mullendore, Vicki Dull, Dick Ward, John Lympany and Sam Connolly, was formed to compile and categorize the results. Approximately 40 percent of faculty and staff returned the community relations survey. Of those, results indicate these areas of involvement:

7% Educational system (K-12)
5% Government (local/state/federal)
3% Private industry

10% Non-profit charity organizations
34% Professional organizations
(within career field)
3% Student organizations
13% Community groups
2% Preservation societies
9% Health organizations
2% Community colleges
1% Alumni organizations
5% Religious organizations
6% Fine arts groups

"These results prove what the chancellor has felt all along," said Angel. "UNCW faculty and staff care about the community and their professions. The community is richer because of the contribution of UNCW faculty and staff."

UPCOMING CTE WORKSHOPS

Summer Break '95

Refresher Hypermedia Workshop, August 12. We revisit some of the more important (and basic) commands and functions of Toolbook 3.0 with faculty who have previously taken the introductory workshop. If you learned about Toolbook using the old version (1.53), this new version will amaze you.

Introduction to Hypermedia (Windows/Toolbook), August 14-16. A hands-on workshop to introduce faculty to techniques and technology needed to develop hypermedia classroom presentations using Windows-based microcomputers and Toolbook.

Fall '95

Workshop on Diversity, September. Patty Turrisi and Jimmy Reeves will attend a week-long workshop at the Summer Institute for Intercultural Communication, and will host a workshop to share what they learned.

Teaching Statistics, Fall. There is a revolution in statistics teaching and a major battle is being waged right here at UNCW. Here's a chance to participate in an ongoing discussion of how to teach this difficult topic to a wide variety of disciplines. Wouldn't be a surprise to see a research study come out of this one.

Teaching Large Classes, Fall. Based on the reaction to our previous workshop on teaching large classes, this topic needs "ongoing discussion." Come see how your colleagues cope with handing out exams, being heard and seen and having every student "want to be there."

Introduction to Hypermedia (Macintosh/Supercard). Fall break. A hands-on workshop to introduce faculty to techniques and technology needed to develop hypermedia classroom presentations using Macintosh microcomputers and Supercard.

General Assembly Funds Marine Sciences Center $16 Million Appropriated

UNCW got a $16 million boost from the N.C. General Assembly when it adjourned Saturday.

The appropriation will fund the new marine sciences center at Myrtle Grove, replacing the hodgepodge of nearly 20 buildings and trailers at the Center for Marine Science Research at Wrightsville Beach.

Confident the General Assembly would give its final approval on the appropriation the following day, Chancellor James R. Leutze held a press conference Friday at CMSR to thank those who took part in the community-wide effort to support and lobby for the building project.

"I can't emphasize strongly enough how important this is for the university. There's no question, this is the most important event in the five years I have been here at UNCW," he said. "This is one of the defining moments in the history of this university."

Planning funds totaling $1.5 million were appropriated by the General Assembly in 1993 and 1994. As currently designed, the 120,000-square-foot facility will house research offices, classrooms and administrative offices for UNCW faculty and students, as well as research space for faculty from seven UNC campuses and three community colleges. It will also house extension offices for the N. C. SeaGrant Program, the National Undersea Research Program, the Marine Quest Program of UNCW's Division of Public Service and extended Education and the National Estuarine Research Program.

"We're going to make the dirt fly as quickly as we can," Leutze said, when asked to give the timetable for construction.

He pointed out that because the original price tag was $24 million, plans for the facility will have to be revised.

The chancellor emphasized several times at the news conference that the General Assembly appropriation is the result of a community-wide effort and is a culmination of efforts which began under the leadership of former UNCW Chancellor William Wagoner.

"What this again shows is what the community can do when everyone works together on something," he said, naming about a dozen legislators, numerous community organizations including the Greater Wilmington Chamber of Commerce and the Committee of 100, and the marine scientists themselves who supported and lobbied for the facility.

"It shows you what can be done when everyone works together and has a common goal, a common purpose," he said.

Carter Appointed Associate Provost

Dr. Denis G. Carter has been named associate provost for enrollment affairs.

His responsibilities will include oversight of pre-admission and recruitment activities, admissions, enrollment, records, financial aid, student academic support programs, transfer articulations, special and summer sessions.

The position was created by Chancellor James Leutze and Provost Marvin Moss to address the changing environment of public higher education as universities are expected to be more responsive and accountable to the communities they serve.

"This is the keystone on the arch of the collegial community," Leutze said. "We're trying to accomplish what's best for the university across departmental lines."

Moss said the position is "people-oriented" and a "management challenge." In appointing Carter, he said, "We've got one of the top people in the country."

Carter came to UNCW in 1978 as assistant professor of economics. He served as the first assistant and associate dean of the Cameron School of Business Administration. In 1992 he was appointed associate vice chancellor for academic affairs and was senior associate vice chancellor for academic affairs at the time of his appointment, responsible for primary oversight for the Division of Academic Affairs' operations, policy and planning.

Carter received an undergraduate degree in economics and philosophy from Boston College University and his doctorate from the University of Florida.

Announcements

FALL BOX OPENING

Departments planning to distribute information to student mail boxes for the opening of fall semester must have mailings distributed to Postal Services prior to August 11 to insure distribution before housing opens on August 19. If you are planning a mailing or would like additional information please contact Postal Services at ext. 3182.

BEAUX ARTS BALL

Volunteers are needed for the finale of Celebrate Wilmington! The Beaux will end the month-long festivities with a big party – a costume ball with a Victorian theme. Costumes are optional but encouraged.

The Beaux Arts Ball will be at 8 p.m. November 11. Committees include decoration, food and beverage, technical coordination, costume judges, special events (awards and outside events prior to the ball), music, telephone and administration, promotions, ticket sales, brochure and program, and general volunteers. If you are interested, please call Diane Brann at 256-6083.

The next committee meeting will be at 11 a.m. August 9 at the Coastline Inn, fourth floor lounge.

FIRST FRIDAY FORUM

First Friday Forum is a lunch, learn and connect group that meets monthly to provide a forum for professional and personal growth and networking. No committees, no dues, no commitments – just great people and great opportunities.

The next meeting will be from 12 noon to 1:30 p.m. August 4 at Grouper Nancy's (across from the Coastline Center, 501 Nutt Street). Kay Eager, Ph.D., will discuss mind-body connections. To reserve a seat by 12 noon, August 3, call 371-0006 or 256-6083. Lunch will be a variety salad buffet, bread/rolls, iced tea and coffee ($7 payable at the door).

BROKEN VIDEO CAMERAS WANTED

The Psychology Department is in need of broken video cameras to use as "dummy" cameras for a research project with children. The dummy cameras will be set up in a testing environment at preschools in order to habituate children to the camera's presence prior to real videotaping later this fall. Any type of camera will work. Please call Dr. Overman at ext. 3379 or the Psychology Department at ext. 3370.

I DONE GOOD

The May 1995 recipient of the Domino's Pizza "I Done Good" Award is Heather Smith, assistant director of the University Union. Smith received a free pizza lunch for her department, a pizza feast for her family and a personalized mug.

Supervisors are encouraged to send letters of nomination for individuals only to "I Done Good" award, Alderman Hall, Room 108 by the 25th of each month. For more information call ext. 3169.

ROOF REPAIRS

Physical Plant is making every effort to ensure that all roof repairs are performed in a timely manner. This is typically done via a roofing contractor.

If you have a specific area that needs to be cleaned up or repaired, such as ceiling tile, while this work is in progress or after it is completed, please contact the Work Order Desk, ext. 3101, and Physical Plant personnel will take care of the work. We apologize for any inconvenience this may cause and thank you for your cooperation.

EDUCATIONAL CHALLENGES

"Equity in Education: Do We Really Care?" is a one-day conference focusing on successful methods and programs that meet educational challenges. Dr. Howard Hill of Indiana University will be the keynote speaker. The conference will be from 8:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. August 19 in Cameron Hall. Registration is $10 and includes lunch and materials. For more information call Gloria Spackman at 762-4068.

Faculty and Staff

Dr. Joseph Pawlik, biological sciences, had a paper published in the Journal of Natural Products titled "Amphitoxin, a new high molecular weight antifedant pyridinium salt from the Caribbean sponge Amphimedon compressa" co-authored by S. Albrizio, P. Ciminiella, E. Fattorusso and S. Magno of the University of Naples, Italy.

Dr. Lawrence B. Cahoon, biological sciences, received funding for his project titled "Bioactive Natural Products from Benthic Diatoms."

Kimon Bird, biology, presented a paper on "Atrazine effects on Ruppia maritima growing in autotrophic versus heterotrophic cultures" to the Society for Aquatic Plant Management. The co-author was Jennifer Johnson, a former UNCW undergraduate.

Dr. Robert Kieber and Dr. Pamela Seaton, chemistry, have published a paper in the most recent issue of Limnology and Oceanography with their former graduate student Joseph Nuccio titled "Biological Production of Formaldehyde in the Marine Environment."

Jeff Hill and Robert Buerger, HPER, recently presented "Use of Hypermedia in On-Site Coastal Resource Management: A Case Study on Masonboro Island, N. C." at the international conference Coastal Zone '95 in Tampa, Fla.

Official Notices

Optional Retirement Plan Notice on View

General Administration is filing an application to the Internal Revenue Service for determination that the current Optional Retirement Program continues to qualify under Section 401(a).

In compliance with the requirements of this application, a "notice to interested parties" along with the referenced documents has been put on reserve in Randall Library. A copy of the same materials will be available in Human Resources. These documents will be available for anyone to review between August 5 and November 15. Copies may be made at the library at the individual's expense.

Travel Reminder

Prepaid travel-related items (such as registration fees, etc.) are mailed from accounting the same day as paid. To determine when these items have been paid, view your departmental account using screen 23.

Sick Leave Changes

A July 1, 1995, change in state policy allows sick leave to be requested for the following: illness or injury of the employee; temporary disability connected with pregnancy/childbirth; medical appointments of the employee or employee's immediate family; illness of a member of the employee's immediate family; death of a member of the employee's immediate family; donation to a member of the employee's family who qualifies for voluntary shared leave.

Immediate family is defined as spouse; parent (biological, adoptive, a person who stood in loco parentis, a step-parent and in-law relationships); child (biological adoptive, foster, step child, legal ward, child of employee standing in loco parentis, in-law relationships); sister or brother (biological, adoptive, including step, half and in-law relationships); grandparents, great-grandparents, grandchildren, great-grandchildren (including step relationships) and other dependents living in the employee's household.

Shared Leave

The group of employees who needs your help is unfortunately growing! Please donate leave to any or all of the following employees who are facing leave without pay for serious medical conditions: Betty Robinson, housekeeping; Teresa Dulla, university police; Cindy Hucks, budget department; Lana Taylor, library; and Cynthia Murray, housekeeping. Please continue to support this great program.

Purchasing Policy Reminder

Due to the petty cash ceiling change to $50, the reimbursement ceiling has increased by that amount. With prior approval from Purchasing, purchase may be made amounting to between $50 and $150 and reimbursed by check request. Call Purchasing for clarification if needed at ext. 3158. Any purchasing agent can approve purchase reimbursement requests.

Recentered SATS

Recentered SAT scores are now being reported. The Admissions Office is able to retain old scores and add the recentered scores to SIS screen 210 for Fall 1995 incoming freshmen. In the future, only recentered scores will be reported. If you view this information or pull SAT scores in FOCUS and have questions, call Brenda Teague at ext. 3132.

Student Time Sheet Deadline

The student time sheet deadline for August is 3 p.m. August 30. Time sheets must be in the payroll office (Alderman Hall, Room 217) by the specified time.

Please note: The student time sheet deadline will also be posted in "Bulletin: on the Vax for seven days prior to the payroll deadline.

Faculty and Staff

Robert Buerger, Jeff Hill, James Herstine, HPER, and John Taggart, N. C. National Estuarine Research Reserve, presented "The Impact from Recreational Use of the Physical Features of Masonboro Island, N. C." at the international conference Coastal Zone '95 in Tampa, Fla.

Dr. Cem Canel, Dr. Luther Lawson, Dr. Rebecca Porterfield and Dr. Judy Siguwaw, Cameron School of Business Administration, designed and taught an experimental American Business Practices course, including daily classroom work and twice-a-week field trips to local businesses, for students in the July English Language Institute. Students from Ecuador, France and South Korea participated in the course taught in Cameron Hall.

Dr. Michael S. Smith, earth sciences, attended the 1995 Rocky Mountain Geological Society of America meeting in Montana. Dr. Smith presented "Geochronology, geochemistry and isotope systematics of the basalt of Hepburn Mesa, Yellowstone River Valley, Montana." In addition, Dr. Smith was also co-leader of the geology field trip (and co-author of the field guidebook) titled "The middle Yellowstone Valley from Livingston to Gardiner, Montana: A microcosm of northern Rocky Mountain geology," published in Northwest Geology (volume 24, pp 1 - 65).

Convocation Marks the Beginning of the Academic Year To be Held August 23

A Message from Chancellor Leutze

UNCW will hold its fall Convocation at 4 p.m., August 23, in Kenan Auditorium. This will be an event to mark the beginning of our academic year and a time to honor several faculty for their outstanding achievements.

This ceremony is one to which we invite all members of the university community to attend and share our vision for progress.

Immediately following the ceremony, faculty and staff are invited for a picnic on the lawn adjacent to Kenan Auditorium.

It is hoped that you will participate in this as another part of the university's attempt to create a sense of "community" among all members of our family.

To provide for your attendance at these events, I am asking supervisors to operate their offices at minimum staff levels. We look forward to this as a memorable day. Please join in celebrating the beginning of the academic year.

UNCW to Host Margaret Truman Daniel For VJ Day Commemoration

"Memories of the White House in the Second World War"

UNCW will host a free lecture by Margaret Truman Daniel at 7 p.m., August 31, in Trask Coliseum. Due to the overwhelming demand, the lecture has been moved to TRASK COLISEUM.

The topic of this event is Daniel's childhood recollections of her father's private and public years as the leader of this war-engaged nation preceding VJ Day 1945.

As the only child of President Harry S. Truman, Margaret Truman Daniel possesses rare insight into not only the presidency but the human dimension of a first family touched by the magnitude of a world at war.

UNCW is providing the major educational component for the U.S. observance of this commemoration by the Department of Defense's 50th Anniversary of WW II Commemoration Committee. Daniel's lecture at UNCW is the kick-off event for the entire four-day observance of VJ Day to be held in Wilmington at the Battleship North Carolina.

To reserve your tickets for this event, call the Kenan Box Office at ext. 3500. The free tickets will be sent to you in the mail prior to the lecture.

With this issue of the Campus Communique, the normal fall schedule begins with distribution on a weekly basis. The deadline for copy remains 12 noon on Tuesdays.

UNCW EXHIBITS THE WORK OF GOLDER

Wrightsville Beach artist Walker Golder will have an exhibit of his photographs titled "Natural Light" on display in the University Center through September 22. A "Meet the Artist Reception" will be held at 5:30 p.m. August 31. A graduate of UNCW in marine biology, Golder has always had an appreciation for what the coast has to offer. Hours of researching habitats and habits of a potential subject are necessary in order to create a pleasing image while respecting the animal and its safety. "It is my feeling that no photograph is worth jeopardizing the safety of an animal or causing undue stress. When photographing animals, the safety of the subjects, especially of those with young, is always my greatest concern," says Golder.

AN ALUMNI THANKS

The UNCW Alumni Association would like to thank all deans, department chairpersons and professors for their assistance in nominations for the fall 1995 Alumni Lecture Series.

Dr. David Webster has been chosen by the Alumni Association as its guest speaker for the fall lecture. Dr. Webster, class of '76, is now professor of biological sciences at UNCW. Like the other nominees, he represents all that we look for in our alumni.

Nominations for the spring lecture series will be accepted November 1 to January 1, 1996.

I DONE GOOD

The June 1995 recipient of the Domino's Pizza "I Done Good" award is Karen Brunamonti in Postal Services. Brunamonti received a free pizza lunch for her department, a pizza feast for her family and a personalized mug. Supervisors are encouraged to send letters of nomination for individuals only to "I Done Good" award, Alderman Hall, Room 108 by the 25th of each month. For questions, call ext. 3169.

JAZZ ENSEMBLES TO HOLD FALL AUDITIONS

The UNCW Jazz Ensembles invite all interested musicians to audition and experience the excitement of playing jazz. Auditions will be held from 3 to 5 p.m., August 24 and 25 as well as 7 to 8 p.m., August 28 and 29 in Kenan Hall, Room 111. Appointments for auditions may be made by signing up on the audition sheet posted outside Kenan Hall, Room 109C or by calling ext. 3390.

FEMINIST COLLOQUIUM TO MEET

The Feminist Colloquium will meet for a brown bag lunch at 12 noon, August 30, in the Faculty Common of Morton Hall. The discussion will be led by Gay Davis and will focus on a selection from Sex and Power in History by Amaury de Reincourt. The reading is on library reserve under the name "Janet Ellorby" or call ext. 3764. All are welcome.

FACULTY/STAFF GOLF TOURNAMENT

There was a great turnout for the UNCW Faculty/Staff golf tournament held at Olde Point Golf Course on August 7. A field of 56 players comprised 14 teams. The team of Charles Cahill, John Stokes, Bob Kieber and Steve Robinson shot a whopping 11 under for a 61 to win first place. Arnold Siko, Skippy Duncan, Ron Whittaker and Lea Dudley came in second place with a 10 under 62. Closest to the pin was won by Mark Lanier and Corby Johnson. Scott Sullivan won the longest drive, and Jim Scott and Jim Harris won the most accurate drive. Thanks to all who participated and a special thanks to Nancy Maready and Judy Thomas for all their help with the tournament.

SINCERE APPRECIATION EXTENDED

Becky Fancher and her family wish to express their sincere gratitude for the overwhelming show of love and support extended to them by the University community during the recent passing of her mother, Catherine Burruss. It is deeply appreciated.

Cook and the Coconutz, Draw the Line, Fortunate Son and Tumbling Dice. No alcohol will be allowed and tickets are $5 at the door ($6 for field seating). All proceeds go to the local Big Buddy Program.

Boat Ride

Girls Incorporated will host its annual moonlight cruise aboard the Winner Cruise Queen, Carolina Beach at 7 p.m. August 25. Tickets are $15 in advance and $18 at the boat and include complimentary heavy hors d'oeuvres. Contact Jan Lion at ext. 3227 or Girls Inc. at 763-6674 for tickets.

Symphony to Hold Auditions

The Wilmington Symphony Orchestra will hold auditions for new members at 7:30 p.m., August 28, in Kenan Hall. Interested musicians should bring a prepared piece and plan to do some sight reading. Musicians who wish to audition must call the symphony office at 791-9262 to schedule an audition time.

Cape Fear Chordsmen

The Chordsmen, Wilmington's men's chorus dedicated to four-part, unaccompanied barbershop harmony, are seeking men of all ages who like to sing, can carry a tune and are interested in improving their own abilities. Special guest nights are planned for August 8, 15 and 22 from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m., at the Winter Park Primary Day School (next door to Roland Grise). For more information, call 313-2584 or 799-5850.

Letter From the Chancellor

Dear Campus Employees:

I wanted to write to thank you all for the hard work that went into getting the campus ready for fall. The grounds look great, the buildings are sparkling, and everyone seemed happy to greet our new arrivals and the returnees. I was especially pleased with the response by the parents to our Move-in '95 program. They not only welcomed the help provided by more than 300 volunteers, but they also took it to mean that their children were coming into a supportive environment. The positive first impressions that we presented should help the students get off to a good start; it is always easier to deal with people when they are in a good mood.

This is a great university because we have so many fine people working here. We certainly got things off and running smoothly and that could not have happened without the contribution of many, many people.

Thanks again.

With all good wishes,

James R. Leutze

UNCW to Offer Statewide Preparation Program in Severe/Profound Handicaps

UNCW, in collaboration with UNC Charlotte and East Carolina University, will offer a statewide personnel preparation program to provide graduate training to teachers who are interested in teaching individuals with severe disabilities. Combining on-site instruction with programming through the interactive fiber optic network, EDN 595 (SPED 6117) Introduction to Persons with Severe/Profound Handicaps, will be offered from 5:30 to 8:30 p.m., Tuesdays, August 29 to December 5, in the distance learning classroom in Westside Hall.

Offered through the Donald R. Watson School of Education in association with the Division for Public Service and Extended Education, this graduate extension course offers three credit hours. A grant from the U.S. Office of Education Personnel Preparation will subsidize tuition for the first 10 students registered at the UNCW site. The fee will be $69. Additional students will pay the regular tuition of $227.

For more information or to register, call ext. 4172. On-site registration will also be available the first night of class, August 29.

BROKEN VIDEO CAMERAS WANTED

The Psychology Department is in need of broken video cameras to use as "dummy" cameras for a research project with children. The dummy cameras will be set up in a testing environment at preschools in order to habituate children to the camera's presence prior to real videotaping later this fall. Any type of camera will work. Please call Dr. Overman at ext. 3379 or the Psychology Department at ext. 3370.

JAZZ ENSEMBLES TO HOLD FALL AUDITIONS

Interested musicians are invited to audition for the UNCW Jazz Ensembles. Auditions will be held from 3 to 5 p.m., August 24 and 25 as well as 7 to 8 p.m., August 28 and 29 in Kenan Hall, Room 111. Appointments for auditions may be made by signing up on the audition sheet posted outside Kenan Hall, Room 109C or by calling ext. 3390.

FEMINIST COLLOQUIUM

The Feminist Colloquium will meet for a brown bag lunch at 12 noon, August 30, in the Faculty Common of Morton Hall. The discussion will be led by Gay Davis and will focus on a selection from Sex and Power in History by Amaury de Reincourt. The reading is on library reserve under the name "Janet Ellerby" or call ext. 3764. All are welcome.

BOWLING FOR BABIES

The University Women of UNCW will support the March of Dimes by participating in the Bowling for Babies Tournament on November 4 at Cardinal Lanes (Shipyard Boulevard). Bowling skills are not as important as the desire to have fun for a terrific cause. We had a great time last year and welcome anyone who wishes to participate. Please call ext. 3448 or e-mail ODOMP by August 28.

BASKETBALL SEASON TICKETS

Watch for your faculty and staff season ticket applications for Seahawk Basketball in the mail this week.

CENTER FOR TEACHING EXCELLENCE

Workshop on Diversity, September: Patty Turrisi and Jimmy Reeves attended a week-long workshop at the Summer Institute for Intercultural Communication and will host a workshop to share what they learned.

Teaching Statistics, Fall: There is a revolution in statistics teaching, and a major battle is being waged right here at UNCW. Here's a chance to participate in an ongoing discussion of how to teach this difficult topic to a wide variety of disciplines.

Teaching Large Classes, Fall: Based on the reaction to our previous workshop of teaching large classes, this topic needs "ongoing discussion." Come see how your colleagues cope with handing out exams, being heard and seen , and having every student "want to be there."

Multimedia Users Group, Fall: A twice-a-month look at the latest instructional technologies and tools available, including presentations by experienced users and exploration into the brave new world of new technologies by the group as a whole.

Internet Users Group, Fall (tentative): An ongoing look at the Internet , including presentations by experienced WEB page creators and discussion of its use as a teaching and learning tool.

Multimedia Fair Use Guidelines, September 21: A live video conference via satellite on what constitutes "fair use" of copyrighted materials in educational contexts.

Introduction to Hypermedia (Macintosh/Supercard) Fall break: A hands-on workshop to introduce our faculty to techniques and technology needed to develop hypermedia classroom presentations using Macintosh microcomputers and Supercard.

INTERNATIONAL TV CHANNEL

International television programs are now available on cable channel 59. Channel 59 can also be viewed in Morton Hall, second floor hallway. Programs are in French, Spanish, Japanese, etc. Watch for further information in the Campus Communique. For questions, call ext. 3041.

REGALIA SALE

Oak Hall Cap & Gown Company will have a representative in the UNCW Bookstore September 6 to 8 for purchase of custom regalia. The bookstore and Oak Hall will be offering a 20 percent discount on regalia or parts of regalia. Call ext. 3054 to make an appointment to be fitted.

SOUNDS OF SUMMER

The classic rock sounds of "Woodworks" will be heard at the fourth Sounds of Summer concert scheduled for 6:30 to 8 p.m., August 28, at the UNCW gazebo. In case of rain, the concert will be held at 6:30 p.m., August 29.

The concert is part of the free summer music festival cosponsored by WECT-TV6, UNCW, Bojangles, Clear-View Opticians, Scotchman and Blimpie, Cape Fear Hospital, Independence Mall, Southern Bell, Whaley Satellite and Furniture, Pepsi, Committee Advisory Panel for the Chemical Industry and attorney Mitch Baker.

Admission is free and families are encouraged to bring a picnic basket, blanket or chair. Food and soft drinks can also be purchased from a cart operated by campus dining. Alcoholic drinks are not permitted.

SEAHAWK MEALS PROGRAM

Over the past several years there has been an increase in students going days without eating due to financial constraints. Now, with the help of fellow students, this problem can and will be eliminated from our university.

Students with the 19-meals plan will be able to feed a student by donating a meal from their 10 free guest meals and others will be able to donate a meal at the end of each semester from their declining balance.

Any student wanting to donate a meal to the Seahawk Meals Program can do so by contacting Tom Williamson at ext. 3209. Students who are in need of a meal can call Bob Haywood at 799-8497 or Joanie Beasley at ext. 3536. Requests will be handled in confidence.

National Health Consultant and Author to Speak

A Message from Chancellor Leutze

Dr. Richard Keeling, director of University Health Services and professor of medicine at the University of Wisconsin-Madison, will present "The Context of Their Choices: Strategies for a Generation at Risk" on September 12. A continental breakfast will be served in the University Center Ballroom at 9 a.m., and Dr. Keeling will speak at 9:30 a.m.

Dr. Keeling believes that students make critical choices in a context of norms, traditions and media messages that create confusing expectations about their decisions. Using powerful media messages, Dr. Keeling will give a hard-hitting look at the internal and cultural forces that influence decisions and risk the health and future of students today.

Universities need to support healthier choices for students by building a sense of community, caring and service. As administrators and faculty, we can only do this if we have a better understanding of the provocative context in which students make choices.

I encourage you to attend Dr. Keeling's morning presentation, where he will address these important issues affecting our students in today's challenging world. Dr. Keeling will address students later that day at 4 and 7 p.m., also in the University Center Ballroom.

Local Schools Can Benefit from UNCW Faculty and Staff Participation

Message from Chancellor Leutze

"Partnerships for Students Day," sponsored by the New Hanover County Council of PTAs, will be held from 11 a.m. to 1:30 p.m., September 15.

Members of the community are encouraged to visit one or more of the schools listed below on "Partnerships for Students Day," and consider volunteering of their time in one of the many ways students can benefit from their presence and participation.

For those volunteers interested in the tutoring program, UNCW's Director of Student Studies Dr. Brad Walker will be holding a tutoring workshop that will address specific tutoring issues. More information will be available at the schools on September 15.

UNCW staff also can take advantage of the Child Leave Act which allows up to eight hours of approved leave per year to volunteer for school work. Please check with Alice Maile in Human Resources for more details.

"This is the first year of this program in our schools, and everyone, including Chancellor Leutze who was part of the kickoff, has embraced the idea," said Nelson. "The average time for a volunteer to spend in the schools is 30 minutes a week; we'll take what the volunteers are willing to give."

Participating Schools: Alderman Elementary, Bellamy Elementary, Blair Elementary, College Park Elementary, Gregory School of Math, Science and Technology, Johnson Elementary, Ogen Elementary, Roe Elementary, Snipes Elementary, Winter Park Elementary, Wrightsville Beach Elementary, Myrtle Grove Middle School, Noble Middle School, Roland Grise Middle School, Trask Middle School, D.C. Virgo Middle School, Williston Middle School, Hoggard High School, E.A. Laney High School, New Hanover High School and Lakeside School.

Bryan Plans to Return to Classroom

Vice Chancellor for Student Affairs Dr. William A. Bryan is stepping down effective December 31, 1995, to return to the classroom.

"I am truly sorry that Dr. Bryan has decided to step down," said Chancellor James R. Leutze. "He has done an exceptional job and has my full confidence. However, this was a personal decision, and I have reluctantly accepted his decision."

Bryan, who has won numerous awards for innovations and excellence in the field of student affairs, came to UNCW from the University of North Dakota where he served as dean of student development and later was promoted to vice president of student affairs and associate professor of guidance and counseling. Under his leadership, Bryan brought student affairs at UNCW into compliance with and often exceeded professional standards for the profession which advocates that student learning takes place outside as well as inside the classroom.

Details of Bryan's new teaching assignment have not been worked out; however he expects to spend spring semester '96 preparing to re-enter the classroom at UNCW in the fall of '96. He formerly taught in counselor education. Bryan holds a doctorate in education in Counselor Education/Student Personnel from the University of Wyoming.

INTERNATIONAL TV PROGRAMS

From anywhere on campus on any TV monitor (i.e., residence halls, cafeteria, etc.), the International Channel (Channel 59) can be viewed. It also can be seen from the monitor in Morton Hall, second floor. Programs are in Spanish, French, Japanese, German, Italian and Portuguese. Weekly program listings are posted in the second floor hallway of Morton Hall and outside Morton Hall, Room 259. Please call ext. 3041 with programming suggestions or for more information.

RECEPTION FOR HONORS SCHOLARS

The campus community is invited to meet the new and continuing Honors Scholars at a reception from 4 to 6 p.m., September 7, in the University Center Ballroom 4. Refreshments will be served. For more information, call ext. 4181.

ENGLISH DEPARTMENT AWARDS FACULTY

The English Department's annual awards were given to Paula Kamenish for teaching, Kevin Canty for scholarship and Brooks Dodson for service.

SCHOLARSHIP COMPETITIONS

The Honors Program now handles the UNCW applications to various national scholarship competitions. We have the information and applications for the Rhodes Scholarships (study at Oxford in UK), Truman Scholarships (for careers in public service), Goldwater Scholarships (careers in mathematics or natural science) and Mellon Fellowships (humanities studies). If you have a student interested in any of these, please have them call Diane Levy at ext. 4181.

MCCARTHY TO SPEAK

The UNCW College Democrats will sponsor a talk by professor William McCarthy, UNCW History Department, titled "Presidential Campaigning: On the Road During the Primaries." Dr. McCarthy will speak about the process of selecting presidential nominees through the primary elections and his experiences as a field operative for a presidential campaign. The talk will be held at 8 p.m., September 13, in King Hall Auditorium. It is free and open to the public.

NOTE OF APPRECIATION

From Joanne Bordeaux, Telecommunications: Thank you for your calls, cards, flowers and other expressions of sympathy since the loss of my mother on August 14. My sorrow is easier to bear because of your encouragement and support.

EMPLOYEE APPRECIATION WEEK

Governor Jim Hunt has declared September 11 to 15 as "State Employee Appreciation Week." In appreciation for your work and dedication, the university invites you to attend the following events:

- September 11, 6 to 9:30 a.m., Breakfast
- September 13, 11:30 a.m. to 2 p.m., Lunch
- September 15, 11:30 a.m. to 2 p.m., Ice Cream Social and Auxiliary Services Fair

All events will be held in the University Center Ballroom. Have fun with "A Pocket Full of Pennies" activity (a simple, sincere, symbolic gesture of goodwill). More details about this activity will follow next week. Mark your calendar and plan to get together to celebrate our efforts and successes.

FALL FACULTY MEETING SCHEDULED

The Fall Faculty Meeting will be held at 4 p.m., September 14, in Cameron Hall Auditorium (Room 105). All faculty members are encouraged to attend.

HISTORIC PROGRESSIVE DINNER

Join us for a historic progressive dinner September 22 beginning with drinks and hors d'oeuvres at the Bellamy Mansion Museum at 6 p.m., and entree and dessert at the Wise Alumni House at 8 p.m. Tickets are $75 per person and reservations are limited. Please respond by September 15 to 251-2681.

HURRICANE UPDATE

The beginning of each hurricane season usually prompts a number of questions from various members of the campus community regarding how UNCW responds to the threat of a hurricane. The questions and answers below are provided to you for future reference along with a reminder that hurricane season is in effect until November 1st each year.

- 1) When does the university close for a hurricane?
The university follows the evacuation procedures established for New Hanover County. The university officially closes and classes are canceled at the same time that New Hanover calls for an evacuation of the beaches. This usually occurs, based on the forecasted movement of the hurricane, about 8-12 hours prior to the onset of adverse driving conditions. (Please note that the university only closes when there is a mandatory evacuation of the beaches.)
- 2) Who makes the decision to close the university?
The Chancellor has agreed to automatically close the university as soon as New Hanover County decides to evacuate the beaches. This allows students, faculty, and staff time to comply with New Hanover's call to evacuate the beaches and leaves no uncertainty about when to begin our own UNCW evacuation procedures.
- 3) How is the university community informed about closing the university?
Immediately upon notification that New Hanover will evacuate the beaches, a notice is sent by phone to each dean and department chair that classes are canceled at a specific time to coincide with the beach evacuations. All other departments are notified in a similar manner.
- 4) Who must evacuate the UNCW campus? Who can remain?
All faculty, staff, and students are expected to evacuate the campus when the university closes with the exception of emergency operations personnel who will prepare the campus for the hurricane and remain on campus during the hurricane. The only other exception is for resident students who live too far away to safely travel home.
- 5) Why does the university ask resident students to evacuate?
The university has sufficient space to provide limited shelter for resident students during a hurricane. The University Union is used to house everyone during a hurricane because of its location, emergency power, cooking facilities, and the desirability of having everyone accountable and under one roof. The real problem exists after the hurricane, if power and other utilities cannot be restored for long periods of time.

If resident students were not evacuated, then the university would have great difficulty providing for their safety and comfort needs. By closing the university in conjunction with the county's evacuation of the beaches, resident students and others are given eight to twelve hours of driving time prior to the onset of adverse driving conditions to find suitable shelter.

- 6) When do employees evacuate the campus?
Typically, a decision will be made a few hours prior to ordering an evacuation of the beaches and the campus. When this happens, employees will be notified so that they can prepare their work places for a storm. Then when the final evacuation is ordered, employees should be allowed to leave quickly. Only emergency coordinators will remain on campus for further preparations.
- 7) May employees and their families use the university as a shelter during a storm?
The community shelters in New Hanover County should be used by all employees of the university so that university space can be reserved for resident students. The only exception to this rule is for the families of emergency personnel who will stay on campus during a hurricane.
- 8) When will the university reopen and how do I find out?
Stay tuned to the local news media throughout a hurricane for information regarding both closing and opening. Please refrain from calling the university because telephones must be reserved for emergency use. Also, please do not return to the campus until the reopening of the university is publicized on radio and television since it may not be safe to return (downed power lines, building damage, etc.).
- 9) Who may I contact about any of these emergency hurricane procedures?
Contact Dick Scott, Assistant Vice Chancellor for Business, Extension 3067 or the University Police at Extension 3184.

RAD CLASSES BEING OFFERED

Rape Aggression Defense System (RAD) is a program of realistic, self-defense tactics and techniques. The RAD System is a comprehensive course for women that begins with awareness, prevention, risk reduction and avoidance, while progressing on to the basics of hands-on defense training. It is not a martial arts course, but is a system dedicated to teaching women defensive concepts and techniques against various types of assault by utilizing easy, effective and proven self-defense and martial arts tactics. RAD will provide a woman with the knowledge to make an educated decision concerning the option of self-defense in the event of an attack. The class concludes with a realistic simulated attack. The course is taught by UNCW police officers, who are certified RAD instructors.

No fee is required for the course, but a $12 manual must be purchased from the UNCW Bookstore with a voucher from the University Police Department. Class length is 12 hours, and four sessions are being offered during the fall semester:

Session I: Tuesdays and Thursdays, Sept. 5, 7, 12, 14, 19, 21, 6:30-8:30 p.m.;
Session II: Mondays and Wednesdays, Sept. 18, 20, 25, 27, Oct. 2, 4, 6:30-8:30 p.m.;
Session III: Mondays and Wednesdays, Oct. 16, 18, 23, 25, 30, Nov. 1, 6:30-8:30 p.m.;
Session IV: Tuesdays and Thursdays, Nov. 2, 7, 9, 14, 26, 6:30-8:30 p.m.

RAD is for women only and is open to the general public with UNCW students, faculty and staff receiving first priority. Attendance is limited and preregistration is required. Register at the University Police Department or call ext. 3184.

FILM ON CAMPUS

The film Murderous Intent will be shot on campus September 6. Filming will take place outside Randall Library on the north side and on the sidewalk outside the main south entrance to Alderman Hall.

BOYS CHOIR REHEARSAL

The Wilmington Boys Choir invites boys ages 8 to 13 to an Open Rehearsal at 4:45 p.m., September 6, at St. Paul's Episcopal Church. For information, call 799-5073.

WILMINGTON WOODSTOCK '95

UNCW is proud to be helping out the Big Buddy Program with "Wilmington Woodstock '95" September 2 at Legion Stadium. Gates open at 12 noon and music starts at 1 p.m. Tickets are $5 at the door ($6 for field seating) and all proceeds go to the local Big Buddy Program. Performers include Capt. Faculty and Staff

Dr. Jack Levy, chemistry, presented a paper, "Organolithium Displacement of Aryl Anions from Tertiary Phosphine Derivatives of Diphenyl Ether," at the XIIIth International Conference on Phosphorus Chemistry on July 19, 1995, in Jerusalem, Israel. The corresponding manuscript, co-authored by UNCW students, Richard C. Walton, Ron E. Olsen, and Courtland Symmes, Jr., will appear in the journal Phosphorus, Sulfur, and Silicon.

Dr. Fred Astren, philosophy and religion, recently published a book review of Michael M. Laskier's North African Jewry in the Twentieth Century: The Jews of Morocco, Tunisia and Algeria (New York, 1994) in the Middle Eastern Studies Association Bulletin, 29 (1995).

Dr. Donna Lee King, sociology and anthropology, recently published a book Doing Their Share to Save the Planet: Children and Environmental Crisis with Rutgers University Press.

Dr. Hana Noor Al-Deen, communication studies, received the 1995 Southern States Communication Association Certificate of Appreciation for service as the Mass Communication

Division Chair. She has also been elected the 1996 Vice Chair and Program Planner for the Popular Communication Division of the same association.

Dr. Richard Mathieu, production and decision sciences, and Robert L. Woodard, Guilford East Plant in Kenansville, N.C., recently had the paper "Data Integrity and the Internet: Implications for Management" published in the journal Information Management & Computer Security.

Dr. James Hunt, management and marketing, has an article, "Content Analysis of U.S. and Indian Magazine Advertising," published in the Journal of International Consumer Marketing (vol. 8, no. 1, 1995, pp. 93-109).

Dr. Cem Canel, production and decision sciences, had his paper "An Efficient Heuristic Procedure for the Single-Item, Discrete Lot sizing Problem" accepted for presentation at the Decision Sciences Institute national meeting to be held November 18-22 in Boston. The paper was co-authored by B. M. Khumawala of the University of Houston and J. Law of the Chinese University of Hong Kong.

Welcome

Please welcome the following new employee: Sandra Jackson/Housing & Residence Life.

Parking Decals

1995-96 faculty/staff parking decals ordered by payroll deduction can be picked up at the Auxiliary Service Office in Burney Support starting September 5.

Medical Insurance Annual Enrollment

Last call for changes in medical insurance providers. August 31 is the deadline to sign the form, but we'll wait until September 5 for you to get it to Human Resources. Remember you may choose between the State Health Plan and two Health Maintenance Organizations. Call ext. 3713 with questions.

Educational Leave

As the fall semester begins, employees and supervisors are reminded that the university's educational assistance policy provides that employees may take one tuition-waived course per semester (up to 5 credit hours). If the course is offered after work hours, it should be attended then; however, if circumstances prevent this, educational leave may be granted during working hours if the course is job related, where operational requirements permit, and with supervisory approval. Courses which are not job related or additional courses (beyond one course per semester) must be taken on the employee's own time, although supervisors may provide adjustments to the employee's work schedule to support the employee's educational efforts. For questions, call Brenda Jordan at ext. 3274.

Optional Retirement Plan Changes

The following legislation was passed late in the session that affects members of the Optional Retirement Plan.

- Employer contribution amount increased from 6.50 to 6.66%.
- New ORP members will be subject to the same maximum contribution limits and the medical benefit change as state retirement participants.

Board of Governors' action this summer made many more investment options available to ORP members through the three current vendors. More information on these options will be distributed to members in September.

EAP Office Moved

The State Employees' Assistance Program office has moved from Randall Library, Room 227 to Room 2030. EAP consultant Darlene Yow is available to meet with employees each week by appointment by calling ext. 3985 or 1-800-543-7327. All calls and visits will be treated as confidential.

Retirement Plan Changes

The following legislation was passed late in the session to change benefits for members of the State Retirement Plan:

- The formula accrual rate increased from 1.73 to 1.75%. I.E., An employee who retires after 30 years service, where the average of his/her highest four consecutive years salary was $25,000 would now receive a maximum monthly benefit of $1,093.75 ($25,000 x 30 yrs. x .0175/12 mos.).
- The employer contribution percentage rate was set at 10.83% of members' salaries, distributed as follows: 8.15%, pension fund; .16% death benefit fund; .52%, disability income plan; 2.00%, retirees' medical insurance fund.
- The option to purchase out-of-state service was restored.
- Effective January 1, 1996, a new member's compensation subject to retirement contributions and benefits will be no more than $150,000. The limit is $245,000 for members enrolled prior to January 1, 1996.
- Employees who enroll in the retirement system after October 1, 1995, will have to participate at least 20 years to earn the full medical benefit in retirement. Those with 10 but less than 20 years will receive 50% of the benefit. Retirees with less than 10 years service will be eligible to purchase medical coverage at full cost. This change does not affect current retirement system members.

If you are interested in better understanding your retirement benefits, plan to attend the retirement planning workshop "Preparing for Tomorrow" which will be offered by HR staff development and training this fall. Call ext. 3713 for more information.

Directory Forms

If you have not sent in your telephone directory verification form and you need to make a change, rush it to Human Resources today (August 31) and we'll try to slip it under the wire.

FALL FACULTY MEETING SCHEDULED

The Fall Faculty Meeting will be held at 4 p.m., September 14, in Cameron Hall Auditorium (Room 105). All faculty members are encouraged to attend.

Faculty and Staff

Dr. Deborah A. Dowd, HPER, had her article "Factors Related to Exercise Adherence of University Students Based on Results from the 'Self-Motivation Inventory'" published in the North Carolina Journal. She, along with Diane L. Gill from UNC Greensboro, had the article "Competitive Orientations and Motives of Adult Sport and Exercise Participants" accepted for publication in the Journal of Sport Behavior.

Mike S. Adams, sociology and anthropology, had his article "Labeling and Differential Association: Towards a General Social Learning Theory of Crime and Deviance" accepted in the American Journal of Criminal Justice.

An article on quantum optics by Dr. Moorad Alexanian, physics, will appear in the September issue of the Physical Review A (Atomic, Molecular, and Optical Physics). The work, "Unitary Transformation and the Dynamics of a Three-Level Atom Interacting with Two Quantized Field Modes," was done in collaboration with Dr. Subir K. Bose of the Physics Department, University of Central Florida.

Dr. William J. Cleary, earth sciences, recently presented an invited address titled "Coastal North Carolina: Morphology, Nearshore Processes and Environmental Problems" to the faculty and students of the Renard Centre of Marine Geology, University of Ghent, Belgium.

Elizabeth Ervin, English, has published "Power, Frustration and 'Fierce Negotiation' in Mentoring Relationships: Four Women Tell Their Stories" in the June 1995 issue of Women's Studies: An Interdisciplinary Journal. She has also published a review of Situations: A Casebook of Virtual Realities for the English Teacher in the summer 1995 issue of North Carolina English Teacher.

Dr. Keith Newlin, English, published an article, "Dreiser's 'The Girl in the Coffin' in the Little Theater" in Dreiser Studies.

Diane Levy, Steve McNamee and Gary Faulkner, sociology and anthropology, traveled to Italy to participate in the International Institute of Sociology World Congress in Trieste. Together with colleagues from our exchange partner, Roehampton Institute in London, they presented papers in the session, "Long-term Benefits of Short-term Exchanges."

Dr. Cem Canel, production and decision sciences, had his paper "A Bayesian Approach to Load Forecasting" accepted for presentation at the Decision Sciences Institute national meeting to be held November 18-22 in Boston. The paper is co-authored by A. O. Ba-Fail of King Abdulaziz University in Saudi Arabia.

Douglas C. Marcy, earth sciences, recently presented a paper, co-authored by W.J. Cleary, titled "A Hardbottom Dominated Shoreface on a High Energy Shelf: Onslow Bay, North Carolina" at the Society for Sedimentary Geology Congress at St. Petersburg Beach, Fla.

Kim on Bird, CMSR, recently had his article, with former UNCW honors student Jennifer R. Johnson, "The Effects of the Herbicide Atrazine on Ruppia Maritima L. Growing in Autotrophic Versus Heterotrophic Cultures" published in Botanica Marina (38: 307-312). He also had his paper "Nitrogen Assimilation Following Ammonium Pulses in the Red Alga Gracilariopsis Lemaneaformis: Effects of Carbon Metabolism" published in Marine Ecology Progress Series (122: 253-263). The primary co-author was Juan Vergara, who completed part of his doctoral dissertation work for the University of Malaga when he visited CMSR.

Dr. Bob Kieber, chemistry, presented a paper at the 210th National Meeting of the American Chemical Society held in Chicago, Ill. The title of the presentation was "Variations in Hydrogen Peroxide Concentrations in Coastal North Carolina Rainwater" and was co-authored by Dr. Joan Willey and graduate student Richard Lancaster.

Dr. Frederick Bingham, physics, presented a paper titled "Observations of the North Hawaiian Ridge Current" at the meeting of the International Association for the Physical Sciences of the Ocean, in Honolulu, Hawaii.

UPDATE FROM THE TQU TRAVEL TEAM

The following is the status of the recommendations made by the TQU travel team from information provided by our customers (travelers and travel processors):

- With the chancellor's approval, Accounting has implemented the following procedural changes to expedite travel processes:

1. Lowered the signature level for excess registration and lodging expenses
2. Provided blanket North Carolina travel for one day trips (mileage and miscellaneous expenses) for all university employees. Must be requested by employee and approved by department. No encumbrance required.

- The TQU team has requested Systems and Procedures provide technical alternatives for establishment of a university travel system. The system would enable departments to enter data once to produce all required travel documents.

- Accounting is preparing a "how to" travel book and checklist for travelers/travel processors in order to assist them in understanding and processing travel transactions.

Former NOAA Director to Visit Campus

Dr. John A. Knauss, former administrator of the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration (NOAA) from 1988 to 1992, will visit UNCW the week of September 18. Dr. Knauss, the recipient of many prestigious awards in the field of oceanography and a member of the Stratton Commission on the Oceans, will meet with faculty, students and staff with interests in the marine sciences in several forums throughout the week.

Before becoming the administrator of NOAA, Dr. Knauss served as dean of the School of Oceanography at the University of Rhode Island and was an oceanographer at Scripps Institution of Oceanography.

An informal reception will be held for Dr. Knauss in the Madeline Suite from 5 to 6:30 p.m., September 18. All faculty and staff are cordially invited to attend this gathering and meet Dr. Knauss.

On September 19, Dr. Knauss will address a faculty and student colloquium on the topic "The Oceans: Past and Future" at 11 a.m. in Friday Hall, Room 151.

Dr. Knauss will hold an open meeting with faculty and students from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., September 20 at the Center for Marine Science Research. September 21 and 22, Dr. Knauss will meet with students in two classes: GLY 150 Introduction to Oceanography and BIO 569 Advanced Oceanography.

Faculty and staff wishing to meet with Dr. Knauss are invited to call the Office of the Provost and request an appointment with Dr. Knauss.

JCIS to be Held at Wrightsville Beach

The second annual Joint Conference on Information Sciences (JCIS) will be held at Shell Island Resort, Wrightsville Beach September 28 to October 1.

The JCIS consists of three international conferences on Fuzzy Theory and Technology, Computer Theory and Informatics and Computational Intelligence and Neuroscience. Several tutorials and workshops on pattern recognition, fuzzy logic and neural networks are also scheduled. UNCW faculty and students are eligible for discounted registration fees. A complete conference program is available on the World Wide Web at <http://www.cms.uncwil.edu/~narayan/jcis.html>.

For more information, call Sridhar Narayan at ext. 3671.

Children Needed for Developmental Tests

The UNCW School of Nursing invites parents with children between the ages of three months and five years to make an appointment to participate in the Denver II Developmental Screening Test at McDonald's on South College Road. This standardized test is designed to identify healthy, normal patterns of development in children. Nursing students will use materials with the children such as bells, blocks, pencils, baby dolls and balls to assess development. McDonald's and Sophia V. West Florist will have a treat for moms and dads who bring their children.

Although the tests are practice for the nursing students, who are in their junior year, faculty will be observing and supervising the tests, and will share their observations with the parents.

These Denver II practice testing sessions will be held from 9 to 11 a.m., every Tuesday and Wednesday, beginning September 19 and 20 through November 8. Approximately 350 children are needed through these dates. To make your appointment or for more information, call Dr. Helen Faller at ext. 3205.

Dr. Richard Mauger, Department of Geology, ECU, will present "Minettes, Lamprophyres and Diamonds from Western North Carolina" at 3 p.m., September 15 in Friday Hall, Room 251.

LEADERSHIP DEVELOPMENT

Dr. Cynthia Johnson, professor and campus faculty associate in educational psychology and administration from California State University, Long Beach, will present a workshop on "A Social Change Model of Leadership Development" from 12:30 to 2 p.m., September 19. This program is intended for all the faculty and staff interested in leadership education. Bring your lunch to the University Center Ballroom. Dessert and ice tea will be provided.

DRUG ABUSE INFORMATION

The Wellness Promotion Center will provide packets of printed information on a number of topics addressing alcohol and other drugs of abuse to any interested faculty and staff. These materials include commercially produced brochures and booklets intended for use by professionals. If you would like to receive a free packet of these materials, call ext. 3577.

EV-HENWOOD

Ev-Henwood, UNCW's nature preserve and coastal forest research station, is located 30 minutes from campus on Town Creek in Brunswick County. It is available to individuals and groups for such activities as birdwatching, hiking and nature appreciation, research and class field trips. Features include an old tar kiln, woods, fields, ponds and numerous well-maintained trails. For descriptive literature call ext. 3197 or e-mail SIEREND.

TAKE BACK THE NIGHT

Mark your calendar for the "Take Back the Night" march and rally, sponsored by the Domestic Violence Shelter and Services, held downtown on the evening of October 24. Time and starting point for the march will be announced later. For more information, call 343-0703.

ARTS LECTURE

Donald Furst, fine arts, will present "Taking Leave" at 4 p.m., September 22 in Kenan Hall, Room 125. Furst will display and discuss art work created during his 1995 spring semester university faculty reassignment. The display will include three-dimensional models, photographs, computer manipulations, glass plate printmaking and a copper plate print suite titled "421 Nights" created with a N.C. Arts Council Grant. Furst also will give advice on the highs and lows of the reassignment leave experience to other faculty interested in applying.

FEMINIST COLLOQUIUM

The Feminist Colloquium will meet for a brown bag lunch at 12:15 p.m., September 26, in the Faculty Common of Morton Hall. The discussion will be led by Lindsay Aegerter, English, and will focus on "Womanism." Reading selections are on library reserve or call ext. 3764. All are welcome.

SASASAAS

UNCW is a member of the Southern Atlantic States Association for Asian and African Studies (SASASAAS), a consortium of almost 30 institutions in the Carolinas, Virginia and Georgia whose purpose is to promote and enhance the study of Asia and Africa. SASASAAS supports faculty teaching funds, activities dealing with Asian and African Studies on member campuses, provides audiovisual resources (including a library of films and videos on Asia and Africa housed at Appalachian State University) and directs a study abroad program in China. A full listing of the films and videos is available at Interlibrary Borrowing in Randall Library or from the Office of International Programs. Use of these films and videos (which is free of charge) may be arranged through Interlibrary Borrowing. The videos and films include titles on history, art and religion, and on political, social and economic institutions. They range geographically from Africa, through the Islamic world, and into South Asia, Southeast Asia (including Vietnam and the Philippines), as well as China, Korea and Japan. SASASAAS also funds mini-grants for the purpose of enriching teaching about Asia and Africa. SASASAAS mini-grants are designed, for example, to help bring speakers or to help finance workshops on particular areas that relate to Asia or Africa. For more information about submitting a mini-grant proposal, please contact UNCW's representative to SASASAAS, Joe Wilson at ext. 3410 or e-mail to WILSONJ.

FACULTY BREAKFASTS

Office of Research Administration (ORA) will host two faculty breakfasts this semester. New faculty are invited to attend on September 21, while a breakfast for returning faculty will be held on October 3. These get-togethers are intended to introduce members of the ORA staff and to describe ORA programs for supporting research and creative activities. Please see your department chair or call ORA at ext. 3810 for more information.

The Student Diabetes Support Group meets from 4:30 to 5:30 p.m., every third Thursday at the Student Health and Wellness Center, Westside Hall (second floor). Meeting dates are: September 21, October 19 and November 16.

Dr. Cem Canel, production and decision sciences, and MBA students Claire M. Castano, Marsha M. Krigsvold, Paul Mazzola and Robert L. Woodard had their paper "An Efficiency and Quality Center for a Student Health and Wellness Center" accepted for presentation at the Decision Sciences Institute National meeting to be held in Boston.

Dr. L. Drew Rosen, production and decision sciences, was appointed to the Board of Advisors for the United States Man and the Biosphere Program; Marine and Coastal Ecosystem directorate. He attended the first meeting of the directorate in Santa Barbara, Calif. This project focuses on the ecological and socioeconomic impacts of alternative access strategies in marine protected areas, with natural resource management goals of promoting sustainable economic production, conserving natural marine resources and biodiversity, sustaining cultural values and providing information on the condition of the marine environment.

LEADERSHIP FILM DISCUSSION

The Leadership Center is sponsoring a series of films filled with lessons about leadership, followed by faculty-led discussions. The first film is Dead Poets Society hosted by Dr. Joanne Nottingham, specialty studies. In the film, Robin Williams gives a critically acclaimed tour-de-force performance in this outstanding drama of inspiration and commitment. The film will be shown at 7 p.m., September 25, in the Center Stage Cafe. For more information, call ext. 3877.

Faculty and Staff

Dr. Joseph Pawlik, biological sciences, has returned from a one-month research expedition in Key Largo, Fla., at the UNCW/NURC research center, and in the Bahamas, on board the NSF-sponsored research vessel Seward Johnson. Joining him were staff member Greg McFall, graduate students Brian Chanas, David Swearingen and Matt Dunlap, and undergraduate student Victoria Towne. Pawlik's research focuses on the chemical ecology of Caribbean sponges; part of the expedition was spent collecting and extracting marine organisms to provide samples for pharmacological testing.

Dr. Fred Astren, philosophy and religion, published an article "History or Philosophy? The Construction of the Past in Medieval Karaite Judaism" in Medieval Encounters (1,1 (1995), 114-143).

Paul G. Shotsberger, mathematical sciences, had his paper "Instructional Uses of the World Wide Web: Exemplars and Precautions" accepted for publication in Educational Technology Magazine. A pre-print version with active links can be accessed from his homepage located at <http://www.cms.uncwil.edu/faculty/shots.html>.

Dr. James D. Johnson, psychology, had an article titled "Differential Gender Effects of Exposure to Rap Music on African-American Adolescents' Acceptance of Teen Dating Violence" accepted for publication in Sex Roles: A Journal of Research. The paper was co-authored by Dr. Mike S. Adams, sociology, and Dr. William Reed of N.C. A&T State University. Dr. Johnson and Dr. Lee Anderson Jackson, psychology, also had an article titled "Differential Male and Female Responses to Inadmissible Sexual History Information Regarding a Rape Victim" published in Basic and Applied Social Psychology. Finally, Dr. Johnson and Dr. Jackson will have an article titled "Justice Is Still Not Colorblind: Differential Racial Effects of Exposure to Inadmissible Criminal Information" published in the September issue of Personality and Social Psychology Bulletin.

Mark Glaze, psychology, was elected to Fellow status in the American Psychological Association's Division on Psychopharmacology and Substance Abuse. He presented an invited New Fellow address titled "Drugs of Abuse and Negative Reinforcement" at APA's annual meeting in New York.

Dr. Moorad Alexanian, physics, presented a paper, "Optical Stark Effects in the Dynamics of a Raman-Coupled Model," at the 10th International Conference on Dynamical Processes in Excited States of Solids held in Palm Cove (Cairns), Australia.

Dr. Donna Lee King, sociology and anthropology, presented her paper "Who's Got the Power: Making Problematic the Environmental Empowerment of Kids" at the annual meetings of the Society for the Study of Social Problems in Washington, D.C. She was also elected to sit on the Council of the Sociology of Children Section of the American Sociological Association.

Dr. William J. Cleary, earth sciences, presented an invited address titled "Estuary Entrance Modification: Overview of Environmental Impacts in Southern North Carolina" at the International Association of Sedimentologists in Aix-les Bains, France. A second paper was presented dealing with shoreface processes in Onslow Bay, N.C. The meeting was organized by the French Congress of Sedimentologists.

Dr. Chen-Feng You, a visiting scientist at the Center for Marine Science Research, received a post-doctoral appointment in the Earth Sciences Department, Cambridge University. Dr. You will continue his work on the chemical evolution of the ocean that he developed with Dr. Spivack in the Environmental Isotope Laboratory at CMSR.

Richard D. Dixon, sociology and anthropology, presented a multimedia demonstration, "Multimedia in Data Analysis and Demography Courses," at the Technology and Education in the Social Sciences Conference, University of Stirling, Stirling, Scotland, September 5 to 7, 1995.

Academic Computing Workshops

The computing-related training workshops sponsored by Academic Computing are nearly filled again this semester! Even the waiting lists are full for the large majority of the workshops. The demand for these workshops continues to substantially exceed the available staffing necessary to provide high quality workshops. Even with Human Resources, the Center for Teaching Excellence and Randall Library offering complimentary workshops in computing-related topics there are still people who are unable to register for workshops that they may find useful. We apologize for the frustration and inconvenience this may cause you. As this is principally a staff availability issue, we hope that you will try to be first in line for the spring semester workshop offerings.

Instructional Technology Workshops

The Center for Teaching Excellence will sponsor a series of workshops in Instructional Technology. The meetings will take place the first and third Tuesdays of each month at 7:30 p.m., in DeLoach Hall, Room 114. The first Tuesdays will be devoted to multimedia issues in the classroom, such as Toolbook and Hypercard applications, image processing as teaching tool, presentations by faculty using instructional technology around campus, new CDs on the market, making your own CDs, etc. The meetings on the third Tuesdays of the month will focus on other technologies, such as access to the Internet, Netscape, how to use the World Wide Web in the classroom, what is HTML and tools for writing homepages.

The first meeting will be at 7:30 p.m., September 19 in DeLoach Hall, Room 114. The topic will be an introduction to Word 1A, an add on to Word 6.0 which is both a browser for the Internet and a simple editor for making Web pages. Other issues about the Internet will be addressed. All are welcome.

The workshops will be run by Dr. Gabriel Lugo and Dr. Russell Herman, mathematical sciences. If you have topics that you would like to see discussed during the year, please do not hesitate to contact either Dr. Lugo (lugo@cms.uncwil.edu) or Dr. Herman (herman@cms.uncwil.edu).

Welcome

Please welcome the following new employee: Karen Thompson/Career Services.

Student Absences

The Office of the Dean of Students cannot and does not excuse student absences. In cases of emergency (e.g., extended illness, hospitalization, death in family, etc.), if the student or parents are unable to contact instructors directly, a member of our staff will notify the department of the information that is provided to us. Our notification serves to relay the information and is not a verification.

UNCW Nationally Recognized Again for Efficiency and Value

UNCW has hit the top of the charts for two consecutive years by ranking fourth among Southern regional universities in efficiency according to U.S. News & World Report's September 25th issue. This listing consists of institutions that rank highest in academic quality in relation to what they spend per student on educational programs.

U.S. News determined a school's efficiency based on the school's overall score in the September 18th U.S. News college rankings, in which UNCW was in the top 20, divided by the school's 1994 spending on educational programs per student. Only the top fifth of regional universities were considered in this ranking.

"UNCW works hard to give students the best educational value for their dollar," said UNCW Chancellor James R. Leutze. "Students, parents, legislators and private donors expect and appreciate wise use of resources. We are gratified that U.S. News & World Report once again ranks UNCW fourth in the South in efficiency."

UNCW is well on its way to reaching its formal goal of becoming the best teaching university in the Southeast by the year 2000. "In my opinion," said UNCW Trustee Chair, former state legislator and state vice president of governmental affairs for AT&T, Tom B. Rabon, Jr., "the state legislature's allocation of $16 million for UNCW's new Center for Marine Science Research indicates their high regard for UNCW's past record of achievement in squeezing the most from each public dollar while delivering a quality product."

An Evening With Maya Angelou

Maya Angelou is hailed as one of the great voices of contemporary literature and as a remarkable Renaissance woman. Being a poet, educator, best-selling author, actress, playwright, civil rights activist, producer and director, she continues to travel the world making appearances on college campuses and spreading her legendary wisdom. A mesmerizing vision of grace, Angelou captivates her audiences with vigor, fire and perception.

This lecture is part UNCW's 1995 Leadership for the 21st Century lecture series sponsored by the Leadership Center. Ms. Angelou will speak at 7 p.m., October 5, in Trask Coliseum.

Tickets for An Evening with Maya Angelou are now available at the University Union Information Center. Tickets are free to students, faculty, staff and alumni. General public tickets are $5.

ARTS LECTURE

Donald Furst, fine arts, will present "Taking Leave" at 4 p.m., September 22, in Kenan Hall, Room 125. Furst will display and discuss art work created during his 1995 spring semester university faculty reassignment. The display will include three-dimensional models, photographs, computer manipulations, glass plate printmaking, and a copper plate print suite titled "421 Nights" created with a N.C. Arts Council Grant. Furst also will give advice on the highs and lows of the reassignment leave experience to other faculty interested in applying.

FULBRIGHT CELEBRATION

Faculty members, who have received a Fulbright award during their appointment at UNCW, are requested to send their names, country and year of the Fulbright experience to Dr. Bob George, biological sciences, president of the N. C. Fulbright Chapter. Faculty members with Fulbright experience prior to joining UNCW are also requested to send similar information. The celebration will take place October 19 to 20. If you are interested in participating in the program and dinner at the Center Stage Cafe, please pay the registration fee of $25 to UNCW-N.C. Fulbright Chapter, on or before September 27. Please mail your check to the Office of the International Programs (attn: Gary Faulkner).

FEMINIST COLLOQUIUM

The Feminist Colloquium will meet for a brown bag lunch at 12:15 p.m., September 26, in the Faculty Common of Morton Hall. The discussion will be led by Lindsay Aegeter, English, and will focus on "Womanism." Reading selections are on library reserve or call ext. 3764. All are welcome.

JCIS

The second annual Joint Conference on Information Sciences (JCIS) will be held at Shell Island Resort September 28 through October 1. The JCIS consists of three international conferences on Fuzzy Theory and Technology, Computer Theory and Informatics and Computational Intelligence and Neuroscience. UNCW faculty and students are eligible for discounted registration fees. A complete conference program is available on the World Wide Web at <http://www.cms.uncwil.edu/~narayan/jcis.html>. For further details, please contact Sridhar Narayan at ext. 3671.

STUDENT DIABETES SUPPORT GROUP

The Student Diabetes Support Group will meet from 4:30 to 5:30 p.m., today, in the Student Health and Wellness Center, Westside Hall (second floor).

BUYING FOR HIGHER EDUCATION WEEK

September 25 to 29 is Buying for Higher Education Week. UNCW Purchasing recognizes this week in conjunction with the National Association of Education Buyers. Help celebrate the contribution Purchasing personnel make to UNCW and higher education by sending an e-mail message or by making a special call to thank someone in Purchasing that has helped you above and beyond the call of duty. Providing outstanding service by getting the right product or service at the right price to the right place on time and in compliance with all legal requirements and ethical practice is our goal. Professionally managed purchasing adds to the effectiveness of every department and to the quality of service provided by UNCW to the students by effectively expanding the resources available. We constantly strive to be of the best service possible and thank all of you for working together with us to achieve our mutual goals.

FALL SALE

The UNCW Bookstore will have its fall sale through September 30. Items are marked down 15 to 50 percent. Lots of adult and children's clothing. Shop early while we have a good selection.

LEADERSHIP FILM

The Leadership Center is sponsoring a series of films filled with lessons about leadership and followed by discussions led by faculty members. The first film is Dead Poets Society hosted by Dr. Joanne Nottingham, specialty studies. The film will be shown in Center Stage Cafe at 7 p.m., September 25. For more information, call ext. 3877.

MATHEMATICAL SCIENCES SEMINAR

Dr. James Anderson, professor and chairman, Department of Cognitive and Linguistic Sciences at Brown University, will present a seminar titled "Teaching the Multiplication Tables to a Neural Network: Flexibility Vs. Accuracy" at 3 p.m., September 29, in Bear Hall, Room 219. Brown is internationally known for his work in the areas of neural networks, cognition and models of learning. Refreshments will be served prior to the talk in the Bear Hall Commons Room at 2:30 p.m. For more information, please call ext. 3671.

STUDY SPACE AVAILABLE FOR STUDENTS

Meeting rooms in the University Union can be used for study space when they are not reserved for other meetings or events. There are printed schedules of reservations on each meeting room door. The rooms are available on a first come, first serve basis. This is good information to pass along to students who cannot locate an area to conduct a group study session.

MENTORING PROGRAM

The Women in Leadership Mentoring Program has been designed to give UNCW female students a chance to look further into their profession of choice by being paired with a mentor on campus or in the community. The program was originally scheduled to start in fall 1995, but has been rescheduled to begin in spring 1996. If you have any questions or comments or would like to be a part of this unique opportunity, please call Carrie Finch in the Leadership Center at ext. 3877.

STUDENT LEADERSHIP CONFERENCE

The Leadership Center is sponsoring the Fourth Annual Student Leadership Conference from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m., September 30, in the Center Stage Cafe. The conference will focus on creativity, group development, communication skills and other interesting topics. Faculty and staff are asked to encourage student leaders and potential student leaders to register for this conference. The cost is $5 and registration information should be received in the Leadership Center by September 27. For more information, call ext. 3877.

FAREWELL RECEPTION

The campus community is invited to a farewell reception honoring Wayne Krueger on the occasion of his retirement. Please join us in the Physical Plant conference room between 2 and 4 p.m., September 26.

TOLL-FREE NUMBER FOR ALUMNI

The UNCW Alumni Association has made it easier for alumni living around the state and the country to stay in touch. Now alumni living outside the local calling area can get information on upcoming events and programs by calling 1-800-596-2880.

BOWLING FOR BABIES

The University Women of UNCW will support the March of Dimes by coordinating campus participation in the Bowling for Babies Tournament on November 4. Bowling skills are not as important as the desire to have fun for a terrific cause. For added fun, form a departmental team and challenge another department. There will be free food, door prizes and trophies. For more information, call ext. 3448 or e-mail ODOMP.

RAFFLE WINNERS

There were several raffle winners during the Auxiliary Services Ice Cream Social last Friday. Winners of the drawing for the free book of stamps donated by Postal Services were: Christine Prentice, English Department; Rhonda LaMarsh, International Programs; Susan Goodrum, Student Government Association; Annis Moore, Science and Math Education Center; Pat Barker, Auxiliary Services; Yvonne Smith, Office of Institutional Research; Marjorie Green, Chancellor's Office; Sandra Anderson, Accounting.

FACULTY SENATE UPDATE

New officers were elected during the September 12 meeting. They are: Bruce McKinney, communication studies, vice president; Kemille Moore, fine arts, secretary; Ken Spackman, mathematical sciences, Becky Sawyer, accountancy and business law, Patricia Turrisi, philosophy and religion, and Dick Veit, English, were elected to the steering committee. The faculty assembly delegates this year are Dan Noland, English, and Ken Gurganus, mathematical sciences.

Alternate Roger Lowery, political science, will serve for Maggie Parish, English, who resigned. Steve Pullum, communication studies, is parliamentarian.

Motion of Commendation: "The faculty senate recognizes that the search for institutional excellence through teaching and research depends on strong, proactive administrative support. It is therefore with gratitude and appreciation that the senate recognize and applauds the unrelenting efforts of both Chancellor James Leutze and Provost Marvin Moss in leading the successful effort to acquire State funding for our new marine science facility to be constructed on our Myrtle Grove site."

Faculty and Staff

Dr. Christopher Eckhardt, psychology, has received funding for his project "Cognitive Processes and Anger in Maritally Violent Men."

Dr. Martin Posey and Christopher Powell, biological sciences, have received funding from NOAA/OCRM for their project titled "Epibenthic Fauna in Shallow and Channel Habitats of the Lower Cape Fear River."

The Chancellor's Staff Advisory Committee will meet on October 4.

Committee members include: Annette Anderson, Public Service; Mike Arnold, Alumni Affairs; Claude Brown, purchasing; Mary Browning, Bookstore; Pat Cavilee, accountancy and business law; Kay Fryar, Human Resources; Jeff Hunnicutt, Computing & Information Systems; Mary Kelly, Watson School of Education; Sherry King, chemistry; Dianne Matthews, Student Development Center; Sandy Rogers, sociology and anthropology; George Syles, Moving Services.

Faculty and staff are encouraged to share comments and suggestions with these member.

USA Today Nominations

USA Today is soliciting nominations for the 1996 All-USA Academic Team. Sixty students will be chosen, and the top 20 will each receive $2,500 cash, be the guests of USA Today at a banquet in February and will be featured in USA Today. Students are evaluated on their original academic or intellectual product and leadership roles on and off campus. For nomination forms, please contact the Honors Office at ext. 4181. The deadline for completed nominations is November 17, 1995.

Mathematical Sciences Seminar

Dr. James Anderson, professor and chairman, Department of Cognitive and Linguistic Sciences at Brown University, will be presenting a seminar titled "Teaching the Multiplication Tables to a Neural Network: Flexibility vs. Accuracy" at 3 p.m., September 29, in Bear Hall, Room 219. He is internationally known for his work in the areas of neural networks, cognition and models of learning. Refreshments will be served prior to the talk in the Bear Hall Commons Room at 2:30 p.m. For more information, call ext. 3671.

Fall Sale — Final Days

The UNCW Bookstore's fall sale ends September 30. Items are marked down 15 to 50 percent.

QUALITY FACULTY . . . QUALITY STAFF

Dr. Mark Galizio, psychology, was elected to Fellow status in the American Psychological Association's Division on Psychopharmacology and Substance Abuse. He presented an invited New Fellow address titled "Drugs of Abuse and Negative Reinforcement" at APA's annual meeting in New York.

Dr. David Lindquist, biological sciences, and Dr. Frederick Bingham, physics, received funding for their project "Coupling of Gulf Stream Water Intrusions and Spring-Summer Arrival of Presettlement Stages of Snapper-Grouper Complex Species at a Midshelf Reef."

Diane B. Talley, program director for MarineQuest, a marine education and environmental study program for elementary, middle and high school students and teachers that is based in the Division for Public Service and Extended Education, has been invited to serve on the Southern Coastal Heritage Program Advisory Committee for a three-year period (1995-98). The committee, which will meet semi-annually, will advise the SCHP director on programming and fund-raising initiatives. The SCHP is being established by N.C. State University, ECU, UNCW and the N.C. Division of Archives and History to "generate and transmit knowledge about the coastal heritage and environment of the American southeast."

Ron Johnson, systems librarian, was one of the presenters for the program titled "Z39.50—The Dream and the Reality in Library Online Systems" at the UNC/CAUSE/CNI Conference on September 13 in Greensboro. Also participating in the conference from Randall Library were Sue Cody and Gerald Parnell.

Dr. Bruce C. McKinney, communication studies, has had the fourth edition of his book, Mediator Communication Competencies: Interpersonal Communication and Alternative Dispute Resolution, published by Burgess International. The book is co-authored with professors Rex Fuller and William Kinsey of James Madison University. McKinney teaches mediation at UNCW and is currently vice-president of the Dispute Settlement Center of Cape Fear.

Robert Mark Spaulding, history, presented "The Political Economy of German Frontiers 1918, 1945, 1990" at the XVIII International Congress of Historical Sciences in Montreal.

Peter J. D'Annibale, Financial Aid, attended the National Association of Student Financial Aid Administrators Annual Conference. He participated in several roundtable discussions involving Federal Recertification, Proposed Federal Financial Aid Cuts and Federal Community Service Learning Program. He also was appointed by General Administration as chairman to the Financial Aid Director's Minority Presence Committee. The committee will meet to discuss and make recommendations to further increase minority presence enrollment.

Dr. Terry Theodore, fine arts, had two articles published in the latest issue of Wilmington Magazine. The first one is about Bald Head Island and the second is an interview profile of Joe Lewis, martial arts legend.

Dr. Steven Errante, fine arts, had his composition Battleship North Carolina March, commissioned by the Battleship North Carolina Commission performed at the 50th Anniversary of VJ Day Observance aboard the battleship. A portion of the music, recorded by the Wilmington Symphony Orchestra, was used to accompany David Brinkley's narration for the fireworks display on the evening of the same occasion. The entire work will be performed by the Wilmington Symphony during its September 30 benefit concert at Thalian Hall.

Agnes McDonald, English, has had a poem "Shaman" accepted for publication by Mount Olive Review. In April, she directed a day-long poetry workshop for the N.C. Poetry Society and conducted poetry workshops for the N.C. Writers Roundtable. She also has joined the staff of Southern Booktrade. During the summer, she spent 10 days as writer-in-residence at Weymouth Center. She recently attended a conference for new Faculty of the Principals Executive Program at Friday Conference Center in Chapel Hill, N.C. She is teaching "The Art of Memoir Writing" at Plantation Retirement Village in Wilmington as well as a course titled "Narrative Retelling: Seeing Yourself in the Heroine's Quest Story" at Phoenix Rising Bookstore.

Position Announcement — Dean, College of Arts and Sciences

UNCW invites applications and nominations for the position of dean of the College of Arts and Sciences. Reporting directly to the provost, the dean provides leadership to the largest academic unit of the university, with oversight of 34 growing undergraduate degree programs in 15 departments involving more than 280 full-time faculty and serving around 6,000 majors as well as other students. These departments include biological sciences; chemistry; communication studies; earth sciences; English; fine arts; foreign languages and literatures; health, physical education and recreation; history; mathematical sciences; philosophy and religion; physics; political science; psychology; and sociology and anthropology. The college also offers 28 undergraduate minors in departmental and interdisciplinary areas.

In addition, the dean interacts extensively with the dean of the Graduate School and Research in providing support for nine master's programs and one cooperative Ph.D. program offered by college departments, as well as five Master of Arts in Teaching programs in college disciplines. The dean also provides curricular, advisory and faculty support, as needed, to programs offered by the Cameron School of Business Administration, the School of Nursing, the Watson School of Education, the Honors Program, International Programs and Student Academic Support Programs. The dean is further expected to cultivate and develop the support of external constituencies on behalf of the college, as well as to promote the intellectual growth and professional development of the faculty.

The successful candidate for this position will have an exceptional record of leadership at the departmental or dean's level; demonstrated success in obtaining resources to support faculty research and instructional programs; an understanding of and respect for the various disciplines that comprise the college; a commitment to quality undergraduate education; a belief in faculty governance; and an awareness of the national issues surrounding higher education today and a vision for addressing them. Other qualifications include an earned doctorate or equivalent degree in one of the College's disciplines, a record of scholarship appropriate to the rank of professor, a history of exemplary teaching, communication skills necessary to articulate college needs and concerns to audiences within and outside the university, and evidence of budgetary and organizational skills appropriate to the administration of the college.

Applications and nominations should be submitted immediately. Review of applications will begin November 15, 1995, and on-campus interviews will begin in January 1996. The position will remain open until filled, with an expected appointment effective July 1, 1996. Salary is competitive. Applicants should submit a letter of application, curriculum vitae, and the names, addresses and telephone numbers of five references: Dr. Mark Galizio, chair, Arts and Sciences Dean Search Committee, Office of the Provost and Vice Chancellor for Academic Affairs, UNCW, Wilmington, N.C. 28403-3297.

Smithsonian Curator to Speak on Modern Southern Culture

Dr. Pete Daniel, a curator at the National Museum of American History, Smithsonian Institution, will speak on "The Spread of Lowdown Culture in the Fifties" in the Madeline Suite of Wagoner Hall at 5:30 p.m., October 10.

Dr. Daniel is very much interested in modern southern culture. "From rock 'n rollers to the Beats; from stock-car drivers to James Dean; from Elvis to segregationists; these trends of the 1950s embody and define the nuances of Southern lowdown culture," explains Dr. Daniel. "All had an incredible influence on American popular culture."

The lecture is free and open to the public. For more information, call ext. 3692 or ext. 3315.

Letter from Chancellor Leutze

Dear Friends:

It is my hope that each of you will support our 1995 State Employees Combined Campaign (SECC). As most of you know, the SECC annual effort is not part of the United Way; it is an independent organization whose sole purpose is to provide North Carolina state employees the opportunity to contribute to the charity of their choice. It is the only charitable giving program authorized to solicit state government employees through payroll deduction. Last year our UNCW family contributed almost $20,000 to many different organizations through this community effort.

I am pleased that Gene Huguelet, director of library services, has agreed to serve as chairman of this year's campus campaign which begins this week. Each of us has or will receive a brochure and pledge/payroll deduction form from a departmental volunteer. If you review this material, you will find more than 200 agencies throughout the state which qualify for membership through the SECC.

While giving is totally voluntary, this is a wonderful opportunity for each of us to designate our support to an agency whose mission matches our interests. Also, by being part of the SECC, our UNCW contributions will be included as part of the total community effort.

Please join me and hundreds of your colleagues who will be supporting the 1995 SECC. This is another way the UNCW family provides leadership for the community.

James R. Leutze

UNCW Faculty Seeking Female Volunteers for Fitness Study

Attention females 55 to 65!
UNCW is seeking 10 adult women volunteers to participate in a research study involving physical fitness.

Two faculty in the HPER Department received a Cahill Grant to conduct a research study to look at muscular strength, self-esteem and body composition changes in older adult females who engage in a strength training program for a 12-week period.

Participants must not presently engage in any type of strength training, must be relatively healthy (physician's clearance required) and have their own transportation. The research is being done in conjunction with the Wilmington Athletic Club.

The first 10 individuals who qualify will be selected to participate in this study. For more information, call ext. 3255.

Dr. Steven Miller, NURC-Key Largo, received funding for his project titled "A Synoptic Survey of Coral Reefs in the Florida Keys National Marine Sanctuary."

UNCW to Offer New Certificate Course at Five Sites Using the N.C. Information Highway

The Division for Public Service and Extended Education will offer a new certificate program this fall titled More Effective Management (MEMS). This 18-hour interactive seminar series is designed in five modules that meet over a six month period and is targeted for mid- and senior-level managers to enhance their management styles and techniques.

Instructor is Dr. Richard Engdahl, who earned his Ph.D. from the University of Washington Graduate School of Business Administration and is an associate professor of management in the Cameron School of Business Administration where he teaches Organizational Behavior, Human Resources Management, Management/Employee Relations and Total Quality. He also is president of the consulting firm, Organizational Imagineering International.

Dr. Engdahl's management philosophy, "you have to know where you are trying to get to in order to choose a path," is influenced by the Cheshire Cat from Alice in Wonderland.

Sites participating in the interactive session over the North Carolina Information Highway include UNCW, UNC-Asheville, UNC-Charlotte, Elizabeth City State University and MCNC, Research Triangle Park.

Dates and times of modules are:

Module 1, MEM Overview, stresses the purpose of management, SWOT team and OMR approaches, mission/vision statements and content versus process, 11:45 a.m.-1:45 p.m., October 13.

Module 2, Communication, focuses on feedback and Pinch Theory of Relationships, 11:45 a.m.-1:45 p.m., October 27 and November 10.

Module 3, Effective Performance Planning includes The Job Description: Anchor and Compass, Performance Review, and Rewards, 11:45 a.m.-1:45 p.m., December 1.

Module 4, Total Quality, deals with the issues of Total Quality and its tie to Mission and Strategy, 11:45 a.m.-1:45 p.m., December 12.

Module 5, Problem Solving, concludes the series by illustrating how participants currently solve problems and how the Six-Phase Model to effective problem solving can ensure that outcomes are "win/win," 3-5 p.m., January 25, February 22, March 28 and April 18, 1996.

Cost is $795 per person and includes the six modules of instruction, a workbook and certificate. Registration deadline is October 6. For more information, call ext. 3193.

Turrisi Honored for Excellence in Teaching

Dr. Patricia A. Turrisi, associate professor of philosophy and religion and associate director of the Honors Program, has received the University of North Carolina Board of Governors Award for Excellence in Teaching.

Dr. Turrisi equates teaching to guiding her students along a "journey to wisdom." A teacher, she says, "can tell a student what the destination is, provide the appropriate directions, advise of the possible detours and dead-ends, yell encouragement and define the signs. But a teacher cannot make the journey for a student . . . A philosophy teacher encourages and waits."

This award carries with it a one-time stipend of $7,500 and a citation of the outstanding teaching contributions made. One recipient from each of the 16 UNC institutions is selected for this prestigious award. Such criteria as course and curriculum development,

"A teacher . . . can tell a student what the destination is, provide the appropriate directions, advise of the possible detours and dead-ends, yell encouragement and define the signs. But a teacher cannot make the journey for a student . . . A philosophy teacher encourages and waits."

leadership, peer observation and review, advising, student perceptions of teaching, teaching philosophy and recognition as a faculty member who has had significant, positive impact on students' lives are used in selecting the award recipient.

One student writes, "In Dr. Turrisi's academic world there are no students or teachers — there are only people working together toward the common end of intellectual enlightenment, regardless of their academic discipline."

A member of the UNCW faculty since 1986, Dr. Turrisi is a graduate of Queens College in New York and holds her master's and doctoral degrees from Pennsylvania State University.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

USA Today Nominations

USA Today is soliciting nominations for the 1996 All-USA Academic Team. Sixty students will be chosen, and the top 20 will each receive $2,500 cash and be the guests of USA Today at a banquet in February. Students are evaluated on their original academic or intellectual product and leadership roles on and off campus. For nomination forms, please contact the Honors Office at ext. 4181. The deadline for completed nominations is November 17.

Career Day

UNCW Career Day '95 will be held from 10 a.m. to 2:30 p.m., October 18, in Trask Coliseum. Freshman, sophomores, juniors, seniors, graduate students, faculty and staff are encouraged to attend. Come and talk with employment representatives from business, industries, the armed services, graduate and professional schools, hospitals, federal government and state agencies. For more information, call ext. 3174.

Orientation Leaders Needed

Please encourage students to apply for orientation leader positions for the summer 1996. Students must maintain a 2.0 GPA minimum, must be returning in the fall semester and must be willing to reach out to new students. We want to select an orientation staff that represents the university's diversity of backgrounds, leadership styles and educational interests. Please encourage your best students to apply. Applications are available at the University Union Information Center and Alderman Hall, Room 101. The deadline to apply is October 20. If you have questions or would like the orientation office to follow-up with interested students, please contact Karla Carney, CARNEYK, ext. 3089.

Kickoff for Celebrate Wilmington

The Beaux Arts Parade will kick off Celebrate Wilmington at noon, October 14. The parade will start at the Coastline Convention Center, and jugglers, musical groups, actors, actresses, artisans, etc. will march to the foot of Market Street. We are asking everyone to come out and have a great time.

Randall Drive Closes Friday

Randall Drive will be closed alternately between Wagoner Drive and Crews Drive and between Crews Drive and Reynolds Drive, from 7 a.m. to 5 p.m., Friday, October 13, for maintenance on the natural gas main. All traffic will be detoured to avoid the work areas on Randall Drive during the closure time. It is requested that the public avoid the use of Randall and Crews Drives during this time to avoid possible lengthy delays.

American Chemical Society Sectional Meeting to Be Held

The Department of Chemistry is hosting a sectional meeting of the American Chemical Society on October 20, in the Madeline Suite. The meeting will feature Dr. Alexander Shedrinsky of the Conservation Center for the Institute of Fine Arts, New York University, speaking on "Amber: Real and Fake." Dr. Shedrinsky is an expert in application of technology to the assay of artworks for their authenticity. The dinner meeting, which will start at 6:30 p.m., is open to all who are interested. The price for appetizers and dinner is $12.50 ($5 for students). Reservations must be made by noon, October 18, by calling the Department of Chemistry Office at ext. 3450.

Note of Appreciation

I would like to offer a sincere thank you to everyone for the calls, cards, flowers and other acts of kindness shown to me and my family following the death of my mother on September 4. Betty Robinson and family.

University Directories Promotion

University Directories, the nation's largest publisher of campus telephone directories, and General Motors will be promoting the campus directory with a Geo Tracker giveaway. The promotion theme is "The Two Best Ways to Keep Track of Campus . . . The Geo Tracker and the Campus Directory." The directory will be displayed along with the Geo Tracker on the front lawn of the University Center from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m., October 24. Students, faculty and staff will be eligible to enter the sweepstakes at the display or by mailing postcards with their name, address, university name and phone number to University Directories. A winner will be chosen from all eligible winners nationwide in March.

University Theatre to Present "The White Rose"

Make plans now to attend University Theatre's upcoming production of The White Rose by Lillian Garrett-Groag, directed by Dr. Renee Vincent. Set in Nazi Germany in 1943, this tender portrayal of friendship and honor is based on the true story of a group of college students who secretly attempt to undermine Hitler's message of hate. Show time is 8 p.m., October 26 to 28, and 3 p.m., October 29, in Kenan Auditorium. Tickets are $8 for general admission, free to UNCW students with I.D., $4 for faculty and staff, $4 for seniors and $2 for other students with I.D. For reservations, call ext. 3500.

Flu Shots Available

Flu shots will be offered by Student Health Services for faculty and staff from 4 to 5 p.m., October 23 to 27, upstairs of Westside Hall. The cost is $12, (Visa, Mastercard, cash and personal checks will be accepted). Adult members of employee's household who accompany the employee may also receive the flu shot.

Tip-Off Banquet

The UNCW basketball tip-off banquet, featuring Coach Yow and Coach Wainwright, begins at 6:30 p.m. with dinner at 7 p.m., October 14, in Wagoner Hall. Guest speaker is Rod Thorn, NBA vice-president. Cost is $15 per person. For reservations, call ext. 3230. Join us for this special tip-off to another exciting season of Seahawk basketball.

QUALITY FACULTY . . . QUALITY STAFF

Anthony F. Janson, visiting associate professor of art history, attended the James Vander Zee awards banquet in Philadelphia on September 30, when the celebrated African-American author and sculptor Barbara Chase-Riboud became the 10th recipient of the annual award. Janson spent two days conducting in-depth interviews for a book he is writing about her art. He also will contribute a major essay on the art of Vietnam Veterans to be published by Harry N. Abrams, Inc. He is in the final throes of revising Janson's Basic History of Art, which will be dedicated to Bill and Elaine Anlyan.

Dr. Bruce C. McKinney, communication studies, recently spoke at the seventh statewide North Carolina Employee Assistant Program conference at Wrightsville Beach. McKinney spoke to the conference about "Basic Conflict Management Skills in the Office."

Dr. Grace Burton, curricular studies, addressed teachers at the NCTM Eastern Regional Meeting in Knoxville, Tenn., on October 6. Her topic was developing number sense in primary school children. She presented a workshop on this topic at the North Carolina Council of Teachers of Mathematics statewide meeting in Greensboro.

Don Hawley, Kenan Auditorium, recently attended the Southern Arts Federation's Southern Arts Exchange in Charlotte. Sessions included "Advanced Contract Negotiations" presented by Michell Greshenfeld, music producer, Cultural Olympiad, Atlanta Committee for the Olympic Games, and Ken DiCamillo, vice president, William Morris Agency, N.Y. This session focused on the complexities of negotiating contracts with entertainers which can have an impact on the total cost of presenting performances. Mr. Hawley has been negotiating performance contracts for several years and is available for input before presenters "sign on the dotted line." There is a Kenan Auditorium "House Rider" which should be included in any contract where the auditorium is the venue.

Technical support for presenters is always an issue in talent contracts.

Two earth science students, Angie Sprout and Karen Metz, have been awarded Science Opportunity Fellowships in Marine Science. The Fellowship supports undergraduate students who are conducting research under the supervision of a faculty member. Ms. Metz is working with Dr. Lynn Leonard investigating sedimentation and inlet migration in the region of Mason Inlet. Ms. Sprout is supervised by Dr. Bill Cleary, and they are studying the geology of the shoreface system in the area of Holden Beach/Ocean Isle.

Dr. Sybil K. Burgess, chemistry, presented a seminar on her research titled "Isolation and Characterization of Calcification Inhibitory Substances" at Appalachian State University.

Stephen C. Harper, management and marketing, is one of the featured speakers at Inc. Magazine's annual meeting on November 9 in Orlando, Fla. He has been invited to make two presentations, "How to Dance with the Elephants without Getting Trampled to Death" and "The Entrepreneur's Guide to Traversing Growth's Mine Field."

Dr. William Cleary, earth sciences, received funding from the N.C. DEHNR/Division of Coastal Management for his project titled "Inlet Influenced Changes Along North Carolina Shorelines: Phase I."

Dr. Michelle Howard-Vital, vice chancellor for the Division for Public Service and Extended Education, received funding from the N.C. Arts Council for her project "Future Arts III Conference."

Dr. James Meritt and Dr. Michael Mallin, CMSR, received funding for their project titled "Analysis of the Physical, Chemical and Biotic Conditions of New Hanover County's Tidal Creeks."

Dr. Joseph Yan, mathematical sciences, has a paper accepted for publication in the Journal of Dynamics of Continuous, Discrete and Impulsive Systems. In this paper titled "Reversible Hopf Bifurcations with Z2-symmetry," Dr. Yan reported results from a research project collaborated with faculty from Georgia Institute of Technology during a semester of research reassignment.

Dr. Steven Ross, CMSR, received funding for his project titled "NERRS Integrated Partnership Initiative for the Implementation of Projects Funded by the CZMA-Section 308."

Dr. David Webster, biological sciences, received funding from the N.C. Natural Heritage Program for his project titled "The Distributional Status of the Rare and Endangered Small Mammals of Holly Shelter Game Lands, Pender County, N.C."

Drs. Lawrence Cahoon and Michael Mallin, biological sciences, received funding for their project titled "Nutrient Limitation and Eutrophication Potential of the Cape Fear River and Estuary."

UNCW, Seven Area Community Colleges Mark Historic Expansion with Automatic Transfer Agreements

A highlight of the quarterly meeting of the UNCW Board of Trustees was the signing of a formal agreement between UNCW and seven southeastern North Carolina community colleges. This trail-blazing relationship is unique among UNC universities.

On hand for the occasion was Dr. Lloyd V. Hackley, president of the N.C. Community College System, along with presidents and representatives of the community colleges involved, UNCW Chancellor James R. Leutze and UNCW trustees. The community colleges that signed the agreement were Brunswick Community College, Supply; Cape Fear Community College, Wilmington; Craven Community College, New Bern; Lenoir Community College, Kinston; Sampson Community College, Clinton; Southeastern Community College, Whiteville; and James Sprunt Community College, Kenansville.

The agreement stipulates that the holder of an associate of arts or associate of science degree in college transfer coursework from the community college with a cumulative grade point average of at least 3.0 on a 4.0 scale will be considered to have fulfilled all of UNCW's basic studies requirements. These individuals will be admitted to UNCW as juniors.

The arrangement was piloted by Coastal Carolina Community College in Jacksonville and implemented with the admittance of the first Coastal student to UNCW during fall semester 1995. UNCW and the community colleges have been working on this arrangement for the past 14 months, and it represents a model for future agreements between UNC system institutions and the state's community colleges.

"This comprehensive articulation agreement represents a key vehicle of service to the community colleges in our region," said Dr. Denis Carter, UNCW associate provost for enrollment affairs. "Admission of high quality graduates will enable UNCW to retain some of the brightest students in the region. We have had unanimous support from the community colleges served by UNCW, especially since the program should also help these community colleges' retention."

Participation in the articulation program is voluntary and involves careful review and analysis of the community college programs, exchange of catalog materials and evaluation of course descriptions of curricular requirements. Courses must meet full accreditation requirements by the Commission on Colleges of the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools.

"We are delighted to be a part of this model regional approach," said Dr. Hackley. "This will further enrich the strong relationship the university system and community college system now share, at the same time, allowing students in transfer programs the ability to earn the degrees they seek."

"Furthermore, we have not, and we will not achieve a seamless education web until each segment of the education chain, kindergarten through college, is equal to the task of providing students with the knowledge and skills necessary for the highest likelihood of success at the next level, whether that level is further education or the workforce or life. This is one more step in that direction," Dr. Hackley said.

Perspectives from the Bench Hailed a Success

Attorneys from southeastern North Carolina, including the Fifth and Twelfth Judicial Districts, attended "Perspectives from the Bench," hosted October 13 by UNCW's Division for University Advancement.

Speakers included Joseph Cheshire V of Cheshire, Parker and Manning in Raleigh and Jay D. Hockenbury and W. Allen Cobb, Jr., resident superior court judges from the Fifth Judicial District. A panel discussion was led by Jacqueline Morris Goodson, chief district court judge for the Fifth Judicial District; John W. Smith, district court judge for the Fifth District; and Napoleon B. Barefoot, Jr., district court judge for the Thirteenth Judicial District.

Sponsors for the event were Talley Taylor Cape Fear Reporting, Aurelia Ruffin and Associates, Official Court Reporting Services, and The Old Wilmington Florist. Special thanks went to Copy Cat Print Shop and the UNCW Bookstore.

CAREER SERVICES

RIDING INTO THE FUTURE FULL SPEED AHEAD THIS YEAR!

Several new programs have been implemented to better serve our clients - faculty - students - alumni. We are providing "cradle to grave" career counseling services beginning with freshmen and continuing through their college career and into their alumni years. All of these programs and services have been designed to improve student retention, better prepare our students to enter the job market, and increase their employment opportunities!

DEVELOPING CAREER PATHS FOR FRESHMEN & SOPHOMORES

From their freshman year to after graduation, Career Services provides career development programs for every stage in students' pre-professional life. The center has implemented several new programs and CHOOSING YOUR MAJOR workshops addressing freshmen and sophomore career issues. Room 104 in the University Union is referred to as the Career Resource Room and houses an extensive career development library along with the SIGI PLUS computerized career assessment program. The Career Resource room is staffed with a career development counselor who provides individual assistance to students in areas of choosing a major through transforming this major into a realistic career plan. The private counseling sessions combined with workshops are designed to facilitate students' decision-making processes. The earlier students declare a major, the more prepared they will be to take advantage of experiential learning opportunities later in their college career.

RIDING THE WAVES OF COLLEGE RECRUITING FOR THE NINETIES

In the decade of the nineties, employers in the public and private sectors are focusing their college recruiting efforts on college seniors and graduate students with education that expands the boundaries of the classroom. In response, Career Services has begun to focus on strategies to assist students in gaining meaningful experience while still in school, develop efficient delivery of student information to employers, and serve as a primary clearing house for all work-related opportunities. Career Services recognizes experiential learning as an education strategy integrating classroom studies with work-based learning related to students' academic curriculum and/or career goals. The center is currently developing an experiential education component to add to the services already in existence designed to give UNCW students a competitive edge in employment interviews.

RECRUITING-RIGHT ON SCHEDULE

Fall campus recruiting is in full swing. Employers representing all facets of employment are planning to visit our campus this year. Visits by several recruiters have already taken place and others' schedules have been filled by UNCW students anxiously anticipating entering the job market. On-campus recruiting is always heavier during the spring semester as many recruiters use Career Day, held annually in October, as a strong fall recruiting tool.

MORE WORKSHOPS

To assist students in preparing for these recruiting interviews, Career Services provides many workshops. As a rule, students must attend an Interviewing Skills workshop and have a Personal Data Sheet and Resume on file in the Center before scheduling an appointment with an on-campus recruiter. Additional workshops on Resume Writing and Job Search Strategies are also held throughout the year to help students prepare for their professional life after college.

REMEMBER: AN EXTENSIVE COMPUTERIZED PART-TIME JOB SERVICE LISTING FOR ON- & OFF-CAMPUS JOBS IS AVAILABLE FOR STUDENT ACCESS IN UU106.

WHAT'S NEW IN CAMPUS ACTIVITIES!

ARE WE REALLY A SUITCASE CAMPUS?

A survey done by the Total Quality University Committee on Campus Activities showed that while most students (83%) stay here most weekends (10 or more each semester), they also believe (75%) that UNCW is a suitcase campus! We're trying to change that erroneous perception by shifting from cultural programs to "popular" entertainment and social events that have mass appeal. We are also encouraging student groups as well as departments to schedule more weekend events. So far this semester, weekend events have had good attendance, with average attendance between 400 and 1200 people per major event.

UNCW VOLUNTEERS! STARTS ANOTHER BUSY YEAR

This program has expanded to recruit volunteers for ten agencies in the Wilmington community. For students who don't have time for weekly service commitments, UNCW Volunteers! offers monthly service projects. The program is also offering university departments and student organizations the opportunity to adopt families for both Thanksgiving and Christmas. For more information, call ext. 3925.

NEW FILM PROGRAM

Advised through the Campus Activities Office, the Association for Campus Entertainment is the branch of Student Government that is charged with providing campus events for students. This past year ACE asked SGA for funding for a 35 mm film projector. With supplemental funding from the University Union department, the University Center ballroom now has a theater-quality projection system, enabling ACE to sponsor the most current films available in the college market. These movies have completed their run at the local theaters, but are not yet being offered at video stores. For more information on this film program, or any other ACE program, call the Campus Activities Office at 3827.

THE BLACK STUDENT NETWORK SERIES BEGINS

This is a new program in the Leadership Center, which focuses on the personal and leadership development of UNCW's African American students. There are currently 25 students enrolled in this year-long program. For more information, call ext. 3877.

WHAT HAPPENED TO ARTS IN ACTION?

Arts in Action was a cultural arts program, developed as a way to expose the largest number of people to the widest variety of enriching experiences possible. The 94-95 year was great, with 100+ programs reaching 16,000+ people. Programs ranged from the barbershop quartet featuring Jim Megivern and Bob Appleton; to a poet co-sponsored with the English Department; to blues and jazz performed by faculty, students and other local musicians. We offered Sunday Cinema with international and classic films, Monday Matinees with Tapestry Theater productions, Artists in Action exhibits and receptions, and Local Limelight performances each Thursday in the Hawk's Nest.

While the art exhibits and receptions will continue in the University Union and Center galleries, the need to do weekend programming with limited resources made it necessary to cut all other Arts in Action programs. We realize that these programs were popular, and do plan to do cultural programming once weekend activities are running well and additional funding is available.

TAPPING THE LEADERSHIP POTENTIAL THAT EXISTS IN US ALL

"Leadership for positive social change" is the focus of the Leadership Center. The complexity of today's society causes us to look at leadership as people working together to make the world a better place.

To perform this educational mission at UNCW the Leadership Center offers a multitude of programs: The Leadership Lecture Series, (ex. Maya Angelou's sold-out performance); the new Leadership Film Discussions (which began with Dr. Joanne Nottingham leading the discussion); the Interdisciplinary Minor in Leadership Studies; the Black Student Network Series; the Emerge program for new leaders; Leadership transcripts; service learning (volunteer) experiences; and conferences, workshops, and resource materials. For more info about any of the center's programs or resources, call ext. 3877 or stop by room 212 in the University Union.

The Department of Sociology and Anthropology, the Department of Political Science and the College of Arts and Sciences are sponsoring a lecture by Donald Tomaskovic-Devey, professor of sociology, NCSU, titled "Uneven Economic and Political Development in North Carolina: The Role of Race and Local Elites" at 1 p.m., October 25, in Cameron Hall Auditorium.

Warren W. Gulko, Ph.D., has been named the new director for the southeast region's Small Business and Technology Development Center (SBTDC). Dr. Gulko, formerly director of the Small Business Center at Pamlico Community College, will be based in the Division for Public Service and Extended Education.

Sridhar Narayan, mathematical sciences, presented a paper titled "MLP Networks and the Generalized Sigmoid Activation Function" at the second annual Joint Conference on Information Sciences held at Shell Island Resort.

Donald Bushman and Elizabeth Ervin, English, and Chris Mele, sociology and anthropology, presented a roundtable discussion at the Popular Culture/American Culture Association of the South Conference in Richmond, Va. The session titled "Teaching Popular Culture Through Community Service: Problems and Opportunities" described participants' efforts to incorporate community service projects into the academic study of writing and urban sociology.

Dr. Ritt Deitz, foreign languages and literatures, presented a paper titled "Une partie de campagne: Le sexe, le regard, et la caméra" on Jean Renoir's 1936 film adaptation of the Maupassant short story at the 45th Mountain Interstate Foreign Language Conference in Radford, Va.

Dr. Joan Willey, chemistry and marine science program, gave a seminar at the Woods Hole Oceanographic Institute on October 10. The talk was sponsored by the Department of Marine Chemistry and Geochemistry at WHOI. The title was "Impacts of Rainwater Hydrogen Peroxide on Lakes, Coastal Waters, and the Gulf Stream off Eastern North Carolina." Work done in collaboration with Dr. Robert Kieber, chemistry, Dr. Hans Paerl (UNC-CH Institute of Marine Sciences), UNCW graduate students Richard Lancaster and Cindy DeForest and UNCW undergraduate student John Verderber was discussed.

Randall K. Hanson, business law, had his article titled "Negligent Infliction of Emotional Distress Claims for Injuries to Family Members in North Carolina" published in the most recent issue of The North Carolina State Bar Quarterly.

Dr. P.J. Lapaire, foreign languages and literatures, talked to the Cape Fear Foreign Language Collaborative September 30 on the uses and application of "Contemporary French Music in the Classroom."

Dr. Hana Noor Al-Deen, communication studies, has signed a contract with Lawrence Erlbaum Associates for editing a book titled Cross-Cultural Communication & Aging in America. The book foreword is written by Professor Jennings Bryant, director of the Institute for Communication Research at the College of Communication, the University of Alabama. Drs. Bryant and Noor Al-Deen are also contributed chapters to the book. It contains 18 chapters which are contributed by 28 professors from 18 universities in 14 states.

The University of Georgia Press recently published Every Substance Clothed, a poetry collection by Kathleen Halme, English.

Lavonne J. Adams, English, has an article titled "Instilling Doubt: The 'Truth Line,'" in the fall 1995 issue of Exercise Exchange.

James J. Kiddle, chemistry, had his paper "Quebrachitol: A Versatile Building Block in the Construction of Naturally Occurring Bioactive Materials" published in the current issue of Chemical Reviews.

Dr. Virginia W. Adams, dean, School of Nursing, presented the results of a regional survey on school health issues at the Southern Council on Collegiate Education in Nursing in Atlanta, Ga. Sixteen southern states and the District of Columbia responded to a questionnaire to determine the level of involvement of nursing programs with school nursing practice. Dr. Adams chairs the Task Force on School Health at the SCCEN.

The following persons graduated from the N.C. Public Manager Program at an awards ceremony on October 16: Sam Connally and Kay Fryar, Human Resources; Tim Green, Nathaniel Purdy and Dorothy Taylor, Housekeeping; Jim Harris, Housing and Residence Life; Ray Humphries and Jeff Hunnicutt, Computing and Information systems; Nancy Maready, Public Service and Extended Education; and Robert Riley, University Police. Additionally, Jim Harris and Jeff Hunnicutt earned certified public manager designations, and Sam Connally and Kay Fryar were certified with excellence.

Dr. Charles Lewis, HPER, moderated and chaired a program on innovative commercial recreation ventures reaccreditation status as a visiting team member for the National Recreation and Parks - American Association for Leisure and Recreation Accreditation Program by completing a training workshop at the congress. Lewis is past president of AALR.

UNCW's Adult Scholars Leadership Alumni (ASLA) were invited to present "Life After Leadership" at the 16th annual conference of the National Association of Community Leadership on October 7 in Washington, D.C. UNCW's ASLA is nationally recognized for its strong alumni efforts. Adult Scholars Leadership is part of the Division for Public Service under the direction of Jan Johnson.

Preregistration Reminder

Preregistration for spring 1996 begins the end of October. Students planning to preregister must have a "0" balance on their student account and have no other outstanding debts with the university. Payments to clear student accounts can be made at the Cashier's Office in Hinton James Hall. Contact the appropriate office where the debt was incurred to clear the outstanding debts.

Director of Library Services

UNCW invites applications and nominations for the position of director of library services. The director provides planning and policy leadership for the university's print and electronic informational resources, oversight of 13 librarians and 23 support staff and administration of an annual budget in excess of $2.5 million.

A 128,000 square-foot facility, the William Madison Randall Library contains more than 400,000 hardbound volumes, subscribes to more than 5,000 serial titles, maintains extensive journal backfiles in bound volumes and microformat, as well as a large collection of audiovisuals in a variety of formats, and is a full depository for all N.C. documents and a partial depository for United States government publications. Connected to a high-speed fiber optic campus data network, the library provides access to the Internet and is the regional headquarters for a multi-university computer-based on-line catalog.

The successful candidate will have a demonstrated record of leadership and management in advancing innovative programs that respond to a changing technological and information environment, an understanding of the instructional and scholarly needs of students and faculty in a regional university setting, strong interpersonal and communications skills and the ability to serve effectively as an advocate and spokesperson for the library's educational mission. Minimal qualifications include an ALA-accredited MLS degree, with a second master's degree in another subject field, and eight years of professional experience in an academic or special library including five years in library administration. Preference will be given to candidates with an earned doctorate, a record of professional participation and scholarly contributions and experience in developing external sources of support for the library.

Applications and nominations should be submitted immediately. Application review will begin January 1, 1996, and the position will remain open until filled, with an expected appointment effective July 1, 1996. Salary is competitive. Applicants should submit a letter of application, a current resume and the names, addresses and telephone numbers of at least three professional references to the following: Chair, Randall Library Director Search Committee, Office of the Provost and Vice Chancellor for Academic Affairs, UNCW, Wilmington, N.C. 28403.

UNCW is an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer. Minorities and women are particularly encouraged to apply.

Chair Maker Arval Woody Named 1995 North Carolina Living Treasure

A fifth generation chair maker, Arval Woody, of Spruce Pine, N.C., has been chosen as the 1995 North Carolina Living Treasure by the Museum for World Cultures at UNCW.

The manufacture of handmade chairs has been in the Woody family for approximately 200 years. The current Woody's Chair Shop, opened after WW II, is located only a few feet from where Arval Woody's grandfather had his shop where he operated his equipment with power from a water wheel.

The chairs are constructed using an Early American method. There are no nails or glue used in the main structure. The chairs tighten as the wood dries. All wood used in the chairs comes from Western North Carolina or Eastern Tennessee.

Arval and his wife Nora Woody have shipped chairs to all 50 states as well as Canada, Mexico, England and France.

One of their chairs can also be found in the Smithsonian Institute as part of a permanent American Crafts Collection.

Woody will be presented the Living Treasure award on October 27, during a banquet.

On October 26, Woody will have an informal gathering and discussion in the lobby of the University Center from 2 to 4 p.m. The discussion is free and open to the public.

Joyce Morden is the new director of the Museum of World Cultures and is a UNCW faculty member in the Department of Sociology and Anthropology. Morden comes to UNCW from Port Angeles, Wash., where she was the director of the Makah Cultural and Research Center, a Native American tribal museum and cultural center, in Neah Bay, Wash. She received her doctorate degree from Rutgers University in N.J.

Asian Culture Dinner Promotes Cultural Education

The annual Asian Culture dinner will take place at 7 p.m., October 27, in the Hawk's Nest. The event is sponsored by the Asian-American Faculty Association. The group's annual dinner serves as an opportunity for members to meet people from the community.

"We believe that such activities provide opportunities for people to learn and understand more about different cultures, which is essential in shortening the distance among people in the world. "I am very excited about this event," said Dr. Joseph Yan, vice president of the Asian American Faculty Association.

Different types of Asian food will be served, and Dr. Coleman Barks, a world renowned speaker from the University of Georgia, will discuss "Rumi Poetry, Music and Philosophy." Rumi is a Persian poetry that reflects upon the Sophist philosophy, an influence in the lifestyle and social behavior of people in the Middle East. Dr. Banks will discuss this philosophy's influence in music and poetry as well.

According to Dr. Yan, the organization's 22 members are from a variety of Asian countries. They serve to promote public understanding of Asian cultures and contribute to the university's efforts in cultural education.

The event is open to the public. Dr. Bark's discussion is geared for a general audience. Tickets are $12 per person. Call Dr. Yan for ticket information at ext. 3820.

School of Nursing and Its Students Receive Awards

The North Carolina Association of Nursing Students (NCANS), consisting of 52 schools of nursing across N.C., met for its state convention in Charlotte, N.C.

The prestigious honor of Nursing Student of the Year was awarded to Paula Jones, senior. This award has gone to a UNCW student three of the last six years. As Nursing Student of the Year, Jones will sit as a voting member on the board of directors.

UNCW students Joan Wilborn will serve as president, Meghanne Hall as vice president and Melissa Batchelor as editor of NCANS newsletter Hypodermic.

UNCW School of Nursing also received the Community Service Award for the most money donated for the State Community Service Project. This was shared with ECU School of Nursing, each school raising $2,200. The UNCW nursing students proposed and supported the project, Food Banks of North Carolina. For the next year, student nurses across N.C. will donate food and contribute funds to this organization.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Feminist Colloquium

The Feminist Colloquium will meet for a brown bag lunch at noon, November 1, in the Faculty Common of Morton Hall. Helena Lee will be talking with us about her attendance at the United Nations Conference on Women in Beijing, China. All are welcome.

Flu Shots Available

Flu shots will be offered by Student Health Services for faculty and staff from 4 to 5 p.m., through October 27, upstairs of Westside Hall. The cost is $12 (Visa, Mastercard, cash and personal checks will be accepted). Adult members of employees' household who accompany the employee may also receive the flu shot.

Help Paint the Seahawk

The Athletic Department invites everyone to drop by the south entrance to Trask Coliseum between 4 and 6 p.m., October 27 to help paint the Seahawk logo. Refreshments will be served. In case of rain, the event will be postponed to a later date.

American Scientific Affiliation Membership Information

Members of the campus community interested in membership in the American Scientific Affiliation (ASA) may contact Dr. Moorad Alexanian, physics. As a member, you receive ASA's quarterly journal, Perspectives on Science and Christian Faith, and bimonthly newsletter. Randall Library receives the journal.

Film by UNCW Professor to Air Saturday

A film by Joe Kisthon, psychology, will be broadcast on public television. As part of the Visions series produced by UNC Center for Public Television, Henry Miller Is Not Dead will air at 11 p.m., October 28 on UNC-TV.

Intercultural Festival Looking for Performers and Committee Members

The Intercultural Festival will take place January 19 to 21, and the Campus Activities Office is seeking individuals to perform and/or assist with the coordination of this event. The Intercultural Festival was a great success last year with a committee of 20 faculty, community members, staff and students arranging events such as a film festival, a Friday night fiesta and day long celebration of cultures featuring food and musical performances. This is a great opportunity to celebrate the different cultures within UNCW and the surrounding community. If you are interested in assisting with the coordination or know of any performers who would like to be part of this event, please contact Justin Lawhead at ext. 3284 or via e-mail at LawheadJ.

Chemistry Seminar

The first student presentations in the Chemistry Department's Senior Seminar series will be given at 3 p.m., October 27, in DeLoach Hall, Room 114. Presenters include: Robert Kevin Jones, "The Chemistry and Environmental Effects of Ammoniacal Species in Hog Wastes" (advisor- Dr. John Manock) and Edward N. Hill, "CHEMFETS" (advisor- Dr. S. Bart Jones). Light refreshments will be served.

Note of Appreciation

My sincere thanks for my friends in the campus community for all of their cards, flowers, calls and visits following the recent death of my brother, former Senator and Judge David F. Aldrich of Norway, Maine.

Irving to Present Zoo-U-Man Come Home as Part of Celebrate Wilmington!

How does the murder of James Jordan, father of superstar NBA player and Wilmington native Michael Jordan, translate into a gospel musical? Author and composer Sam Irving, another native Wilmingtonian, has used his death as a central focus in his presentation, "Zoo-U-Man-Come Home," a gripping drama about black-on-black crime and violence. The play not only reflects on the murder of Mr. Jordan, which Irving identifies as the last straw, but an accumulation of violent and murderous acts which have occurred over the past three years.

In this play, Irving draws from his many personal and professional experiences to help our society better understand the man behind the violence. Zoo-U-Man represents a cold hearted, uncaring man who commits all types of crimes and enjoys seeing others in pain. He has become a predator and sociopath on the prowl for "whatever he wants, when he wants it," explains Irving. As the story unfolds, the audience begins to understand Zoo-U-Man's pain and anguish as their eyes are opened to the many aspects of life that feed this mentality. An impressive gospel score moves the play to another level.

Zoo-U-Man Come Home will be performed at 8 p.m., November 10, at Scottish Rite Temple, 1415 S. 17th Street, Wilmington. Tickets are $12.50 in advance and $14.50 at the door. For advance tickets, call Kenan Auditorium Box Office.

This presentation is sponsored by the Division for Public Service and Extended Education as part of Celebrate Wilmington! '95.

CAMPUS COMMUNIQUE

THE OFFICIAL BULLETIN OF UNCW

University Advancement

Vol. XXV, No. 15 November 2, 1995

Gina B. Roundtree, editor

Letter from Chancellor Leutze

Wilmington will be breaking new ground on November 9. On that day, plans for the new Downtown Supermarket will be unveiled at a town meeting which will be held at 7 p.m., in Thalian Hall (the City Hall Ballroom).

Wilmington's Northside and adjacent downtown neighborhoods have been without convenient access to that most essential of retail services, a full-service supermarket, for over 20 years. A year ago, a task force, led by Gene Merritt of the North Fourth Street Business Partnership, took on this economic development challenge. Through our Division for Public Service and Extended Education, UNCW has been a partner in the effort, mobilizing university resources and technical assistance. We secured grant support from the Z. Smith Reynolds Foundation to fund the start-up phase of the project. Faculty in marketing and social work assisted with market surveys and community organizing efforts. Through the Leadership Center, students helped clear the North Fourth Street site where the store will be built. With the November 9 event, these behind-the-scenes efforts enter a final critical phase: the public campaign to sell memberships in the supermarket cooperative.

The Downtown Supermarket will provide more than much-needed access to retail grocery services. The store is critical component in the broader economic development effort to return North Fourth Street to its former commercial vitality. That effort in turn is the key to the successful revitalization of the Northside and other inner city neighborhoods.

Much is riding on these efforts.

I call your attention to the insert publicizing this event, and I urge you to plan to show your support and learn more about this effort which will have a positive impact in our community.

UNCW Volunteers! ActFast Project

On November 16, UNCW Volunteers! will be participating in Oxfam America's "Fast for a World Harvest Campaign." It is an effort to raise money for famine relief that will go to Oxfam America and the Good Shepherd House. Students and faculty members will be giving up something for one day (meals, junk food, cigarettes, etc . . .) and donating the money they would have spent to help fight hunger. If you would like to participate in the "fast" or if you would like to sponsor someone who would, please call the UNCW Volunteers! Office at ext. 3925.

Blood Drive

The Red Cross will be holding a blood drive from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m., November 7, in the University Center Ballroom.

Campus Calendar Wants Your Events

The Campus Activities Office is currently gathering information for its '96 spring calendar. This publication reaches more than 9,000 students, faculty and staff. Student response to it has been overwhelmingly positive. This is one of the best ways to reach students and the rest of the UNCW community. If you would like your events to appear in the calendar or have any questions, please call ext. 3827 or e-mail to BENNETTM.

Creative Services Fair

Make plans to attend the Creative Services Fair, hosted by University Relations, from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m., November 20, in the University Center Ballroom. Have you ever wondered whom to call to produce the perfect video? Needed designers and writers to create a newsletter? Searched for just the right photographer? Here is your opportunity to talk with these talented creative service professionals. There is no charge to attend this display of services and products, so be sure to bring co-workers and friends who can benefit from a bit of visual magic in their projects and promotions. For more information, please call ext. 3861.

A Special Thanks from Admissions

The Admissions Office would like to thank all the faculty and staff who helped with the "Preview '95" visit day for high ability students on October 21. We appreciate everyone's willingness to help from the planning stage through the actual event. Hopefully, we will have a large number of good students for the fall of 1996 as a result.

QUALITY FACULTY . . . QUALITY STAFF

Eddy Cavenaugh, Administrative Computing Services, presented a session at the Carolina's Student Information Systems Users conference in Columbia, S.C., October 8-10. The session titled "Electronic Data Interchange" was a discussion of the design and implementation of computer systems which transmit and receive electronic documents such as transcripts and financial aid applications. He also met with other NC and SC university representatives to discuss and share concerns involving the SIS system.

T. David Evans, sociology and anthropology, has co-authored an article "Religion, Social Bonds and Delinquency" which will be published in the March 1996 issue of Deviant Behavior.

Dr. Terry Theodore, fine arts, has two articles published in the October issue of Wilmington Magazine. The first profiles UNCW's Dr. Gerald Shinn, and the second is titled "Atalaya: Moonish Fortress in the Carolinas."

Paul G. Shotsberger and Christopher G. Spell, mathematical sciences, presented a paper titled "Collaborative Distance Education on the World Wide Web: What Would That Look Like?" to a plenary session of the Computer Support for Collaborative Learning conference held at Indiana University. The paper, co-authored with Karan B. Smith, describes a Netscape application being developed at UNCW for training practicing math teachers in how to implement the classroom teaching recommendations of the National Council of Teachers of Mathematics.

Pierre J. Lapaire, foreign languages and literatures, gave a one-hour presentation on the classroom uses of contemporary French music at the Foreign Language Association of North Carolina in Greensboro. The presentation centered on linguistic, cultural, and artistic aspects of the French and French-speaking musical scene today.

Dr. William J. Cleary, earth sciences, had two papers published titled "Influence of Inherited Geologic Framework on Barrier Shoreface Morphology and Dynamics" and "Geology of Wrightsville Beach, N.C. Shoreface: Implications for the Concept of Shoreface Profile of Equilibrium" in a special issue of Marine Geology. The papers were co-authored by members of a multi-institutional research team at Duke, ECU, NCSU and the US Geological Survey. The research was funded by NOAA's UNCW National Undersea Research Center.

Lee Schwenger and Dan Noland, English, attended the Western Literature Association Conference in Vancouver, British Columbia. Schwenger presented a paper on the Paiute Indian Woman, "Sarah Winnemucca as Woman Word Warrior" and Noland read a paper titled "The Spiritual Politics of Place: [Terry Tempest] Williams' Refuge and An Unspoken Hunger."

Dr. Patricia Comeaux, communication studies, had her article "The Impact of an Interactive Distance Learning Network on Classroom Communication" published in the October 1995 issue of Communication Education.

Dr. George T. Zervos, philosophy and religion, moderated a panel discussion held in the Cameron Education Center at New Hanover Regional Medical Center. A panel of physicians and clergy discussed end-of-life health care decision making and the futile care that is often expected and rendered in critical medical scenarios. The program was sponsored by the Coastal Bioethics Network, an organization of area physicians, nurses, patient representatives, clergy, lawyers and educators which serves as a resource for the local medical community and public as they deal with issues involving medical ethics. Dr. Zervos is a patient representative at New Hanover Regional Medical Center and serves as co-chairman of the Education Committee of the Coastal Bioethics Network.

Dr. Steven Errante, fine arts, presented "Cultural Preservation in Music and Dance: Aaron Copland's Appalachian Spring" at the joint meeting of the Popular Culture Association in the South and American Culture Association in the South in Richmond, Va.

Dr. Richard Huber and Dr. Ann Lockledge, curricular studies, received funding for their project titled "Environmental Education Institute."

Candace Gauthier, philosophy and religion, presented a paper, "Teaching the Virtues: Justification and Recommendations," at the Society for Health and Human Values 1995 Annual Meeting in San Diego, Calif.

Paula Kamenish, and Carolyn Pittman, English, presented papers at the International Conference on the Sacred and the Profane in Atlanta. Kamenish's paper, "Sanctifying the Crime: The Papin Sisters on Stage," studies two playwrights' renditions of the controversial 1933 French murder. Pittman's essay, "The Sacred as Profane/The Profane as Sacred: A Study of Sexuality in Jeanette Winterson's Written on the Body," explores the implications of the narrator's sexual ambiguity.

Dr. L. Drew Rosen, production and decision sciences, presented his paper titled "Quality Function Deployment for Services: The Link to World Class Service Organizations" at the sixth annual meeting of National Production the National Production Operations Society in Pittsburgh, Penn. Dr. Rosen also served on the program committee as exhibitors coordinator and served as chair of the session titled "Issues in Service Operations."

Dr. W. Frank Ainsley, geography, presented a paper titled "Evolution of the Chatel House: Folk Housing of Barbados," at the 27th annual meeting of the Pioneer America Society held in Fredericksburg, Va.

Dr. Gil Grant, biological sciences, received funding from the US Fish and Wildlife Service for his project "Evaluation of Diamondback Terrapin By-catch Mortality in Crab Pots."

Beaux Arts Ball

Come join the fun at Celebrate Wilmington's grand finale — the Arts Council's Beaux Arts Ball at 8 p.m., November 11, at the Coastline Convention Center. For only $25 per person you can enjoy tasty provisions and refreshing spirits as you conspire with a cast of performing artists and view the fine art of local visual artists.

You are invited to bring out the artist within you by wearing a costume, or for the less daring, you are invited to don semiformal attire.

There will be a costume parade and the following awards will be given for costumes: "Birds of a Feather" (best connected group/crew); "The Cecille de Mille Award" (best costume epic); "The Mae West Award" (most gratuitous costume); "Sampson and Delilah" (best duo or couple); "The Zsa Zsa" (best use of accessories); "The Dramatis Spectaculus" (best catwalk presentation); "Au Naturel Award" (best use of natural materials); "The Galileo" (best use of science in a costume); "Marie Antoinette Big Hair" (best obvious abuse of hair care products); "De Ja Vu" (best blatant recreation of a dead artist); "Belle of Beaux Arts" (best of the ball); and "Beast of Beaux Arts" (best of the ball).

CAMPUS COMMUNIQUE

THE OFFICIAL BULLETIN OF UNCW

University Advancement

Vol. XXV, No. 16 November 9, 1995

Gina B. Roundtree, editor

UNCW Takes Message to Onslow County

Chancellor James R. Leutze led a contingent of more than 30 professors and administrators for a full day of outreach activities in Onslow County November 1. The purpose of the trip was to promote the value of higher education and inform citizens how UNCW adds value to the lives of people in Onslow County.

The first outreach activity of its scope ever to be undertaken by UNCW included visits to Jacksonville High School and Southwest High School, contacts with civic and governmental leaders, a press conference at Coastal Carolina Community College, a session at the Onslow County Library to inform people about educational enrichment opportunities and an evening pig-pickin' for alumni, prospective students and their families and friends.

The trip to Jacksonville is the first of six such outreach programs planned this academic year. Other visits will be made to Columbus County November 15 and Sampson County November 21.

Chancellor Leutze wishes to thank all UNCW faculty and staff who contributed their time and efforts to make this first outreach such a tremendous success.

Seahawk Doubleheader

UNCW vs. Latvia Russians, November 9, in Trask Coliseum. Women's basketball at 5:30 p.m. and men's at 7:30 p.m. Come and show support for your Seahawks.

UNCW-TV Brings Information and Entertainment to Students

UNCW now has its own on-campus, cable-operated television network on Channel 57. The channel provides information about student activities, meetings, lectures and sporting events, as well as movies and games. Channel 57 can be seen on any television in the residence halls and in academic and support buildings on campus that have cable.

UNCW-TV broadcasts two movies every night beginning at 8 p.m. A weekly movie schedule is posted in each residence hall and in Wagoner Hall. Information about student activities is broadcast throughout the day and between movies. A puzzle will be shown each week where viewers are asked to identify a person in a picture. One piece will be shown each Monday and a new piece will be added each day. A prize will be awarded to the first caller who correctly identifies the person in the puzzle.

As recommended by the TV Channel Study Team, chaired by Dick Scott, assistant vice chancellor of Business Affairs, the university has hired a part-time staff member to gather information campuswide for broadcast. Vickie Yearby, a communications specialist, headquartered in University Relations, has organized a campuswide network of information providers to develop a comprehensive schedule of lectures, meetings, sporting events and other activities to be posted on Channel 57. Each network member relays event information to Vickie through e-mail. If anyone would like an event or information broadcast, please e-mail Vickie Yearby at YEARBYV.

The following is a list of network members. If you have an event or announcement in any of the following departments, you can relay the information to the contact person and he or she will send it to Vickie Yearby, or you can send it through e-mail to YEARBYV.

QUALITY FACULTY . . . QUALITY STAFF

Welcome to Dale Wright, the newest member of the Student Academic Support Programs Office. Wright is the coordinator for Minority Student Retention and Academic Enrichment Programs in Student Academic Support Programs. She is a UNCW graduate and is pursuing her graduate degree at UNCW's School of Education. Dale is very excited about being part of the University family and is looking forward to meeting and working with all of the minority students on campus.

Dr. W. Frank Ainsley, geography, delivered the introductory keynote address for the Fifteenth Annual Meeting of the North America Cartographic Information Society held in Wilmington on October 25-28, 1995. The title of his talk was "Scenes of Old Wilmington: An Introduction to the Historical Landscapes of the Cape Fear Region."

C. Brooks Dodson, English, presented a paper at the 11th International Interdisciplinary Conference on General Semantics, held at Hofstra University in New York.

Drs. David Blake, James Dockal, John Huntsman and Michael S. Smith, earth sciences, attended the 1995 Carolina Geology Society annual meeting in Spartanburg, S.C. They participated, along with four UNCW geology graduate students, in the two-day field trip which focused on the "Geology of the Western Part of the Carolina Terrane in Northwestern South Carolina," proceedings published in a special volume of South Carolina Geology (vol. 37, 1995).

Frank Tascone and Aida Toplin, Office of International Programs, attended the conference of NAESA: Association of International Educators in Memphis, Tenn. Ms. Toplin presented a paper titled "Orientation Programming for Study Abroad."

Kathy Rugoff and Barbara Waxman, English, attended the South Atlantic Modern Language Association Convention in Atlanta, Ga. Dr. Rugoff read a paper at the session of Society for the Study of Multi-Ethnic Literature of the U.S. titled, "Culture, Consciousness, and Women in Ozick's The Pagan Rabbi and Potok's The Chosen." She was also elected secretary for the society's 1996 session. Dr. Waxman delivered a paper at the Psychology and Literature Discussion Circle session titled, "Adult Utopian Visions: Doris Lessing's Memoirs of a Survivor."

Dr. Lou Buttino, communications studies, was a presenter at the North Carolina Film and Video Conference on October 28 at UNCW. The panel on funding the independent film also included Sam Grogg, director, North Carolina School of the Arts, and Libby Seymour, Fayetteville Arts Council.

Kate Bruce, psychology, had an article on agonistic relationships and sexual behavior patterns in male guppies, Poecilia reticulata, published in the journal Animal Behaviour. Wanda White, a recent psychology major graduate (undergraduate), co-authored the paper.

Dr. Donna Lee King, sociology and anthropology, had her article "Using Children's Artwork in Social Research" published in the fall 1995 issue of The Maine Scholar.

Doretha Stone, interim associate dean for the School of Nursing, was elected to the North Carolina Nurses Association Council of Nurse Educators as a Member-at-Large. She also did a brief discussion at the Women's Wellness Weekend which was held at the University Center. The lecture presentation was titled "Does Dinner in a Bucket Count . . . 90 Laughs for the 90s Woman." Stone's topic was "Ain't Nothing But a She Thing, I Can Be Anything I Want to Be and So Can You."

Dr. Virginia Adams, School of Nursing, was the keynote speaker at the Southeastern Sickle Cell Association, Inc. 12th annual fund-raising awards dinner held October 26 at the First Baptist Activities Center. The focus of the dinner was "Save the Babies: It Takes a Whole Village." Dr. Adams multimedia presentation was titled "Community Responsibility."

Making Your Money Work

All employees are invited to attend a presentation in the University Union, Room 201, by Jerry Morris, institutional consultant for TIAA/CREF, on financial planning, the new TIAA/CREF products and allocating premiums. Call ext. 3006 to register or to make individual appointments. 9:30 to 10:30 a.m. and 4 to 5 p.m., November 9, and 9 to 10 a.m., November 10.

AFLAC

November is open enrollment for supplemental health coverage. For more information, all ext. 3713.

Notary Service Available

Notary Public service is available in the University Union to all students, staff and faculty. Notaries are located in the Union Administration office, Room 202, and in the Student Government office, Room 200. This service is at no charge. Reminder: The primary function of a Notary Public is to witness the signature(s) on a document. Therefore, the forms must not be signed until the bearer is in the presence of the Notary.

Holidays and Leave

As the Thanksgiving and Christmas breaks approach, managers are reminded to monitor leave balances to ensure insofar as possible employees are able to schedule vacation leave so that December 31 vacation balances do not exceed 240 hours.

While state policy permits vacation balances in excess of 240 hours to be converted to sick leave, this transfer carries a minimal monetary value and does not relinquish managers of the responsibility to ensure employees who choose to use vacation leave be allowed to do so. Because holiday travel plans frequently require advance purchase of tickets and commitment of dates, managers are reminded to set reasonable time limits for leave requests to be submitted and approvals granted.

Thanksgiving: Thursday and Friday, November 23 and 24; Christmas: Monday to Monday, December 25 to January 1 (December 29 will be a scheduled vacation day).

Business Affairs Meeting

There will be a brief meeting of the Business Affairs Committee at 8 a.m., November 10, in Alderman Hall, Room 211. The purpose of the meeting is to discuss the selection of designers for the recreation center and student parking lot.

NC Flex-Employee Benefits Program

NC Flex, the new Statewide Flexible Benefits Program, is debuting this month. The program will include flexible pre-tax spending accounts for health care and dependent care and a pre-tax dental plan. Information and enrollment materials are being mailed to permanent employees this week at campus addresses. Look in your mail box for the "plain brown envelope" and see how you can realize 25 to 42 percent in tax savings on health care, dependent care and dental insurance premium expenses. Please take time right away to read the materials carefully and make plans to attend one of the special employee meetings - no need to preregister.

Employee meetings about NC Flex will be held on November 16 at: 6-7 a.m., 7:30-8:30 a.m., 9-10 a.m., 10:30-11:30 a.m., 1:30-2:30 p.m.; all in University Union, Room 100; and 4-5 p.m., at the New Hanover County Library.

Welcome

Please welcome the following new employees: Kathleen Kelley/VCAA, Nancy Jones/Physics; David Mowrer/Physical Plant.

Administrative Procedures Update

The following policies for the Administrative Policies and Procedures Manual have been approved and are now accessible on-line to university departments.

ACG 2.60-University Equipment: This procedure has been revised to indicate that an updated listing of fixed assets will be provided to university departments annually by September 30. This listing will reflect any changes resulting from the annual physical inventory of fixed assets.

AUX 5.50-Purchases from the Centralized Forms Catalog: This is a new procedure setting forth policies and procedures governing the purchases of printed forms and other printed materials stocked by Printing Services.

Administrative Procedures are available on-line on Netscape via the gopher service. They can also be accessed through either VXA, VXB or VXC on the VAX by typing INFO at the username prompt. Administrative Procedures can also be accessed through SBNALLEXP and through FRS and SIS menus.

CTE Has Moved

The Center for Teaching Excellence has moved to Hoggard Hall, Room 210-D, just down the hall from the old CTE Office. Office hours are 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday through Friday. A full staff is available to assist faculty from 8 a.m. to noon, Monday through Friday, and from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m., Mondays and Wednesdays.

VAXcluster to Shut Down

The VAXcluster (VXA, VXB and VXC) will be down from 5 p.m., November 17 through 6 a.m., November 20, for operating system upgrade. Campus computers using either VXA (152.20.1.1) or VXC (152.20.1.3) for domain name service may redirect nameserver requests to 128.109.131.2 for that weekend. Please change back after the weekend.

Beaux Arts Ball

Come join the fun at Celebrate Wilmington's grand finale — the Arts Council's Beaux Arts Ball at 8 p.m., November 11, at the Coastline Convention Center. For only $25 per person you can enjoy tasty provisions and refreshing spirits as you conspire with a cast of performing artists and view the fine art of local visual artists. You are invited to bring out the artist within you by wearing a costume or for the less daring, you can don semiformal attire. For more information, please call ext. 7049.

Afternoon with Carolina Authors

The American Association of University Women, Wilmington Branch, will hold its third annual Afternoon with Carolina Authors at 1:30 p.m., November 11, in Cameron Hall. Four North Carolina authors will talk about their work and sign their books at a reception following the program. Tickets are $7 and can be obtained by calling 395-6190, 686-1319 or 392-3268. This year's speakers include: Clifton Daniel, Nancy Tilly, Tim McLaurin and Kathleen Halme.

The Care Fund Concert

THE OFFICIAL BULLETIN OF UNCW

University Advancement

Vol. XXV, No. 17 November 16, 1995

UNCW Professor to Speak about "Black Indians of New Orleans"

Dr. Maurice Martinez, speciality studies, will present a lecture and film titled "The Black Indians of New Orleans" at 8 p.m., tonight, in Morton Hall's Bryan Auditorium. The public is invited and admission is free.

Dr. Martinez's lecture as well as his award-winning documentary examines the black krewes of Mardi Gras. According to Martinez many of these black organizations have a direct connection to the Native American peoples who historically lived in Louisiana.

Martinez is a native of New Orleans and earned his Ph.D. in comparative and international education from the University of Michigan. He directed and edited a series of videotapes now being distributed by the Museum of Art in New York.

This lecture is the third in a series presented by the UNCW Department of History and the College of Arts and Sciences. For more information, please call Dr. David LaVere at ext. 3311.

UNCW Faculty, Students Come to the Aid of Ailing Dolphin

When dolphin "Benny" was found stranded off the coast of North Carolina on September 19, he was too sick to eat, swim or even float. He was transported to the National Marine Fisheries Services Lab on Pivers Island, Beaufort, where he underwent rehabilitation.

UNCW was vital to the success of this rehabilitation by supplying approximately 100 student volunteers to work two-hour shifts around the clock with researchers to help Benny swim, eat and support himself.

UNCW history student Jenny Edwards volunteered her time throughout Benny's stay in Beaufort and says, "I think it is wonderful that UNCW has offered me such a wonderful experience."

Researchers from UNCW also were given the opportunity to work closely with Benny and gain valuable scientific information.

"This is the first time a stranded marine mammal has survived this long and has moved to an established rehabilitation center," said Dr. Ann Pabst, assistant professor of biological sciences. "Our hope is to someday release Benny into his natural environment."

After regaining some of his strength, Benny was safely airlifted to the Mote Marine Laboratory in Sarasota, Fla., where he can get more expert care in a larger tank.

Aquarius to be Featured on 20/20

Rumor has it that UNCW's Aquarius will be featured on 20/20 Friday, November 24.

Aquarius, the world's most advanced undersea research laboratory managed by UNCW, will be the backdrop for a 20/20 interview with Hugh Downs and

UNCW and WWAY-TV 3 invite you to watch ABC's 20/20 at 10 p.m., November 24 on WWAY-TV 3.

Creative Services Fair Cancelled

The Creative Services Fair scheduled for Monday, November 20, has been cancelled.

Artist Hughes Exhibits Work

Southport artist, Rusty Hughes, will have an exhibit in the University Center from November 14 through December 21. The exhibit is titled "Relative Positions." A Meet the Artist reception will be held from 4 to 5:30 p.m., November 19. Hughes primarily uses oils as his medium but also uses watercolor, acrylic, serigraph and sculpture. The public is invited to view the exhibit and attend the reception.

Congratulations

Congratulations to Lisa Small, whose daughter Christie Small won the Miss Brunswick County Pageant this weekend. Christie is the new Miss Brunswick County.

Information Network Meeting to be Held

A meeting of the UNCW-TV information network members will take place at 9 a.m., November 20, in the University Union, Room 100. Please RSVP by November 15 to YEABYV. The meeting, which will take approximately 30 minutes, will serve to answer any questions or concerns you may have as an information provider for the station. If you have any questions, please call ext. 7223.

Seminar Features Dr. Jefford

Dr. Charles Jefford, University of Geneva, Switzerland, will present a seminar on his research involving "The New Chemistry of Peroxidic Antimalarial Agents" at 3 p.m., November 17, in DeLoach Hall, Room 114. Educated at Oxford and Princeton Universities, Dr. Jefford is the author of more than 250 publications in the area of synthetic and theoretical organic chemistry. He has been active in research to develop medicinal agents to combat tropical diseases and is interested in isolation of bioactive compounds from marine organisms. He has served as director of Harbor Branch Oceanographic Institution in Ft. Pierce, Fla. The public is invited, and refreshments will be served.

Storyteller and Poet to Perform

Shindana Cooper, a skilled storyteller and poet, will perform at 7 p.m., November 29, in the Center Stage Cafe. This program is sponsored by the Association for Campus Entertainment Arts and Lecture Committee.

Ms. Cooper's program stimulates awareness in African-American communities and perpetuates the centuries-old tradition of oral history. She takes her audience from a small African village, through the Middle Passage, from life on the plantation to a safe house on the underground railroad. Shindana recently produced her own radio program, "Keepers of the Cultures," for WCCN in Baltimore and will host her own television special, "Stories from Around the World." For more information, please call ext. 3842.

Feminist Colloquium

The Feminist Colloquium will meet for a brown bag lunch at 12:15 p.m., November 28, in the Faculty Common in Morton Hall. The discussion will be lead by Carolyn Pittman and will focus on "The Campus Climate for Gay Students Who Leave the Closet." Reading selections are on library reserve or call ext. 3764. All are welcome.

A pair of gold rim bifocals behind the bleachers in Trask Coliseum. If you think they may belong to you, please call Mary Hayes at ext. 3263.

Bid Farewell to Maimone

The university family is invited to say farewell to Charlie Maimone from 3 to 5 p.m., November 20, in the University Union Living Room. Maimone has accepted a position with The College of William and Mary and will be leaving UNCW on November 22. Please join the staff of Business Affairs and Auxiliary Services in wishing Charlie and his family well in their move to Williamsburg.

Algal Chemical Defense Lecture

Dr. Peter Steinberg from the University of New South Wales will present a lecture on algal chemical defense titled "Quantitative Variation in Algal Chemical Defenses" at 2 p.m., November 17, in Friday Hall, Room 151.

Trim the Tree Party

Faculty and staff are invited to the chancellor's third annual "Trim the Tree" party from 2 to 4 p.m., December 7 in the lobby of Alderman Hall. Come have some cookies and cider, hang an ornament on the tree and enjoy holiday music by the Kathy Meyer String Quartet. Faculty and staff are encouraged to participate by bringing ornaments representing their departments or divisions.

University Women Say Thanks

University Women of UNCW wish to thank everyone who participated either by contributing money or bowling in the March of Dimes Bowling for Babies event on November 5. We had a great time and with the most teams (six) of any organization participating, UNCW raised $1,600 of the $13,000 brought in by the event. University Women of UNCW coordinate campus participation in this effort toward healthier children.

HUNDLEY WELLNESS PROMOTION CENTER

The Hundley Wellness Promotion Center, located on the second floor of Westside Hall, serves the UNCW campus community by providing students with information and educational services which address healthy-living choices and behaviors. Topics addressed range from nutrition, relationships, alcohol and other drug use, and sun protection to stress management, sexual health, and smoking cessation. The Hundley Wellness Promotion Center is also the primary source of educational materials, programs and services addressing sexual violence. These are provided through the Center's "Reach Out!" program.

A MISSION OF STUDENT WELLNESS

College students of all ages and backgrounds bring to campus a range of experiences, interests and needs related to their personal health and well-being. The mission of the Hundley Wellness Promotion Center is to take the lead in helping individuals define and identify healthful living behaviors and to provide active support and encouragement for their regular practice. All too often, the only models of wellness-related behaviors that people are presented are negative ones. For example, our campus culture seems to place positive value on students having an active social life. Yet much of the information about what this "looks like" is conveyed to students by images in the popular media or through student-communicated rituals, rites and traditions which involve heavy alcohol use and unsafe sexual practices.

A central role of the Hundley Wellness

Promotion Center, then, is to provide for students a more accurate model or picture of wellness. We accomplish this through a variety of services and programs including guest speakers, interactive information displays and other educational activities. Our department is also a valuable source of printed and video information on a range of topics from HIV/AIDS, sexuality, breast cancer prevention and sexual assault awareness. These are especially useful to persons seeking basic information for personal use or those needing resources for class projects.

Finally, our professional and student staff members are available for special programs and presentations on these and many other wellness-related topics.

Our wish is for students to view the Hundley Wellness Promotion Center as a reliable, user-friendly, and pro-student resource. We are here to provide opportunities for students to learn and actually put into practice skills which will help them take control of their lives and develop their own personal wellness plan. While possessing knowledge may not directly lead to behavior change, it is an important part of the formula in order for that process to occur. By presenting to students on-going and positive "snapshots" of clear and accurate models of healthy choices and by giving them frequent opportunities for "hands-on" experience with healthy behaviors, we can assist them in beginning to make healthier choices and thus in becoming better able to meet the challenges both in the classroom and beyond for many years to come.

CAMPUS REC- Let's get fit!

The Office of Campus Recreation (a student fee supported program located in Hanover Gym) organizes and administers a variety of recreational services that are either structured or self-directed and enhance the overall wellness of the university community. The primary goal of the program is to provide for quality recreational experiences within the university environment and direct this toward the individual's physical, cognitive and social life thus enhancing the educational experience. This goal is accomplished by offering a wide variety of recreational activities, conducting educational workshops, and providing professional training for student employees. The Office of Campus Recreation provides a multifaceted program which includes: Heart and Sole Fitness, Intramurals, Discover Outdoor Programs, Sport Clubs and Special Events.

The UNCW Recreation Area (near the Gazebo) is being monitored by University Police to assist in making this area available only for students, faculty and staff. Due to problems last year, you must show your ID to be eligible to use this area. Hanover Gym has also acquired a "No ID, No Play" rule after 6:00 pm on weekdays and during open hours on weekends, so please remember to bring your ID when you want to use these facilities.

Intramurals has adopted the "No ID, No Play" rule to be consistent with the facility guidelines so please remember to bring your ID! Faculty and staff are encouraged to participate in any or all campus recreation programs.

DISCOVER OUTDOOR PROGRAMS

Discover Outdoor Program is the adventure recreation component to the Office of Campus Recreation. Programs offered through Discover include a variety of adventure trips and clinics, the UNCW Challenge "Ropes" Course, and outdoor equipment rentals. In addition students, faculty, and staff can find a variety of outdoor recreation resources including maps and books in the Discover Center, located at 138 of the University Center.

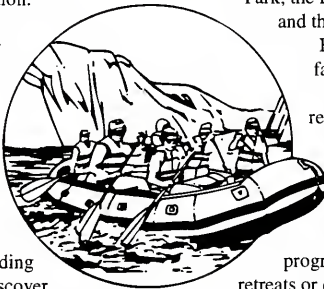

An exciting addition to the programs for 95-96 has been kayaking trips and clinics. Destinations have included Bank's Channel, Hammock's Beach State Park, the Fort Fisher Basin area, and the Haw River. Campus

Recreation encourages faculty and staff to take advantage of this new recreational opportunity as well as any of the other programs offered.

Discover is also available for special programs that may serve as retreats or class field experiences utilizing the UNCW Challenge "Ropes" Course and the adventure trip program. For information on these programs call ext. 4052, or stop by the outdoor center.

INTRAMURAL SPORTS

The Intramural Sports Program provides students, faculty, and staff opportunities to participate in organized individual and team sports. The program promotes sportsmanship, teamwork, friendly competition, and the opportunity to develop one's leadership skills. Traditional sports offered include flag football, outdoor basketball, outdoor soccer, racquetball, volleyball, indoor basketball, softball, tennis, and indoor soccer.

Nutcracker Ballet at Kenan

Donald R. Hawley, Kenan Auditorium manager, will make his debut appearance in "The Nutcracker Ballet" as Herr Drosselmeyer, the toymaker. The Nutcracker Ballet is produced by the Dance Theatre of Wilmington each year at Kenan Auditorium. Performances are at 7:30 p.m., November 25, and at 3 p.m., November 26. Tickets for this holiday concert are $9 at Belk Beery or Kenan Auditorium Box Office, ext. 3500.

Affirmative Action Debate

There will be a public debate and dialogue on affirmative action at 7 p.m., November 30, in Cameron Hall Auditorium. The evening will begin with a debate between two teams of UNCW students including Kiowa Crawford, Elizabeth Edwards, Carol Foltz, Robert Granack, Steve Lee, Aimee Rochedieu, Robert Russ, Bill Tart, Cyrenda Turner and Gabriella Williams. The debate will be followed by a panel discussion and dialogue with the audience on issues raised in the debate. The panel will feature Lee Johnston of political science, Helena Lee of the African-American Cultural Center and James McGowan of philosophy and religion with Thomas Schmid of philosophy and religion as moderator.

British Ships' Visit

If you would like to take a British sailor from the HMS Southampton and RFA Oakleaf shopping, offer a home-cooked meal or other entertainment, call the Naval Affairs Committee's Dial-A-Sailor number at ext. 4165. Leave your name and number and the date and type of entertainment and someone from the ship will return your call. The ships will be in town November 16 through 20.

UNCW Volunteers!

The Good Shepherd's "Second Helpings" needs volunteers to pick up unserved entrees, vegetable dishes, soups, salads and desserts between the hours of 8 a.m. and 4 p.m., Monday through Friday. Special event pick-up will be handled on a case-by-case basis.

The purpose of the Good Shepherd's "Second Helpings" is to collect wholesome, prepared foods from restaurants, hotels, grocery store delicatessens, caterers and other food service operators and then serve these products at the Good Shepherd House, a local soup kitchen. If you have any questions or would like to set up a meeting to discuss the program, please call Burton Whiteside at 251-1124 or the UNCW Volunteers! office at ext. 3925.

No Communicue Next Week

Due to the Thanksgiving holiday, there will be no Campus Communicue for Thursday, November 23. The normal schedule will resume with a noon deadline on Tuesday, November 28.

QUALITY FACULTY . . . QUALITY STAFF

Dr. Diane Levy and Dr. Patricia Turrisi, Honors Scholars Program, and Andrea Wimmers, sophomore honors scholar, attended the National Collegiate Honors Council Meeting in Pittsburgh. They gave a presentation titled "Bringing Honors to Our Neighborhood: Lessons from Our Pilot Year."

Kathy Rugoff, English, attended a National Endowment for the Humanities Summer Seminar, Modernism in Literature and Music. It was held for six weeks at the University of Rochester.

Dr. Thomas Schmid, philosophy and religion, presented a paper "The Theory and Practice of Complex Marriage" at the annual meeting of the Society for Utopian Studies in Toronto, Canada, October 19 to 22.

The National Orientation Directors Association has published the 1996 Orientation Director's Manual, edited by Dr. Richard Mullendore, Division for Student Affairs. Mullendore wrote the chapters on retention and parent/family programs; and co-authored the chapter on assessment/evaluation. Karla Carney, director of orientation, co-authored a chapter on recruitment and selection of orientation leaders. Lori Barrett and Tony Sumner, Division of Student Affairs, provided the layout and design of the book.

Dr. Ann Allen, School of Nursing, received funding from the Southeastern Center for Mental Health for her project titled "Infant Mortality/Morbidity Reduction Project."

Bob Toplin, history, presented a paper at an international conference on film and history in Berlin, Germany, titled "Dangerous City: Changing Images of New York in Hollywood Movies, 1940-90."

Dr. Sally P. Cummings, School of Nursing, was selected to become a W.K. Kellogg Foundation Family Nurse Practitioner Faculty Fellow. This fellowship program carries a $30,000 stipend for full-time study at East Carolina University. An important component of the scope of work outlined in the grant is to create an environment within the academic setting and community conducive for the FNP Faculty Fellow to teach and practice upon completion of the program of study. An added strength to the undergraduate programs, this program will encourage research in the clinical practice environment.

Robert Mark Spaulding, history, presented a paper, "East-West Trade at the Geneva Summit," at an international conference "The Dawn of Détente: The Geneva Summit of July 1955" held October 20 to 22 and organized by the Eisenhower Center at the University of New Orleans. His essay "The Political Economy of German Frontiers 1918, 1945, 1990" was selected for inclusion in Jacques Bariéty and Carole Fink (eds.) The Establishment of European Frontiers After the Two World Wars: A Comparative Examination (forthcoming 1996).

Dr. Xin Lu, mathematical sciences, had his paper "Monotone Method and Convergence Acceleration for Finite-Difference Solutions of Parabolic Problems with Time Delays" published in the November 1995 issue of the journal Numerical Methods for Partial Differential Equations.

Dr. Christopher Eckhardt, psychology, was awarded a grant from the National Institute of Mental Health to study the "Cognitive Processes and Anger in Maritally Violent Men."

William G. Anyan, Jr., vice chancellor for University Advancement, was quoted in the article "The Unkindest Cuts" in the October 1995 issue of Currents, the official magazine for the Council for Advancement and Support of Education (CASE).

Several faculty from mathematical sciences presented talks at the 15th annual Southeastern-Atlantic Regional Conference on Differential Equations at N.C. State University. Dr. Wei Feng presented a talk titled "Competitive Exclusion and Persistence in Models of Resource and Sexual Competition"; Dr. Russell Herman presented a talk titled "Painleve Analysis of Perturbed Nonlinear Evolution Equations"; Dr. Eric R. Kaufmann presented a talk titled "Multiple Positive Solutions of Higher Order Boundary Value Problems"; Dr. Ram Vedantham presented a talk titled "Path Integral Representation for Hyperbolic Equations"; Dr. Joseph G. Yan presented a talk titled "On Stable Stationary Parallel Waves and Target Patterns in Reaction-Diffusion Systems." Also in attendance were Dr. Thad Dankel and Dr. Xin Lu.

Dr. Andrew F. Clark, history, presented a paper, "France, the League of Nations and the Suppression of Slavery in French West Africa," to the African Studies Association annual meeting held in Orlando, Fla.

Dr. Walter Conser, philosophy and religion, participated in a conference at Harvard University. The topic was "United Germany in a United Europe." The conference was sponsored by the German Academic Exchange Service.

Dr. John M. Anderson, production and decision sciences, presented his paper titled "Coming to Terms with the Communication Gap Between Managers and IS Professionals" at ISECON '95, the national meeting for information systems educators sponsored by the Data Processing Management Association. The paper also appeared in the conference proceedings.

Tom Macie, fine arts, made a presentation titled "Computer Imaging for Stage Design Models" at the N.C. Theatre Conference's Annual Meeting in Salisbury, N.C. The presentation demonstrated a process of using CAD, photo manipulation and 3-D modeling software for the development of stage set models.

John Myers and Sherrill Martin, fine arts, each had essays published in the catalog Time, Talent, Tradition: Five Essays on the Cultural History of the Lower Cape Fear Region, North Carolina. Dr. Myers' essay is titled "Visual Arts," and Dr. Martin's essay is titled "Music and Dance in the Lower Cape Fear." The project was part of the celebration of the 250th anniversary of the incorporation of the City of Wilmington and was supported among others by Cape Fear Museum, St. John's Museum of Art and a major grant from the N.C. Humanities Council. Dr. Martin spoke about her essay and performed period songs with Beth Marshburn Bell, and Dr. Myers spoke about his essay during a book-signing event at Cape Fear Museum. The catalog is available for purchase at Cape Fear Museum and St. John's Museum of Art.

Just Say No

"Just Say No," sponsored by UNCW University Police, is a play written, produced, directed and performed by 13 inmates of the North Carolina Correctional Facility at Wilmington, better known as "025."

The play relays the message of how to say no to drugs, what happens when you don't say no and how drugs can destroy the family concept. This emotional play will be performed at 5 p.m., December 10, in Kenan Auditorium. Admission is free and open to the public.

World AIDS Day

The Hundley Wellness Promotion Center is supporting the eighth annual observance of World AIDS Day on December 1.

As a part of the Ribbon Project, red ribbons have been placed on the light poles along Chancellor's Walk; these ribbons will be in place through the weekend. Red ribbons can be picked up in the University Center, University Union and the Hundley Wellness Promotion Center (Westside Hall).

Red ribbons show your commitment to the fight against AIDS, compassion for people with AIDS and their caretakers and support for education and research leading to effective treatments, vaccines or a cure. Red ribbons are a symbol of hope: the hope that one day soon the AIDS epidemic will be over, that the sick will be healed and that the stress upon our society will be relieved.

The Hundley Wellness Promotion Center appreciates UNCW's support of The Ribbon Project and the observance of World AIDS Day.

CAPE, Watson School of Education Honors 15 Outstanding North Carolinians

Fifteen outstanding North Carolinians were honored with Razor Walker Awards for contributions to the youth of North Carolina in ceremonies November 16 at the Wise Alumni House. The Razor Walker Awards are given in the fields of education, business, medicine, law, the arts and public policy by UNCW and sponsored by the Consortium for the Advancement of Public Education and the Watson School of Education.

Established by the Watson School of Education in 1993 under the leadership of Dean Robert E. Tyndall, the Razor Walker Awards each year recognize individuals who have distinguished themselves in service to the youth of our state. "Often against great odds, and in the face of personal and professional risk, these individuals have continued to pursue their goal for better life for children of North Carolina. Each recipient has demonstrated vision, tenacity, sacrifice and courage," said Tyndall.

The 1995 Razor Walker recipients are:

Teaching/Research: Faye Lloyd, innovative teacher, Southport Elementary School; Carolyn Brown, education program coordinator, North Carolina Zoological Park, Asheboro; Lois Moye, math teacher, Pamlico High School, Oriental.

Public Service: Cornelius Donaldson, custodian, New Hanover High School; Col. John D. Taylor, commandant of IMPACT Youth Centers, N.C. Department of Correction, Hoffman; Bishop George E. Battle, executive director, Gethsemane Enrichment Program, Charlotte.

Educational Administration: Danny McPherson, 1995 Principal of the Year for the Southeast Region, principal, West Columbus High School, Cerro Gordo; Rosemarie Bullard, executive director, Cumberland County Partnership for Children, Inc., Fayetteville; Jay Robinson, chairman of the State Board of Education, Wilmington.

Public Policy: Benjamin Halterman, local veteran's commission, insurance, Wilmington.

Business: James F. Goodmon, president and chief executive officer, Capitol Broadcasting Company, Inc., Raleigh.

Art: Ann Hattaway, board of directors, North Carolina Art Society, Raleigh.

Law: Pattie Sue Harrison, chief district court judge, Roxboro.

Medicine: Alton Anderson, M.D., practicing physician and chairman of Halifax County Council for Children, Weldon; Sue Long, registered nurse and clinical manager of Emergency Services at Carrabus Memorial Hospital, Concord.

Faculty Reassignment Awards for 1996-97 Announced

Following recommendations by the Faculty Reassignment Awards Committee, Provost Moss is pleased to announce the recipients of the 1996-97 Faculty Reassignment Awards.

Normally up to five awards are given, but, because one proposal brought with it substantial outside funding, it was possible this year to award six reassignments.

Recipients are Dr. Andrew F. Clark, history; Dr. Andrew E. Hayes, special studies; Dr. Luther D. Lawton, economics and finance; Dr. Sherrill

Martin, fine arts; Dr. William H. Overman, psychology; and Dr. Judy A. Siguaw, management and marketing.

The Division of Academic Affairs is pleased to be able to support faculty research and creative activity in this way and extends congratulations to these faculty.

The call for applications for the awards for academic year 1997-98 will be issued in the fall semester of 1996, and all interested faculty are encouraged to apply.

UNCW's Aquarius to be Featured Friday on ABC's 20/20

The Aquarius feature on ABC's 20/20 has been rescheduled for this Friday, December 15, at 10 p.m. on WWAY-TV 3. The segment features Hugh Downs interviewing diving scientist Dr. Sylvia Earle.

Aquarius is owned by NOAA and operated by UNCW's National Undersea Research Center. The center's Florida program has supported more than 100 projects in the Keys since it began nearly five years ago, and it is the leading coral reef research program in the nation. Aquarius gives scientists the opportunity to live and work on the ocean floor among deep coral reefs, at about 60 feet, for up to 10 days.

The 81-ton, 43- by 20- by 16.5-foot underwater laboratory has living quarters that allow teams of up to five aquanaut-scientists to continuously live and work on the sea floor. From Aquarius, scientists can work five or six hours at a time, after which they can return to Aquarius to eat, rest and conduct research. They can then go back into the ocean, later in the day or night, to conduct research on our nation's only continental coral reef ecosystem.

Aquarius has revolutionized the way scientists work in the sea, and in time, the way we think about coral reefs and our understanding of the world's oceans will be shaped by their studies.

Alumni Association Seeks Nominees

The UNCW Alumni Association is seeking nominations for its 1996 Alumnus/a of the Year and Distinguished Citizen of the Year awards. The Alumnus/a of the Year Award is open to all who attended and/or graduated from UNCW. The Distinguished Citizen Award is open to anyone for notable service to the university and the community. Nominations can be made by writing a letter of recommendation to the UNCW Alumni Association Board of Directors. Deadline for nominations is December 30. Please specify the award category and describe why you think the nominee merits the award. Include the nominee's name, address, telephone number and work place.

Letters should be mailed Patricia Corcoran, Wise Alumni House, 1713 Market Street, Wilmington, N.C. 28403. More information can be obtained by calling 251-2682.

Interim Dean Appointed

Dr. Daniel Plyler, professor of biology, has been appointed interim dean of the College of Arts and Sciences, effective January 1, 1996. Dr. Plyler, who served as dean of the college from 1979 to 1989 and as academic dean of the university from 1976 to 1979, will hold the interim position until July 1, 1996, when a new dean will take office. A national search is currently underway to replace Dr. Carolyn H. Simmons, who resigned at the end of the fall 1995 semester.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Good Luck and Best Wishes

All the best is wished to George M. Quinn, director of the Office of Computing and Information Systems, who is retiring effective December 31. Quinn has contributed greatly to the university's advancement into the information age, and his expertise and guidance will be missed by all.

Reserve Those Reading Lists

Faculty are asked to submit reserve reading lists for spring 1996 before December 22. Send lists to Carolyn Andrews in Randall Library or e-mail to ANDREWSC. To renew previous list, call ext. 3790.

Hinton James Open House

Faculty and staff are invited to tour the newly renovated Hinton James Hall at an open house from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m., December 15. Light refreshments will be served. Hinton James Hall houses the offices of Enrollment Affairs, Registrar, Admissions, Financial Aid, Cashier and the Graduate School.

Intercultural Festival Booth and Performance Applications Available Now

Would your group like to be part of the 1996 Cultural Extravaganza? The 1996 festival will take place from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m., January 20, and features music, food, displays and performances from many cultures. If you would like to participate, call the Campus Activities Office at ext. 3827 (an application will then be sent) or drop by University Union, Room 214.

Winner Announced for "Name That Card" Contest

Duane Hines, English major, has won the "Name That Card" contest sponsored by Auxiliary Services. Four of the 783 entries had given the same name for the student I.D. card "UNSEA Card." A drawing was held December 8 to determine the grand prize winner. Hines won tuition in the amount of $420 for the 1996 spring semester. The three entries not drawn received $25 each deposited to their flex accounts. They include: Leslie Lambeth, Eric Dannelson and Mel Doyle.

Student Academic Support Programs to Provide Workshops

The UNCW Student Academic Support Programs will offer the following workshops to assist students as they begin a new semester. The following workshops are scheduled for 4 p.m. and 8 p.m. in Cameron Hall, Room 132:

- Time Management, January 18, Katherine L. Jorgensen, Center for Academic Advising.
- Improving Note-Taking Skills, January 24, Dr. Tom MacLennan and Desiree Mapson, Learning Center.
- Effective Textbook Reading, January 31, Dr. Tom MacLennan and Beth Carter, Learning Center.
- Test-Taking Skills, February 6, personnel from the Student Development Center.
- Stress Management, February 13, personnel from the Student Development Center.

Faculty Senate Elects President-Elect

Richard Veit, English, is the new president-elect of the UNCW Faculty Senate. Elected by the Senate at its December meeting, Veit will take office in July. He will succeed the current president, Cecil Willis, who is leaving office to become chair of the Sociology and Anthropology Department.

University Women Announce Scholarship Recipients

The University Women of UNCW held its Annual Fall Meeting at the Wise Alumni House on December 5. The two scholarship recipients announced were Kim Renee Robinson and Holly Roughton.

Kim Renee Robinson of Wilmington graduated from New Hanover High School and is a junior at UNCW majoring in environmental studies. Holly Roughton graduated from Minisink Valley High School in Slate Hill, N.Y. and is a junior at UNCW majoring in communication studies. Dorothea Cahill, scholarship co-chair, presented the award certificates which will assist them in furthering their education.

Entertainment by Elaine Penn, University Advancement, was enjoyed by the group, who joined her in singing holiday songs.

On Campus

This week's student segment "On Campus" of the Jerry Wainwright Show (airs Sundays at 12:30 p.m. on WWAY-TV 3) will feature Christmas UNCW style. Watch and see some of your coworkers on TV.

State Employees Combined Campaign

UNCW employees contributed $20,492 to the State Employees Combined Campaign (SECC) to help maintain greatly needed services and programs in our state and local community. The total amount raised by state employees in the Cape Fear Area was $33,122. A special thanks is extended to Gene Huguelet for serving as the UNCW campaign coordinator.

SGA Looking for Office Equipment

The Student Government Association is trying to make more office space, and in doing so is in the need of donated desks, file cabinets and office supplies. Please contact the SGA office at 395-3553 if you can help.

QUALITY FACULTY . . . QUALITY STAFF

Kelly Easton, English, had a story published in Phoebe, Journal of Feminist Scholarship Theory and Aesthetics. Another story has been accepted for publication in Midstream. Ms. Easton's plays received readings at "Man Bites Dog Theatre" in Durham and "Rogue Repertory Theatre" in New York City.

Dr. Terry Theodore, fine arts, has signed a contract to write a lengthy review of Grumpier Old Men for Gale Research, Inc. The sequel again teams Oscar-winners Jack Lemmon and Walter Matthau as a feuding pair of neighbors. The review will soon appear in Prodigy and Dialogue databases.

Mike S. Adams and T. David Evans, sociology and anthropology, had their article "Teacher Disapproval, Delinquent Peers and Self-Reported Delinquency: A Longitudinal Test of Labeling Theory" accepted for publication in The Urban Review.

Lavonne J. Adams, English, is the recipient of an Arts Council of the Lower Cape Fear 1995-96 Emerging Artists Program grant, supported by the Emerging Artists Program of the Arts Council of the Lower Cape Fear and the North Carolina Arts Council. The funds will be used for attending a writers' conference in the spring.

Douglas Marcy, earth sciences, recently presented a paper titled "Hardbottom Dominated Shorefaces: Coastwise Variations Along a Foreland, Southeastern North Carolina" at the annual Geological Society of America Meeting in New Orleans, La. Dr. William J. Cleary was co-author.

Philip Gerard, director of Professional and Creative Writing, was one of a cadre of writers including Lee Smith, Clyde Edgerton and Fred Chappell to contribute a chapter (Chapter 11—Tobe Mobotu) to Pete and Shirley—the Great Tarheel Novel, serialized in the Raleigh News & Observer November 12 to 20 and published this month as a trade paperback by Down Home Press, with all royalties going to benefit the North Carolina Writers' Network.

John P. Bennett, HPER, was honored at the fall 1995 North Carolina Alliance for Health, Physical Education, Recreation and Dance State Convention in Greensboro, N.C., for "distinguished contributions to the professions represented in the North Carolina Alliance for Health, Physical Education, Recreation and Dance and by modeling personal and professional behaviors which influenced the lives and leaders of NCAHPERD" through the Student Majors Association of NCAHPERD. He also gave a presentation at the same conference titled "Celebrate Our International Heritage — Making Connections." Approximately 30 UNCW physical education majors assisted in the session, and Joy Wells, Kathryn Craddock, Kristin Lynch, Barry Blackburn, Jeff Lewis, Joanna Chandler, Chad Porter and Judy Lewis, HPER, gave mini-presentations within this session.

Bob Toplin, history, has been appointed contributing editor for media for the newsletter of the American Historical Association.

Poinsettia Sale

Girls, Inc., is holding its annual fund-raising poinsettia sale. Plants are available in red, white and pink in six-inch foil-covered pots for $6.50. Free delivery service is available to the university on December 15 and 22. Call ext. 3227 or 763-6674 to order.

Remember, due to the holidays, the next Campus Communique will be distributed January 11, 1996, with a noon deadline on Tuesday, January 9. Happy Holidays!

Departments With Student Workers Take Note

Anyone that hires work study or work assistant students, please e-mail CARRF, send a memo or call Career Services at ext. 3174 whenever a student is no longer working for your office so that Career Services can keep an accurate record of students working. Thank you for your cooperation.

December Holidays

The university will be closed beginning December 25 and will re-open January 2. December 25 to 28 and January 1 are paid holidays; December 29 is a required vacation day. Employees may charge accrued compensatory time, charge advanced compensatory time (to be made up in January) or charge leave without pay (to be deducted from January pay). Employees who are required to work during the holidays earn holiday premium pay on the five designated holidays only. Employees who must work on the required vacation day should charge work hours instead of leave for any hours worked. Work on the weekends will be treated as extra hours. Call ext. 3392 with questions.

Cashier's Office

The Cashier's Office will close at 3 p.m., December 22, for month-end processing and to prepare required reports to the State Treasurer's Office. Activity is expected to be heavy at the Cashier's Office December 15, 18 and 19. To accommodate the needs of faculty and staff, university business should be taken to the student accounts entrance. A window will be designated for "payroll only" on designated payroll days.

Leave Audit

The end of December is leave/time sheet audit time. Prior to the holiday break, departments will receive lists and instructions for the audit. Call ext. 3392 with questions.

Medical Insurance Premium Pre-taxing

The premiums you pay for medical insurance are pre-taxed. That means that you do not pay federal, state or social security taxes on the amount deducted from your pay. This saves most of us about 30 percent of the premium and puts those dollars in our paychecks. This pre-taxing is automatic unless you ask us not to process this benefit for you. If for some reason you wish your medical insurance deductions to be on an after-tax basis, call ext. 3713 by January 5. A form will be sent to you to sign to elect an after-tax deduction.

Feminist Colloquium to Meet

The Feminist Colloquium will meet for a brown bag lunch at 12:15 p.m., January 23, in the Faculty Common of Morton Hall. The discussion will be led by Nancy Fauser and will focus on the introduction to The Myths of Motherhood by Sharil Thurer. The reading is on library reserve or call ext. 3764. All are welcome.

Volunteers Needed

Want to give back to a community that has provided you with so much? Well here is your chance to be a part of UNCW Volunteers! Sign up to serve at one of our eight agencies or if a long-term commitment is not for you, then come be a part of one or all of our six one-time plunges. Call ext. 3925 or ext. 3797.

Workshop on Preserving Photos

The University Women will sponsor a workshop to preserve photos at 1 p.m., January 18, in the University Center, Room 104. Dorothea Cahill will present "Creative Memories," a workshop on transferring photos and memorabilia from old albums to new acid-free albums. The University Women are updating their treasured history and photos. Anyone interested in helping the University Women with this project or in the "Creative Memories" program for personal photo albums is welcome to attend the workshop. Admission is free of charge. Please call Dorothea Cahill at 763-6392 if you are interested in attending or have any questions.

Rankin Leaves UNCW

Allison Rankin, coordinator for prospect research, University Advancement, has accepted a position with Wilmington Industrial Development, Inc. (Committee of 100). Her last full day in the office will be January 18. She will miss her colleagues at UNCW and hopes to keep in touch. Her new phone number, effective January 29, will be 763-8414, ext. 217.

Tutoring for Students

The UNCW Learning Center, located on the second floor of Westside Hall, offers free tutoring in all UNCW courses except math and English. The Math Lab, located in Bear Hall, Room 101, provides free tutoring in all math courses, and the Writing Place, located on the second floor of Randall Library, provides free writing and reading assistance.

Alumni Association Hits the Road to ECU

Good news for all Seahawk fans . . . On Saturday, January 27, the UNCW Alumni Association will sponsor a bus trip to Greenville, N.C., to see the UNCW Seahawks take on the Pirates of East Carolina University.

Join other Seahawk fans, alumni and university staff as we paint a path of Seahawk pride along I-40 on our way to Greenville, then enjoy a catered dinner before the game at our pre-game social. The cost of the trip is $30 and includes transportation, pre-game dinner/social and game ticket. There is a $5 charge for children three and under and a $15 charge for children ages four to 12. The deadline for reservations is January 24. A limited number of seats are available. Call 251-2682.

Leadership Center to Show Ghandi and Glory

The Leadership Center Films Discussion Series will resume on January 22 with Dr. Deborah Brunson, communication studies, hosting Ghandi in Center Stage Cafe at 6:30 p.m. Eight Academy Awards attest to the power and grandeur of this remarkable portrait of the humble man who led his country to freedom and became a symbol of peace throughout the world. Stars Ben Kingsley, Candice Bergen, Martin Sheen and Trevor Howard.

The second film, Glory, will be hosted by Dr. Gay Davis, Institutional Research, at 7 p.m., February 5, in Center Stage Cafe.

Chemistry Seminar

The first lecture in the spring 1996 Chemistry 495 Seminar Series will be given at 3 p.m., January 12, in DeLoach Hall, Room 114 by Dr. Louis D. Quin, recently appointed adjunct professor in the Chemistry Department. Dr. Quin has headed the chemistry departments at Duke and the University of Massachusetts. His topic will be "Generation and Reactions of Transient Phosphoryl Compounds in Low Transition States."

Faculty Recital Series

The UNCW Department of Fine Arts presents its Faculty Recital Series with three concerts remaining. The series features UNCW music faculty in a variety of solo and chamber music settings. All concerts begin at 8 p.m. in Kenan Auditorium.

January 29, Schumann Liederabend: An evening of Schumann songs with soprano Joan Heller, tenor Joe Hickman and pianist Barry David Salwen performing the great cycles Dichterliebe and Liederkreis.

February 20, President's Day Recital: Soprano Joan Heller sings songs based on texts by Walt Whitman about President Lincoln. Works by Kurt Weill, George Crumb and the world premiere of a work about Mary Todd Lincoln by Thomas Stumpf will be featured on this special President's Day tribute.

March 19, Piano Recital: Internationally recognized concert pianist Barry David Salwen performs solo works by Bach, Brahms and Debussy. He is joined by soprano Joan Heller for a performance of Schoenberg's songs Opus 2 and 143.

Admission for each concert is $5 with a 20 percent discount for senior citizens and children under 12. UNCW faculty and staff are admitted at half price, and UNCW students are admitted free with valid I.D. Proceeds support the UNCW Music Scholarship Fund. For ticket information and reservations, call ext. 3500.

Office of Computing and Information Systems (Academic Computing) Moves Help Desk

The OCIS Help Desk is now located in Hoggard Hall, Room 225. The telephone number will remain ext. 3883.

World Wide Web OPAC Access

World Wide Web server software has been added to the Randall Library Online Catalog (ROCK). In addition to Telnet access, users may now access the catalog using Netscape or other web viewers by using the URL: <http://uncclc.coast.uncwil.edu/>

The web software, written by Innovative Interfaces, Inc., converts existing bibliographic and item records into HTML documents on-the-fly. Using the web interface, users can search the catalog, view their own circulation record, search for reserve materials and can make suggestions or request the library purchase additional items. Additionally, the web software provides links to related services, such as the current issue of Time magazine, when one retrieves a title that has a web site on the Internet. Future WWW software releases will incorporate additional features that are now limited to the text-based interface, such as initiating interlibrary loan requests and searching remote databases using the Z39.50 client/server search engine. If you have questions, call ext. 3624.

Watson School of Education Forms Partnership with Area School Districts

The Donald R. Watson School of Education is establishing formal program agreements with 10 school systems in southeastern North Carolina.

A Professional Development System will be created in each school district for the purpose of working closely with partnership schools to improve their schools and the student teaching experiences of teacher interns. These agreements are the result of a five-year study conducted in Brunswick and Duplin counties in a Model Clinical Teaching Program with the Watson School of Education.

The basic elements of this program are being incorporated to transform the entire student teaching program at the Watson School of Education. Recently, the Watson School of Education was named as one of three national award finalists by the Association of Teacher Educators (ATE) for this innovative approach.

WHAT ARE SEXUAL HARASSMENT & CULTURAL DIVERSITY? EXPLORE THESE ISSUES WITH US.

"Unwelcome Advance--Sexual Harassment in the Workplace" January 31, 1996 10am-Noon--University Ballroom

This presentation uses dramatic and comedic vignettes, carefully woven with factual material, to examine the issue of sexual harassment in the workplace from many perspectives. Vignette topics include: Halls of Justice, Are You Behaving Yourself?, I Don't Wanna Work, Burning 'Em Down, It'll All Go Away, I Don't Want It to Happen Again, and Glimmer of Doubt.

WHAT'S IN A PICTURE? IT ALL DEPENDS ON HOW YOU LOOK AT IT.

A CROUCHY OLD CLOWN?

"Synergy of Others: Cultural Diversity in the Workplace" January 31, 1996 2-4pm -- University Ballroom

This lively production is both humorous and informative, framing the human element within highly researched, factual material. "Synergy of Others" approaches cultural diversity with a respect for individualism and differences in the context of the workplace. It examines the struggle for diversity and offers some suggestions for how we can all work together. Clever and imaginative vignette topics that illustrate a variety of situations include: The Basher, Imposter, Types, I Don't Wanna Work, Unfair, Forest for the Trees, and Wendall Greene.

UNCW Sponsors a Violence and Development Conference

The Social Work Program of UNCW will sponsor a NASW national teleconference on global violence that will examine parallel conditions of violence and poverty in the United States and in less economically advantaged nations. Two video conferences, both hosted by Charles Kuralt, are scheduled for February 6 and 9. Guest speakers are scheduled for February 7 and 9, and local community social workers representing agencies providing services to victims of violence will be available to discuss their programs on February 8. The following is a list of scheduled activities:

1 to 2:30 p.m., February 6, Randall Library Auditorium (starts promptly at 1 p.m.)

Section I: Global Communities/Local Communities

- Common social problems, such as inter-ethnic conflict, the drug epidemic and poverty.
- Inequities in wealth and resources within and between countries as an underlying factor in violence.
- Perspective that the absence of violence is dependent upon justice.
- Introduction of the concept of "sustainable human development."

Section II: Violence Is the Enemy of the Community

- Community leaders focus on the effects of violence and community building.
- Discussion of the connection between violence and poverty, women and youth, ethnicity, trauma and substance abuse.

Section III: Looking Forward

- Examination of innovative projects and initiatives which address violence.

3:30 to 5 p.m., February 7, King Hall, Room 101

Wernor Fornos, president of the Population Institute, is an internationally recognized authority on global population and its impact on the world's environment, economic health and political and social stability.

UNCW Exhibits Healing Works

UNCW and the Rape Crisis Center are seeking works of art for an upcoming exhibit celebrating survival and healing from sexual assault and child sexual abuse. This exhibit, Healing Works, will be displayed March 12 through April 4 in the University Union. A variety of original art is sought for display including, but not limited to, writings, paintings, sculpture, drawing and music. All art should in some way address survival and healing from sexual violence.

Healing Works is intended to heighten public awareness of both the pain caused by sexual assault and child sexual abuse and the celebration of survival and healing from the effects of that violence. A reception honoring the artists will be held from 7 to 9 p.m., March 14, in the University Union. The reception and exhibit are open to the public free of charge.

Persons wishing to submit works of art for Healing Works should register on or before February 9; however, items for display are not due until March 1. To register as an exhibitor or to request information on Healing Works, contact Diane Edwards at ext. 3577 or Yael Gold at ext. 3746.

Academic Achievement in Student Housing

During the past three years, the Office of Housing and Residence Life has begun to make numerous modifications in the residence facilities and program to enhance students' academic experience. Computer labs have been added to Schwartz, Galloway, Graham, and Belk Halls. Study lounges have been created in Belk, Graham, and Hewlett Halls and in the apartments. Special interest housing options such as Honors Housing, an International House, a Study/Quiet Floor, and a Greek Housing unit have been added to the existing residence life program.

The results of these changes are beginning to show themselves in the grade point averages of resident students. The number of on-campus students who attain a 3.0 GPA or greater has climbed each of the last three years. This fall, 31.7% (578) of on-campus residents met or exceeded that benchmark with a total of 178 (9.7%) students having GPAs of 3.5 or greater.

The accompanying figures are from the last three years fall semester grade reports. These figures indicate not only an increase in the number of high achieving students, but a decrease in the number of students who attained less than a 2.0 GPA.

Greater Than 3.0

Fall, 1993	486	25.4%
Fall, 1994	532	27.6%
Fall, 1995	578	31.7%

Less Than 2.0

Fall, 1993	484	25.4%
Fall, 1995	449	24.2%

RA Positions Available

The Office of Housing and Residence Life is looking to hire thirty-three undergraduate students to serve as resident assistants for the 1996-97 academic year. We encourage all university staff to consider urging qualified students to apply for this key student leadership position.

Applications may be obtained by attending one of numerous informational sessions in February or by calling x3241 to make an individual appointment with a residence coordinator. Qualified candidates must have a 2.25 GPA and be in good standing with the university. Remuneration is $3,900 per year to be paid in nine monthly checks.

Faculty or staff can call x3241 or e-mail KaberlineC with questions.

Room Selection for the 1996-97 Academic Year

Although the spring semester has just begun, for students wishing to live in on-campus housing, the 1996-97 academic year is just around the corner.

Returning students receive first priority in choosing a place to live over new and transfer students. As such, they may select their room for the 1996-97 academic year during the month of February. Students who desire to return to campus housing must make a $150 prepayment of fall room costs and bring that receipt to the Housing and Residence Life Office at their scheduled time to sign a contract.

"Black History Month" History

To fully comprehend the significance of Black History Month, one should realize that like so many things Americans take for granted, it did not "just happen." As a special month of recognition, it evolved over a period of approximately fifty years.

Even though there were many unsung contributors to its emergence, the main catalyst was Dr. Carter G. Woodson. Known as the "Father of Black History Month," in 1926 he conceived the idea for Negro History Week observance, which was annually sponsored by the Association for the Study of Negro Life and History for more than half a century. The assigned observance was held during the second week of February to encompass both February 12 and 14, the birthdates of Abraham Lincoln and Frederick Douglass, an abolitionist.

Negro History Week and its successor, Black History Month, have been important mechanisms through which Black participation in the cultural, social and economic life of the nation and the world has gained acceptance. Based on the scholarly contributions of yet another generation of noted black historians inspired by Dr. Woodson, such as Dr. Leo Hansberry, Dr. John Hope Franklin (presently a visiting professor at Duke University-also served as UNCW's commencement speaker a few years ago), Dr. Benjamin Quarles and many others, the observance has succeeded in endowing Black Americans with the historic personality that was traditionally denied and obliterated by educational institutions and the society-at-large.

After fifty years of observing Negro History Week, President Jimmy Carter issued a proclamation in 1976 that expanded the week's celebration to included the entire month of February to provide more time for programs, observances and celebrations during America's Bicentennial celebration.

Julianne Malveaux, Keynote Speaker for Black History Month Program

The "Kick-off" program for UNC Wilmington's recognition of Black History Month is scheduled for Thursday evening, February 1, 1996 in the University Center Ballroom beginning at 8:00 p.m. The featured speaker will be economist and columnist, Dr. Julianne Malveaux.

Dr. Malveaux analyzes the events and trends affecting Americans. Incisive and inspiring, she has been described as one of the most compelling speakers of her generation. As host and executive producer of "The Julianne Malveaux Show" she reaches over fifteen markets on the Pacifica Network.

This program, along with many other scheduled activities, presentations and functions, will elevate the celebration and recognition of Black History Month to a new level on the UNCW campus.

For more information on activities and programs scheduled for the month of February, please refer to the Black History Month Calendar or call the Office of Minority Affairs, 395-3832.

■ Dr. Hubert A. Eaton was elected Board Chairman of UNC Wilmington Board of Trustees in 1981. He was the first African-American to serve in that capacity.

African American Cultural Center-Active and Inviting

The African-American Cultural Center (AACC) officially opened February 24, 1995. The purpose of AACC is to provide all students, the university community, and residents of the local area extensive and varied opportunities to explore the heritage, arts, literature and history of African-Americans. While the main focus is the African-American culture, the AACC is open to people of all cultures.

Programming throughout the calendar year is inclusive of the American experience and has produced numerous activities and projects.

Upcoming events include a performance by the African-American Dance Ensemble (Chuck Davis Dancers) from Durham, NC, on February 8th at 7pm in Kenan Auditorium and an interactive workshop series based on "Eyes on the Prize." Detailed information on this series will be announced at a later date.

Chemistry Seminar

Dr. Ravi P. Sinha, Elizabeth City State University, will present the fourth seminar in the Chemistry 495 seminar series with a lecture titled "Alternative Energy Resources and the Environment — A New Paradigm" at 3 p.m., January 26, in DeLoach Hall, Room 114. Light refreshments will be served.

QUALITY FACULTY . . .

QUALITY STAFF

Eric R. Kaufmann, mathematical sciences, presented the paper "Solutions of Focal Boundary Value Problems for Singular Difference Equations" at the joint winter meetings of the American Mathematical Society and Mathematical Association of America in Orlando, Fla.

Richard Mathieu, production and decision sciences, was a featured speaker for the Professional Development Video-conference for Manufacturing Extension Centers at the College of DuPage, Glen Ellyn, Ill. His talk, "Manufacturing and The Internet: An Overview of How Small Manufacturers Are Using the Internet for a Competitive Advantage," was delivered to more than 50 Manufacturing Extension Centers throughout the United States.

Michael Key, a senior majoring in mathematics, participated in the undergraduate poster session at the winter meeting of the Mathematical Association of America. The title of his project was "Picard Iterates and Polynomial Generators." His project was an extension of the senior project required of all undergraduate mathematics majors. Key received a free textbook as well as a copy of Matlab for his participation. There were 26 other participants in the poster session from all over the country. Among the many visitors was Dr. Paul Halmos, one of the most prominent mathematical figures of our times, who said that the posters this year were the best ever. Key's project was directed by Dr. Eric R. Kaufmann, mathematical sciences.

Dr. Andrea Deagon, foreign languages and literatures, and her mother, Guilford College Hagey Professor Emerita Ann Deagon, co-taught a workshop "Mothering the Muses" for the North Carolina Writers Network. The workshop explored connections between myth, memory and the creative process.

Charles Brooks Dodson, English, has a review of The Realm of Apollo: Literature and Healing in Seventeenth-Century Prose, by Raymond A. Anselment, published in the January issue of Choice.

Bob Toplin, history, has a book Ken Burns' Civil War: The Historians' Response, being released this month by Oxford University Press. It also has been chosen as a main selection of the History Book Club.

Dr. Wei Feng, mathematical sciences, and Jonathan Rowell, a graduate from UNCW, had their research article "Coexistence and Permanence in a Four-species Food Chain Model" published in the October 1995 issue of the journal Nonlinear Times and Digest.

THE OFFICIAL BULLETIN OF UNCW

University Advancement

Vol. XXV, No. 23 February 1, 1996

Gina B. Roundtree, editor

Dr. Julianne Malveaux, Nationally Known Economist and Columnist Will Kick Off Black History Month

Dr. Julianne Malveaux will be the keynote speaker for the UNCW Black History Month kick-off program at 8 p.m., February 1, in the University Center Ballroom.

A nationally known figure, Malveaux is the host and executive producer of "The Julianne Malveaux Show," a news and public affairs talk show on the Pacifica Network. In addition to her own show, Malveaux contributes to radio and television commentary on such programs as "CNN and Company," PBS's "To the Contrary" and San Francisco's new talk station, KGO.

Malveaux is a popular and accomplished writer. Her latest book, Sex, Lies and Stereotypes: Perspectives of a Mad Economist, has received praise as "a rare collection of hard-hitting, provocative, razor sharp columns you won't be able to put down!" She authored a manuscript on black women in the labor market titled No Images: Contemporary Black Women and Work. She has written the "Left Coast" column for Emerge magazine, the "Economics and You" column for Essence magazine and is a regular contributor to USA Today, the San Francisco Sun Reporter and Ms. magazine.

As a talk show host, writer, educator and economist, Malveaux analyzes the events and trends affecting Americans and is described as one of the most compelling speakers of her generation. She also serves on the board of directors of the San Francisco NAACP and is vice president of the trustees of the National Child Labor Committee.

Dr. Malveaux is a graduate of Boston College, where she received her B.A., and holds a Ph.D. in economics from MIT.

New Telephone Prefix Planned for UNCW

The university has asked BellSouth to assign a new prefix for all telephone numbers at the university. At the present time, the university has 395-xxxx and 350-xxxx telephone numbers on the campus, but these are just about depleted. As the university grows, we would have to add a third prefix to our numbering plan. This could be confusing to people calling the university. Rather than add a third prefix, the university has asked for a whole new prefix with 10,000 new numbers. What this means is that departments and individuals will retain their extension number, but it will have a new prefix to replace the 395 and 350 prefix.

We will notify all departments as soon as BellSouth approves the new numbering plan so that letterhead and other items can be adjusted.

Please note that we will not have the new numbers in time for the BellSouth directory deadline. We anticipate the switch sometime after May 1996. We also expect that a recording will be used by BellSouth to notify people calling the old exchanges of our new numbering plan. More on this as information comes from BellSouth.

Recruitment

Hannaford Brothers Company will be on campus for an information session only from 6:30 to 7:30 p.m., February 6, in Cameron Hall, Room 123. They will be on campus to recruit for management positions in the Career Services Center on February 21. For more information, call ext. 3174.

UN and Yugoslavia Lecture

The Wilmington Area Chapter of the United Nations Association presents a special lecture on "The United Nations and Yugoslavia."

The lecture will be given by Dr. Carole Fink, history professor at Ohio State University and former UNCW history professor, at 7:30 p.m., February 5, in Morton Hall's Bryan Auditorium.

This lecture is co-sponsored by the UNCW History and Political Science Departments. Admission is free and open to the public.

Biology Seminar

Dr. Robert Christian, ECU, will present "Wrack and Ruin in a Salt Marsh" at 2 p.m., February 2, in Friday Hall, Room 151. Everyone is invited to attend.

Violence and Development Conference

The Social Work Program of UNCW will sponsor a NASW national conference on global violence which examines parallel conditions of violence and poverty in the United States and in less economically advantaged nations. The following is a list of scheduled activities:

1-2:30 p.m., February 6, Randall Library Auditorium, Video conference [Section I: Global Communities/Local Communities; Section II: Violence Is the Enemy of the Community; Section III: Looking Forward].

3:30-5 p.m., February 7, Kenan Hall, lecture [Wernor Fornos, president of the Population Institute, is an internationally recognized authority on global population and its impact on the world's environment, economic health and political and social stability].

10 a.m.-2 p.m., February 8, University Union Lobby, displays of community social services agencies providing services to victims of violence.

3:30-5 p.m., February 8, Cameron Hall, Room 214, Dr. Robert Toplin, UNCW professor of history, will speak about "Violence in the Media."

1-2:30 p.m., February 9, Randall Library Auditorium, Video conference involving a nationwide discussion with international and community leaders and social work practitioners.

Award-Winning Author to Read at UNCW

Kaye Gibbons, award-winning novelist, will give a reading at 7 p.m., February 12, in Morton Hall Auditorium. Gibbons's novels have frequented best-seller lists and are often required reading for high school and college students. Her novels are centered around the lives of Southern women and how they cope with daily adversities and family struggles. The author's novels have been praised for their combination of wit, compassion and explosiveness. Gibbons has been compared to both Eudora Welty and Flannery O'Connor.

The author's most recent novel, Sights Unseen, was published in August 1995. Other works by Gibbons include: Ellen Foster, A Cure for Dreams and Charms for the Easy Life. Hallmark has acquired film rights to both Ellen Foster and Charms for the Easy Life. The author, a UNC-Chapel Hill alumnus, has received awards and citations from the Academy of Arts and Letters, the Ernest Hemingway Foundation, the University of North Carolina, the Chicago Tribune and PEN Revson.

In addition to her public reading, Gibbons will meet informally with interested UNCW students on the afternoon of February 12. The reading is free and open to the public. For more information, call the English Department at ext. 3320.

UNCW Alumni Honor Achievements of Lawson, Kingoff

Janice Specter Kingoff is the recipient of the UNCW Alumni Association's 1996 Distinguished Alumna award. Dr. Luther D. Lawson, professor of economics in UNCW's Cameron School of Business, is the recipient of alumni association's award, Distinguished Citizen for Service to the University.

Since she received her bachelor of science degree in business from UNCW in 1977, Mrs. Kingoff has volunteered her time with the Museum of World Cultures serving as the first president. Mrs. Kingoff is one of the longest serving members of the Friends of UNCW and was instrumental in establishing a scholarship program for the organization. She has served as the Friends' president and on all committees and is most noted for her work on the gifts committee, which determines how Friends' donations are allotted.

In the community, Mrs. Kingoff serves on the board of Independence Mall, as Democratic chairman of the 11th Precinct and founding member of the League of Women Voters, Girl Scout leader (even though she had no daughters) and den mother, president of the Sisterhood of B'Nai Israel Synagogue and Hadassah. She also graduated twice from the U.S. War College.

The Kingoff family is very supportive of UNCW through the Seahawk Club, Student Aid Association, Loyalty Fund and Wise Alumni House. They recently donated a cascading water fountain for the sunken garden at the Wise Alumni House in memory of their son, Robert Alex Kingoff.

Dr. Lawson has been teaching economics at UNCW since 1983. He earned his Ph.D. in economics from the University of Tennessee, his master's and bachelor's degrees from Indiana State University. He is active in the Midsouth Academy of Economics and Finance and serving in various leadership capacities, including president in 1994 and is a member of the National Association of Economic Educators, Southwestern Society of Economists and the Industrial Organization Society.

However, it is Lawson's active involvement in Junior Achievement that led to the 1996 Faculty Reassignment Award which will allow him to spend six months in the Czech Republic assisting school systems in seven former communist countries in their implementation of Junior Achievement.

As New Hanover and Brunswick counties area coordinator for Junior Achievement, Lawson has been involved in fund raising, training teachers/coordinators, implementing and monitoring programs which have involved more than 3,000 students.

Dr. Lawson is also a member of the Wilmington YMCA Board of Directors, the Greater Wilmington Chamber of Commerce Education Council, Community Advisory Panel for the Wilmington area chemical industry and Brunswick Economic Education Program.

Dr. Lawson was honored with the Distinguished Teaching Professorship and Chancellor's Teaching Excellence Award, both in 1994, and with nominations for the UNCW Board of Trustees Teaching Excellence Award in 1994, 1988 and 1987.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Fellowship Competition

The Research Committee will be reviewing applications for Undergraduate Research Fellowships available for the 1996-97 academic year. Fellowship awards consist of a partial tuition waiver in the amount of $1,000. This competition, intended to stimulate original research among undergraduate students, is open to any rising junior or senior who has completed at least one semester at UNCW.

A proposed research project may be in any academic area and should be completed by the end of the 1996-97 academic year. Each student must have a faculty sponsor who serves as an advisor and assists in selecting a project suitable to the student's abilities and the timing of the awards. The project idea may originate with the student or advisor but must be developed to a substantial degree by the student. Course credit may be arranged through a directed individual study or the Honors Program. If no credit is obtained, the final product must be submitted to the research committee chair by the last class day of the spring 1997 semester. Acceptance of the award of a tuition waiver may affect other financial aid eligibility.

Each application must include a complete student information sheet, 15 copies of the proposal, two faculty evaluations of the student's potential and a copy of the student's transcript. If the proposed research involves human or animal subjects, approval must be obtained through appropriate ethics review procedures prior to submission. Photocopies of approval documents must be submitted with the proposal. Information packets and application forms are available from Carolyn Cook, Cameron Hall, Room 240. Candidates must file their application with their respective department chairperson no later than March 15. For more information, please call Dr. David Bejou at ext. 3892 or Email BEJOUD.

How the latest information technology will affect our everyday lives is still up in the air. Even for the insiders, it is not a clear-cut path. For all of us, the new information age technology could be more informative and understandable. To answer some of these concerns and explore the possibilities of tomorrow's world, UNCW is bringing a one-of-a-kind forum to campus March 3 through 5. The two-day event, titled, "Innovations in Connectivity Expo '96" (ICE '96), will explore and explain the very latest and futuristic concepts for electronic technology with national vendor exhibits, headline speakers, and workshops and seminars featuring discussion leaders who are on the development edge for video conferencing, telecommuting, telemedicine, connected cities, the WorldWideWeb and more.

The expo also features leaders and visionaries who will outline plans for connected cities, educational and business uses and future applications.

In addition to hosting education administrators, information professionals and computer, media and telecommunications media from around the southeast, UNCW is bringing the excitement of the technology to regional school students, residents and civic organizations and university students. More than 1,800 elementary, middle and high school students will visit the Kids Fair from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m., March 5. UNCW students, faculty and staff, local residents and community organizations can browse the Virtual Village exhibits at no charge during special hours of 9 to 11:30 a.m., March 4 and 2:30 to 5 p.m. on March 5.

For information about the conference, fees and agenda, contact Hunter Thompson at ext. 3138 or visit the web page at <http://www.wilmington.net/dpsee/ice96.html>.

Visitation Day 1996

Approximately 1,500 prospective students and parents are expected to attend Visitation Day '96. From 12:30 to 5 p.m., February 17, the University will host its annual Visitation Day for admitted and prospective students and parents. While at UNCW, our visitors will have the opportunity to attend sessions on financial aid, general information, campus life (for students and parents), housing and food services and transfer information. In addition to these sessions, our guests will have the opportunity to speak with representatives from each of the academic departments, student organizations, the Honors Program, Athletics, International Programs and take a campus tour. Thanks in advance to all who will make this day a great success.

UNCW Creative Writing Professors to Read from Their Fiction

Two noted authors and creative writing professors at UNCW will read from their fiction at 7 p.m., February 20, in Cameron Hall Auditorium.

This will be the first reading in Wilmington for Rebecca Lee, who joined the UNCW English Department this past year. An accomplished writer of both fiction and nonfiction, she has published her work in such well known magazines and newspapers as The Atlantic Monthly, Outside and The Chicago Tribune. She received her master of fine arts degree from the prestigious University of Iowa Writers Workshop and was a teaching fellow at the University of Wisconsin before coming to UNCW.

Kevin Canty has written stories and essays for Esquire, Story, Details, Vogue and the New York Times Magazine, among many others. His first collection of short stories, A Stranger in This World, was named a "Notable Book of 1994" by the New York Times Book Review and one of the "Best Books of 1994" by the Washington Post Book Review and Publisher's Weekly. The collection, now in paperback, is being translated into Dutch, Spanish, German, French and English. His new novel, Into the Great Wide Open, will be published by Nan A. Talese/Doubleday in August of this year.

The reading, which is free and open to the public, is sponsored by the Graduate English Association, a funded organization of the UNCW Student Government Association.

"Invisible Man" Author Lawrence Otis Graham Speaks at UNCW Tonight

Lawrence Otis Graham, nationally known author of 10 nonfiction books and numerous stories on race/ethnic relations and diversity, will be a featured speaker for UNCW's Black History Month at 8 p.m., tonight, in the University Center Ballroom.

Graham has twice appeared on the cover of the New York Times Magazine and has been profiled by other publications such as Fortune, Los Angeles Times, USA Today and Time magazine.

His article, "The Invisible Man," published in the Los Angeles Times, is soon to be released as a motion picture starring actor Denzel Washington.

Graham is a successful corporate attorney in New York, an adjunct assistant professor at Fordham University and president of a diversity consulting firm, Progressive Management Associates, Inc. He is a graduate of Princeton University and Harvard Law School. For more information, call ext. 3832.

William A. Bryan Senior Leadership Award Now Accepting Nominations

Nominations are now open for the William A. Bryan Senior Leadership Award. This award is open to all UNCW seniors graduating between May and December 1996 with a cumulative G.P.A. of at least a 3.0. The student who receives the award will be selected based on the following criteria: integrity, collaboration, creativity, service to others and academic success. The Senior Leadership Award was recently renamed the William A. Bryan Senior Leadership Award in honor of Bryan's retirement as vice chancellor of Student Affairs. Bryan is recognized for his great leadership, not only at UNCW, but nationally as well. Bryan's leadership will be experienced by those in the Watson School of Education as he becomes a part of the faculty beginning in the fall of 1996.

The award includes a cash stipend of $200, an official UNCW watch provided by the Alumni Association and a personal plaque provided by the Leadership Center. In addition, the winner's name will be displayed on a roster plaque in the Leadership Center. To pick up an application come by the Leadership Center University Union, Room 212, or for more information, call ext. 3877 or 3797.

English Club Holds Discussions

The UNCW English Club will hold a series of discussion groups on the nonfiction book Zen and the Art of Motorcycle Maintenance. The discussions are always led by students, but for the first discussion to be held at 7 p.m., February 19, in Morton Hall's Faculty Common, Dr. Jim McNab will share his knowledge and love of a motorcycle on the open road, as well as his European "hobo" perspective.

Peer Educator Position

The Hundley Wellness Promotion Center is now hiring wellness assistants (peer educators) for the academic year 1996-97. These students are trained to promote wellness lifestyles on campus through the educational programming, service and outreach efforts of the Hundley Wellness Promotion Center. Applications can be picked up in the Hundley Wellness Promotion Center, Westside Hall, or call to have one mailed. Completed applications should be returned to the Hundley Wellness Promotion Center by 5 p.m., March 20. For more information, call ext. 4137.

We need all state employees to attend — please give District 62 your support. For reservations, call 675-8584, or ext. 4137. Legislators and representatives from the SEANC office in Raleigh will be in attendance. This promises to be an informative meeting.

Environmental Historian to Present Lecture

Dr. Edmund Russell, an environmental historian at the University of Virginia at Charlottesville, will present a lecture titled "Speaking of Annihilation: Mobilizing for War Against Human and Insect Enemies, 1914-45" at 8 p.m., February 22, in Morton Hall's Bryan Auditorium. Admission is free and open to the public. For more information, call ext. 3311.

UNCW Dolphin Friend Will Be Missed

Despite Benny the dolphin's recent death, volunteer efforts and research done while Benny was alive will hopefully help researchers better understand the bottlenose dolphin and maybe save the life of a future ocean mammal.

When Benny was found stranded off the coast of North Carolina in September, he was too sick to eat, swim or even float. He was transported to the National Marine Fisheries Services Lab on Pivers Island where he underwent rehabilitation. More than 100 student volunteers worked around the clock with researchers to help Benny swim, eat and support himself.

After several weeks of caring for Benny and diagnosing and curing some of his ailments, he was strong enough to be safely airlifted to the Mote Marine Laboratory in Sarasota, Fla., where he could get more expert care in a larger tank.

In a letter to all volunteers, Mote Marine Lab stated, "It is with much regret that we send this letter to inform you of the loss of Benny. His health was failing over the last 11 days, so the decision was made yesterday [January 26] to aid him in his passing, to minimize his suffering. Having watched the roller coaster of health improvements and declines over the last 99 days, you can understand that the decision was not made lightly, and only when all hope of recovery was gone . . .

We offer you our most sincere thanks, and hope that we will be able to count on you for help with future animals."

Laela S. Sayigh, biological sciences, presented "Signature Whistle Development in Free-ranging Bottlenose Dolphin" at the Eleventh Biennial Conference on the Biology of Marine Mammals, in Orlando, Fla. Co-presenters were Peter L. Tyack, Randy S. Wells and Amy Samuels.

Dr. Jonathan Geller, biological sciences, received funding for his project titled "Phylogeography of the European Green Crab, Carcinus Maenas, a Globally Successful Marine Invader."

Dr. Ann Pabst, biological sciences, presented an invited symposium talk titled "Morphology and Mechanics of Dolphin Blubber" in the "Aquatic Locomotion: New Approaches to Invertebrate and Vertebrate Biomechanics" Symposium at the American Society of Zoologists Annual Meeting in Washington, D.C.

Dr. Kristin Howell, economics and finance, visited the Business School of the Hochschule Bremen in Germany in November to research the possibility of student exchanges and internships. She met with numerous students, faculty, the dean, the chancellor, the internship coordinator and the director of the Chamber of Commerce. She also toured the commercial port of Bremerhaven, Airbus Industries and other businesses. Andrea Rothman, an international business major at UNCW, is the first student to go to Germany to benefit from the resulting exchange arrangement. She is currently participating in an internship at Atlanta Corporation, an international importer and distributor of fruit, in its international relations, marketing and accounting departments. After that she will begin the academic semester at the Hochschule Bremen to study management, marketing, economics and German. There also is a strong possibility that several German students from Bremen will study at UNCW next fall.

Robert L. Riley and Billy Dawson, University Police, received funding from the U.S. Department of Justice for their project titled "Cops Universal."

Mima Horne, School of Nursing, was a contributor to both Mosby's Medical-Surgical Nursing: Assessment and Management of Clinical Problems (fourth edition) and the Pocket Guide Series Medical-Surgical Nursing (second edition).

Lavonne Adams, English, has a poem titled "Returning to Asheville, 1977" in the current issue of the New Delta Review.

North Carolina Sea Grant has released its newest publication, "Wetland Plants from Test Tubes." This guide was developed from a workshop held at UNCW last March and hosted by Kimion Bird, Center for Marine Science Research, and students Jennifer Woodhead and Jennifer Johnson. The guide describes efforts in Dr. Bird's and Dr. Dan Plyler's labs to develop propagation technologies for wetland, marsh, dune and marine plants. Three other marine plant biotechnology groups also contributed to the guide. The publication was written by Carla Burgess of Sea Grant and edited by Dr. Bird.

Dr. Kathleen Berkeley, history, presented a lecture about the life and work of black educator Charlotte Hawkins Brown at the New Hanover Public Library.

Dr. Martin Posey, biological sciences, received funding for his project titled "Monitoring of Benthic Faunal Responses to Sediment Removal Associated with the Carolina Beach and Vicinity — Area South Project."

Charles Brooks Dodson, English, had his review of Alina Clej's A Genealogy of the Modern Self: Thomas De Quincey and the Intoxication of Writing published in the February issue of Choice.

Dr. Fred Astren, philosophy and religion, presented a paper in Philadelphia in November at the annual meeting of the American Academy of Religion titled "'Shimon ben Shetah Came and Falsified a Torah,' Karaitic Readings of Rabbinic History."

Dr. Judy Peel and Dr. Deborah Dowd, HPER, presented a talk titled "North Carolina Middle Level Physical Education" at the southeast regional conference, Sharing the Wealth, for health and physical educators held on Jekyll Island, Ga.

Khoon Koh, HPER, presented his paper "A Conceptualization of the Tourism Entrepreneurial Process" at the 1996 Southeastern Recreation Research Conference in Savannah, Ga.

Staff Development

- CPS I, 6-9 p.m., February 29
- Chicken Soup for the Soul, 1-2 p.m., February 21 and 28
- How to Outmaneuver Manipulators, 8 a.m.-noon, February 27

Please refer to the Staff Training and Development booklet for registration information or call ext. 3712 for more information.

Mileage Reimbursement

Effective January 1, 1996, the State has increased the allowable reimbursement to 31 cents per mile for round trips of 60 miles or less or for trips when a state-owned vehicle is not reasonably available (with submission of required documentation of non-availability).

Flex Deposit Locations

Flex deposits can now be made at the circulation desk in the library by using checks only, or you can deposit cash in the Value Transfer Station (VTS) located adjacent to the circulation desk. The VTS will accept $1, $5, $10 and $20 bills. The Seahawk Station Convenience Store will accept both cash and checks and is located in Apartment M. Auxiliary Services accepts cash, checks and credit cards (Visa and MasterCard). Auxiliary Services is located in the Burney Student Support Center. Call ext. 3560 for more information.

Software Disposal

Software can now be sent directly to surplus property via a movable equipment form. It is no longer necessary to transfer outdated or unused software to Academic Computing for disposal. (Always check your inventory lister to be sure the software package is not assigned an FAS number, if it is, use the assigned FAS number where appropriate on the movable equipment form.)

Welcome

Please welcome the following new employees: Ryan Bell/Bookstore; Donna Berry/Curricular Studies; and Harvey Porter/University Police.

Shared Leave

Shared Leave donations are being accepted for Evelyn Evans, Post Office, to help her avoid leave without pay in February; Fiona Dew, Institutional Research, who just had a baby; and Pat Simon, Randall Library, due to her husband's illness. Please call Dale at ext. 3161 for further information.

Student Time Sheets

Student time sheets for February must be in the Payroll Office (new location: white house between Hoggard Hall and the University Center) by 3 p.m., February 27. Please note: The student time sheet deadline will also be posted in Bulletin on the Vax for seven days prior to the payroll deadline.

Student Project Rated Top 5 Percent of WWW Sites

The World-Wide-Web site, "Lumina, A Social History," authored by UNCW urban and community sociology students, was recently rated in the top 5 percent of all Web sites by Point Communications, a corporate Internet service which rates and reviews home pages on the World Wide Web. Point Communications' ratings and reviews have been featured on CNN and in many publications around the world, including the book The World Wide Web Top 1000, recently published by MacMillan. The Lumina homepage, which offers an historical overview of the famous pavilion which stood on Wrightsville Beach is now listed with other sites on the Point, with a review by editors and a direct link to the site. The Lumina Project was researched and authored by a group of students enrolled in assistant professor Christopher Mele's Urban and Community Sociology course last fall. The project was co-sponsored by Wilmington Internet Service Enterprises (WISE), a local Internet service provider. You can visit the Lumina home page at <http://www.wilmington.net/lumina>.

UNCW Recognized for Community Service Programs

UNCW, already ranked as the 17th best regional university in the South by U.S. News & World Report's America's Best Colleges, has been recognized by a national publication for its public and community service initiatives.

Four UNCW outreach programs were cited in University-Community Partnerships: Current Practice by U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development's Office of University Partnerships. Of the 185 universities featured, UNCW was the only one in the nation to be recognized for four programs. "I am highly honored and pleased that four of UNCW's outreach programs were chosen as excellent examples of how a university and community can work together for a better quality of life," said Chancellor James R. Leutze.

UNCW was cited for its UNCW Volunteers! program in which university students worked in six different volunteer programs at three public schools, a boys club, an afterschool program at a housing project and a soup kitchen. The group was also mentioned for its work in the National Big Beach Sweep.

The publication also praised UNCW for its Leadership Development program developed through the Division for Public Service and Extended Education and the Leadership Center. The report said "UNCW works aggressively to involve its students and faculty in helping community organizations to meet the increasing social and economic needs of the people in the region through afterschool tutoring and mentoring, the Cameron School of Business's intern program and the Division for Public Service's work with the minority community to alleviate racial tensions and develop programs for black leadership by focusing on economic development and the establishment of an alliance of community organizations."

The university's co-sponsorship of Celebrate Wilmington! with the Arts Council of the Lower Cape Fear was recognized for its promotion and enhancement of cultural and art activities. The report cited the work of volunteers from UNCW and various community arts organizations who spend countless hours publicizing events, coordinating schedules and working on various committees. Celebrate Wilmington! is now in its third year.

The fourth program recognized was the Consortium for the Advancement of Public Education (CAPE) for "promoting excellence in educational service to the children of southeastern North Carolina by providing a forum for informed professional discourse among educators concerning current and future issues, by providing collaborative means for professional resource development and by providing a unified voice of advocacy for educational and cultural concerns and initiatives."

According to Michael A. Stegman, assistant secretary for policy development and research at HUD, the publication is designed to "spotlight the work of institutions of higher learning throughout our nation, which are responding to the profound responsibilities and exciting possibilities of their educational and social missions by mobilizing their tremendous resources in ways that benefit their communities as well as themselves."

UNCW Graduate Scores in USA Today All-USA College Academic Team — Again

For the second year in a row, a UNCW student has been honored in the USA Today All-USA College Academic Team recognition as published in the February 8 edition of the paper. Jonathan Rowell, who graduated in December 1995 with a bachelor of arts in physics, and in May of 1995 with a bachelor of science in mathematics, was selected for honorable mention, ranking him among the top 80 college achievers in the country. Last year, Stephanie Bartlett of Jacksonville, was named to the All-USA Academic Team.

Each person selected was required to have completed a substantial research project or other serious endeavor. As part of his Honors Work at UNCW under the guidance of Dr. Wei Feng, Rowell developed a mathematical model for population dynamics similar to those found in some Chesapeake estuarine systems. In June 1995, Rowell presented his research at the Second International Conference on Dynamic Systems and Applications, the sole student to present.

Rowell is the son of Tyrone (University Advancement) and Pearl Rowell. He is now enrolled in graduate school at NC State University where he plans to pursue a doctorate in applied mathematics.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

A Special Thanks from Wales

Geoff Wood from Swansea in Wales spent last semester in Wilmington on exchange with Karin Deck of the Mathematical Sciences Department. In a letter to the Campus Communique, Wood wrote, "We really enjoyed our stay in Wilmington and found the university very lively with plenty of things going on. We enjoyed the river and beach and particularly the warmer climate. I would like to thank everyone for the welcome we received and all the hospitality. If anyone would like to be part of an exchange, I would be happy to talk to people in Swansea and encourage them to visit Wilmington — if they need persuading!"

A Faculty Guide to Working with Disabled Students

This short course, taught by Dr. Phillip Sharp, coordinator of Disabled Student Services, addresses the legal obligations of faculty to disabled students and strategies for serving the students. Schedule of classes: 10 to 11:30 a.m., February 26, King Hall, Room 101; 8 to 9:30 a.m., March 15, King Hall, Room 101; 9:30 to 11 a.m., March 28, King Hall, Room 101; 1 to 2:30 p.m., April 10, King Hall, Room 101. For more information, call ext. 3746.

Earth Sciences Departmental Seminar

Bill Farris, community planning consultant, will present "The Geography Professional as a Member of the Planning/Development Consulting Team" at 3 p.m., February 23, in Friday Hall, Room 251. Sponsored by the Geography Club, this lecture will cover such topics as what a consulting team does, disciplines involved, valuable skills to bring to the process and an overview of the consulting business.

Australia Summer Study

The 1996 summer study for psychology will be taught in coastal New South Wales June 26 to July 19. For more information, call ext. 3371.

B. Frank Hall Lecture

The 1996 B. Frank Hall Lecture, sponsored by the Department of Philosophy and Religion, will take place at 8 p.m., February 22, in Cameron Hall Auditorium. The lecture is titled "Religion and Human Rights: A Comparative Perspective" and will be delivered by professor Sumner Twiss of Brown University. The event is free and open to the public. For further information, call ext. 3406.

William A. Bryan Senior Leadership Award Now Accepting Nominations

Nominations are now open for the William A. Bryan Senior Leadership Award. This award is open to all UNCW seniors graduating between May and December 1996 with a cumulative G.P.A. of at least a 3.0. The student who receives the award will be selected based on the following criteria: integrity, collaboration, creativity, service to others and academic success. The award includes a cash stipend of $200, an official UNCW watch provided by the Alumni Association and a personal plaque provided by the Leadership Center. In addition, the winner's name will be displayed on a roster plaque in the Leadership Center. Applications can be picked up at the Leadership Center, University Union, Room 212, or for more information, call ext. 3877 or 3797.

Peer Educator Position

The Hundley Wellness Promotion Center is now hiring wellness assistants (peer educators) for 1996-97. These students are trained to promote wellness lifestyles on campus through the educational programming, service and outreach efforts of the Hundley Wellness Promotion Center. Applications can be picked up in the Hundley Wellness Promotion Center, Westside Hall, and should be returned by 5 p.m., March 20. For more information, call ext. 4137.

Environmental Historian to Present Lecture

Dr. Edmund Russell, an environmental historian at the University of Virginia at Charlottesville, will present a lecture titled "Speaking of Annihilation: Mobilizing for War Against Human and Insect Enemies, 1914-45" at 8 p.m., February 22, in Morton Hall's Bryan Auditorium. Admission is free and open to the public. For more information, call ext. 3311.

Mathematics Lecture

Professor Scott Williams, a distinguished mathematician from the Mathematics Department of State University of New York at Buffalo, will visit UNCW on February 26. Dr. Williams will present a talk titled "Dynamics on Rationales" in a Mathematical Sciences Departmental Colloquium at 3:30 p.m., in Bear Hall, Room 200. Dr. Williams will also give a guest lecture at the African-American Cultural Center at 6 p.m., as one of the series of events for Black History Month. Everyone is invited.

Heart and Sole Fitness Adds New Classes

- Step class, Fridays at 4 p.m.
- Changing Pace, Fridays at 5:15 p.m.

Seahawk Night at BB&T

It comes just once every four years, so what better way to spend February 29 than picking up a free hat, T-shirt, pizza and drinks and maybe even a cash prize up to $100.

The UNCW Alumni Association invites all university faculty, staff, students and alumni to attend Seahawk Night at BB&T from 5:30 to 7 p.m., February 29, at the South College Road BB&T, located across from campus. For more information, call the Alumni Association at 251-2682.

DIVISION OF STUDENT AFFAIRS NEWSLETTER • FEBRUARY, 1996

The Division of Student Affairs is committed to assessing the effectiveness and impact of its services and programs. Both programs and students are periodically assessed to determine the degree to which programs and services are necessary and successful in terms of encouraging student growth and development. Created in 1984, the director of student life studies is the advocate for student affairs research, evaluation and assessment. This person strives to: improve student services and development programs; improve the knowledge base about student development and student services work in general; and assess the organizational effectiveness of the Student Affairs Division. The director of student life studies collaborates with the Office of Institutional Research in order to have adequate procedures for planning and evaluation and to use the results in

- describe students in terms of demographics, developmental characteristics and personal behaviors;
- conduct periodic needs assessment for use in the design of programs;
- study or use available information about developmental changes of college students;
- assess whether student services programs are consistent with and achieve their stated objectives; and
- study the extent to which students are satisfied with their educational experiences.

The Southern Association of Colleges and Schools commended the division's research and evaluation efforts in their last accreditation report. The Southern Association for College Student Affairs Assessment Task Force has recommended the UNCW student affairs assessment model to other schools.

In addition to the on-going user/program evaluations and annual CAS Standards (Council for the Advancement of Standards for Student Service/Development Programs) review conducted by individual departments, the director has worked with all departments in student affairs and with the Office of Institutional Research to set up an assessment schedule in two-, three-, or four-year cycles to ensure a comprehensive assessment program.

Steve Harper, management and marketing, was the moderator and panelist at the Annual Conference on Entrepreneurship sponsored by Duke University and the Council for Entrepreneurial Development. His panel addressed "Managing the Virtual Corporation."

Dr. Michael Mallin, Center for Marine Science Research, was an invited participant at the NOAA Estuarine Eutrophication Workshop for the South Atlantic Region, held in Charleston, S.C.

Lynda Rolfes, fine arts, violinist, was appointed to a guest artist position with the Long Bay Symphony in Myrtle Beach, S.C. She is serving as concertmaster for the 1995-96 concert season. The next concert is scheduled for March 17.

Dr. Mary Moser, Center for Marine Science Research, received funding for her project titled "Shortnose Sturgeon Distribution in North Carolina."

Dr. Terry Theodore, fine arts, will have his critical study on Katherine Porter's "Theft" in Masterplots II: Short Story, Supplement published by Salem Press later this month.

Martin Posey, biological sciences, recently co-authored two papers on blue crab recruitment, "Settlement of Brachyuran Postlarvae Along the North Carolina Coast" and "Settlement of Blue Crab Postlarvae in Western North Atlantic Estuaries," published in the Bulletin of Marine Science (vol. 57).

Dr. Carol Chase Thomas, curricular studies, had her article "Helping Students with Learning Difficulties Develop Expressive Writing Skills" published in the March 1996 issue of Reading and Writing Quarterly: Overcoming Learning Difficulties (vol. 12, No. 1).

Dr. James Johnson, psychology, had an article titled "Race, Media and Violence: Differential Racial Effects of Exposure to Violent News Stories" accepted for publication in Basic and Applied Social Psychology. Co-authors were Mike S. Adams, criminal justice, and Leslie Ashburn, psychology graduate student. Johnson also will give an invited symposium titled "Race, Rap and Violence" at the 1996 meeting of the Southeastern Psychological Association. Finally, his article "Differential Male and Female Responses to Inadmissible Sexual History Information Regarding a Rape Victim" will appear in Experimental Research Methods, a graduate school research text that features various psychological studies to highlight research techniques.

Dr. Jim Smith and Dr. Kim Key, accountancy and business law, attended the New Faculty Consortium, which dealt with many teaching and research issues facing recent doctoral program graduates. The consortium was sponsored by the American Accounting Association in conjunction with Arthur Andersen. Arthur Andersen hosted the meeting at the firm's Worldwide Center for Professional Education.

Donna Lee King, sociology and anthropology, has been appointed to serve on the Distinguished Board of Advisory Editors of The Sociological Quarterly.

Charles Brooks Dodson, English, spent four days in Brunswick, N.J., with other faculty in English and business from around the country reading essays written as a part of the GMAT, a test taken worldwide by college seniors and others who are applying to graduate business schools.

Dan Noland with Lee Schweninger, English, contributed a report to the American Nature Writing Newsletter, Getting Outside. The contribution describes some of the wildlife and plant life of the Colorado mountains and prairies.

Dr. Joseph Pawlik, biological sciences, and his graduate student, Alicia Henriksen, had a paper published in the Journal of Experimental Marine Biology and Ecology (Vol. 194, pp. 157-165) titled "A New Antifouling Method: Results from Field Experiments Using Extracts of Four Marine Organisms."

Sridhar Narayan, mathematical sciences, had his paper "Enhancing MLP Networks Using a Distributed Data Representation" published in the February issue of IEEE Transactions on Systems, Man and Cybernetics. The paper was co-authored by Edward Page and Gene Tagliarini of Clemson University.

Simona Bartl, biological sciences, presented "The Isolation of MHC-Linked Homologs from a Colonial Ascidian" at the Midwinter Conference of Immunologists in Pacific Grove, Calif. UNCW graduate student Meg Baish was a co-presenter.

Dr. Stephen Skrabal, chemistry, presented a paper titled "The Flux of Copper-Complexing Ligands from Chesapeake Bay Sediments" at the American Geophysical Union Ocean Sciences Meeting, in San Diego, Calif. Co-presenters were J.R. Donat and D.J. Burdige of Old Dominion University.

Dr. Frederick Bingham, physics, presented a poster titled "Interannual Variability of Intermediate Waters in the Western Equatorial Pacific" at the American Geophysical Union's Biennial Ocean Sciences Meeting in San Diego, Calif.

Dr. Joe Pawlik, biological sciences, received funding for his project "RUI: Assessing the Chemical Defenses of Caribbean Sponges."

Kathleen Halme, English, is winner of the Balcones Poetry Prize for her collection of poetry, Every Substance Clothed, published by the University of Georgia Press. This $1,000 prize recognizes "the best book of poetry written in English during the year." Halme is invited to read at the Northridge Literary Festival, which takes place each April in Austin, Texas.

SEANC Annual Legislative Breakfast

SEANC District 62 will hold its annual Legislative Breakfast at 9 a.m., February 24, in the Madeline Suite. Breakfast is $6 per person. The breakfast will be a good time to ask your questions and listen to what the legislators have to say.

Legislators and representatives from the SEANC Office in Raleigh will be in attendance. This promises to be an informative meeting.

We need all state employees to attend — please give district 62 your support.

For reservations, call 675-8584, or ext. 4137.

Student Time Sheet Deadline Nears

Student time sheets for February must be in the Payroll Office (new location: white house between Hoggard Hall and the University Center) by 3 p.m., February 27. Please note: The student time sheet deadline will also be posted in Bulletin on the Vax for seven days prior to the payroll deadline.

Beware of Scams

Please refer vendors to Purchasing unless you specifically have requested their technical assistance. Even then, take care in the information they may offer you. Specifications or technical advice might be unduly restrictive, requesting delivery or performance only the favored supplier can meet, obviously eliminating fair competition. The open-door policy of government makes it difficult to control this "back-door" selling problem, so we ask for your assistance in referring unsolicited vendor calls or visits to the Purchasing Office.

Software Purchases

Please identify the type of computer on which your software, or any peripheral, will be installed (i.e., Mac or PC compatible). Your assistance will save us from having to call you and will speed up your order! Any questions, call Phillip Windham at ext. 3190.

Shared Leave

Political Activity by Employees

As the election season approaches, university employees are reminded that state policy prohibits the use of the university's name or resources in support of any political campaign. While employees are free to participate in the political process as private individuals on their own time, employees are particularly cautioned not to use university letterhead or to permit their university titles to be cited when endorsing political candidates. Specific "conflict of interest" guidelines apply to employees who are candidates for elective or appointive public office. For additional information, call Sam Connally at ext. 3855.

COMMUNITY CORNER

Camellia Show

Tidewater Camellia Club and Garden Council of New Hanover County will have its 47th annual Camellia Show at Independence Mall. Times are: 1 to 9 p.m., February 24, and 1 to 6 p.m., February 26. The show is free.

Clubs for Kids

The Child Advocacy Commission's major fund raiser, "Clubs for Kids," golf tournament and clinic will be held March 25 at Landfall. All proceeds benefit the Child Advocacy Commission, a private, non-profit organization that advocates on behalf of children and families. We need sponsors of all types, from cart sponsors to players, patrons and title sponsors. Anyone interested should call Dave Evans at ext. 3434.

Opera House Theatre Presents My Fair Lady

Opera House Theatre Company is proud to present the unforgettable Lerner and Loewe musical, My Fair Lady: February 21 to 25 and March 1-3. All performances are at 8 p.m., at Thalian Hall.

Making Waves in Duplin County

Chancellor James R. Leutze led a contingent of more than 40 UNCW faculty, administrators and students for a full day of outreach activities in Duplin County on February 21. The purpose of the trip was to promote the cooperative relationships UNCW has established throughout Duplin County and to highlight the many ways UNCW impacts the lives of citizens there.

The UNCW Days outreach program is the first activity of this scope ever to be undertaken by UNCW. The visit to Duplin County was the fourth of six visits the university is making in its surrounding service region. Last week's outreach to Duplin County included visits to Wallace Rose-Hill and James Kenan high schools, Duplin County General Hospital, area health agencies, local businesses and industry; contacts with area civic and governmental officials; and meetings with our wonderful Duplin County alumni. In addition, more than 100 Duplin County residents attended a luncheon, hosted by Chancellor Leutze, to learn more about UNCW and the many programs we can offer them in their own county.

Chancellor Leutze wishes to thank all of the UNCW faculty, staff and students who contributed their time and effort to make our visit to Duplin County such a success:

Jazz Combo Performs Mainstream Concert

The UNCW Jazz Combo will present a concert at 8 p.m., TONIGHT, in Kenan Auditorium. General admission is $3, $1.50 for UNCW faculty and free to UNCW students with valid I.D.

The UNCW Jazz Combo is a small jazz ensemble composed of several talented UNCW music students and faculty.

Seahawk Night at BB&T

The UNCW Alumni Association invites all university faculty, staff, students and alumni to attend Seahawk Night at BB&T from 5:30 to 7 p.m., TONIGHT, at the South College Road BB&T, located across from campus.

Come pick up a free hat, T-shirt, pizza and drinks and maybe even a cash prize up to $100.

For more information, call 251-2682.

Interacting with Bottlenose Dolphins; UNCW Professors Present Their Latest Research

Join dolphin biologists Dr. Anne Pabst, Dr. Laela Sayigh and Bill McLellan as they present a visual exploration of their latest research and interactions with the Atlantic bottlenose dolphin at 7:30 p.m., TONIGHT, in Cameron Hall, Room 105.

They will cover such topics as techniques used in determining the population of dolphins, health assessment of the population by studying stranded animals and behavior and communication between dolphins.

This lecture, as part of the Department of Health, Physical Education and Recreation's Healthy Earth Lecture Series, is free and open to the public.

No Communique Next Week

Due to Spring Break, there will be no Campus Communique next week. The next issue will come out March 14, with a noon deadline on Tuesday, March 12.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

State of the Coast to be Discussed at Symposium for Educators

An educators' symposium to discuss the state of the North Carolina coast and the impact of pollution, development and erosion on beaches, estuaries and seafood will be held from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m., March 2, at Craven Community College, New Bern.

Scientists and other experts will discuss changes in water quality, land use and fish stocks and how to preserve coastal heritage. Two coastal legislators, State Senator Beverly Perdue and Representative John Nichols, will also take part in the day-long event. Others on the agenda are Alan Clark, N.C. Division of Environmental Management; Hans Paerl, Institute of Marine Science; JoAnn Burkholder, N.C. State University; Paul Lilly, retired soil scientist; Spencer Rogers, N.C. Sea Grant coastal construction and erosion specialist; Jess Hawkins, N.C. Division of Marine Fisheries; Bob Lucas, N.C. Marine Fisheries Commission; and John Pedersen, ECU. A teacher's resource fair will feature dozens of diverse organizations including the Neuse River Foundation, the N.C. Aquariums, the Core Sound Waterfowl Museum, Weyerhaeuser Cool Springs Environmental Education Center, N.C. Big Sweep and the N.C. Wildlife Commission. Cost is $5. Registrations with name, address, city, state, zip code, county and affiliation should be faxed to N.C. Sea Grant at (919) 975-3716. The fee will be collected at the door. For more information, call Carla Burgess, Sea Grant Communications, (919) 515-2454.

Visitation Day a Success

Thanks to all who helped make Visitation Day '96 a record-breaking success. Approximately 1,900 students and their parents attended Visitation Day on February 17. Faculty representatives, student organizations, administrators and staff of UNCW combined to provide a wealth of information to our guests. On behalf of the university, thank you to all who participated.

Scandinavia Summer Travel-Study

Two geography courses will be offered in the summer of 1996 in Denmark, Sweden and Norway from July 8 to July 26. For more information, contact Dr. W. Frank Ainsley at ext. 3493, or by Email at AINSLEYF.

Faculty/Staff Needed to Serve on Dance Marathon Advisory Board

Faculty and staff are needed to serve on the Dance Marathon Advisory Board. This is a new project that Student Government is heading in conjunction with all other student organizations. The dance marathon is a project to raise money for the Children's Miracle Network (CMN) to benefit Duke Children's Hospital. The money raised by CMN in this part of our state benefits the Duke Children's Hospital directly because it is the critical care unit for children with cancer closest to Wilmington. The advisory board will be made up of five members of the faculty, staff, local community and two students. For more information, call ext. 3553.

Graduate Thesis Defense

Matthew Geddis will present "Role of Glycoproteins in Calcification of Blue Crabs, Callinectes sapidus" at 2 p.m., March 1, in Friday Hall, Room 151. This presentation is open to the public and refreshments will be served.

Regalia for Commencement

Faculty who need to rent regalia for May's commencement should call ext. 3188 before April 1. If you have a card on file, just call; however, if you need to be measured you must come by the Bookstore.

Scholarship Awards

The deadline for applications for the SEANC scholarship awards is August 1. There will be three categories this year: merit, financial need and member only. For an application or for more information, call Gloria Sasser at ext. 4137.

Chemistry DIS/Honors Seminar

You are cordially invited to attend the Chemistry DIS/Honors Seminar at 3 p.m., March 1, in DeLoach Hall, Room 114. Allison Ferguson, "Biodegradation of Organic Pesticides" (advisor: Dr. J. Manock); Beth Williams, "Increasing Antibiotic Resistance and Synthesis of New Antibiotics to Combat Against Resistance" (advisor: Dr. Burgess).

We're Not in Kansas

UNCW students, faculty and staff are invited to join Dr. Maura Cullen for "Toto, We're Not in Kansas Anymore," an energetic, interactive presentation on building a world that includes not excludes. If you missed her when she was here two years ago, don't miss her this time. Her "performance" is one to remember, as she shares stories, pictures and magic to make real for audience the issues surrounding our many "isms".

Three presentations are planned on March 18. Faculty are invited to the 10 a.m. to noon program, staff to the 3 to 5 p.m. program and everyone to a special 7 p.m. program, all in the University Center Ballroom.

Please encourage your students to come experience Maura! These presentations are being sponsored by the Human Relations Advisory Committee, the student organization PRIDE and Human Resources. For more information, call Diane Edwards at ext. 3577.

Earth Sciences Departmental Seminar

Dr. Jeff Schweitzer, vice president for marketing and sales, Marine Environmental Research, will present "Shark Brains, Biodiversity and Bartholomew Dias: Scientific Exploration and Global Cooperation" at 3 p.m., March 22, in Friday Hall, Room 251. Schweitzer was formerly chief environmental officer for the U.S. Agency for International Development and assistant director for International Affairs, White House Office of Science and Technology Policy.

UNCW's Presentation to UNC Funding Equity Study Commission on Reserve at Library

A bound copy of UNCW's February 20 presentation to the UNC Funding Equity Study Commission has been placed on reserve in Randall Library for your review. The copy includes the complete text of the chancellor's remarks to the committee, as well as graphics used in the presentation and is accompanied by a follow-up report by the consultant employed by General Administration to conduct the study. Both documents give clear evidence that UNCW, UNCC and other high-growth institutions need corrective funding in proportion to recent growth.

New University Letterhead Now Available

The new university letterhead and envelope format is now being printed. If you need to order the old format to make your supplies run out evenly be sure to write "old format" on your order form. The old format will continue to be printed, upon request, until May 1, 1996. Please be reminded that in May, the campus will get new phone numbers resulting in outdated letterhead and business cards. Don't order too much!

The options available for letterheads, envelopes and business cards listed in the order of cost are as follows: cream paper with dark blue and metallic gold ink; white paper with dark blue and metallic gold ink; and white paper with black ink. The white paper with black ink is discouraged for use other than for mass mailings and internal communication or when the cost of two color letterheads might be prohibitive. Black ink may be used for internal memos. The charge for letterheads, envelopes and business cards decreases as volume ordered increases. Call the Print Shop at ext. 3183 for pricing information.

Bookstore Offers Leap Year Day Sale

The UNCW Bookstore will be having a special Leap to Save Sale. Selected clothing and gifts need to be moved to make ready for summer merchandise. These items will be marked to sell.

Used regalia: The bookstore will have a one-time only sale on used gowns, hats and hoods for our faculty. You might be lucky to find just what you need to complete your regalia. Come early on February 29 to make your selection.

Parking Survey

The chancellor has appointed an Ad Hoc Parking Committee to look at the parking situation on campus. Please watch the March 14 Communique for a survey asking for your suggestions on improving parking.

QUALITY FACULTY . . . QUALITY STAFF

Don Bushman and Betsy Ervin, English, had several entries in the recently-published Encyclopedia of Rhetoric and Composition (Garland, 1996). The one-volume sourcebook, aimed at students and professionals in the field of rhetoric and composition, defines and explains terms, concepts and figures that have been important to the field from ancient times to the present.

Ron Whittaker, director of Admissions and Registrar, presented a program session "Total Quality Telephone Registration" at the annual meeting of the Southern Association of Collegiate Registrars and Admissions Officers. The focus of the talk was how Total Quality University processes were used to implement the grade reporting and registration system at UNCW.

Dr. Fred Astren, philosophy and religion, chaired a panel titled "Facing the Other: Judaism and Islam in Conflict and Dialogue" at the annual meeting of the American Academy of Religion in Philadelphia.

Dr. Gilbert Grant, biological sciences, had a paper, "Correlation of Leatherback Turtle and Jellyfish Occurrence," accepted for publication in Herpetological Review. It is co-authored with H. Malpass and J. Beasley.

Mariel Rose, honors graduate of the anthropology program, was awarded the 1996 Undergraduate Student Paper Competition Prize at the annual meeting of the Southern Anthropological Society. Her paper, based on her honor's thesis, was titled "Pocomoke: A Study in Remembering and Forgetting."

Dr. Patricia B. Lerch, anthropology, presented a paper at the Southern Anthropological Society (SAS) annual meeting titled "Celebration and Dress: Sources of Native Identity in the South." Dr. Lerch was installed as president of the SAS for 1996-97.

Dr. Dale R. McCall, anthropology, presented a paper at the Southern Anthropological Society annual meeting titled "A Mouse Model of Heritable Differences in Hypoxic Exercise Tolerance."

Jane Kirty, The Writing Place, spent four days in Brunswick, N.J., with other faculty from around the country reading essays written as part of the GMAT, a test taken worldwide by college seniors and others applying to graduate schools.

Charles Brooks Dodson, English, spoke to the ladies' auxiliary of St. Therese's Church on the subject of change in the English language.

Mike Bradley, director of the North Carolina Marine Trade Program of the North Carolina Small Business and Technology Development Center, was quoted in the March 1996 issue of Southern Living. The article titled "Building on a Tradition" the history of boat building in North Carolina and highlights some of the state's most talented craftsman. Bradley designs the yearly MarineExpo, the only marine trade show in the state. SBTDC is housed in UNCW's Division for Public Service and Extended Education.

Dr. Harry F. Smith, mathematical sciences, presented "Image Processing as an Exemplar of Parallelism Applied to Graphics" at the annual ACM Computer Science Education Symposium in Philadelphia. The paper grew out of his REU (Research Experience for Undergraduates) program this past Summer I, and has three students — from UNCW, Wake Forest University and Oberlin College — as co-authors.

Three faculty members in the Department of Economics and Finance attended the annual meeting of the Midsouth Academy of Economics and Finance in Atlanta, Ga. Dr. William W. Hall, professor of economics and director of the Center for Business and Economics Services, presented a paper titled "A Forecasting System for a Multicounty Region." Dr. Kristin Howell, economics, presented a paper titled "The Value of the SWAP System - The Mexican Case." Dr. Luther Lawson, economics, presented a paper titled "Race and Gender Effects on Education: 'Looking Through the Looking Glass.'" Dr. Howell is second vice president of the association, and Dr. Lawson is a former president of the association.

Hypermedia ToolBook Workshop

The Center for Teaching Excellence workshop "Introduction to Hypermedia — ToolBook" will be offered March 4 through 6. This is a hands-on workshop to introduce faculty to techniques and technology needed to develop hypermedia classroom presentations. The workshop will run from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m., on Monday and Tuesday and from 9 a.m. to noon on Wednesday. Morning and afternoon refreshments will be provided. For more information, Email CTE or call ext. 3034.

Ready to Retire?

The State Retirement Systems Division will conduct a conference for members planning for retirement from 9:30 a.m. to noon, March 20, in the University Center, Ballroom 4.

Employees who are age 60 or older, or who are otherwise eligible to retire, will find this conference particularly beneficial. Complete information on eligibility for retirement, selection of optional payment arrangements, designation of beneficiaries, eligibility requirements for Social Security benefits, hospital/medical coverage, and other issues will be provided. For more information, call Elizabeth at ext. 3713.

Dental Plan Update

Participants in the new Dental Insurance Plan should have received corrected cards from American Dental this week. Please make sure that your dentist is filing claims to the address on the green dental insurance card that you received: American Dental Plan of NC, Inc., P.O. Box 566608, Atlanta, Ga. 31156-6608. Your dentist may use his standard claim form, or you may pick up claim forms in Human Resources. American Dental has provided a toll-free number to answer any questions you may have regarding your coverage: 1-800-633-1262. As always, benefits counselors are available in Human Resources at ext. 3713 or 3006 to assist you. Note: There is a 12-month waiting period for orthodontia benefits.

Administrative Procedures Update

The following revised policies for the Administrative Policies and Procedures Manual have been approved and are now accessible on-line to university departments.

PHY 1.30 - Digging and Excavation: Any person desiring to dig or excavate on university property must receive written permission from the director of Physical Plant (or designee) before commencing digging or excavation operations. This applies to all penetrations of soil on university property. Any persons or organizations digging without proper authorization will be responsible for repair costs to damaged underground utilities.

TRAVEL, APPENDIX A - Rate Table: Effective January 1996, the reimbursement rate for the use of a private car was increased to 31 cents per mile for (1) round trips of 60 miles or less and (2) trips when a state-owned vehicle is not reasonably available and the non-availability is documented on the Vehicle Request and Invoice form.

The Administrative Policies and Procedures Manual can be accessed by any of the following: by typing INFO at the username prompt on VXA, VXB or VXC on the VAX; through SNBALLEXP; through FRS and SIS menus; and on Netscape via the UNCW gopher service.

Shared Leave Needed

UNCW, Duplin and Brunswick Win Top Award from Association of Teacher Educators

UNCW's Watson School of Education and the Brunswick and Duplin County Schools have received top national honors for developing and implementing their Professional Development System Project, a collaborative program that dramatically redefines how teachers are prepared.

At its annual meeting in St. Louis, Mo., the Association of Teacher Educators (ATE) announced that the Professional Development System: Collaboration for Quality Education Project placed second in the national Distinguished Program Award in Teacher Education.

The ATE, a national organization with more than 1,000 institutional members, sponsors a competition for innovative programs. Twenty-one institutions met the rigorous submission criteria. From these, the UNCW, Brunswick and Duplin team was among three finalists invited to present. Other finalists were Indiana State University and the University of Houston.

The UNCW project is an outgrowth of the school's commitment to improving the lives of citizens in its service region by improving teacher education and public education. The project has four major goals: to improve public school classrooms; to improve teacher education; to improve school/school system and school of education practices; and to initiate a coaching model of supervision.

"This program is unique because it ties the university and public schools in our region together, with each having something important to offer the other, and at little extra cost to the school system. Each program is structured to meet the needs expressed by the school system," explained Robert E. Tyndall, dean of the Watson school of Education.

Dean Tyndall praised Hatha Hayes and Karen Wetherill, faculty of the Watson School of Education, for their leadership in this project. Joining them in the presentation in St. Louis were UNCW faculty member Andrew Hayes and graduate assistant Christy Potter.

speaker for the month. Her address will be "A Personal Evening with Bebe Moore Campbell: A Writer and Her Work."

Month of March: Womanart — Jewelry, clothing and art made by and for women from around the world will be displayed in Randall Library. The exhibit was researched and designed by museum studies student Kerri

Williamson and installed with the help of Museum of World Cultures lab assistant Louise Melita and museum studies students Joy Robey and Melanie Ablang. Cultures presented include several African tribes (Masai, Fulani, Ashanti, Fanti, Baule, Ewe/Fon and Dan) as well as pre-Columbian and modern Mexican and Guatemalan, Indonesian and prehistoric Canaanite and Peruvian.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Dorsey Helps With UNCW Days

In the February 29 issue of the Communique, Kathy Dorsey was inadvertently left off the list of those who contributed their time and effort to make UNCW's visit to Duplin County such a success.

Funding Equity Study

The February 29 issue of the Communique incorrectly stated that the copy of UNCW's February 20 presentation to the UNC Funding Equity Study Commission included a copy of a follow-up report by the consultant employed by General Administration to conduct the study. The follow-up report was submitted TO this consultant by UNCW.

Faculty Recital Series

Internationally recognized concert pianist Barry David Salwen and soprano Joan Heller will perform at 8 p.m., March 19, in Kenan Auditorium. Admission is $5 with a 20 percent discount for senior citizens and children under 12. UNCW faculty and staff are admitted at half price and UNCW students are admitted free with valid I.D.

Faculty/Staff Needed for Advisory Board

Faculty and staff are needed to serve on the Dance Marathon Advisory Board. This is a new project that the Student Government Association is heading in conjunction with all other student organizations. The dance marathon is a project to raise money for the Children's Miracle Network to benefit the Duke Children's Hospital. The advisory board will be made up of five members of the faculty/staff and local community and two students. For more information, call Melissa Ramirez at ext. 3553.

Earth Sciences Departmental Seminar

Dr. Jeff Schweitzer, vice president for marketing and sales, Marine Environmental Research, will present "Shark Brains, Biodiversity and Bartholomew Dias: Scientific Exploration and Global Cooperation" at 3 p.m., March 22, in Friday Hall, Room 251. Schweitzer was formerly chief environmental officer for the U.S. Agency for International Development and assistant director for International Affairs, White House Office of Science and Technology Policy.

Healing Works Exhibit Now on Display

The second annual "Healing Works" art exhibit is on display now through April 4 in the University Union. "Healing Works" includes the work of more than 20 local artists, all addressing the celebration of survival and healing from child sexual abuse and sexual assault. Each piece of art displayed tells an important story, one that we all need to witness in order to better understand the loss and pain caused by this senseless violence and to share in the celebration of the healing process for those affected by it.

A reception honoring the artists and their works will be held from 7 to 9 p.m., March 14, and is open to the public. Faculty, students and staff are encouraged to stop by the Union living room exhibit area to view the art. For more information, call ext. 3577.

Feminist Colloquium

The Feminist Colloquium will meet for a brown bag lunch at 12:15 p.m., March 19, in the Faculty Common of Morton Hall. The discussion will be led by Carol Thysell, philosophy and religion, and will focus on "The Complexity of Symbols" by Caroline Walker Bynum, an article which addresses the complex relationship between religion and gender. The reading is on library reserve or call ext. 3764. All are welcome.

Scholarship Awards

The deadline for applications for the SEANC scholarship awards is APRIL 1. There will be three categories this year: merit, financial need and SEANC member only. For an application or more information, call ext. 4137.

Learning Center Offers Tutoring

The Learning Center offers free tutoring for any UNCW student. For a tutor in math go to Bear Hall, Room 101; for writing/reading consulting go to the Writing Place, Randall Library; for all other subjects go to the Learning Center, Westside Hall.

Service Awards Program

UNCW's 21st Service Awards Program will be held from 11:30 a.m. to 2 p.m., June 6, in Wagoner Hall. The Service Awards Planning Team has sent out a survey to last year's and this year's award recipients in an effort to identify areas of improvement and to enhance this year's program. We also encourage other staff employees to submit suggestions about the program. Please forward comments to Human Resources. This year's Service Awards Planning Team members are: Lori Barrett, Student Affairs; Becky Chilcote, University Advancement; Gloria Crowell, CMSR; Dana McKoy, HPER; Gloria Smith, Small Business Technology and Development Center; Willie Verner, Moving Services; Brenda Jordan, Human Resources; and Kimberly Best-Tuten, Human Resources. Thank you in advance for your feedback.

Special Olympics

The Special Olympics will be held April 17, on the campus of UNCW. Volunteers are needed for a variety of tasks (award presenters, food servers and most importantly, chaperones for the athletes). Anyone and everyone is needed, even if they can only give an hour or two of their time. There will be an interest meeting at 5 p.m., March 26, in Cameron Hall Auditorium. Call ext. 3925 or Email to KEC7144 with questions.

"We're Not in Kansas"

Please note time change

The three presentations of Maura Cullen's "Toto, We're Not in Kansas Anymore," though all similar in content, will differ slightly in focus and style to accommodate the intended audiences. The evening presentation is open to all students, faculty and staff and will take place at 7 p.m., March 18, in the University Center Ballroom. Two presentations have been planned specifically for faculty and staff. A morning session intended primarily for staff will be held from 10 a.m. to noon, March 18, in Ballroom 4. An afternoon session for faculty will be held from 3 to 5 p.m., also in Ballroom 4.

Maura Cullen's presentations take a different approach to issues of human relations. Her programs are high energy and entertaining as well as challenging. Please make plans to join her on March 18—for any and all sessions! These programs are sponsored by the Chancellor's Human Relations Advisory Committee, Human Resources and PRIDE student organization. For more information, call ext. 3577. (Vouchers will be available for students needing them following the evening program.)

Former Shipyard Workers Wanted for Panel

The UNCW Department of History is seeking former employees of the North Shipbuilding Company to participate in a panel discussion scheduled for 7:30 p.m., April 10. The panel discussion will be held at the USS North Carolina Battleship Memorial. Panelists will be requested to respond to questions concerning their work at the shipyard as well as living conditions in Wilmington during the war years. The panel discussion, which is free and open to the public, is co-sponsored by the Friends of the USS North Carolina Battleship Memorial. The deadline for persons who wish to serve as panelists is March 22. For more information, call ext. 3307.

Award-Winning Poet to Read at UNCW

Alice Fulton, award-winning poet, will read from her work at 8 p.m., March 19, in Cameron Hall Auditorium. Her reading is part of the Buckner Series sponsored by benefactor Charles Green. Fulton, who teaches poetry at the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, counts among her awards a John D. and Catherine T. Mac Arthur "Genius Fellowship," a Guggenheim Fellowship, and an Ingram Merrill Award. Her poetry collections include Sensual Math, Dance Script With Electric Ballerina, Palladium and Powers of Congress. For more information, call ext. 3325.

Buckled and Sober at 25

The UNCW University Police Department is conducting a traffic campaign titled "Buckled and Sober at 25." This campaign will run in conjunction with the national campaigns, "Booze It and Lose It" and "Click It or Ticket."

The campaign will consist of two phases:

Phase I: Education, March 13-24. Promoting compliance with seatbelt, speed limit and DWI laws through educational seminars and presentations. Visits from "Vince and Larry" the crash dummies, and the "Convincer," a crash simulator.

Phase II: Enforcement, March 25-April 7. Strict enforcement of seatbelt, speed limit and DWI violations. DWI check points will also be conducted. For more information, call ext. 3184.

Greek Week '96

Greek Week '96 is March 18 to 22. Faculty and staff are invited to all events, notably "Speakin' Greek" featuring Gary Bonus at 7 p.m., March 20, in the University Center Ballroom. Mocktails will follow this presentation. For more information, call ext. 3119.

The Campus Communique office will be moving March 26. Due to this move, there will be an early deadline for the March 28 issue. Copy is due by noon, Monday, March 25. Thank you for your cooperation.

Virtual Reality Satellite Conference

The pioneers of virtual reality want to share their world of immersive, interactive learning experiences and demonstrate what is being done via a live satellite teleconference, "From Reality to Virtuality: New Tools for Distributed Learning" from 2:30 to 4 p.m., March 21, in Randall Library Auditorium.

Presented by the Institute for Academy Technology, Durham, a nonprofit partnership between UNC Chapel Hill and IBM Corporation, the video conference is sponsored by UNCW's Center for Teaching Excellence and the Division for Public Service and Extended Education. Admission is free.

William H. Graves, director of IAT and associate provost for information technology at UNC Chapel Hill, will moderate. Speakers include Thomas A. Furness III, director of the Human Interface Technology Laboratory and professor of industrial engineering at the University of Washington; Carol E. Loeffler, project director at Carnegie Mellon University; and Mark Pesce, co-creator of VRML (virtual reality modeling language) and author of VRML: Browsing and Building Cyberspace. For more information, call ext. 3193.

TO: University Faculty & Staff
FROM: James R. Leutze
SUBJECT: YWCA CAPE FEAR WOMEN OF ACHIEVEMENT
AWARDS DINNER – MAY 16, 1996

The 12th Annual YWCA Cape Fear Women of Achievement Awards Dinner will be held on May 16, 1996 at 6:00 p.m., in Wagoner Hall. This year's moderator will be Ms. Audrey Cates Bailey from UNC TV. Last year's program was an immense success, highlighting the outstanding contributions and public service of women from New Hanover and surrounding counties. UNCW's Executive Director of University Relations, Ms. Mimi Cunningham, won the Community Service Achievement Award last year.

There are two ways in which women can be honored: one is by the Achievement Award and one is by a Certificate of Recognition. These are explained below.

WOMEN OF ACHIEVEMENT: Women of Achievement Awards are presented to women who have made significant achievements in the following fields: Arts, Business/Industry, Community Service, Education, Entrepreneur, Health and Wellness, Human Services, Professions, Public Service, and Teen Leader. (The Teen Leader Award includes a $1,500 scholarship). Women are selected on a competitive basis by an autonomous YWCA Awards Committee.

CERTIFICATES OF RECOGNITION: You may nominate a woman to be honored with a non-competitive Certificate of Recognition. Ms. Karen Colvin in Purchasing and Ms. Elaine Penn in University Advancement received Certificates of Recognition last year.

All nomination forms are available in Human Resources. Nomination forms for:

- Women of Achievement nominations must be mailed to YWCA by March 25, 1996.
- Certificates of Recognition must be returned to Kimberly Best-Tuten, Human Resources by April 26, 1996.

Thank you for taking the time to nominate one of our many outstanding women at UNCW. We look forward to an inspirational evening. For ticket information, call the YWCA at 799-6820.

Senior Seminars

Four senior chemistry students will present their senior seminars at 3 p.m., March 15, in DeLoach Hall, Room 114. Topics will range from computer computations to radon in the environment. Presenters will be: Noah W. Allen, "A Comparison of Computational Chemistry Methodologies" (Dr. Martin); Donald G. Gross, "Hazardous Materials" (Dr. Mannock); Jennifer Williams, "Environmental Effects of Radon" (Dr. Mannock); Gregory P. Wylie, "PCR What Is It? What Can It Be Used for?" (Dr. Lundeen).

Janson to Present Lecture

At noon, March 29, in the University Center Ballroom, Dr. Tony F. Janson will present a slide-lecture titled "Pascha Christi: The Story of Easter in Art." It will focus on the images of Easter and spring as expressed through the centuries by the world's finest artists. Lunch will also be served. The cost of the lecture/luncheon is $20. Proceeds will go to benefit the UNCW Loyalty Fund and the Fine Arts Department. Please Rsvp by March 25 by calling ext. 7183.

Keith Newlin, English, had "Uplifting the Stage: Hamlin Garland and the Chicago Theater Society" published in the Journal of American Drama and Theater 8 (Winter 1996): 1-17.

Barbara Frey Waxman, English, signed a contract with University Press of Virginia for the publication of her manuscript, To Live in the Center of the Literary Autobiographies of Aging. She will be preparing the revised manuscript for submission in the fall of 1996.

Jim McNab, foreign languages and literatures, is review editor for literary criticism for French Review, the journal of the American Association of Teachers of French, two issues of which (January and February) recently appeared. McNab's paper on an early novel by the psychologist Jean Piaget has been accepted for an international literature conference in Lyon, France, in July. St. James Press has commissioned essays on Nijinsky, Diaghilev and Allen Ginsberg from him. He also gave two invited lectures at Quail Ridge Bookstore in Raleigh on painters of Paris and Provence and art museums and artists of the French Riviera.

Joyce L. Morden, director, Museum of World Cultures, has been appointed as a member of the New Hanover Commission for Women for a two-year term.

Story Press announces publication of Creative Nonfiction—Researching and Crafting Stories of Real Life by Philip Gerard, who directs the Professional and Creative Writing Program in the Department of English. Creative Nonfiction, the lead title in Story Press's 1996 catalogue, is the first attempt to define the emerging genre of creative nonfiction, fact-based narrative that goes beyond journalism into the realm of literary art and explores both its practical and aesthetic aspects. Clyde Edgerton writes, "Creative Nonfiction is a book you should not need—unless you are a reader, in which case it will be one of the most helpful and best books you've ever read." This is the fifth book by Gerard, whose recent novels include Desert Kill and Cape Fear Rising.

Faculty and students in the Department of Specialty Studies attended the annual meeting of the North Carolina Association for Research in Education in Chapel Hill. Ann Crawford and Kim Fimmel presented "Professional Development: Supporting the Construction of New Beliefs and Practices through Reflective Journals." Laura Rogers, Karen Brown, Steve Clark, Buddy Griffin, Anthony Heath, Ken Riley and Leigh Watts presented "Learning to Teach Science: The Student Teacher Perspective." Sarah Bond and Laura Rogers presented "Motivation and the Decision to Teach."

Midori Albert, anthropology and sociology, presented "The Use of Vertebral Ring Epiphyseal Union as a Method of Age Estimation in Three Cases of Unknown Identity" at the 48th annual meeting of the American Academy of Forensic Sciences in Nashville, Tenn.

Hana Noor Al-Deen, communication studies, had her article "The Algerian Press: 1830 to Present" published in the International Communication Bulletin (Vol. 30(3-4)). It is a publication of the Association for Education in Journalism and Mass Communication.

At the American College Personnel Association national convention held in Baltimore, the Hundley Wellness Promotion Center was recognized for outstanding contributions to college wellness. The center's "Healthy Living Expo '96," held last September, received the Golden Apple Award for Wellness which is given annually to honor programs which make a real difference in the quality of life in a campus community. In addition, Kara Kreutner, residence coordinator in the Office of Housing and Residence Life and health educator for the Hundley Wellness Promotion Center, received a similar award for editing the Wellness Commission Newsletter for ACPA for the past year.

Walter Conser, philosophy and religion, published a review of The Cherokee Removal, by ethnohistorians Theda Perdue and Michael Green, in the winter issue of American Indian Culture and Research Journal.

Ann Pabst, biological sciences, had her article "Morphology of the Dolphin Subdermal Connective Tissue Sheath: A New Fibre-wound, Thin-walled, Pressurized Cylinder Model for Swimming Vertebrates" published in the Journal of Zoology, London (238:35-52).

Wei Feng and Xin Lu, mathematical sciences, had their research article "Asymptotic Periodicity in Diffusive Logistic Equations with Discrete Delays" published in the February issue of the journal Nonlinear Analysis, Theory, Methods and Applications.

Lindsay Pentolfe Aegerter, English, had her paper "The Longings of Readers: Desire and the Short Story" presented at the Twentieth Century Literature Conference held in Louisville, Ky. Aegerter had her article "A Dialectic of Autonomy and Community: Tsitsi Dangaremba's Nervous Conditions" accepted for publication in the fall 1996 issue of Tulsa Studies in Women's Literature.

Frank Bongiorno, fine arts, had his saxophone quartet arrangement of Mozart's Quartet (K. 370), as recorded on his CD titled "Classic Saxophone, Vol. 2," accepted for publication by Southern Music, Inc., of San Antonio, Texas. The expected date of release is the fall of 1996.

Thirty members of UNCW's Ambassadors attended the Student Alumni Association/Student Foundation District III conference at the University of Kentucky. Members got the opportunity to share information and ideas with other schools. New ideas received from these meetings will be used for improving student and alumni relations. Approximately 550 delegates attended the Council for the Advancement and Support of Higher Education (CASE), representing 50 universities and colleges. UNCW's Ambassadors received the coveted "Best School Spirit" award. They were also recognized for giving one of the 10 best seminars during the conference. Their seminar was titled "You Never Get a Second Chance to Make a First Impression." The Ambassadors are a volunteer student group which reports to the Division for University Advancement. Their primary purpose is to conduct daily tours of the campus for prospective students and their families. They also assist the division by helping support and host special events for the division.

Ready to Retire

The State Retirement Systems Division will conduct a conference for members planning for retirement from 9:30 a.m. to noon, March 20, in the University Center, Ballroom 4.

Employees who are age 60 or older or who are otherwise eligible to retire, will find this conference particularly beneficial. Complete information on eligibility for retirement, selection of optional payment arrangements, designation of beneficiaries, eligibility requirements for Social Security benefits, hospital/medical coverage and other issues will be provided. For more information, call Elizabeth at ext. 3713.

Equipment Disposal

Equipment no longer in use by departments should be sent to Surplus Property. University departments do not have the authority to dispose of equipment by any means other than surplus property. Call ext. 3875 with questions.

Con Artists Are Alive and Well

Beware of smooth talkers that try to influence you to buy something. A company selling toner cartridges has been hard at work trying to find takers on campus. They make it sound as if approval is in place and ask if you will accept a shipment. Refer them to Purchasing. Without Purchasing's approval, you are personally responsible for the bill. So don't get stuck, just kindly transfer any unsolicited vendor calls to ext. 3158.

Purchasing Requisitions

Please don't forget the generic description of the item you want to order. For example #P6530 might be very descriptive but we need "Washing Machine Part #P6530" so we know what it is. Another example might be a book title. If you just list the title, it could be a video, cassette or some other form. Please list "Book Title:....." Your requisition will be processed faster.

Welcome

Please welcome the following new employee: George Gibson/Postal Services.

Bracelet Found

A bracelet was found March 6 on the ground between the University Center and the Burney Student Support Center. Please call ext. 3160 to identify.

CPM Course Offered

Area purchasing agents who plan to take the Certified Purchasing Manager (CPM) examination can enroll in the second series of courses at UNCW beginning March 26. This 30-hour course covers the entire scope of purchasing in detail, examining such areas as negotiations, legal aspects, ethics, EOQ, MRP, transportation and inventory management. Meeting times are 6 to 9 p.m., Tuesdays. For more information, call ext. 3419.

Recycled Interoffice Envelopes

The Accounting Department has a surplus of recycled interoffice envelopes. They can be picked up in Alderman Hall, Room 205, or call ext. 3172.

Amendment to Student Handbook

In response to disciplinary cases that have occurred at several UNC campuses over the past several months, President Spangler has requested that each chancellor review campus disciplinary proceedings in reference to disciplinary emergencies. In so doing, UNCW has established an amendment to the Student Handbook/Code of Student Life to address problematic admissions and extraordinary disciplinary emergencies cited as Section II-6. This will amend Section I-8-D.

The full text of this amendment can be obtained from the Office of the Dean of Students, Vice Chancellor for Student Affairs or the Chancellor's Office.

Any questions regarding this material should be addressed to Hal White, university counsel, or Patricia Leonard, interim vice chancellor for student affairs.

Spring Classes for UNCW/ DUKE Nonprofit Certificate Program Scheduled

Information sessions for the spring session of the UNCW/Duke University Certificate Program for Nonprofit Management are scheduled for noon to 1:30 p.m., April 3, and 6-7:30 p.m., April 10, in the University Union, Room 103B. The program, now in its second year, is designed specifically to help with various aspects and levels of nonprofit management. It is offered through UNCW's Division for Public Service and Extended Education.

The information sessions will discuss the level of professionalism, commitment and background required, the student-focused direction of the program and other details.

While classes are held on the UNCW campus, the registration process is conducted by Duke University. To register, call Duke University at (919) 684-6259. For more information, call ext. 3193.

UNCW Presents Frank Kenan Honorary Doctor of Laws

Chancellor James R. Leutze presented Frank Hawkins Kenan an honorary doctor of laws February 27, at his home in Durham.

The UNCW faculty and Board of Trustees voted Kenan an honorary degree to recognize his "lifelong and meaningful contributions to bettering the lives of the people of North Carolina." The citation also singled him out for his generosity to UNCW and noted that he had never forgotten his "roots in Southeastern North Carolina."

In making the presentation, Leutze called attention to the Kenan family's "unparalleled" philanthropic attention to American higher education, mentioning the University of North Carolina and UNCW in particular. Leutze also called Kenan a "model of entrepreneurial success."

"This degree is presented to you with our appreciation for demonstrating through your life's work and service, the value of honor, enterprise and public service," read Leutze from the citation.

On hand for the presentation were Mrs. Frank Kenan, his sons Thomas S. Kenan and Own Kenan, and UNC President Emeritus Bill Friday. Owen Kenan is a UNCW trustee appointed in 1995 by Governor Jim Hunt.

Award for Faculty Scholarship; Call for Nominations

The UNCW Award for Faculty Scholarship is designed to underscore this institution's continuing commitment to scholarship and creative work. Recipients of the award shall stand out among the faculty as persons who have made, and continue to make, a significant contribution to the university and the academic community through their commitment to scholarship, research and creativity.

The $1,500 award brings both honor and responsibility to the final recipient: it recognizes a member of the faculty as a person of excellence and calls upon the person so honored to share that excellence with colleagues, students and the community.

A nominee for the Award for Faculty Scholarship must be current full-time member of the UNCW faculty. A nominee must have exhibited genuine interest in scholarship, research and creativity; earned the respect of colleagues and peers; maintained high standards of quality and integrity; fostered interest and involvement of students and colleagues in scholarship and creative work; and demonstrated a significant contribution to scholarship, research and creativity at UNCW. Nominations may be submitted by any member of the UNCW faculty.

All letters of nomination are limited to one page and must indicate how the nominee satisfies the criteria for consideration. Nominations must be received in the Chancellor's Office no later than March 29.

Fredrick to Speak About Stonehenge and Hubble Space Telescope

Dr. Laurence W. Fredrick, Hamilton Professor of Astronomy, University of Virginia, will be visiting UNCW March 28 to 29 under the auspices of the Harlow Shapley Visiting Lectureships in Astronomy.

At 8 p.m., March 28, in Morton Hall's Bryan Auditorium, he will present "Ancient Monuments and the Game of Checkers."

At 2 p.m., March 29, in DeLoach Hall, Room 218, he will present "VV Cephei as Seen by Hubble Space Telescope: A Supernova Waiting to Happen."

Campbell Speaks During Women's History Month

Bebe Moore Campbell will present "A Personal Evening with Bebe Moore Campbell: A Writer and Her Work" at 8 p.m., March 26, in Cameron Hall Auditorium.

Campbell, a Philadelphia native, has appeared on several national talk shows including The Oprah Winfrey Show, The Phil Donahue Show and The Today Show.

Healing Works Exhibit

The second annual "Healing Works" art exhibit is on display now through April 4 in the University Union. "Healing Works" includes the work of more than 20 local artists, all addressing the celebration of survival and healing from child sexual abuse and sexual assault. Each piece of art displayed tells an important story, one that we all need to witness in order to better understand the loss and pain caused by this senseless violence and to share in the celebration of the healing process for those affected by it. For more information, call ext. 3577.

Scholarship Awards

The deadline for applications for the SEANC scholarship awards is APRIL 1. For an application or more information, call ext. 4137.

Take Back the Night

UNCW's annual "Take Back the Night" march and rally will take place at 7:15 p.m., April 2, at the Gazebo. Following the opening rally, participants will march to the University Union where they are invited to view the "Clothesline Project" and browse information tables sponsored by campus and area groups. A reception will close the event and will be held in the area adjacent to the "Healing Works" exhibit. For more information, call ext. 4137.

Children Needed for Health Screening

The UNCW School of Nursing and St. Phillip Church would like you and your child to participate in a health screening project. Join us at St. Phillip Church, 815 North 8th Street between 10 a.m. and 3 p.m., March 23 and 30. For an appointment, please call 762-3573.

Buckled and Sober at 25

The second phase of the UNCW University Police Department's campaign titled "Buckled and Sober at 25" will run from March 25 through April 7 and include strict enforcement of seatbelt, speed limit and DWI violations. DWI check points will also be conducted. For more information, call ext. 3184.

Regalia for Commencement

Faculty who will need to rent regalia for May's commencement should call Jessiebeth in the Bookstore at ext. 3188 before April 1. If you have a card on file, just call; however, if you need to be measured you must come by the Bookstore.

Some Offices Extend Hours

In order to serve students better, the following offices will remain open until 6 p.m., Monday through Thursday, while classes are in session: Center for Academic Advising, Financial Aid, Admissions, Registrar and Enrollment Affairs.

A two-hour live satellite teleconference, "From Reality to Virtuality: New Tools for Distributed Learning," will take place from 2:30-4 p.m., March 21, in the auditorium of Randall Library on the UNCW campus.

Presented by the Institute for Academy Technology, Durham, a nonprofit partnership between UNC Chapel Hill and IBM Corporation, the video conference is sponsored by UNCW's Center for Teaching Excellence and the Division for Public Service and Extended Education. Admission is free. For more information, call ext. 3193.

Special Olympics

The Special Olympics will be held April 17, on the campus of UNCW. There will be an interest meeting for those wanting to volunteer at 5 p.m., March 26, in Cameron Hall Auditorium. Call ext. 3925 or Email to KEC7144 with questions.

Janson to Present Lecture

At noon, March 29, in the University Center Ballroom, Dr. Tony F. Janson will present a slide-lecture titled "Pascha Christi: The Story of Easter in Art." It will focus on the images of Easter and spring as expressed through the centuries by the world's finest artists. Lunch will also be served. The cost of the lecture/luncheon is $20. Proceeds will go to benefit the UNCW Loyalty Fund and the Fine Arts Department. Please RSVP by March 25 by calling ext. 7183.

Attention All Advisors

The UNCW Dance Team needs an advisor for the 1996-97 school year. We are looking for someone who can attend our practices at least once a week, can help with getting us sponsored, will attend games, will work with us in getting performances within the community and has a high-spirited attitude that will support us through the year (no dancing skills required). If interested, please contact Susan Cook at 350-4928, or Sarah Hall at 452-1836.

Featured guest artist will be trombonist Ken Foberg performing Sammy Nestico's "Reflective Mood." Admission is $5 for the general public, half price for UNCW faculty and staff and free for UNCW students with a valid ID. For further information call ext. 3390.

The Campus Communique Office will be moving to Alderman Hall, Room 108, on March 26. Due to this move, there will be an early deadline of noon, Monday, March 25, for the March 28 issue.

Women of Achievement

As a reminder, the deadline for nominations for the YWCA's Women of Achievement is March 25. April 26 is the deadline for Certificates of Recognition. Nomination forms are available in Human Resources.

Thanks for Participating

The student organization PRIDE (People Recognizing Individual Differences Exist), the Department of Human Resources, the Chancellor's Human Relations Advisory Committee and the Hundley Wellness Promotion Center wish to thank all staff, faculty and students who participated in and supported Maura Cullen's presentations "Toto, We're Not in Kansas Anymore" held March 18.

All of Cullen's presentations were very successful, thanks to your involvement. If you have comments or suggestions about her programs, please share them with Diane Edwards at ext. 3577 or Email EDWARDS.D.

Shay to Present Lecture

Thomas Shay, from the marine sciences curriculum at UNC-Chapel Hill, will present a seminar titled "The Gulf Stream at 68°W." It is a joint physics/biology department seminar. It will be held at 2 p.m., March 22, in Friday Hall, Room 151.

Learning from the Third World

Dr. James Midgley, associate vice chancellor for research and economic development at Louisiana State University, will present "The Development Perspective in Social Policy: What Can We Learn from the Third World" at 4 p.m., March 27, in the Social and Behavioral Sciences Building, Room 202. Midgley will be available to speak to classes and/or interested faculty. For more information, call ext. 3594.

Richard Dillaman and James Merritt, CMSR, received funding from the Medical Foundation of North Carolina, Inc. for their project "Analysis of Norepinephrine — Induced Hypertension Research Data."

Thomas Schmid, philosophy and religion, presented two talks/slide presentations on "Art and Life in Ancient Athens" to the Cape Fear Academy middle school. Schmid is currently teaching a six-week course on Genesis at St. Paul's Episcopal Church.

PJ Lapaire, foreign languages and literatures, had his book review published in Romance Quarterly winter 1996 of David Bradby's Modern French Drama 1940-1990 (Cambridge University Press).

Tom Macie, fine arts, presented "Computer Imaging for Scene Design Models" at the Southeastern Theatre Conference in Louisville, Ky. He demonstrated a technique of sharing information between software products to create CAD-accurate models for stage settings.

Debra Burdick, a second-year graduate student in English, has just been notified that her bibliographic study of three novels by Louise Erdrich has been accepted for publication in the American Indian Culture and Research Journal.

Rob Nathanson, fine arts, supervised the performance of the UNCW Guitar Ensemble on March 13, at Bradley Creek School. The school sponsored an arts festival which included more than 20 different performances throughout the two-day festival. The ensemble, composed of UNCW guitar majors, gave four performances for different classes. The ensemble included students Bryce Masterson, Joe Barrett, Earle Griffith, Pat Mundell and Nathanson. Their participation is one of the many ways the fine arts faculty and students represent UNCW in the community.

Lee (Andy) Jackson, psychology, was named a Hampden-Sydney Fellow by his alma mater Hampden-Sydney College. This is the second year this recognition has been given to three alumni who have made outstanding contributions to the academic community. Jackson was recognized in the area of social sciences.

In a recent monograph prepared for the National Middle School Association, the Watson School of Education was cited as being on the forefront of middle level teacher education. In Meeting the Standards: Improving Middle Level Teacher Education, the UNCW program was cited for articulating and applying a sound philosophy of middle level education and for certification preparation in two different content fields to foster teaching in a more integrated fashion. The program descriptions contained in the monograph were prepared by Ann Lockledge, curricular studies. The authors pointed out that just as there are different ways of creating an effective middle school, so too are there different ways to create a middle school teacher education program. All of the programs cited were pioneers in preparing teachers to work with young adolescents in a developmentally appropriate educational environment.

Staff Development

- Presentation Skills, 2-5 p.m., March 26
 - Men's Health Issues, 9 a.m.-noon, April 1
 - Speaking with May, 9-10:30 a.m., April 4 and 12
 - Business Writing, 2-5 p.m., April 8
- Please refer to the Staff Training and Development Booklet for registration information or call ext. 3712 for more information.

Outgoing Shipment Reminder

Warehouse Services needs adequate time to process outgoing shipments. Therefore, all outgoing shipments must be received by Central Receiving prior to 3 p.m. the day shipment is requested. If pickup is required, Warehouse Services must be notified no later than 2 p.m. the day shipment is requested.

Student Time Sheet Deadline

The student time sheet deadline for April payment is 3 p.m., March 27. Time sheets must be in the Payroll Office (new location: white house between Hoggard Hall and the University Center) by the specified time. Please note: The student time sheet deadline will also be posted in Bulletin on the VAX for seven days prior to the payroll deadline.

Purchasing Month

Let us in Purchasing recognize all of you that work with us so well. We constantly strive to better our services, to make them more effective for you. Thank you for your help, and yes, sometimes your patience. The Governor proclaimed the theme for Purchasing Month 1996 - "Purchasing - It's More Than Just Buying." That theme suggests the complexity of procurement tasks but also the teamwork that's required for it to be a success. You add to that successful teamwork, and we'd like to thank you!

People Needed to Help with Testing

Responsible, professional people are needed to help with the National Testing Program. If interested, please call Dianne Matthews at ext. 3065 for an interview.

Telephone Directory Update

Please make the following changes to your University Telephone Directory: Dianne Matthews, ext. 3065; and Testing Information, ext. 7130.

Classes Canceled for Memorial Day

Chancellor Leutze has announced that classes will no longer be scheduled on the Memorial Day federal holiday during Summer Session I. After careful consideration and deliberation by the Chancellor's Calendar Committee, it was decided that it was not in the best interest of the employees to close the university.

Administrative Procedures Update

The Administrative Functional Index for the Administrative Policies and Procedures Manual has been updated and is now accessible on-line to university departments. This index provides a listing of various administrative functions provided by university departments, along with the employee responsible for each function and the telephone number where additional assistance can be obtained. The Administrative Policies and Procedures Manual can be accessed by typing INFO at the username prompt on VXA, VXB or VXC on the VAX; through SBNALLEX; through FRS and SIS menus and on Netscape via the UNCW Gopher Service.

Welcome

Please welcome the following new employees; Emily Bliss/Financial Aid; Roberta Simmonds/Project Design and Management; Andrew Swenson/University Police.

UNC Board of Governors Approves New Degree

The UNC Board of Governors gave final approval for UNCW to offer the Master of Fine Arts in Creative Writing, beginning fall semester 1996. This approval paves the way for UNCW to offer only the second MFA degree in the UNC system and the only one of three in the entire state. UNC Greensboro offers the MFA as part of a residency program; Warren Wilson College offers an MFA in a non-residency summer program.

"This is of major significance for UNCW," said Chancellor James R. Leutze. "With the film studio here, the beach and a tradition of strong writing, Wilmington has become a magnet for writers of all kinds. In anticipation of the MFA in Creative Writing, UNCW has brought together strong faculty of outstanding published writers who also excel as teachers.

"I'm pleased that the Board of Governors has authorized us to begin offering this program, one for which there has been a strong demand. We are all very excited about what this means for our students as well as for all people who love to write and who love to read."

The MFA is the terminal, or highest, degree for the creative writing discipline, comparable to the doctoral degree in other disciplines. Currently, UNCW offers a joint Ph.D. program in marine sciences with NC State University. While other disciplines require a Ph.D. to teach in a college or university, a MFA prepares recipients to teach in higher education on a tenure track.

UNCW Provost Marvin K. Moss pointed out the strength of the writing faculty, who have published 21 books of fiction, poetry and creative nonfiction along with numerous individual poems, short stories, essays and scripts. Two have also been singled out for teaching awards, receiving the Chancellor's Excellence in Teaching Medal and the Trustees' Teaching Excellence Award.

"The English Department, like the university, is committed to excellence in teaching, and our writers all practice what they teach and bring the authority of the working professional into the classroom," Moss said. "We have built a strong undergraduate professional and creative writing track in the English major, currently enrolling 100 students in this program.

Campus Bookstore Hosts Faculty Book Signing

The UNCW Bookstore will host a faculty book signing from 10 a.m. to noon, April 3, in the Bookstore. Philip Gerard of the English Department will sign his latest work, Creative Non-fiction: Researching and Crafting Stories of Real Life. Also available will be his previous works Desert Kill and Cape Fear Rising. John Fleming of the English Department will sign his latest novel, The Legend of the Barefoot Mailman. Books purchased during signings will receive a 20 percent discount. Visit your campus bookstore in recognition of our UNCW faculty authors.

Bennett Featured in Leadership for the 21st Century Lecture Series

Dr. William Bennett, U.S. Secretary of Education in the Reagan White House, will be featured as part of UNCW's "Leadership for the 21st Century" lecture series. The speech will be held at 4 p.m., April 9, in Kenan Auditorium.

Bennett's speech is titled "Leadership for the 21st Century: Envisioning a Virtuous World," in which he will discuss his view of the United States and the world if "virtues" were made prominent in everyday life.

In addition to his position as education secretary, Bennett served under President Reagan as chairman of the National Endowment for the Humanities and 'czar' of the Office of National Drug Control Policy. More recently, he has written The Book of Virtues, which has sold more than two million copies.

Faculty, staff and students may pick up tickets while they last at the University Union Information Center where there is a two-per-person limit. General public seating is very limited. Contact the Leadership Center at ext. 3877 for more information.

Stories of a Lifetime

The UNCW Communication Club's 1996 Communication Studies Festival, "Stories of a Lifetime," will be held April 11 and 12. Watch next week's Communique for details.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Gerasimov Gives Lecture

UNCW is sponsoring a free lecture, "Is Russia Turning Red Again?" at 8 p.m., April 9, in Morton Hall's Bryan Auditorium. Featured speaker will be Gennadi Gerasimov, a visiting professor at UNCW, who joined the USSR diplomatic service when perestroika began and served as spokesman for the Ministry of Foreign Affairs and President Mikhail Gorbachev. His presentation is sponsored by UNCW's Departments of History and Political Science.

Seahawks Complete Certification Document

A final draft of UNCW's self-study document to be presented to the NCAA for athletic certification is available to the public for one week at the Randall Library reserve desk and also in the Athletic Office. The extensive draft covers the university's response to four sections required by the NCAA: commitment to equity, fiscal integrity, governance and commitment to rules compliance, and academic integrity. University officials have spent the last eight months evaluating the necessary areas and making plans for improvements where needed. The Seahawks will be graded on accuracy, broad-based participation and conformity to the NCAA's operating principles. In addition, a minority opportunity plan and a gender equity plan will be provided with the report.

An open hearing designed to solicit responses on the final draft will be held from 5 to 6 p.m., March 29, in the Golden Hawk Room and is open to the general public.

Spring Faculty Meeting

The Spring Faculty Meeting will be held at 4 p.m., April 18, in Cameron Auditorium, Room 105. All members of the faculty are encouraged to attend.

Scholarship Awards

The deadline for SEANC scholarship applications is APRIL 1. For an application, call ext. 4137.

Summary of UNCW on the Move

The Payroll Office is now located in the "white house" between Hoggard Hall and the University Center. The telephone extension remains 3163.

The Orientation Office has moved to the University Union, Room 202. The phone number will remain the same, ext. 3089.

Dick Mullendore and Lori Barrett, Division for Student Affairs, are still located in Alderman Hall; however, the telephone number is ext. 7250.

Vice Chancellor Michelle R. Howard-Vital of the Division for Public Service and Extended Education has moved to Alderman Hall, Room 202. Joining her are Margaret Bailey, Anne Beach and Annette Anderson. Telephone numbers for Michelle Howard-Vital, Anne Beach and Annette Anderson remain the same. Margaret Bailey's new number is ext. 4138. The office fax number is 350-7249.

University Advancement's Development Office has moved to the Carriage House at the Wise Alumni House. New telephone numbers for development staff are as follows: Michelle Conger, 251-3160; Elaine Penn, 251-3156; Val Lane, 251-3158; Jennifer Cleveland, 251-3161; and Jean Willard, 251-3159.

University Relations has moved to Alderman Hall, Room 108. Telephone numbers for Mimi Cunningham, Sharon San Diego, Gina Roundtree, Marybeth Bianchi, Geri Vital and Vickie Yearby remain the same. The Campus Communique office has also moved to Alderman Hall, Room 108.

Advancement Services has moved to Alderman Hall, Room 104. Telephone numbers for Vicki Dull, Barbara Woodbury, Pat Knauss, Patsy Larrick and Margaret Herring remain the same.

As of April 1, the Center for Teaching Excellence will be located in Hoggard Hall, Room 226. All center resources, including the faculty workstation, will now reside in Hoggard Hall, Room 226. The telephone number for the center, ext. 3034, will remain the same.

Faculty Senate Meeting

Faculty Senate will meet at 2:30 p.m., April 9, in DeLoach Hall, Room 114. The Steering Committee is scheduled to meet in the Faculty Common Room in Morton Hall on April 2.

Easter Egg Hunt

The UNCW Volunteer! Program is sponsoring an Easter Egg Extravaganza to be held from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m., March 30 at the Gazebo. The event will host between 75 and 100 underprivileged children from around the Wilmington community. For more information, call ext. 3925.

Award for Faculty Scholarship; Deadline Tomorrow

The UNCW Award for Faculty Scholarship's deadline for nominations is March 29. All letters of nomination are limited to one page and must indicate how the nominee satisfies the criteria for consideration. Nominations must be received in the Chancellor's Office tomorrow.

Healing Works Exhibit

Take Back the Night

UNCW's annual "Take Back the Night" march and rally will take place at 7:15 p.m., April 2, at the Gazebo. Following the opening rally, participants will march to the University Union where they are invited to view our "Clothesline Project" and browse information tables sponsored by campus and area groups. A reception will close this year's event and will be held in the area adjacent to the "Healing Works" exhibit, so participants are also encouraged to view this display. For more information, call ext. 4137.

SPECIAL INTEREST HOUSING

The Office of Housing and Residence Life offers several unique living options for UNCW students. Each of these options allow students to self select a lifestyle that best suits their needs and interests. Applications for these programs are open to both new and returning students.

The International House

The International House is completing its third year of existence. Started as a 40 person experiment in 1993, the program has grown to 60 members in its third year. Future plans call for the program to expand to 100 students in the fall of 1998 as a new facility is completed that is designed specifically for this unique population. The International House program is a unique blend of American and international students who live together in an environment that supports cross-cultural exploration. This program features monthly international dinners, presentations by students on their home culture, and optional trips to Florida and Washington, D.C.

Smoke Free Housing

Belk Hall has been offered to resident students as a smoke free environment for the past two years. Students choosing this environment sign a special contract agreeing to abide by the special tenants of the smoke free building. The environment is self-governing and student response to this living option has been positive. Belk Hall returns approximately 40% of its population from one year to the next.

NEW BUILDINGS TO OPEN IN FALL 1998

Two new residence halls will open in the fall of 1998. One of these will host the International House and the other will be home to the Honor's House. Each building will have a classroom, seminar room, music practice room, study lounge and general purpose lounge for social interaction. The buildings will be the cornerstones of a new housing quadrangle that will be built on the north side of Wagoner Hall. Future construction on this site will allow for up to five total buildings. The buildings will have a classic Georgian architecture and feature a two-story entry with monumental stairs. Student rooms will be clustered in groups of 24 around a common living room and bathroom.

Honor's House

Study Quiet

A special study/quiet area has been set aside in Schwartz Hall for students who are interested in residing in a quieter environment. Students choose this option for a variety of reasons, however, the common bond they all possess is a desire to live in an environment that is supportive of their academic goals. Students residing in these areas define many of the guidelines for their daily lives. They are also responsible for the enforcement of these guidelines as a part of their involvement with this program.

Honors Housing

The second and third floors of Schwartz Hall are reserved for the honors students and North Carolina Teaching Fellows. Members of these two academic programs receive priority assignment into this building. An Honors Mentor has been hired in addition to the normal RA staff to assist students in their adjustment to academic life at UNCW. A recent addition to this program was the creation of a private computer lab exclusively for honors students. This program, in its second year, is so popular that it was necessary to close off assignments to Schwartz during returning student sign-up so that there was room for incoming honors students for Fall 1996. With the completion of construction on a new Honors House in the fall of 1998, this program will be able to expand to 100 residents.

“WE’RE HERE TO HELP..”

The Student Development Center (SDC) provides confidential individual and group counseling for personal, social, and educational concerns. Special assistance is offered with learning strategies, study skills, and exam-taking skills. Workshops are regularly scheduled on these topics as well as personal growth, communication skills, and stress management. As part of the university substance abuse education and prevention program, the center also provides substance abuse assessment, referral, and treatment for students.

Most of you know the SDC as our counseling center; of course we do short term counseling. Please read on to find out what else we do.

- The Student Development Center has seen an average of 817 different students for the last three years.
- Sixty-six percent of the SDC clients said the help received was relevant to maintaining academic performance

Student Development Center

Outreach

The staff provides programs on topics related to mental health, academic performance, coping with college, substance abuse and other issues relevant to student life. Formats used include lunch presentations, classroom visits and evening workshops.

- 130+ workshops a year (2258 people attended)
- 30 workshops were classroom visits
- 36 presentations to different student groups

SDC Groups

Although individual counseling sessions are limited to about 10 sessions per academic year, UNCW students can get unlimited counseling sessions in group settings. We offer a wide array of group work for a variety of issues. In group counseling, students can learn that they are not alone in grappling with problems, that they can practice safe interactions, and that shared processing can lead to swift changes.

- 9 different groups offered, including Substance Abuse Awareness Group, Co-Dependency Introductory Group, Co-Dependency Continuing Group, Eating Disorders Group, Sexual Abuse Survivors Group, Lesbian Support Group, DSS Support Group, Stress Management, Self-Esteem Support Group, African American Women’s Empowerment, and LD/DSS Question Group.

- We’ve offered a Sexual Survivors group for 3 years (no other agency or counselor has been so consistent)
- Most common group usage is for substance abuse issues

Testing

The Student Development Center offers a variety of tests for the Educational Testing Service. This National Testing Program includes the GMAT, GRE, PRAXIS, LSAT, APICS, MBTI, NBCC, MAT, CLEP, and several others.

The Center administered 4251 examinations last year working 30 of 52 weekends.

Tests	Number
Administered
MAT	129
CLEP	68
National Testing Program	4054

Crisis Intervention

We understand that everything doesn’t fit into a neat 8-5 scheduled appointment. We save an hour a day to work with emergencies (generally at 3 p.m.), but will respond as needed at any time.

- 139 clients had emergency appointments (8% of our caseload)
- We hospitalize 5-6 students a year

Disabled Student Services (DSS)

DSS serves as a source of information and advocacy between the student and university departments while encouraging self-advocacy. Since each student has a unique set of special needs, DSS works with the student, academic advising, administration, and faculty to find ways to enable the student to master the content of his or her courses.

This spring, Dr. Phillip Sharp has been offering workshops for faculty about the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) and Section 504 requirements to help faculty understand current laws and practices. It is important for all faculty and staff to be knowledgeable of the rights and responsibilities of students with disabilities as well as institutional obligations for accommodation.

- 122 students registered (75 were learning disabled)
- An average of 21 DSS students graduate each year

Accreditation

The Student Development Center is accredited by the International Association of Counseling Services.

Faculty Guide to Working With Disabled Students

This short course addressing the legal obligations of faculty to disabled students and strategies for serving the students will be from 1 to 2:30 p.m., April 10, in King Hall, Room 101. Preregistration not required. For more information, call ext. 3746.

Stonehenge and Hubble Telescope Topic of Lectures

Laurence W. Fredrick, Hamilton Professor of Astronomy, University of Virginia, will be visiting UNCW March 28 to 29 under the auspices of the Harlow Shapley Visiting Lectureships in Astronomy.

At 8 p.m., March 28, in Morton Hall's Bryan Auditorium, he will present "Ancient Monuments and the Game of Checkers."

At 2 p.m., March 29, in DeLoach Hall, Room 218, he will present "VV Cephei as Seen by Hubble Space Telescope: A Supernova Waiting to Happen."

Water Scarcity in Post-Soviet Central Asia Topic of Lecture

Dr. Robert Argenbright, UNCW geography professor, will present a lecture titled "Out of the Frying Pan: Water Scarcity in Post-Soviet Central Asia" at 8 p.m., April 2, in Morton Hall's Bryan Auditorium. As part of the Department of History's Public Program series, this lecture is open to the public and admission is free.

Third Annual University Fund Challenge

Please help UNCW support excellence in higher education with a gift to the UNCW University Fund. All departments with 100-percent participation by April 15, 1996, will receive a Seahawk lapel pin and a free car wash on April 26 (rain date: April 29) courtesy of University Advancement.

Please send your check to University Advancement or call ext. 3924 if you would like to payroll deduct.

Improved Access to Medical Information

Randall Library has added Medline to its CD-ROM collection. This National Library of Medicine database indexes periodical articles from more than 3,200 biomedical journals. Randall Library's four CDs cover publications issued from 1993 to date. A complete list of bibliographic databases on CD-ROM available at Randall Library is presented as a library information screen on the library system (ROCK). Point your web browser to <http://uncclc.coast.uncwil.edu/> or telnet to the system through your VAX account or terminal server at telnet rock. Choose "information about the library" from the main menu, the "UNCW CD-ROM Databases." Please call the ext. 3760 for more information.

Heritage Ball

The UNCW Chapter of NAACP is sponsoring a Heritage Ball from 7 to 9 p.m., March 29, at the University Center Ballroom. Tickets can be picked up at the University Union Information Desk. Student admission is free; everyone else $8 single, $12 couple. Semi-formal/formal: no sneakers or jeans, please. Other sponsors include Black Student Union, Asian Students Association, International Student Organization of Latin American Students. For more information, call ext. 3841.

Biology Seminar

Esther Leise, University of North Carolina at Greensboro, will present "Relationship of a Larval Ganglion to Metamorphosis in a Marine Snail" at 2 p.m., March 29, in Friday Hall, Room 151. All are invited.

Printing Service

April and May are slow times at Printing Services; therefore, this is an excellent time to work on your difficult and time-consuming printing projects. Also, any project usually produced in August or September that could be moved to April or May would help ease the tremendous volume of work required at the beginning of a semester. If budget constraints are an issue, we can plan, design, typeset and prepare camera-ready originals to be printed after July 1 with no billing to your department until the new fiscal year. Remember, when the publication is printed on campus, free design assistance is provided by a graphic designer/artist. Full color copies up to 11x17 are now available at the Print Shop. The Canon color copier is linked to a Macintosh Power PC allowing color copies to be made from both flat originals and computer disks. The copier will also make color transparencies.

Women of Achievement

The 12th Annual YWCA Cape Fear Women of Achievement Awards Dinner will be held at 6 p.m., May 16, in Wagoner Hall. The deadline for nominations for the YWCA's Women of Achievement has been extended to noon, April 1. Nomination forms for Women of Achievement can be mailed or delivered to YWCA. Certificates of Recognition must be returned to Kimberly Best-Tuten, Human Resources, by April 26. Nomination forms are available in Human Resources.

QUALITY FACULTY ... QUALITY STAFF

Terry Theodore, fine arts, has written an in-depth profile on Chancellor James R. Leutze for the March/April issue of Wilmington Magazine now available on newsstands.

Martin Posey, Lawrence Cahoon and David Lindquist, biological sciences, received funding for the project "Interactive Effects of Nutrient Enhancement and Predation on Estuarine Community Trophic Structure."

Professor Emeritus Will S. DeLoach, chemistry, had an article, "Women in the Ranks" published in the February issue of the Journal of Chemical Education. DeLoach was chairman of the Chemistry Department from 1962-76.

Bill McCarthy, history, presented a paper at the University of Hawaii's annual symposium on Maritime Archaeology and History of Hawaii and the Pacific. It was titled "The Fiesta de las Senas: Misrule Aboard the Manila Galleon."

Andrew F. Clark, history, attended a symposium on "Comparative Imperialism: New Directions" held at Oxford University, England. He also co-presented a paper, "'A Shot in the Arm': French Imperialism in Algeria and Senegal during the Interwar Period (1919-39)." The paper will be published in an edited volume of the seminar proceedings to be published by Oxford University Press next year.

Jack Baker, accountancy, and Randy Hanson, business law, had two articles accepted for publication. An article titled "Recent Developments Result in a Brighter Future for Accountants" will appear in a future issue of The National Public Accountant. An article titled "The Holding Out Issue and How It Affects Internal Auditors" will appear in a future issue of The Internal Auditor.

FLEX Your Postage

Now you can purchase postage, envelopes and fax services with your UNSea Card (UNCW Flex account) at the Post Office window.

IDI Purchases — Bookstore

When using an interdepartmental invoice (IDI) to purchase items from the Bookstore, please remember to leave the amount column blank. We have a new printer that prints your receipt information directly onto the IDI. This information must be printed in the amount column; other information makes it hard to read. If you are required to show the price of a purchase before obtaining an authorizing signature, please write it in the description column.

1996 Azalea Festival Parking Update

The afternoon and evening of April 11 promise to be challenging for individuals driving to campus. In addition to classes regularly scheduled for that time, the Port City Roosters open their 1996 season at 7:05 p.m. and the Azalea Festival has scheduled two Beach Boys' concerts at 7:30 and 9:30 p.m.

UNCW University Police have announced that there will be no on-campus parking for the first Beach Boys' show. Faculty and students coming to class on Thursday after 5 p.m. should use the Crews Drive entrance near the water tower. Roosters fans should come in the south side at Hurst and Hamilton. Watch next week's Communique for full instructions.

Lot Closes in Preparation for Bill Bennett

Lot C, adjacent to Kenan Auditorium, will be closed the entire day of April 9. Alternate parking can be found in Lots S and T, in front of Wagoner Hall or Lot K, at Trask Coliseum.

Dr. William Bennett, U.S. Secretary of Education in the Reagan White House, will be featured as part of UNCW's "Leadership for the 21st Century" lecture series. His speech, at 4 p.m., April 9, in Kenan Auditorium, is titled "Leadership for the 21st Century: Envisioning a Virtuous World." He will discuss his view of the United States and the world if "virtues" were made prominent in everyday life.

In addition to his position as education secretary, Bennett served under President Reagan as chairman of the National Endowment for the Humanities and as "czar" of the Office of National Drug Control Policy. More recently, he has written The Book of Virtues, which has sold more than two million copies.

Faculty, staff and students may pick up tickets while they last at the University Union Information Center where there is a two-per-person limit. General public seating is very limited. Contact the Leadership Center at ext. 3877 for more information.

Nursing School Recommended for Accreditation for Eight More Years

Following an intensive week-long site visit by two representatives of the National League of Nursing (NLN), the team recommended that accreditation of the UNCW School of Nursing be continued with a revisit in eight years. This is the highest recommendation a school can receive.

Provost and Vice Chancellor for Academic Affairs Marvin K. Moss congratulated Dean Virginia Adams and the UNCW nursing faculty for the excellent review.

"The team repeatedly said that they were impressed with the quality of the scholarship our UNCW nursing students display; they cited glowing reports from a variety of health care agencies in the area that provide sites for clinical training as well as employ our graduates; and they commended our faculty for their excellence in teaching, research and professional development," he said.

"This reaffirms the high quality of our nursing program and indicates that UNCW is providing excellent nurses for our community, state and nation," said Moss.

Accreditation is significant because it is required for a nurse to be admitted to an NLN-accredited graduate program in nursing, to be admitted to a school of anesthesia or to enter the military as an officer.

Communication Club Hosts "Stories of a Lifetime"

The UNCW Communication Club's 1996 Communication Studies Festival, "Stories of a Lifetime," will be held April 11 and 12. Thursday's speakers include Chris Jesse, CEO of Tangram Enterprise Solutions. He will discuss communication techniques in the business environment at 9:45 a.m., in the University Union, Room 100.

Staff producer from the ABC news program 20/20, Dean Irwin will discuss the art of producing and how storytelling plays a major role. He will speak at 11 a.m. also in Room 100, about the process of setting up a story before shooting begins. Keynote speaker Susan Klein, a nationally renowned storyteller, will perform and speak at 2 p.m., in Room 100.

A graduate studies panel will be held at 9 a.m., April 12, in the University Center Ballroom. Five communication studies professors will discuss life after graduate school. A broadcasters' forum will follow the panel discussion. Wayne Jackson, retired morning anchor for WECT-TV, will host the forum at 10:15 a.m. All events are open to the campus community.

Roundtree Says Goodbye

Communique editor Gina Roundtree has left UNCW to pursue a career opportunity at New Hanover Regional Medical Center. "I have truly enjoyed working with everyone at UNCW," said Roundtree.

AZALEA FESTIVAL PARKING ALERT

FOR PARKING PHONE HOTLINE DIAL 910/350-7001

Due to heavy use of UNCW facilities during Azalea Festival week, especially the evening of April 11, Campus Communiqué is providing this traffic and parking plan. Please pay particular attention to Thursday, April 11, when two Beach Boys concerts will take place on campus at the same time evening classes fill UNCW's parking lots.

Faculty, staff, and students coming to campus after 6 p.m. on Thursday, April 11, should come in at the Crews Drive entrance at the water tower. Please note that parking lots A, K, E, and C will be closed. Lot S and lot T are good alternates to use that evening. Identify yourselves to University Police and follow their instructions to get to class.

Students will not be permitted to drive from the residence hall area to the front of campus on Riegel Road, but will be diverted toward the water tower at Price Drive. University Police advise faculty, staff, and students to avoid the front of campus on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday evenings.

On Tuesday evening, April 9, parking lot A will be closed to provide reserved parking for the Connells and Widespread Panic concert.

For the first Beach Boys concert, three free satellite parking lots have been reserved for the 7:30 p.m. Beach Boys concert Thursday, April 11. They are at Marketplace Mall, K-Mart on College Road, and the northwest corner of College Road and Oleander, site of the Old Harris Teeter. Free shuttle buses begin running at 6:15 p.m. Concert-goers are encouraged to be in the parking lot by 6 to assure a timely arrival for the concert.

Parking assistance at the satellite lots will be provided by Explorer Scouts affiliated with the New Hanover Sheriff's Department, Wilmington City Police, and Carolina Beach Police. Numerous buses will be on hand from the Wilmington Transit Authority and New Hanover, Brunswick, and Pender county schools.

On-campus parking will be allowed for the 9:30 Beach Boys concert. Follow parking instructions from the Wilmington police and UNCW University Police for best results. It is recommended that concert-goers be on campus and parked by 8:45 p.m. for the second show. Sponsors and patrons with parking passes and those with handicapped stickers should enter campus from the south at Hurst Drive.

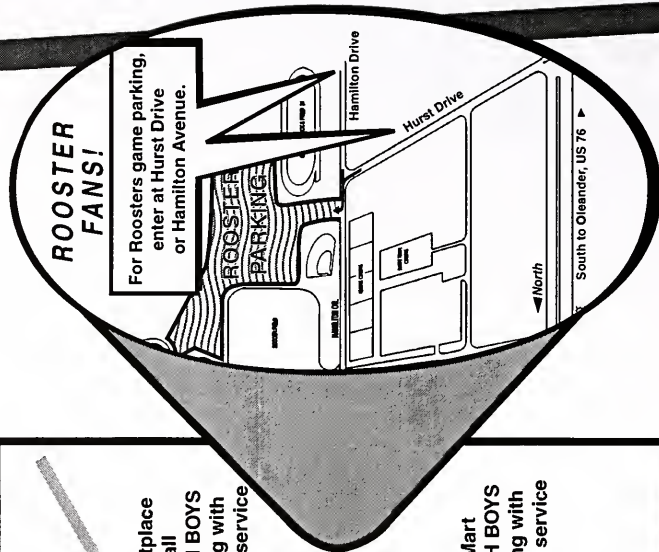

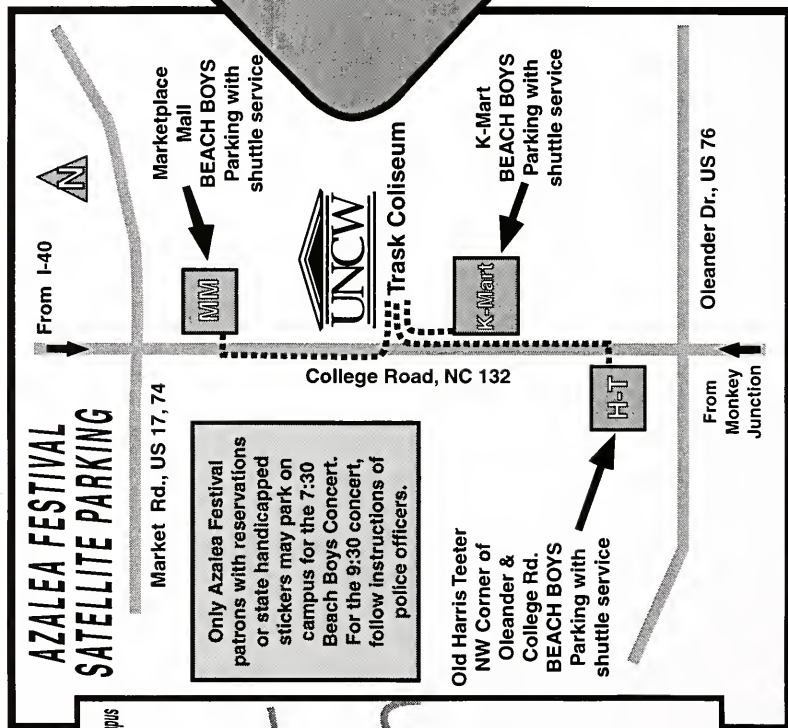

The Port City Roosters begin their season at 7:05 p.m., Thursday, April 11. Fans planning to attend the game should enter campus using Hurst or Hamilton Drive. They will be directed to the paid Roosters parking lot by University Police. Parking is $1.50.

Parking will be available on campus for the Tuesday, April 9 concert by Widespread Panic and the Connells at 7:30 p.m., and for the Saturday, April 13 Julio Iglesias concert at 8 p.m. Both are at Trask Coliseum. Attendees should follow parking instructions by Wilmington and UNCW University Police.

For additional information, call the Major Bob Riley at the University Police office at 395-3185.

Azalea Festival parking on-campus at UNCW? You'll need to plan ahead....

Students, faculty and staff coming to campus after 6 pm on Thursday, April 11th, should enter at Crews Drive near the water tower.

Welcome

Please welcome the following new employee: Alexis Green/University Police.

Prefix Change for Campus Telephones

Due to continued growth, UNCW is running out of telephone numbers. Effective May 13, 1996, BellSouth has issued the new prefix 962, which will replace all existing 395 and 350 prefixes. You will retain your existing extension or last four digits.

From May 13, 1996, through July 1, 1996, anyone dialing 395-XXXX or 350-XXXX will be switched to the new 962-XXXX number. After July 1, 1996, customers calling the university on a 395 or 350 number will be told that the new number is 962-XXXX. This recorded message will remain active until January 1, 1997.

We encourage you to keep this information in mind as you order new stationery, business cards, etc. We also ask that you notify constituencies on your mailing lists of our new telephone exchange as you prepare your next mailing. Questions about the new exchange can be addressed to the campus operators. Thank you for your understanding as we make this transition.

Scholarly Publishing Conference

Academics, researchers, librarians and other would-be writers and authors take note: the College of Charleston will host the second annual Academy for Scholarly Publishing Conference April 21 to 23. The three-day conference will be held at the Lightsey Conference Center on Calhoun Street.

The conference will feature publishers, editors, journalists and seasoned published faculty who will provide insight and practical information on how to reach your professional goals in academic publishing. Nationally syndicated columnist, author and Charleston resident James J. Kilpatrick will be the keynote speaker on Sunday. His topic will be "The Art of Writing." The conference registration fee is $99! The one-day rate is $50 and the half-day rate is $30.

There will be an opportunity for participants to have journal articles, book proposals and completed books reviewed for an additional $35. Proposal and manuscript material must be received by April 5. For more information and/or a conference brochure, please call the Lightsey Conference Center at (803) 953-5822; or Email conference director Katina Strauch at strauchk@cofc.edu.

Alumni Association Auction Makes Fantasies Come True

Take yourself back to that backyard dirt pile where you played as a child. Now, as you sit in your windowless office behind your desk, you dream of climbing aboard one of those "big boy toys" and reliving the thrill of playing in the dirt.

In the imagination, everyone trips through fantasyland where living out the wishful whims of life becomes a reality in the visionary world of the "mind." Now imagine your fairy godmother appears, waves her magic wand and wham! Your fantasy becomes a reality. You may not have a fairy godmother, but UNCW has the next best thing--the Fantasy Auction, sponsored by the UNCW Alumni Association, will be held from 6:30 p.m. to midnight, April 20, in the University Center. The auction will feature 19 fantasy packages and more than 100 silent auction items. A buffet dinner will be served, and participants can dance to the live music of RISSE. Tickets are $75, and reserved tables for eight are $750.

The auction committee has captured thrilling fantasy packages that answer dreams from the sunbelt to the snowbelt, for active on-the-go individuals to stay-at-home couch potatoes, including a ski trip to Colorado, which consists of round-trip airline tickets, lodging, meals, ski clothes, ski equipment, lift tickets and a sleigh ride. Other fantasies include a complete home entertainment center with a giant wide-screen TV, VCR, videos, popcorn, and a five-disc CD player. For more information call 251-2682.

UNCW Expects Heavy Traffic This Evening

The afternoon and evening of April 11 promise to be challenging for individuals driving to campus. In addition to classes regularly scheduled for that time, the Port City Roosters open their 1996 season at 7:05 p.m., and the Azalea Festival has scheduled two Beach Boys concerts at 7:30 and 9:30 p.m.

UNCW University Police have announced that there will be no on campus parking for the first Beach Boys show. Faculty and students coming to class on Thursday after 5 p.m. should use the Crews Drive entrance near the water tower. Please note that parking lots A, K, E and C will be closed. Lot S and lot T are good alternates to use that evening. Roosters fans should come in the south side at Hurst and Hamilton drives.

University Police advise faculty, staff and students to avoid the front of campus on Thursday and Saturday evenings.

Martha's Vineyard Storytelling Festival Founder Speaks at UNCW Program

Susan Klein, a nationally celebrated storyteller and spinner of yarns, will be the keynote speaker and performer at UNCW's Communication Studies Festival "Stories of a Lifetime." She will speak today at 2 p.m., in the University Union, Room 100.

Klein's keynote address and her performance will be tailored to UNCW, its students and the cultural flavor of the southeastern region to provide a personalized experience for the audience.

Her book, Through a Ruby Window, is an autobiographical account of growing up on Martha's Vineyard in the 50's before it became a fashionable hot-spot.

Klein has been featured at more than 40 storytelling festivals, including the National Storytelling Festival. She has been a guest host and performer for Minnesota Public Radio's Good Evening show and appears on television and radio programs around the country.

The event will be followed by a meet-the-speakers reception.

Outgoing Shipment Reminder

Warehouse Services needs adequate time to process outgoing shipments. Therefore, all outgoing shipments must be received by Central Receiving prior to 3 p.m. the day shipment is requested. If pick up is required, Warehouse Services must be notified no later than 2 p.m. the day shipment is requested.

Prefix Change for Telephones

UNCW is growing and is running out of available telephone numbers so the university has received a new telephone prefix from BellSouth. Effective May 13, the new prefix will be 962, which will replace all existing 395 and 350 prefixes. You will retain your existing extension or last four digits.

From May 13, through July 1, anyone dialing 395-XXXX or 350-XXXX will automatically be switched to the new 962-XXXX number. After July 1, 1996, customers calling the university on a 395 or 350 number will be told that the new number is 962-XXXX. This recorded message will remain active until January 1, 1997.

Welcome

Please welcome the following new employees: William Kawczynski/ Science & Math Education Center and Linda Register/Housing & Residence Life.

VALIC Representative on Campus

A VALIC (Variable Annuity Life Insurance Company) representative will be on campus from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., April 22-23, to review your VALIC accounts or answer questions about starting a supplemental retirement plan with VALIC. All permanent (half-time or greater) employees may participate in 403 (b) plans. To make an appointment, call ext. 3006.

Deadline for Course Development Support Applications

The deadline for submitting course development support applications to the Center for Teaching Excellence is April 15. Six $2,500 stipend awards will be given to faculty for summer support in course development and improvement. The awards are designed to recognize and support innovation in teaching at all levels. For application forms call ext. 3034 or Email your request to "CTE."

UNCW's Aquarius Is Focus of Scientific Expedition

Aquarius, the world's most advanced undersea research laboratory based in the National Marine Sanctuary off Key Largo, Fla., will be a primary focus of JASON Project VII, an international scientific expedition taking place from April 15-26 in the Florida Keys. Some 800,000 middle school students from Liverpool, England, to Southeast Washington D.C., to San Francisco will take part in the 55 hours of live interactive video focusing on a science curriculum "Adapting to a Changing Sea."

Aquarius is owned by the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration and operated by UNCW's National Undersea Research Center. Aquarius gives scientists the opportunity to live and work on the ocean floor among deep coral reefs, at about 60 feet, for up to 10 days. Students have been studying the complex aquatic systems of the Florida Everglades and the Keys for months. By traveling to one of 27 Primary Interactive Network Sites, students may join the live expedition to view live satellite-transmitted broadcast where they even have a chance to drive the robotic research equipment. They can also see what's going on as images and audio are video-streamed to them via the Internet. Students can also participate in a live underwater chat session.

The sites are: Aquarius Underwater Web (April 15-26) <http://aquarius.eds.com>; EDS JASON Web: <http://www.eds.com/jason>; JASON Project Web: <http://seawifs.gsfc.nasa.gov/JASON.html>; to download support software: <http://www.edswest.com/jason>.

Cape Fear River Program Receives Funding

The Cape Fear River has long been used for public water supply, industry, transportation, recreation and aesthetic enjoyment. The Cape Fear River Program, through research and education efforts, will attempt to understand methods of preserving and protecting the river while accommodating the anticipated growth of the region.

To help continue the effort, which has been placed within the Center for Marine Science Research at UNCW, the Cannon Foundation, Inc., has funded a grant for $25,000 for the period from July 1, 1996, through June 30, 1997. The grant will be used to address the ecological and economic issues that surround the river basin's importance as a valuable natural resource to southeast North Carolina.

Resident Authors to Read at UNCW

Three distinguished authors on the English Department faculty will read from their works at 7 p.m., tonight, in King Auditorium, King Hall. Poets Kathleen Halme and Michael White will be featured, along with novelist John Fleming. The reading is sponsored by the Graduate English Association, a funded organization of SGA. The reading is free and open to the public. Books by the authors will be on sale at the reading.

Kathleen Halme's book, Every Substance Clothed, won the 1995 Balcones Poetry Prize for "the best book of poetry in English" published that year. Michael White's full-length collection, The Island, was selected by Poet Laureate Mark Strand for publication by Copper Canyon Press in 1992. John Fleming's satiric and comic first novel, The Legend of the Barefoot Mailman, recently published, won high praise from the New York Times Book Review and has been compared to such works as Death of a Salesman and Huckleberry Finn.

Fantasy Auction Tickets Available

It's not too late to reserve your paddle for the Fantasy Auction, sponsored by the UNCW Alumni Association. The auction will be from 6:30 p.m. to midnight, April 20, in the University Center. Nineteen fantasy packages and 100 silent auction items will be featured. A buffet dinner will be served and participants can dance to the live music of RISSE. Tickets are $75, and reserved tables for eight are $750. Call 251-2682 to purchase tickets.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Spring WANCHE Conference

Pembroke State University is the host site for the spring WANCHE Conference. The conference will be held June 6-7. The program title is "Looking in a Mirror or Through a Window: Perspectives on Leadership." Discussion leaders include: Mary Johnson of Meredith College and Diana Oblinger of IBM Corporation. Through the sharing and discussion of personal experiences, participants will examine questions concerning how women lead, how they learn to lead and who their role models are. They will also discuss the commonalities and differences of leading different kinds of institutions. The conference fee is $70 (which includes meals and materials). For additional information, please contact Diane Billings in Student Affairs, ext. 3117.

Environmental Lectures

Peter Wells, senior advisor for the Marine Environmental Quality Conservation and Protection Environment in Canada, will present two lectures on April 18 and 19, in DeLoach Hall, Room 114. His visit is sponsored by dean of the College of Arts and Sciences as part of the College Speaker Fund Series. The titles of the talks are: "Health of Our Oceans -- Issues, Actions and Challenges," at 7 p.m., April 18, and "Marine Microscale Toxicology - New Tools for Studying Coastal Sediments," at 2 p.m., April 19.

Space Available for Summer Study Abroad

There are still spaces available for students wishing to study this summer in Alcal de Henares. Courses to be offered include upper-level Spanish and history taught in English. The deadline for applications is May 1. The program will run from July 1 to 31. Anyone interested should contact International Programs, ext. 3685; Lori Spicher in Foreign Language, ext. 3956 or William McCarthy in history, ext. 3313.

Spring Faculty Meeting

The Spring Faculty Meeting will be held at 4 p.m. today in Cameron Auditorium, Room 105.

Students Receive Awards

Three physics majors received 1996 Summer Junior Fellowship Awards in undergraduate physics research. Russell Ballard and Alexander R. Phillips III will attend the program at Florida State University and Ted Cook will attend the program at North Carolina State University. Approximately 10 physics majors were chosen from applicants around the country. The programs will enable these students to gain experience on current research projects, learn firsthand about the operation of university-based major research programs and participate in seminars for 10 weeks during the summer.

Foreign Language Departmental Lecture

John Gabriele, guest speaker of the foreign language department, will present "Women as Authors and Subjects in the Theatre of Democratic Spain," at 7:30 p.m., April 22, in Cameron Hall Auditorium.

Student Affairs Awards

The following individuals were recognized for outstanding service to Student Affairs. Helen Rice received the public service award for professional support staff, Marian Bennett received the outstanding new professional award, Cheryl Hicks received the devotion to duty award. Nancy Fauser also received an award. Professional Staff awards went to Chris Kaberline for Public Service, Shay Davis for Human Relations, Kara Kreutner for Innovation. The Outstanding New Professional award went to Leah Payne and the Devotion to Duty award recipient was Justin Lawhead. Award of Excellence Nominees were Cheryl Hicks and Leah Payne. Student Affairs would also like to thank Jane Scott, financial aid, and Kathleen Benzaquin, NC Teaching Fellows, for judging the nominations.

Omicron Delta Kappa Arrives at UNCW!

The Omicron Delta Kappa Society, Inc. is a national leadership honor society and most recent addition to the Leadership Center's student organizations. ODK was founded in 1914 at Washington and Lee University in Lexington, Va. Members of ODK are chosen based on GPA, leadership qualities and campus involvement.

The members of Omicron Delta Kappa include: Patricia Anne Callison, Anthony Davis, Gina Maria Dellacqua, Scott H. Ensign, Shelia Annette Gresham, Dallas Matthew Grabow, Holly Elizabeth Hunt, Heddy Kovach, Jennifer Jo Kraemer, Jonathan Trent Leonard, Michael Wade Lionberger, Chartrece Marks, Lara McCulloch, Rebecca Ashley Rahall, Ryan Risley, Melinda Denise Rupard, Karen Smith, George Christopher Tilghman and Nita Smith Tilley.

University Theatre Presents "La Mantis Religiosa"

"La Mantis Religiosa," a horrifying comedy by Alejandro Sieveking, will be performed at 8 p.m., April 17-20, and at 3 p.m., April 21, in the S.R.O. Theatre in Kenan Hall. DIVISION OF STUDENT AFFAIRS NEWSLETTER • APRIL, 1996

WHATS HAPPENING IN ORIENTATION

Phonefest '95

In October, orientation staff and student life studies conducted an orientation follow-up phone survey of new freshmen. The purpose of this survey was to reconnect with freshmen students during the first six weeks of the semester and to communicate with them regarding our continued availability for assistance as needed. We also gathered information about their activities, adjustment, and integration to the academic and co-curricular life of UNCW.

Adjustment to UNCW: 14.1% of freshmen surveyed reported having some difficulties with classes. Most general comments dealt with the academic climate being more difficult and more time consuming than they had anticipated.

Faculty interaction: There was a strong correlation between students who had socialized with faculty and students who had discussed academic assignments with a professor. There were also frequent responses regarding the caring nature of university staff and faculty.

Orientation Leaders Selected

During the fall term, 23 undergraduate orientation leaders were selected to help freshmen and transfers with their transition to UNCW. Selection was based on a minimum 2.00 cumulative GPA and leadership and communication skills. Students participated in an interactive group and individual interview process before being selected for the summer orientation staff. Staff from Student Academic Support Programs assisted in the selection as the orientation leaders work closely with the advising process.

The team consists of 7 freshmen, 5 sophomores, 9 juniors, and 2 seniors. While a minimum GPA of 2.000 is required, the fall 1995 orientation leader grade point average was approximately 2.9. They are a diverse group of students who will serve as role models and guides to new students this summer and fall.

The orientation leaders are trained throughout the spring semester and summer prior to orientation. They enhance their knowledge of the university as well as their public speaking skills, leadership styles, and counseling skills.

Summer Orientation Dates

May 15	Reservation deadline for Freshmen
May 16	Summer I Transfer students
May 31	Reservation deadline for Transfers
June 9-10	Freshman session 1
June 12-13	Freshman session 2
June 16-17	Freshman session 3
June 18	Transfer session
August 15	Adult learner and Unclassified student orientation
August 18-19	Freshman session 4
August 20	Transfer session

On-Campus Resource Guide Published

For the first time this year, the Orientation Office published an internal guide for university staff who frequently respond to new student concerns. The guide, "UNCW for New Students: A Reference Guide for the Rest of Us," was designed to provide answers to commonly asked questions so that all staff could help new students instead of automatically transferring them to the appropriate department. If you would like a copy of this brochure, please contact the Orientation Office, 3089.

New Freshman Resource Guide

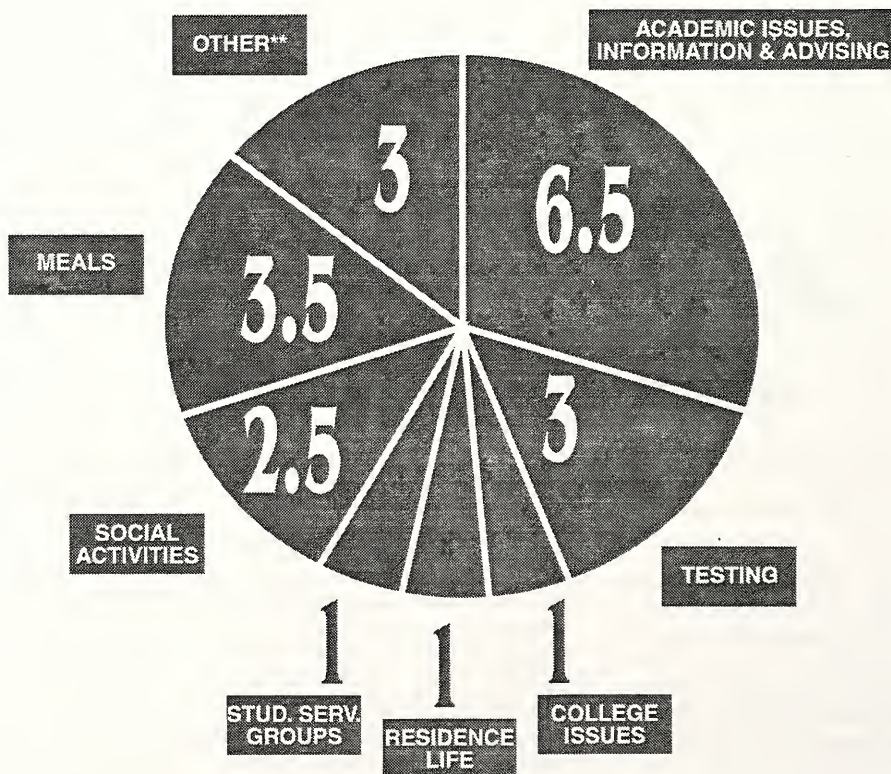

A year ago, new freshmen received a consolidated guidebook about the University including academic information, registration information, and student services information in a question and answer format. The guidebook replaced previous years' folders with brochures so that new students would have concise information in one location. Our goal is to have a publication that will complement the Catalogue and guide freshmen through their first year at UNCW.

Family Programming

In addition to responsibilities for incoming students, the Orientation Office also works with year-round family programming as one of its new responsibilities. Family Weekend is sponsored by the Seahawk Parent's Association and coordinated through the Orientation Office. Family Weekend is September 20-22 and many wonderful programs are being planned.

Time spent during orientation...

The following chart provides an overview of time spent (in hours) during a two-day orientation program.

 (check in/out, welcome, surveys, special population meetings)

Earth Sciences Lecture Series

The Department of Earth Sciences is hosting a series of speakers investigating various areas of geophysics. The next seminar titled "Dating the Last Reversal: Reconciling Isotopic, Magnetic and Astronomical Time Scales" will be delivered by Lisa Tauxe, Scripps Institution of Oceanography, at 1 p.m., April 19, in Friday Hall, Room 150. Daniel Lizarralde, Massachusetts Institute of Technology/Woods Hole Oceanographic Institution, will speak on "Crustal Structure of the US East Coast Rifted Margin," at 1 p.m., April 22, in Friday Hall, Room 150. Nancy Grindlay, University of Puerto Rico, will speak at 1 p.m., April 25, in Friday Hall, Room 252 on "Preliminary Results of a High-Resolution Bathymetric and Geophysical Investigation of an Ultra-Slow Spreading Center: Southwest Indian Ridge between 15E and 35E." All are invited.

World Population Issue Addressed in Lecture

Award-winning author and world renowned demographer S. Chandrasekhar will speak about "World Population Problems with Special Reference to China and India" at 6:30 p.m., April 22, in Cameron Hall Auditorium. Chandrasekhar was the Indian minister for health and family planning under Indira Gandhi. He received the Margaret Sanger Gold Medal from President Richard M. Nixon for promoting birth control. The lecture is sponsored by the Office of International Programs, the Asian-American Faculty and the Department of Earth Sciences geophysics program.

University Women Host Spring Social

The University Women of UNCW will hold their spring social at 7 p.m., April 23, in the in the University Union Glassroom. Robert Warren, superintendent of landscaping at UNCW, will guest speak. Refreshments will be served. For more information call ext. 3099.

McLaurin Honored by Board of Governors

History professor Melton McLaurin was one of 16 outstanding educators recognized on April 12 in Chapel Hill by the UNC Board of Governors. The Board of Governors recognized its best teachers throughout the 16 campuses it governs at the second annual Awards for Excellence in Teaching. McLaurin and other faculty members received a bronze medallion and a $7,500 cash prize. Always willing to advise colleagues or to direct students' independent studies, he developed numerous workshops and seminars for public school history teachers.

Take Our Daughters to Work Day

For the fourth year, companies, parents and daughters all over America will be experiencing "Take Our Daughters to Work Day" on April 25. This special day is designed to help girls ages nine to 15 positively shape expectations about the wide range of career choices available to them. The local sponsors of the program, the YWCA, Girls Incorporated and the Girl Scouts, have urged parents and businesses to participate in this program. Parents can invite their daughters, granddaughters, relatives or friends' daughters to the workplace. For more information or to pick up a registration form, drop by Human Resources or call ext. 3712.

Oozeball Tournament

The UNCW Ambassadors will present the third annual Oozeball tournament on April 20. The coed mud volleyball tournament will start at 11:30 a.m. with a free concert by The Seymores. Faculty, staff and students are invited to come out and watch or play. Teams are made up of six to eight people with at least two members being the opposite sex. The entry fee is $5 per person. Applications are due today and can be picked up or turned in to Alderman 108.

Struggles, Spirituality and Success of Native Americans

Ben Chavis, professor at Pembroke State University, will speak about "Struggles, Spirituality and Success of Native Americans" at 8 p.m., April 23, in Center Stage Cafe. There will also be mini-lectures and a demonstration by Native-American drummers and dancers.

At the Hawk

Faculty/staff buffet:

April 19: marinated grilled chicken, eggplant parmesan, wild rice with mushrooms, steamed broccoli with lemon butter, buttered baby carrots, Greek salad, pasta salad, assorted beverages and desserts.

April 23: fresh fruit salad, chicken and tuna salads, tortellini salad with pesto sauce, assorted breads, condiments, vegetable salads, beverages and desserts.

Thank You

Grace J. Corbett wishes to extend her heartfelt love for your prayers, flowers and other acts of kindness during the recent passing of her husband Joseph C. Corbett.

Chancellor to Discuss Coastal Documentary

Chancellor James R. Leutze will take an in-depth look at "Treasure Coast," a documentary produced by UNCW to air on public television that discusses the North Carolina Coast and its residents.

His Friday, April 26, presentation is the second seminar in this semester's Adult Scholars Enrichment Series. It includes a 6 p.m. dinner and 7 p.m. program. The fee is $20 for dinner and the program, and $12 for the program only. The registration deadline is April 19. The Adult Scholars series is sponsored by UNCW's Division for Public Service and Extended Education.

To register or for more information, please call ext. 3195.

QUALITY STAFF

William Cleary, earth sciences and CMSR's coastal studies unit, recently received funding for a project titled "A Shoreface/Innershelf Sand Resource and Hardbottom Assessment." The study is being funded by the US Army Corps of Engineers. He also presented a seminar for North Carolina's Coastal Resource Commissioners and Advisory Board at their March meeting held at Wrightsville Beach. The seminar focused on inlets and pending management issues.

Governor James B. Hunt honored Robert E. Tyndall, Dean of the Watson School of Education, for his significant contributions to education in North Carolina. Tyndall was inducted into the Order of the Long Leaf Pine. He was nominated for the 1996 Innovations in American Government Awards Program of the Ford Foundation and the John F. Kennedy School of Government at Harvard University for their project "HOME GROWN." The project is designed to increase the pool of minority male applicants available to teach in the secondary schools of southeastern North Carolina.

Eleanor B. Wright, curricular studies, received the Alumni Excellence Award from Greensboro College for 1996.

Paul Wilkes, English, had his article "A Catholic Education: Church Taught Ideal of Service," published on the Op-Ed page of the March 31 Wilmington Star-News.

L. Drew Rosen, production and decision sciences, was the invited speaker for the Kenan-Flagler Business School, UNC Chapel Hill, research seminar series in Operations Management/Quantitative. The topic of his seminar was "The Role of Quality Function Deployment in Deriving Service Operations Strategies."

Chris Gould and Brooks Dodson, English, were in Brunswick, NJ, scoring essays written as part of the Graduate Management Admissions Test (GMAT). The essays (some 44,000 of them) were written by students and others in both hemispheres and were evaluated by university teachers who gathered in Brunswick from all over the United States.

Sue McCaffray, history, had her book, The Politics of Industrialization in Tsarist Russia, published by Northern Illinois.

The Friends of UNCW have awarded a gift of $1000 to Hidalissa Hernandez, physics, to be used to improve the quality of introductory physics labs.

Staff Development

VALIC Representative on Campus

David Haden, a VALIC (Variable Annuity Life Insurance Company) representative, will be on campus from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., April 22-23. All permanent (half-time or greater) employees may participate in 403 (b) plans. To make an appointment, call ext. 3006.

Student Time Sheet Deadline

Student timesheets are due in the Payroll Office (between Hoggard Hall and the University Center) by 3 p.m., April 29. If students will not be in Wilmington on May 15 to pick up their checks, they may come into the Payroll Office to fill out a form to have their checks mailed home. Please note: the student timesheet deadline will also be posted in Bulletin on the Vax for seven days prior to the payroll deadline.

Fall Convocation

Mark your calendars on Aug. 21 for Fall Convocation which begins at 4 p.m.

Chancellor's Student Hours

The Chancellor will hold student hours from 8:30 to 9:30 a.m., April 25.

Management Association Teleconference

Managers and support staff are invited to attend the American Management Association's ninth annual luncheon and teleconference titled "Briefing for Secretaries and Administrative Assistants" from noon to 3 p.m., April 24, in the University Center Ballroom. The event is open to the public and is sponsored by Human Resources, Professional Secretaries International and Cape Fear Community College. Lunch is $8 per person. The teleconference is free. Please call ext. 3712 to register.

Summer Hours

Summer hours for the university will begin on May 13 and end on August 9. Official university hours for this period will be 7:30 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday through Thursday and 7:30 a.m. through 11:30 a.m. on Friday. This schedule allows a half-hour lunch break. With supervisory approval, employees may take an hour lunch break and lengthen the workday by thirty minutes.

Department heads may establish alternate hours to meet operational needs. Alternate schedules should ensure that wage/hour subject employees do not exceed 40 hours in the work week. Alternate schedules must be submitted to Human Resources. During summer hours casual dress is appropriate.

Welcome

Please welcome the following new employee: Andy Johnson/Landscaping Services.

Unclaimed Student ID Cards

The Auxiliary Services office request that any department with unclaimed student ID cards please return them to Auxiliary Services as soon as possible. This prevents students paying to replace lost cards that are not sent to Auxiliary Services promptly when found.

Annual Fulbright Conference May 2-3 at UNCW

The annual Fulbright Conference will be held May 2-3. The two-day event offers an opportunity for the more than 500 Fulbright Fellows of the North Carolina Chapter to gather and discuss pertinent issues.

This year's conference will feature an environmental forum titled "Development and Coastal Ecology - U.S. East Coast" at 8 p.m., May 2, in Kenan Auditorium. The event is open to public, staff and students. The forum will include presentations from Professor Jarle-Ove Stromberg, professor at the Swedish Royal Academy; Eric Howard, member of the Fulbright board and chairman of the Fulbright task force on environment, science and society and William Cleary, professor of earth sciences at UNCW.

The conference will include a discussion about "Coastal Issues: Science and Society" on May 3. Participants will also take a trip to Fort Fisher, participate in a discussion on "Coastal Issues: Science and Society" and attend sessions that explore other coastal issues like erosion and pollution, and marine mammal stranding.

The Fulbright exchange program was established in 1946 under Congressional legislation introduced by former Sen. J. William Fulbright to "increase mutual understanding between the people of the U.S. and the people of other countries." Each year the program awards approximately 4,700 grants to American students, teachers and scholars to study, teach and conduct research around the world and to foreign nations to engage in similar activities in the U.S.

Robert Y. George, professor of biological sciences at UNCW, began the North Carolina Fulbright Chapter to encourage young faculty members throughout the state to apply for these prestigious grants. George is a three-time Fulbright Fellow who received awards to conduct research and lectures in India and at the University of Moscow.

UNCW Brings Message to Brunswick County

UNCW will be working on April 30 to extend its reach into the Brunswick County community with the fifth "UNCW Days" outreach program.

The purpose of the trip to Brunswick County is to promote the value of higher education and to inform citizens about how UNCW adds value to the lives of people in their county. The 20 participants' outreach efforts include a visit to West Brunswick High School, contacts with civic and governmental leaders, meetings with UNCW alumni and visits to area businesses, industries and health agencies.

UNCW has close ties with Brunswick Community College and now recognizes those college graduates who have at least a B average and who have completed college track courses as having fulfilled all of UNCW's basic studies requirements. These individuals are admitted to UNCW as juniors.

Seiple Named Dean of College of Arts and Sciences

Chancellor James R. Leutze announced that he has selected Jo Ann Seiple as the new dean of the College of Arts and Sciences, subject to the approval of the UNCW Board of Trustees and the UNC Board of Governors. Pending approval, Seiple will assume her duties July 1.

Mullendore Named Vice Chancellor for Student Life at Ole Miss

Richard H. Mullendore, associate vice chancellor for student affairs, has been named vice chancellor for student life at the University of Mississippi. His appointment will be effective June 24.

In his new position, Mullendore will have jurisdiction over the V.B. Harrison Health Center, student development, student media, Ole Miss Union, student housing, financial aid, admissions, student programming board, recreational services, learning and career centers, international programs, university police department and dean of students.

In making the announcement, Ole Miss Chancellor Robert Khayat said, "Richard Mullendore has a wealth of expertise and experience as an administrator, making him personally well-suited for this vice chancellorship."

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Rotary Ambassadorial Scholarships Available

Applicants for 1997-98 Rotary Foundation Ambassadorial Scholarships to be awarded worldwide are now available from local Rotary Clubs. The scholarships, which are designed to further international understanding and goodwill, provide for study abroad in one of the 150 countries and 35 geographical regions where Rotary Clubs are located. Academic-year Ambassadorial Scholarships are for one academic year abroad and provide up to $22,000 or its equivalent for round-trip transportation, tuition and fees, room, board, necessary educational supplies, contingency expenses and one month of intensive language training, if assigned by the Rotary Foundation.

During their studies abroad, Rotary Foundation Ambassadorial Scholars act as ambassadors of goodwill. Through appearances before Rotary Clubs and districts, schools, civic organizations and other forums, the scholars represent their homelands and improve international understanding. For an application, please contact the president of your local Rotary Club. Deadline for applications is June 1.

Women of Achievement

The 12th Annual YWCA Cape Fear Women of Achievement Awards Dinner will be held at 6 p.m., May 16, in Wagoner Hall. Certificates of Recognition must be returned to Kimberly Best-Tuten, Human Resources, by April 26. Nomination forms are available in Human Resources.

N.C. World Trade Association Conference

Representatives from international firms along with North Carolinians interested in foreign trade will be in Wilmington May 8-10 at the 31st annual conference of the state's World Trade Association. More than 300 attendees will exchange views and learn the latest on exporting, importing and international trade policies during the conference devoted to the theme "From the Outside Looking In." For more information about the conference contact Kris Howell at 910-350-7204.

Randall Library Extended Hours

Randall Library will extend its hours during exams, April 25-May 1. The schedule is as follows: April 25, 7:30 a.m. to 2 a.m.; April 26, 7:30 a.m. to 11 p.m.; April 27, 10 a.m. to 9 p.m.; April 28, 1 p.m. to 2 a.m. and April 29-May 1, 7:30 a.m. to 2 a.m.

Family Weekend Dates

The Seahawk Parent's Association has announced Family Weekend will be held the weekend of September 20-22. This does not coincide with Riverfest as it has in the past because of the timing of fall break. We hope to have wonderful participation from families and the university community. Please mark your calendars and plan to attend. If you would like to have an activity, reception or program included in the schedule of events, please contact Karla Carney ext. 3089 or Linda Moore ext. 3285. We look forward to seeing you at Family Weekend!

Artist's Work Exhibited

Turkish artist Tomur Atagok has devoted her career to studying the work of women artists. Her work has focused on finding common imagery in women artists' work because of their femininity or attitude on social issues and the differences resulting from two divergent cultures - Islamic and Christian. There will be an exhibit of her work and a potluck gathering from 6 to 9 p.m., April 27, at Acme Art. Atagok presented a slide show at UNCW last week.

Thank You

A sincere thank you to friends and co-workers for your many acts of kindness during my recent illness. You have all been as thoughtful as you could possibly be. It is hard to find the exact words to express how much I appreciate everything you have done. Thanks,

Evelyn Evans

Ideas Needed for Leadership Lecture Series, and Arts in Action

Recommendations are needed for speakers for the 96-97 lecture series, "Leadership for the 21st Century." The series is a balance between well-known, popular speakers and "up and coming" speakers on the leading edge of their fields who can encourage critical thinking and discussion about important issues of the next century.

Several sub-themes being considered are "caring about social/environmental issues" or "politics" (since it is an election year). Speakers under consideration are Robert Coles, Mairead Corrigan Maguire, Marian Wright Edleman, William Friday, William Raspberry, Deepak Chopra, Kwesi Mfume, Steven Covey, Mario Cumo and Robert Kennedy Jr. Please send feedback and suggestions to Cathy Birmingham at ext. 3827 or e-mail birmingham.

Ideas are also needed for the 1996-97 Arts in Action series of cultural programs that features local and touring performing artists. If you have recommendations for performers and programs, call the Campus Activities Office or e-mail Cathy Birmingham.

UNCW Choir to Tour Europe

Forty-one people, including 35 students, will leave May 13 to tour southern Germany as part of the UNCW Concert Choir. The group, led by Joe Hickman, will spend 15 days traveling across Europe visiting and performing in more than 10 cities. This is the sixth group Hickman has taken to Europe. The choir will hold a bon voyage performance at 4 p.m., May 12, at St. John's Episcopal Church where they will perform their touring program.

The following areas are scheduled to be tested: Academic Support, Alderman Hall, Bear Hall, Botany Lab, Botany Trailer, Cameron Hall, Central Stores Warehouse, DeLoach Hall, Field House, Fine Arts Center, Friday Hall, Hinton James, Hoggard Hall Computer Center, Kenan Auditorium, King Hall, Masonboro Property, Morton Hall, Nixon Annex, Physical Plant Crafts, Randall Library, Randall Library Computer Room, Safety Trailer, Social and Behavioral Sciences Building and Trask Coliseum.

Year-end Supply Requests

We are quickly approaching the 1995-96 fiscal year end on June 30. Since that day is Sunday, receiving and invoicing for state-appropriated purchases are due by Friday, June 28, in purchasing. All furniture, printing and equipment should be requisitioned by now to assure delivery by June 28. We will continue to process orders as you request, but please be aware of the risk. If delivery is not made by June 28, the expense will be carried over to the next fiscal year's budget. Purchasing is working diligently to meet all your year-end needs. Your efforts to submit requisitions for supplies by May 24 will be appreciated. Call us if you have questions.

Fall Student Worker Update

If your department has student workers who will not be returning in the fall, please e-mail carrf. Please send a notice even if the student has graduated or has had a special assignment end. This is the only way records can be updated. Career Services appreciates your cooperation

Summer Hours for Computer Operations

In observance of the summer work schedule, computer operations will close at 2 p.m. Fridays. ADS, FRS and HRS will be shutdown for batch processing at 1 p.m. Fridays. SIS will remain online until 10 p.m. as normal. Contact Ray Humphries at ext. 3799 regarding exceptions to this schedule.

OCIS Changes Name

The Office of Computing and Information Systems (OCIS) is reorganizing and changing its name. OCIS is now the Office of Information Technology, which more accurately reflects its mission and the services provided to the university community. Departments within OIT are Microcomputer Support (MS), Network and Systems Support (NSS) and Management Information Support (MIS).

Microcomputer Support will be responsible for the hardware and software support, data recovery and general access computer labs.

Network and Systems Support will be responsible for the support of the campus network backbone, LAN management, VAX cluster support and optical scanning.

Management Information Support will be responsible for Web management, SIS, FRS, HRS and ADS systems and administrative project support. OIT is in the midst of reorganizing these support functions and will be making the transition over the summer.

Travel for Non-state Employees

Travel for non-state employees does not require travel authorization. When reimbursing non-state employees for travel, please use the employee travel reimbursement form available on SNBALLEXP on the forms menu.

Reimbursement Reminder

Please indicate on check requests and travel reimbursements whether you want the check returned through campus mail or if it will be picked up at the Cashier's Office.

Welcome

Please welcome the following new employee: Sandra Harris/VCPS.

Travel Reminder

Pre-paid travel related items (such as registration fees, etc.) are mailed from accounting the same day as paid. To determine when these items have been paid, view your departmental account using screen 23.

Shared Leave Donations

Shared leave donations are needed for Doris Moore, post office and Mike Shaw, landscape services to help them both avoid leave without pay after surgery. Please send your vacation leave form to Human Resources to donate leave.

Prefix Change for Campus Telephones

Effective May 13, 1996, BellSouth has issued a new prefix 962, which will replace all existing 395 and 350 prefixes. You will retain your existing extension or last four digits.

JASON VII Brings Marine Science to Life for Millions

Via satellite, the Internet and national and international media coverage, millions of people learned about UNCW's Aquarius, the world's only undersea research laboratory, and watched around the clock as scientists made discoveries about how climate change impacts coral growth. Managed by UNCW and owned by NOAA, Aquarius is situated about 60 feet underwater off Key Largo, Fla.

From April 15-26, Aquarius was one of three sites invited to take part in the JASON Project VII live interactive field trip designed to excite middle school children about science and technology. JASON was organized by Dr. Bob Ballard following his discovery of the Titanic after he received thousands of letters from children who wanted to go along with him on his next expedition.

Setting up and keeping Aquarius operating in a safe manner required nearly a four-week commitment by UNCW staff from Florida and Wrightsville Beach as well as volunteers. Much of their work involved being on duty 24 hours a day once the two scientists, graduate student, two photographers and UNCW technician Glenn Taylor were saturated. A photographic team and full production studio operated on the Mobile Support Base, transmitting video signals via microwave uplink to a transmitter tower on shore that transmitted the JASON VII program nationwide and to several foreign countries.

The staff's hard work paid off—more than 2 million hits were recorded on the Aquarius web site (the world's first underwater web site), which was active 24 hours a day using a server located underwater inside Aquarius.

More than 25 national and international media outlets covered the activities surrounding JASON on-site, including National Geographic Explorer, BBC television, Nick News, Good Morning America, Globo Television of Brazil, Boys' Life and VIEWS on-line magazine.

Special thanks to these UNCW employees for their efforts to make the JASON Project safe and successful: Dan J. Aspenleiter, Christopher A. Borne, James F. Buckley, Frank Chapman, Gerald E. Comepeau, Craig B. Cooper, David A. Dinsmore, Kea L. Foreman, Lance W. Horn, Kenneth D. Johns, Douglas E. Kesling, Steven Miller, Otto C. Rutten, Andrew N. Shepard, Henry J. Styron III, Glenn H. Taylor, Bob Wicklund and UNCW graduate student Sharon Kissling.

School of Nursing Reception Correction

The reception for the School of Nursing will be held 30 minutes after the conclusion of commencement exercises in the Hoggard Hall lobby. A nursing celebration will be held at 7 p.m., May 10, in Kenan Auditorium.

Gov. Hunt Recommends $100 Million for Universities

Gov. Jim Hunt proposed a university budget package that would boost salaries for teaching faculty by seven percent, put more equipment in classrooms and provide much-needed resources for university graduate students.

The salary increase for teaching faculty includes a five percent cost of living increase, a one percent bonus and a one percent permanent increase from the Academic Enhancement Fund. Other university employees would receive a six percent pay raise, including a four percent cost of living increase and a two percent bonus, consistent with the state employee Comprehensive Pay Plan—for a total increase of $70 million.

Graduate assistants would be offered free health insurance and an increased tuition remission to in-state tuition rates for some 196 additional graduate assistants.

The plan also allows for bolstering of the Academic Enhancement Fund with a $16 million investment that would allow universities to purchase more equipment for teaching research and to increase salaries for teaching faculty. Hunt's $100 million university package also includes $1.5 million for the Distinguished Professors Endowment Trust Fund and $3.6 million for a reduction in overhead receipts from 10 to five percent, freeing additional funds for universities to invest in research contracts and grants.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Women of Achievement

The 12th annual YWCA Cape Fear Women of Achievement awards dinner will be held at 6 p.m., May 16, in Wagoner Hall. Tickets can be purchased at the YWCA.

UNCW Basketball Camps

Space is still available in the UNCW boys basketball day camp, ages 8 to rising senior, July 22-26. Space is also available in the boys and girls shooting and physical development half-day camp, ages 10 to rising senior, June 17-21. For more information call ext. 3045. Staff and faculty discounts are available.

Service Awards Luncheon

The 1996 Service Awards Luncheon will be held from noon to 2 p.m., June 6, in Wagoner Hall. Seventy-three SPA employees will be recognized. The keynote speaker will be Glen Ward from Columbia, S.C., humorist and inspirational speaker. Mistress of ceremonies will be Carole Tallant, communication studies. If you have any questions, please call Kimberly Best-Tuten at ext. 3712.

Spring WANCHE Conference

Pembroke State University is the host site for the spring WANCHE conference, June 6-7. The program title is "In a Mirror, Through a Window: Perspectives on Leadership." Discussion leaders include: Mary Johnson, Meredith College; Suzan Cheek, Methodist College and Diane Oblinger, IBM Corporation. Through the sharing and discussion of personal experiences, participants will examine questions concerning how women lead, how they learn to lead and who their role models are. They will also discuss the commonalities and differences of leading different kinds of institutions. The conference fee of $70 (includes meals and materials) is due by May 29. For additional information, please contact Diane Billings in Student Affairs, ext. 3117.

UNCW Seahawk Club Golf Challenge

The second annual UNCW Seahawk Club Scholarship Golf Challenge will begin at 9 a.m., June 10, at Porters Neck Plantation and Country Club. Proceeds will benefit the UNCW student-athletic scholarship fund. Applications and entry fees are due by May 31 in the Seahawk Club Office. Individual entry fee is $110; Team entry fee is $440 and a corporate rate of $540 includes hole sponsorship. Participants will receive green fee, cart, deluxe player gift bags, continental breakfast and a cookout after play.

Any hole-in-one automatically qualifies for the million dollar hole-in-one bonanza at the Jimmy V. Classic live on ESPN and prizes. For more information contact the Seahawk Club Office at ext. 3571.

UNCW Staff Visit Area Schools on Technology Tours

Two representatives from UNCW's distance learning program are showing Southeast elementary and middle school students how technology can be used in education. Hunter Thompson, project director, and Woody Sutton, program coordinator, in UNCW's distance learning program in the Division for Public Service and Extended Education, are centering their information technology tours presentation around the Internet and World Wide Web.

Thompson and Sutton show students how information is passed from one computer to the other – even if they are not the same type – and explore the 'hypertext' world of the Web. Their itinerary includes Bear Grass Middle School in Williamston, Dixon Elementary School in Holly Ridge, Helen Higgins Montesorri School in Wilmington, Roland-Grise Middle School in Wilmington, Snipes Middle School in Wilmington and Clyde Irwin Elementary School in Jacksonville.

Proposals for Research

All proposals for research involving human subjects should be sent to Julian Keith, psychology, for review during June. During July and August, send proposals to Candace Gauthier, philosophy and religion.

Calendar Update

Summer I session begins May 20 with registration and finals June 20. Summer II begins June 24 with registration and finals July 26.

UNCW Nurses and SGA Donate $852 to Coastal Carolina Food Bank

At its April 22 meeting, SGA voted to donate $400 to the Coastal Carolina Food Bank from the philanthropy fund. The SGA contribution was in response to a request for matching funds from the Association of Nursing Students which raised $452 to donate to the food bank.

Tri-Athletic Swim Clinic

A tri-athletic swim clinic will be offered May 24-26 at UNCW. Emphasis will be placed on proper stroke mechanics for the front crawl stroke. Classroom and video-analysis of world-class athletes as well as personal videotaping of each participant will be included. Cost is $150. For further information contact Dave Allen at ext. 3237. To register call ext. 3233.

Campus Recreation Summer Schedule

The Office of Campus Recreation announces its summer schedule, May 13-Aug. 9. The fitness center will be open from 11:30 a.m. to 2 p.m. and 5 to 7 p.m., Mon.-Thurs., and 11 a.m. to 1 p.m., Fri. Aerobics will be offered noon to 1 p.m., Mon.-Thurs., and 5:15 to 6:15 p.m., Tues. and Thurs. Recreational swim hours will be noon to 2 p.m., Mon.-Thurs., and noon to 1 p.m., Fri.

Healthy Mothers Healthy Babies

The Healthy Mothers Healthy Babies coalition is offering an eight-week free parenting class for anyone who has a child three years old or younger. The classes will begin on May 14 and run through July 2 on Tuesday nights from 5:30 to 7:30 p.m. at the Family Resource Center at Eleventh and Orange Streets. For more information or to register call Jennifer Campbell at 762-1746.

Future of Student Affairs

The Division of Student Affairs will host Dr. C. Art Sandeen, vice president for student affairs at the University of Florida at Gainesville, for a lecture on the "Future of Student Affairs" at 1 p.m., May 20, in the University Center Ballroom 4. Interested faculty and staff are invited to attend.

Communique Schedule Reminder

The Communique will begin its summer schedule, published every other week, May 9 and will continue through Aug. 9. The deadline for copy will be noon on Mondays, instead of Tuesdays starting with the May 23 issue.

QUALITY FACULTY . . . QUALITY STAFF

Mike Bradley, Small Businesses and Technical Development Center, received funding for his project titled "Marine Trades."

Sue Cody, Randall Library public services, Arlene Hanerfeld, Randall Library technical services, and Ron Johnson, Randall library, presented a program on Randall Library's ERIC database, titled "Customizing Reference Databases: A Case Study of ERIC," at the Innovative Users Group annual meeting April 28 in Providence, R.I.,. They and Dan Pföhl, head of technical services at Fayetteville State University, demonstrated the UNC Coastal Library Consortium's Innopac World Wide Web software and its interconnected modules at the Reference Department of Brown University.

Barry Salwen, fine arts/music, appeared at the University of California at Berkeley, San Francisco State University and the San Jose State University. He performed his original lecture-recital "The Piano Sonatas of Roger Sessions" and took part in a concert with the works of George Crumb. This concert was part of a three-day Crumb residency at San Jose State University to which Salwen was invited as a special guest performer. At the University of California at Berkeley, where Sessions once taught, Salwen gave a guest presentation on the music department's Colloquium Series.

Barry Salwen and Frank Bongiorno, fine arts/music, with Karen Williams, student soprano, took part in the recent Holocaust commemoration held on the UNCW campus. They performed "I Never Saw Another Butterfly," settings of poems written by children murdered at Auschwitz. The commemoration was attended by over 250 people and featured a concentration camp survivor as speaker. It was sponsored by several campus departments, including fine arts, philosophy and religion and history.

Bill McCarthy, history, delivered a paper, "Cashing the Last Conquistador: the Residencia of Don Sebastian Hurtado de Corcuera," at the annual meeting of the Society for Spanish and Portuguese Historical Studies in Tucson in April. He also attended the meeting of the North American Society for Oceanic History, held at the U.S.S. Constitution in Boston.

William Cleary, earth sciences and CMSR's Coastal Study Unit, attended the 22nd annual Assateague Shore and Shelf workshop held at Duke University Marine Lab in Beaufort, N.C. Cleary also led a day-long field excursion between Bogue Banks and Fort Fisher as part of the program.

Istvan Hargittai, distinguished visiting chemistry professor next year, is headlining a symposium on symmetry at the Smithsonian Institute in Washington, D.C., May 10.

Ned H. Martin, chemistry, was honored at the American Chemical Society meeting in Greenville, N.C., last week for his 25 years of service to the organization.

Paula Kamenish, English, had her article "Naming the Crime: Responses to the Papin Murders from Lacan, Beauvoir, and Flanner" published in the May 1996 issue of The Comparatist. The essay studies the theoretical and cultural contributions of Jacques Lacan, Simone de Beauvoir and Janet Flanner to the persistent controversy surrounding a grisly 1933 double murder.

John Clifford and Janet Ellerby, English, presented papers at the annual meeting of the Conference on College Composition and Communication in Milwaukee. Ellerby's paper is titled "Beyond the Cognitive: The Psychological Dynamics of Writing." Clifford's paper is "Composing Postmodern Ethics."

Andy Shepard, CMSR/NURC, received funding from the Burroughs Wellcome Foundation for co-support of Summer Ventures in Science and Mathematics, a high school summer program overseen by UNCW's Center for Teaching Excellence, and sponsored by the NC School for Math and Science.

Andy Shepard, Dave Dinsmore, Steven Miller and Craig Cooper, CMSR/NURC, published a paper titled, "Aquarius Undersea Laboratory: Deployment and Operation in the Florida Keys," in the Proceedings of the 13th Meeting of the United States-Japan Cooperative Program in Natural Resources (UJNR), Oct. 1995, Miura, Japan.

William Cleary, earth sciences and CMSR's Coastal Studies Unit, presented a seminar for the Brunswick County NC Beach and Shore Preservation Society in Ocean Isle Beach. The seminar focused on the chronic erosion problems and possible erosion mitigation scenarios at each of the six beach communities in the county. He was also a keynote speaker at UNCW's Fulbright Coastal Environmental Forum. His presentation dealt with North Carolina's coastal management issues. A second seminar involving man-induced coastal erosion in New Hanover County was presented at the associated Coastal Forum Workshop.

Maggie Parish, English, attended the Plessy vs. Ferguson Centennial Conference titled "Separate But (Un) Equal" at Harvard University's W.E.B. Du Bois' Institute April 21-22. The conference included a re-trial of the case before an appellate court as well as a panel discussion of the impact of the Plessy decision on law, business, education, health care, government and politics.

Andrew Shepherd, CMSR, received funding for oceanographic field support for summer ventures in science and mathematics.

Patricia Leonard Named Vice Chancellor for Student Affairs

The UNC Board of Governors meeting in Chapel Hill on May 10 named former dean of students Patricia Leonard vice chancellor for student affairs at UNCW. Since Jan. 1, 1996, following the resignation of William A. Bryan, she has served as interim vice chancellor for student affairs at the request of Chancellor James R. Leutze.

"Pat Leonard has served UNCW students well in her role as dean, and she has demonstrated leadership in handling numerous sensitive and complex issues," said Dr. Leutze. "It speaks well for former Vice Chancellor Bryan and his management of student affairs to develop staff to their potential to assume leadership roles of this magnitude. I am gratified that the UNCW Board of Trustees and the Board of Governors agreed with my recommendation of Dean Leonard to assume the vice chancellorship."

The Division for Student Affairs is charged with providing student services, meeting student needs, maintaining the quality of life on campus and providing out-of-classroom learning experiences. As vice chancellor, Leonard will supervise a staff of 60. Departments under her direction include University Union, Dean of Students, Housing and Residence Life, Student Development Center, Student Health and Wellness Center, Career Services and Campus Recreation.

Vice Chancellor Leonard came to UNCW in June 1983 as associate dean of students from Miami University in Ohio where she worked in student affairs. In fall 1987, she was promoted to dean of students at UNCW where she was responsible for a variety of student affairs programs including crisis intervention, the Greek system, judicial affairs, career services and student development.

Respected Art Historian Named Chair of UNCW's Art, Theatre Department

Respected art historian Anthony F. Janson has been named chair of the new Department of Art and Theatre at UNCW. Following a nationwide search for the chair of the Department of Fine Arts, "We began thinking about the advisability of restructuring," said Dan Plyler, interim dean of UNCW's College of Arts and Sciences. Art and theatre will combine into one department, and music will operate its own department, chaired by Frank Bongiorno.

Janson has been a visiting associate professor in UNCW's Fine Arts Department since 1994 and previously served as chief curator of the North Carolina Museum of Art in Raleigh. Janson is the revising author of H.W. Janson's classic History of Art, the standard text used in college art history courses nationwide. Janson is regarded as one of the world's foremost authorities on American painting.

Jo Ann Seiple Named Dean of College of Arts and Sciences

The UNC Board of Governors approved the appointment of Jo Ann Seiple as dean of the College of Arts and Sciences at UNCW. She will assume her duties July 1, 1996. Seiple is currently associate vice chancellor for the Division of Academic Affairs at UNCW.

Reporting directly to the provost, the dean provides leadership to the largest academic unit of the university, with oversight of 53 undergraduate degree programs in 15 departments involving more than 300 permanent faculty and serving more than 3,300 majors. The dean provides curricular, advisory and faculty support as needed to programs offered by the Cameron School of Business, the School of Nursing, the Watson School of Education and other departments on campus.

"Chancellor Leutze has made a fine choice in Jo Ann Seiple as Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences. She is a demonstrated academic leader, and I look forward to the direction that she will bring to the college," said Marvin Moss, provost and vice chancellor for academic affairs.

After joining the English faculty in 1979, Seiple began her administrative career at UNCW as director of composition. She served as assistant dean of the College of Arts and Sciences for five years and as acting dean of the College of Arts and Sciences from 1989-1990.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Service Awards Luncheon

Twelve retirees will be recognized along with 25 employees with five years, 28 with ten, nine with 15 years, two with 20 years and one with 25 years of service. The UNCW Award of Excellence will be presented during the ceremony. The recipient will become the university's nominee for the Governor's Award of Excellence. The following employees have been nominated: Donna Lamont, graduate studies, Sharon Connelly, library, Joseph Browning, athletics, Allyson Hardison, chemistry, Tim NeCaise, physical plant, Dorothy Taylor, physical plant, Leah Payne, student affairs, Cheryl Hicks, student affairs, Yousry Sayed, student academic support programs, Judy Thomas, public service, Timothy Green, physical plant, Billy Graves, physical plant and Jeff Brown, physical plant.

The keynote speaker will be Glen Ward from Columbia, S.C., humorist and inspirational speaker. Mistress of ceremonies will be Carole Tallant, communication studies. If you have any questions, please call Kimberly Best-Tuten at ext. 3712.

WANCHE Conference

Pembroke State University is the host site for the spring WANCHE Conference, June 6-7. The program title is "In a Mirror, Through a Window: Perspectives on Leadership." Through the sharing and discussion of personal experiences, participants will examine questions concerning how women lead, how they learn to lead and who their role models are. They will also discuss the commonalities and differences of leading different kinds of institutions. The conference fee of $70 (includes meals and materials) is due by May 29. For additional information, please contact Diane Billings in Student Affairs, ext. 3117.

Cornerstone Award Winners

The Office of Housing and Residence Life announces the winners of the Cornerstone Award for the 1995-96 academic year. Jeff Brown, physical plant and Louis Pittman, M & C Cumberland, on-site supervisor for contracted housekeeping, for their outstanding contributions to the Office of Housing and Residence Life.

Farewell Reception

Please join Student Affairs for a farewell reception for Dick Mullendore 9:30 to 11 a.m., June 14, in the University Union Living Room. Mullendore has accepted the position of vice chancellor for student life at the University of Mississippi.

Announcements from Academic Affairs

The University of North Carolina General Administration is conducting a search for an associate vice president for academic affairs. Applications from potential candidates are due at General Administration by June 3. A copy of the announcement is available in Academic Affairs, AL 111.

Effective July 1, 1996, the existing Department of Fine Arts will be replaced by the Department of Music, chaired by Frank Bongiorno, and the Department of Art and Theatre, chaired by Anthony Janson.

Congratulations!

Congratulations to human resources, internal audit and university advancement for 100 percent participation in giving to UNCW three years in a row! All gifts, cash and non-cash, should be processed through university advancement in a timely manner. IRS tax regulations require advancement to receipt all donations of $250 or more. A returned check is no longer valid proof of a charitable donation. UNCW must comply with these laws. Please call ext. 3937 for further information.

University Employees Holding Public Office

University employees who wish to run for or hold any elective or appointive public office are subject to regulations adopted by the Board of Governors. For many types of office, the regulations require that before becoming a candidate for or occupying the office the university employee must make certain disclosures and receive various approvals on a prescribed schedule, or risk losing university employment. A copy of the full text of the board regulations may be obtained from the Office of the Chancellor. Advice concerning the interpretation and application of the policies may be obtained from Hal White, university counsel.

Saltwater Facility at CMSR

The new saltwater facility at CMSR is now fully operational. Sea water and filtered sea water are available to all users. For information call 251-3721.

Macintosh Users Group

Macintosh users in and around Wilmington are invited to join the newest users group, WAMO (Wilmington Area Macintosh-Users Organization). General meetings are scheduled for the second Wednesday of each month at 7 p.m. in Cameron Hall's auditorium. Members are now forming committees to develop a WAMO web site, newsletter, freeware and shareware disks. Separate group meetings for beginners, worldwide web groups and specialized software and hardware discussions and demonstrations are being planned. For more information call ext. 3883.

Ethics Policy Conflict of Interest

Administrative Procedure MSC 1.50 is designed to assist employees in avoiding situations where conflict of interest may arise. Conflict of interest situations could arise, for example, whenever: university resources are utilized for personal gain; an employee utilizes the influence of his or her position within the university to profit personally or an employee knowingly fails to uphold the trust of the state or agency by which he or she is employed.

This procedure also identifies specific areas where conflict of interest situations would more likely occur. Examples include: vendor relationships, secondary and dual employment, use of university resources, contractual arrangements, political activities, management of contracts and grants and management and use of financial resources.

Administrative Procedure MSC 1.50 is the primary source to assist employees in identifying and avoiding conflict of interest situations. Faculty employees may find additional guidance in the Faculty Handbook and in guidelines provided by UNC General Administration.

THE OFFICIAL BULLETIN OF UNCW

University Advancement

Vol. XXV, No. 38 June 6, 1996

Vickie L. Yearby, editor

Fire Safety Is Top Priority at UNCW

"The tragic fire that occurred recently at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill has led to a heightened awareness on this campus of the importance of safety issues. Through the Safety Office and the Division of Business Affairs, safety has been and will continue to be a full-time concern. A three-person safety department provides rigorous and extensive fire safety training programs," stated Chancellor James R. Leutze.

"The UNCW campus buildings were constructed to stringent building codes for state buildings. Over the life of these buildings, code regulations are updated. The university has always maintained an aggressive program of maintenance and upkeep with the repair and renovation monies allocated by the General Assembly.

"Safety of students, faculty and staff is a priority. It is the responsibility of everyone on our campus to be ever vigilant in our efforts to have a safe workplace. If any member of our community has a question about safety issues, contact the UNCW Safety Office at ext. 3108," said Dr. Leutze.

John Geddie, director of safety for UNCW, said that UNCW has a very successful fire safety program in place. "Since all of our student residence facilities are relatively new, the construction and provision for fire safety was inspected and approved by the State Construction and State Insurance offices, ensuring that all codes were met," said Geddie. The fire alarms are inspected on a regular basis by the Safety Department and the residence hall staff and maintained by campus electricians. Three formal safety and health inspections are conducted annually to inspect each resident's room for fire hazards, electrical hazards and general health and safety of the resident's living area. These inspections are conducted by the Safety Department and the residence hall staff.

"We have a training program for all the university employees who live and work in the residence halls to acquaint them with the proper actions to take in the event a fire alarm sounds," stated Geddie.

University Advancement Vice Chancellor Bill Anlyan to Step Down June 30, 1996

William Anlyan Jr., vice chancellor for university advancement since February 1992, will be leaving the university June 30 to go into private business. M. Tyrone Rowell, associate vice chancellor for university advancement, will serve as interim vice chancellor beginning July 1. A national search will be conducted for Anlyan's successor.

"Bill has made significant contributions to UNC Wilmington during his tenure, and we are extremely sorry to see him leave higher education," said Dr. Leutze. "I am especially proud of his work in leading the capital campaign which has already exceeded its original goal of $15 million and now stands at $18 million raised."

Philip Gerard Named President of National Writing Group

Philip Gerard, professor of English and director of the professional and creative writing program at UNCW, was elected president of Associated Writing Programs, the leading professional organization for professors and students of creative writing.

Professor Gerard's election to the presidency will bring nationwide visibility to UNCW's Master of Fine Arts in Creative Writing program, which will be offered beginning the fall 1996 semester. This MFA is one of two offered in the UNC system and one of three in the entire state.

"We consider this a significant international honor for the university. We are very proud of Professor Gerard," stated Marvin K. Moss, provost and vice chancellor of academic affairs.

UNCW's institutional membership for the past six years in Associated Writing Programs provides writing faculty and students with the benefits of the organization. The organization sets guidelines for good practices in teaching writing, from the size of classrooms to conducting workshops effectively.

"Associated Writing Programs sets standards for writing programs all across the country," said Gerard. More than 290 North American colleges and universities are members of Associated Writing Programs.

Judy Thomas Receives UNCW Staff Award of Excellence

Judy Thomas, program director for the Children's Academy and Adult Professional Development at UNCW, was presented with the Staff Award of Excellence at UNCW's 21st annual Service Awards luncheon on June 6. As the Staff Award of Excellence recipient, Mrs. Thomas becomes UNCW's Governor's Award for Excellence nominee.

Mrs. Thomas received a check for $1,500 designated by the Board of Trustees, a reserved parking space for one year and three days of vacation leave. She was chosen from 14 nominees.

The award is presented to an employee whose service to the university best exemplifies devotion to duty, innovations, public service, safety/heroism or human relations. Mrs. Thomas was nominated for exceptional public service.

She began her employment with UNCW in 1976 as secretary to the director of the Counseling and Testing Center. In 1985 she moved to Special Programs, which is now the Division for Public Service and Extended Education. Mrs. Thomas assisted in writing a $43,000 grant which funded the North Carolina Teen Institute (NCTI), a one-week residential alcohol, tobacco and other drug prevention based program for high-risk youth. NCTI has served more than 500 youths.

In 1994, she collaboratively developed the Children's Academy, which offers multi-cultural art, music and other courses for children ages 4-12. Mrs. Thomas has also served as co-director and UNCW liaison for the North Carolina School for Alcohol and Drug Studies.

UNCW Women's Ultimate (Frisbee) Club Wins National Championships

Congratulations to the UNCW Women's Ultimate Club for winning the national Collegiate Club championships in Minnesota. UNCW, ranked number one in the league, beat the number two team from Stanford University. The final score was 19-15. This was the second national win for UNCW Women's Ultimate Club. They won last year's national championships in Princeton, N.J.

BellSouth Awards UNCW Watson School of Education $125,000 to Improve Principals' Leadership Skills

The BellSouth Foundation will fund $125,000 over two years to the Watson School of Education to improve leadership skills of public school principals through cross-campus exchanges via the North Carolina Information Highway.

The announcement was made at a press conference on June 7 at UNCW by Kay Warner, director for corporate external affairs for BellSouth in Wilmington, and Watson School of Education Dean Robert Tyndall. The grant enhances the North Carolina Principal Fellows Program funded two years ago by the N.C. Legislature to make sweeping changes in the way administrators are identified, prepared, evaluated and certified. The principal training currently in place at UNCW and eight other universities blends theory, practice and continuous assessments with new degree requirements, internships and licensure standards.

The BellSouth funding will be used to provide opportunities for cross-campus exchanges via the North Carolina Information Highway.

"UNCW is a leader in using technology for education, and this grant reinforces that leadership as we apply creative means to meet the challenges facing education today. Our deep appreciation is extended to BellSouth for their trust and support," said Chancellor James R. Leutze.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Randall Library Schedule

Between Summer Sessions I and II the library will be open from 7:45 a.m. to 6 p.m. on June 21 and 24. The library will be closed June 22 and 23.

Proposals for Research

All proposals for research involving human subjects should be sent to Julian Keith, psychology, for review during June. During July and August send proposals to Candace Gauthier, philosophy and religion.

Thank You

Molly Sloan would like to thank all the UNCW faculty and staff who supported the Consortium for the Advancement of Public Education (CAPE) during her tenure as executive director. She begins her new position in July as executive director of the Southwest Educational Alliance in Charlotte.

Sounds of Summer Concerts

The second annual Sounds of Summer Family Concert series will begin June 27. Each concert begins at 6 p.m. at the Gazebo. Families are invited to bring picnic dinners or purchase food from a vending cart. The concerts, co-sponsored by WECT-TV 6 and UNCW, are free.

Leesburg, a country music group, will perform on June 27. On July 11, Fendal, an alternative rock band, will perform. Michael Wolfe and the Wolfe Gang, a five piece band that plays a mixture of R & B, rock, blues and other sounds, will perform on July 25. On Aug. 8, the Andrew Thielen Big Band, a 17-piece ensemble, will play big band jazz. Reggae music from the Amateurs can be heard on Aug. 22. The Purple Schoolbus, a seven-piece band compared to the Grateful Dead, will play on Sept. 19, and a rockabilly trio, Studebakers, will perform on Sept. 26.

Master of Science in Accountancy Graduation

UNCW will graduate its first class of MSA students at 10:30 a.m., June 22, in Cameron Hall Auditorium. The MSA program began in the fall of 1995 and is a full-time program consisting of 30 semester credit hours. The program is open to all majors, not just accounting majors.

"We in the Cameron School are very proud of the 23 inaugural candidates from this program. Upon graduation they will scatter from Wilmington to Los Angeles, Chicago and Florida. We know they will represent North Carolina, Wilmington and UNCW well. They have set a high standard of achievement for future MSA students to meet," stated Howard O. Rockness, dean of the Cameron School of Business Administration.

Department of Music to Offer Summer Jazz Camp

UNCW's Department of Music will offer a summer jazz camp July 14-19. The camp is designed to meet the needs of participants of varying abilities and experience levels, including middle school students and advanced players, and will cover virtually every aspect of jazz study. Participants will be assigned to ensembles and classes based on skills determined at the placement audition on the evening of check-in-day. Camp fees are $250 for resident participants and $175 for commuter participants. For more information call ext. 3390.

Museum of World Cultures Exhibits

The Museum of World Cultures staff invites faculty, staff and students to visit their new display, "Real Stuff, Fake Stuff and Tourist Stuff." The exhibit features textiles, carvings, clothing, Pre-Columbian pottery, fertility figurines and other objects from Africa, the Pacific Northwest, Central and South America and Oceania. It is located in the large case inside the Randall Library door and will run through July 31.

Please welcome the following new employees: Julie Owen/University Union; Anthony Green/Physical Plant; Katherine Egbert/VCPS; Duane Grooms/University Union; Edward Roggenstein/CMSR; Deedra Smith/Center for Economic & Business Services & Parminder Bajaj/Auxiliary Services.

Purchasing Announcement

The fiscal year end is quickly approaching! During the last full week of June (June 24 - 28), Purchasing will process only emergency orders. Full-time attention will be devoted to receiving goods against outstanding orders. Please assist us in making this a successful year end by signing off on your partial and pink PO receiving copies quickly upon receipt of goods. If you are concerned about any particular PO, call the appropriate purchasing agent. State-appropriated purchases not received by June 28 will be carried over to next fiscal year's budget.

Summer Faculty Payroll

Summer Session I faculty payroll checks will be available from 7:45 a.m. to 4:15 p.m. June 28 at the Cashier's Office. Proper identification is required.

Leave Reports Due

All leave-earning employees must complete timesheets or leave earnings records by June 30. Human Resources will provide listings of employees to departments by June 25. The department should fill in both vacation and sick balances for each employee, have the department head or director sign the report, and forward it to Human Resources by July 5. If you have questions regarding the leave balances report, call Alice Maile, ext. 3392.

Holiday Reminder

McLaurin Appointed Associate VC for Academic Affairs

Provost Marvin K. Moss is pleased to announce the appointment of Melton McLaurin as associate vice chancellor for academic affairs effective July 23, 1996. McLaurin, who has been on the faculty at UNCW since 1977, is a renowned teacher and scholar, recipient of the Distinguished Teaching Professorship in 1995 and the UNC Board of Governors' Award for Excellence in Teaching in 1996. He served as chair of the Department of History from 1977 to 1991 and has been very active in faculty governance and service through the Faculty Senate, the Senate Steering Committee and numerous committees at department, college and university levels.

History Professor Donates Copies of 200-Year-Old Documents to Caddo Tribe

David La Vere, assistant professor of history, presented scores of 200-year-old documents dealing with Caddo history to the Caddo Indian Tribe of Oklahoma at a dance held June 15 at the Caddo tribal grounds in Binger, Okla.

La Vere has written a manuscript on the early history of the Caddo Indians titled The Caddo Chiefdoms: Caddo Economics and Culture, 800 A.D.-1835. The manuscript is being considered by the University of Nebraska Press for publication in the next year or so.

While researching the manuscript, La Vere visited the Archivo General de Indias in Seville, Spain, one of the largest depositories of documents dealing with the Caddos. The documents, including letters, reports, and censuses, were written by Spanish and French creole officials in Louisiana and Texas during the eighteenth century.

During his research, La Vere photocopied hundreds of these documents from the Colonial Archives in Paris and records housed at the Natchitoches Parish Courthouse in Natchitoches, La., originally a French town built among the Caddos in 1713 and the oldest town in the Louisiana Purchase. The photocopied documents will be housed in the Caddo Indian Tribe's tribal archives at Binger.

Move-In '96: A Call for Volunteers

By volunteering just five hours of your time on Sat., Aug. 17, you can make Move-In '96 a successful event for the university. On Aug. 17, 4,000 family members will arrive to settle one of our largest freshman classes ever. More than 1,100 students will move to the UNCW campus that day.

For participating you will receive a free t-shirt, meals during your service and a party in your honor on Sept. 17. Any office or department with 100 percent participation will receive a pizza party and a framed commemorative illustration.

Volunteers may choose morning, afternoon or full-day participation. Morning volunteers will arrive at 8 a.m. Afternoon volunteers will arrive at noon. Your support is crucial to the success of this event. Forms will be mailed to each staff member. Please return your volunteer commitment form to the Office of Housing and Residence Life by July 12. Call ext. 3241 for information or E-mail mccartneyw.

Help Keep Our Waters Clean!

Big Sweep
Keep America Beautiful of New Hanover County

Big Sweep

North Carolina Big Sweep, now in its 10th year, is committed to ridding our waters of trash through education and an annual statewide waterway clean-up. Keep America Beautiful of New Hanover County has been selected by the Center for Marine Conservation Washington, D.C., as one of four locations in the country to design a pilot project of public education. This program will then be offered statewide and nationwide to Coastal Clean-up participants.

As a resident of this area, you should be aware of the importance of improving the appearance of our beaches and waterways as well as reducing water pollution.

You can help by following these easy steps: be sure that all of your trash, including cigarette butts, is disposed of in a proper receptacle; take a bag with you to the beach and pick up trash as you walk; never discard trash overboard from a boat and be aware that everything thrown or washed into a storm drain doesn't go to the sewer — it goes into our waterways. Participate in waterway clean-ups. Big Sweep is the third Saturday in September.

Revised Policies for Procedure Manual

The following revised policies for the Administrative Policies and Procedures Manual have been approved and are now accessible on-line to university departments.

HR 1.60 - Employment of Undergraduate Students is a revised procedure that includes updated information regarding the listing of all federal work-study vacancies and all work-assistance vacancies, pay rate changes for undergraduate student employees and notification to Career Services when a federal work-study student or work-assistance student is no longer working for the department.

HR 2.10 - Time Keeping and Administration of Leave Programs for EPA and SPA Employees has been revised to include updated information regarding university policies on overtime and compensatory time, vacation leave, sick leave, holidays and other time-keeping categories.

The Administrative Policies and Procedures Manual can be accessed by typing INFO at the username prompt on VXA, VXB, or VXC on the VAX, through SNBALLEXP, through FRS and SIS menus and on Netscape via the UNCW Gopher Service.

New Science Building Ready for Occupancy

UNCW's new Science Building was completed and ready for occupancy July 15. Faculty began moving in on Monday. The building houses the chemistry and biological sciences departments. Construction for the new science building was made possible by the bond issue passed in November 1993 for capital improvements at UNC-system universities.

The state-of-the-art building, which cost more than $18.5 million, contains a specially built-up slab in the western part of the building to eliminate vibration for highly sensitive and powerful electron microscopes, lecture rooms that support the latest multimedia teaching capabilities and research labs with running hot, cold and deionized water, compressed air, vacuum and specialty gases.

UNCW Chancellor James R. Leutze invited the media to tour UNCW's new Science Building on July 9. Located beside Cameron Hall, the Science Building is one of the largest and most complex construction projects on the bond issue.

"I would like to thank the North Carolina voters for supporting the bond issue that made this building possible. The fact that we were able to start and finish this complex project in two-and-a-half years illustrates what can be done when the voters provide education dollars.

"I hope this example is noted by the legislators now gathered in Raleigh hammering out a budget. Projects like this are investments in our future. In ten years more than 12,500 students will have studied in these laboratories and classrooms. We expect another 2,500 will be reached through distance learning.

"With continued support we will follow through on our promise to make UNCW the finest undergraduate teaching facility in the South by the year 2000," stated Dr. Leutze.

Following Chancellor Leutze's remarks Chemistry Department Chair Ned Martin and Biological Sciences Department Chair Ronald Sizemore led the media through the impressive 100,000 square foot building. The tour pointed out many of the building's highlights and most technologically advanced features. Among the rooms featured were an environmental room, an electron microscope lab, an organic chemistry lab and the auditorium.

Bertha Breezes by UNCW

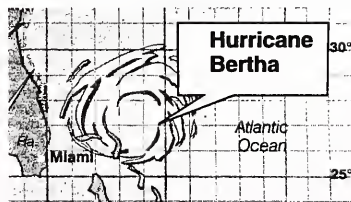

While Hurricane Bertha tore across area beaches, the damage to UNCW was minimal thanks to careful preparations. The hurricane slowed down as it approached the Carolina coast allowing more time to complete preparations.

UNCW officials closed campus at 11 a.m. July 11, in conjunction with the mandatory evacuation of area beaches. Dick Scott, assistant vice chancellor of business affairs and chair of UNCW's hurricane emergency committee, said that students, faculty and staff acted promptly in securing their areas. The campus was evacuated in four hours.

Bertha's 105 mph winds hit UNCW hard, but the damage was minimal. Eighty trees were damaged and the campus sustained some water damage, but there was no structural damage. There were some losses due to the lack of power, particularly in the area of scientific research. Total damages are estimated to be $60,000.

UNCW had no stable supply of power until late Sunday afternoon. The university received an initial feed of power late Saturday, but the power had to be diverted by CP&L to Cape Fear Memorial Hospital whose substation was not functioning properly.

The hurricane emergency phone line is ext. 3991. This line, which operates by voice mail, provides students, faculty and staff with the latest updates during a hurricane. Contact Physical Plant to report any physical damages and call the Office of Business Affairs at ext. 3139 for any other damages.

Judy Thomas Receives Governor's Award for Excellence

Congratulations to Judy Thomas for being selected as a Governor's Award for Excellence recipient. This year's ceremony will be held in Raleigh in September. The award is presented to a state employee who best exemplifies devotion to duty, innovations, public service, safety/heroism or human relations. Thomas was nominated in the category for exceptional public service. She is the program director for the Children's Academy and Adult Professional Development in the Division of Public Service and Extended Education.

Thomas began her employment with UNCW in 1976 as secretary to the director of the Counseling and Testing Center. In 1985 she began working in Special Programs, currently the Division for Public Service and Extended Education. She assisted in writing the original $43,000 grant which funded the North Carolina Teen Institute, a one-week residential alcohol, tobacco and other drug prevention based program for high-risk youths. NCTI has served more than 500 teens.

In 1994 she collaboratively developed the Children's Academy which offers multi-cultural art, music and other courses for children ages 4-12. Thomas has co-directed and served as UNCW's liaison for the North Carolina School for Alcohol and Drug Studies since 1985.

Power Outage

Carolina Power and Light (CP&L) Company has requested an electrical power outage at their substation adjacent to the University Center. The purpose of the outage is to accomplish required repairs within the substation. The outage is scheduled for 8 a.m., Aug. 4, and will last four hours. The outage will affect the following buildings: Alderman Hall, Kenan Hall, Bear Hall, King Hall, Burney/Student Support, Kresge Greenhouse, Cameron Hall, Morton Hall, DeLoach Hall, Randall Library, Friday Hall, Social and Behavioral Sciences Building, Hanover Hall, Trask, Hoggard Hall, University Center, James Hall, University Union, Kenan Auditorium and Westside Hall. The shutdown was scheduled at a time that will inconvenience few people.

In order for UNCW electricians to accomplish some high voltage repairs, DeLoach Hall and Kenan Auditorium will be off line for approximately 10 hours starting at 8 a.m. the same day. If you have any problem concerning this, call the Physical Plant at ext. 3101.

Changes in Sorting Bulk Mail

U.S. Postal Services has recently made sweeping changes in the manner in which bulk mail must be sorted, bundled and tagged. If you incur difficulties in preparing bulk mailings in your office and need assistance, Printing Services will prepare your mailing at rates less than commercial mailing houses. The information in the University Policies and Procedures manual and in the handout provided by Printing Services concerning bulk mail preparation will be obsolete effective Oct. 1, and mailings prepared according to those instructions will be rejected by the U. S. Post Office. Mailings must be prepared in accordance with the instructions received at the USPS training sessions held on campus over the past several weeks. If you would like to attend a future training session, contact James Young at 3183.

Work Study Student Agreement

All work study students (new or returning) must fill out a new work agreement. Please have your students come by the Career Services office to pick up a work agreement as soon as they begin working.

VAX Shutdown

The VAX computer systems will be shutdown from noon, Aug. 2 through noon, Aug. 4. The air conditioning unit in the Computer Room will be serviced on Friday afternoon and Saturday. Electrical power will be out on Sunday morning. Internet access will also be affected for systems that use the VAXes for DNS (name) service. Questions or concerns can be addressed to Ray Humphries at ext 3799.

Unpaid Parking and Moving Violations Citations Are Due

Faculty and staff personnel who park and drive their vehicles on university property are subject to the same rules and regulations that apply to students. When a ticket is issued to a faculty or staff member he/she has seven days to file an appeal with Parking Administration. If an appeal is not filed or is denied by the appeals board, the fine must be paid at the Cashier's Office in James Hall. Starting with the 1996-97 school year, we will no longer re-register any faculty/staff vehicle or process payroll deduction for a parking permit until all outstanding parking citations are paid. If you are unsure if your fines are cleared up, please call ext. 3060.

Summer Hours End Next Week

Aug. 9, is the last day of summer hours. The university will return to regular hours Aug. 12. The Communique will be published every week starting with the Aug. 8 issue. The copy deadline for the Communique will be noon on Tuesdays.

Clyde Edgerton to Speak at Convocation

Clyde Edgerton, a North Carolina author, will speak at fall convocation at 4 p.m., Aug. 21, in Kenan Auditorium.

Edgerton is noted for his uncanny ability to create characters and stories that walk a thin line between reality and fiction. The Washington Post hailed him as "a miner of considerable skill, burrowing into the hillside of humanity to find the ore of characters so pure and so real they might just sit down beside us and tell us a tale." The Atlanta Journal & Constitution called him "a genius for characterization."

Edgerton grew up surrounded by 23 aunts and uncles who loved to tell stories. Their innate ability to spin great tales was passed on to Edgerton, who is the author of six novels, five of which are set in North Carolina.

His first novel, Raney, is the story of the first two years, two months and two days of a modern Southern marriage. Raney is a Free

Will Baptist and Charles is an Episcopalian. Clyde Edgerton's mix of humor and humanity in Raney has been compared to that of Mark Twain. Edgerton's latest novel is a Western set in Colorado at the turn of the century, but you can bet that the main characters are from North Carolina.

Edgerton was born and raised in Bethesda, N.C., and now lives in Durham. He has taught education, English and creative writing at the college level. He was chosen to serve as the Eudora Welty co-chair of Southern Studies at Millsaps College in Mississippi.

Convocation marks the beginning of the academic year. It also serves as a time to honor those with outstanding achievements.

A ribbon-cutting ceremony at the new Science Building will follow convocation and a picnic will be served on the grounds.

State Employees Pay Increase

The General Assembly, in last-minute budget deliberations that ended Aug. 3, approved a 4.5 percent pay increase for state employees effective Sept. 1. The funding will be applied to the Comprehensive Compensation System, a pay plan that has been on the books since 1993 but has remained unfunded. The increase will include a 2.5 percent cost of living increase and a 2 percent career growth component. This component will help state employees to move up in their salary grade, so that new employees will not begin at the same salary as long-time employees.

In addition to this two-part pay increase, state employees who are already at the top of their salary grade and who could not benefit from the career growth component, will receive a one-time 2 percent bonus. This bonus will help ensure that most state employees will receive the full 4.5 percent increase this year.

Retired state employees will also benefit from the budget approved in the special session of the General Assembly, since lawmakers approved a 4.4 percent increase for retirees.

UNCW Alumni Night with Port City Roosters

Join the UNCW Alumni Association for UNCW Alumni Night with the Port City Roosters at 6:30 p.m., Sunday, at Brooks Field. The evening will begin with a family-style hamburger/hot dog cookout. Then at 7:35 p.m., the Roosters will take on the Birmingham Barons in one of their final home games at Brooks Field. Tickets for food and admission to the game are $5 for adults and $2.50 for children 14 and under.

Thank You

Thank you from the staff of Printing Services to all who attended the Open House on July 30. Congratulations to Bill Moore, athletics, who won the door prize.

Take Grandchildren Snorkeling in Key Largo

Grandparents looking for an adventurous way to spend time with their grandchildren, ages 8 and up, can take them snorkeling in Key Largo this fall as part of a UNCW Marinequest program.

The trip, Nov. 21-26, is designed as an environmental, marine-focused educational experience that features snorkeling and visiting the habitats of Florida's diverse wildlife. Instructors Tom and Patricia Donovan-Potts have advanced certifications and more than 600 dives in the Florida Keys. Tom holds a B.S. in biology and an M.S. in marine biology and is assistant science director at NURC. Patricia is a faculty member at Coastal Carolina Community College in Jacksonville and has been an instructor for the Marine Resources Development Foundation and marine scientist for the Nature Conservancy.

Trip fee is $989 per person and includes airfare, lodging and some meals, ground transportation, fees, instruction, admissions, t-shirt and certificate. A deposit of $275 per person and registration form is due by Sept. 19 with balance due by Oct. 18. For more information call ext. 3578.

QUALITY FACULTY . . . QUALITY STAFF

Nanette P. Manning, Institutional Research, has been appointed electronic records officer for the university. This assignment is required by the North Carolina Public Records Law which went into effect July 1. An Aug. 7 memorandum to supervisory staff defines the process to be used in responding to requests for electronic records. Contact Manning at ext. 3522 or e-mail Manningn.

Barry Wray, production and decision sciences, had "A Simulation Model of an Operational Control Problem in a Stochastic Just-In-Time Production System" accepted for presentation and publication at S.E. INFORMS in Myrtle Beach in October.

David Bejou, management and marketing, Richard G. Mathieu, production and decision sciences, and Barry Wray, production and decision sciences, had "Determining the Important Relationships Among Determinants of Customer Loyalty: A Rule Induction Approach" accepted for presentation and publication at Decision Science Institute, Orlando, Fla. for November.

Philip Furia, English, participated in a live radio interview about his new book, Ira Gershwin: The Art of the Lyricist on the "Moiria Tapp Show" in Chicago on WBEX - Chicago NPR.

Bob Buerger and Jeff Hill, HPER, presented "Application of New Technology to Undergraduate Natural Resource-Based Leisure Education" at the International Congress of the World Leisure and Recreation Association in Cardiff, Wales.

UNCW International Friendship Program

The Office of International Programs invites faculty and staff to participate in the International Friendship Program by serving as a host to a UNCW international student. The program is for individuals, couples or families who would like to assist an international student in getting settled and feeling welcome in a strange, new environment. Hosts are asked to meet students at the airport, if possible, and to engage in some activity with the student at least once a month during the fall semester. For more information, call Heather Smith, ext. 3685 or e-mail Smithh.

Hiring Student Workers

All departments hiring work study and work assistant students for fall 96 need to fill out the Job Order (HR. 1.62) form and return it to Career Services in early August. This will allow Career Services time to list all the vacancies before students return for fall semester.

Staff Development

- Library Orientation Tour, 2 p.m., Aug. 20; 3 p.m., Aug. 21 and 22; 10 a.m., Aug. 26 and 30; 3:30 p.m., Aug. 27; 11 a.m., Aug. 28 and 2:30 p.m., Aug. 29. Call ext. 3760.

Please refer to the Staff Training and Development Booklet for registration information or call ext. 3712 for more information.

Increase in Contract Police Fees

As a result of the growing demand for police contract services, contract fees will be increased from $15 to $20 per hour. Call ext. 3184 for more information.

Scratch Pads

Printing Services will pick up scrap paper from your office, make it into scratch pads and deliver the pads to any department. Small amounts of paper may be sent through campus mail with a note attached identifying the paper as scrap. This is an excellent use of obsolete letterheads, forms, etc. Departments do not have to provide paper to receive free scratch pads, and there is no charge for this service. Call ext. 3183 to request a pick-up of scrap paper or to request a supply of scratch pads.

Work Study Student Agreement

All new and returning work study students must fill out a new work agreement. Have students go to the Career Services Office to pick up a work agreement as soon as they begin working.

Medical Insurance Annual Enrollment

Medical insurance annual enrollment is Aug. 1-Sept. 3. This is the only opportunity during the year to change medical plans. The State of North Carolina is offering the same two HMOs as last year - Physicians Health Plan a United Healthcare Company (PHP) and Blue Cross/Blue Shield of NC Personal Care Plan (PCP) - along with the state health plan. Informational packets including 1996 "IT'S YOUR CHOICE" booklet with enrollment application were mailed to home addresses during the first week of August. Enrollment applications must only be completed and forwarded to HR by employees electing to change medical insurance plans. Call ext. 3713 for more information.

Welcome

Please welcome the following new employees: Patricia Brock-Galcik and Michelle Starks/Psychology; Towanna Moore/Auxiliary Services; Faun Peters/Curricular Studies.

Shared Leave Donations

Please donate vacation leave to MaryAnn Strickland, fine arts, and Barbara Jackson, student development. Both employees are facing leave without pay during their absence from the university. Please send your confidential donations to Dale at Human Resources or call ext. 3161.

Financial Aid Book Money

The Financial Aid Office has announced that students with financial aid grants and scholarships in excess of their fall on-campus charges may use a portion of this aid to purchase their books at the Bookstore. This book-buying privilege will be effective on the first day of classes, Aug. 22. Additionally, students relying on the federal and private educational loans will be offered the same privileges via an agreement between the Financial Aid Office and Auxiliary Services. Students who will receive a refund after their fall charges have been credited will be allowed to receive an on-line Harco credit to be used at the Bookstore. This service will also be available effective Aug. 22.

Renting Regalia

Faculty who need to rent regalia for Aug. 21 convocation should call Jessiebeth Geddie at ext. 3054 no later than Aug. 14. Faculty who do not have a card on file will need to come to the bookstore to be measured for their rental.

THE OFFICIAL BULLETIN OF UNCW

University Advancement

Vol. XXV, No. 44 August 15, 1996

Vickie L. Yearby, editor

Chancellor Invites University Community to Convocation

At 4 p.m., Aug. 21, in Kenan Auditorium, the university will hold fall convocation. Our speaker this year will be noted North Carolina author Clyde Edgerton. This will be an event to mark the beginning of our academic year and a time to honor several persons for their outstanding achievements. This ceremony is one event where we invite all members of the university community to attend and share our vision for progress.

Following convocation, there will be a ribbon-cutting ceremony at the new Science Building, and a picnic will be served on the grounds of the Science Building (Rainsite Wagoner Hall). To provide for your attendance at these events, I am asking supervisors to operate their offices from 4 to 5 p.m. at minimum staff levels. We look forward to this as a memorable day. Please join us in celebrating the beginning of the academic year.

Dr. James R. Leutze

Board of Trustees to Meet at UNCW

The UNCW Board of Trustees will hold their regular quarterly meetings at UNCW next week. The full board meeting will be at 10:30 a.m., Aug. 21, in the Madeline Suite of Wagoner Hall. The board meeting will break for lunch at noon and will resume at 1:30 p.m.

The Business Affairs Committee will meet at 8 a.m., Aug. 20, in the new Science Building, Room 135. Their selected agenda items include a capital improvement progress report, parking regulations, endowment budgets, selection of an endowment board member and an architectural/engineering review.

The Student Affairs Committee will meet at 10:30 a.m., Aug. 20, in the University Union Glassroom. They will discuss the Career Services Center, the Student Development Center, orientation, student housing update and the Student Government Association.

The University Advancement Committee will meet at noon, Aug. 20, in Trask Coliseum, the Golden Seahawk Room. Selected agenda items include reports from Public Service, the athletic director and University Advancement.

The Academic Affairs Committee will meet at 2:30 p.m., Aug. 20, in Alderman Hall, Room 215, and the Long-Range Planning Committee will meet at 8 a.m., Aug. 21, in Trask, the Golden Seahawk Room.

William Gates of Hoop Dreams to Lecture at UNCW

"Hoop Dreams" is the remarkable, true story of two contemporary inner-city African-American high school students, William Gates and Arthur Agee. From the inner city to the all-white prep school to which they are recruited, the film spans five years.

After his graduation from Marquette in the fall of 95, Gates established set up the Hoop Dreams Foundation to give scholarships to high school and college students.

Gates will speak at 8:15 p.m., Aug. 22, in the University Center Ballroom. "Hoop Dreams" will be shown after he speaks.

Family Weekend Dates

The Seahawk Parents' Association has announced Family Weekend will be held Sept. 20-22. This does not coincide with Riverfest Weekend as it has in the past because of the timing of fall break. We hope to have wonderful participation from families and the university community. Please mark your calendars and plan to attend. If you would like to have an activity, reception or program included in the schedule of events, please contact Karla Carney at ext. 3089 or Linda Moore at ext. 3285. We look forward to seeing you Family Weekend!

UNCW International Friendship Program

The Office of International Programs invites faculty and staff to participate in the International Friendship Program by serving as a host to a UNCW international student. The program is for individuals, couples or families who would like to assist an international student in getting settled and feeling welcome in a strange, new environment. Hosts are asked to meet students at the airport, if possible, and to engage in some activity with the student at least once a month during the fall semester. For more information call Heather Smith, ext. 3685 or E-mail Smithh.

Interlibrary Loan Requests

Effective immediately, faculty, staff and students should make all interlibrary loan requests electronically through the library catalog or via the World Wide Web. If using the library catalogue, choose "G" from the main menu and follow the screen prompts. From the World Wide Web, choose "Interlibrary Services" from the UNC Coastal Consortium home page and follow the prompts. The url for the consortium is <http://uncclc.coast.uncwil.edu/>. As of Aug. 16, paper request forms will no longer be used for ILL. Call ext. 3273 for more information.

SEANC Scholarship Raffle

Faculty/Staff Golf Tournament

The faculty/staff golf tournament was a huge success with 12 teams and 46 players. The team of Jim Harris, Todd Wilkinson and Barry Brownell won first place. The team of Art Goodwin, Doug Johnson, Ray Cockrell and Don Sloan won second place. Tammy Blizzard and John Stokes won closest to the pin. Jo Kaylor won most accurate drive, and John Nasuti won longest drive. The team of Tammy Blizzard, Jeff Stanfield, Dave Girardot and Jim Scott won the most fun award.

A special thanks goes to Aramark for the great food, the UNCW Bookstore and the businesses that donated prizes. Thanks to Nancy Maready and Judy Gail for a superb job on handling the refreshment cart and to all the participants.

Sounds of Summer

The fifth Sounds of Summer concert will feature the reggae music of the Amateurs from 6:30 to 8 p.m., Aug. 22, at the Gazebo.

The concert is co-sponsored by WECT-TV6 and UNCW. Families are encouraged to bring lawn chairs and a picnic basket, or they can purchase food from a vending cart. No alcoholic beverages are permitted. In case of inclement weather, the concert will be rescheduled for Aug. 26. For more information call WECT-TV6 at 791-8070 or visit the Internet site <http://www.wect.com/events>.

Carrot Top to Perform at UNCW

The redheaded Carrot Top has become one of the top entertainers in the country. His live show has evolved into a spectacle of lights, lasers and music. Join the comedian at 8 p.m., Aug. 23, in Trask Coliseum. Carrot Top's popularity continues to grow after winning the 1994 American Comedy Award for Best Male Stand-up. Tickets are $12 for faculty, staff and the public and can be purchased at the University Union Information Desk, Kenan Auditorium Box Office, Manifest Tapes and Discs and School Kids Music and Video.

"Hoke: Lee's Modest Warrior" Topic of Museum Lecture

Author Dan Barefoot will present "Hoke: Lee's Modest Warrior," a lecture examining the historically neglected Confederate soldier who was called "the North Carolina Lee" at 11 a.m., tomorrow, at the Cape Fear Museum. Robert F. Hoke, the youngest major general in the Confederate Army, played a major role in nearly every significant battle in the Eastern theater, including the Battle of Fort Fisher. The lecture is free, and a book signing will follow.

Chancellor Student Hours

UNCW Jazz Ensembles Hold Fall Auditions

The UNCW Jazz Ensembles invite all interested musicians to audition and experience the excitement of playing jazz. Auditions for performing in one of the UNCW Jazz Ensembles will be held from 5 to 7 p.m., Aug. 22; 3 to 5 p.m., Aug. 23, and 3 to 7 p.m., Aug. 26 in Kenan Hall, Room 111. Musicians interested in auditioning should make an appointment at least 24 hours in advance by calling ext. 3390. Additional times to audition will be available upon request.

CAMPUS COMMUNIQUE

THE OFFICIAL BULLETIN OF UNCW

University Advancement

Vol. XXV, No. 45 August 22, 1996

Vickie L. Yearby, editor

UNCW Names African-American Cultural Center for Dr. Upperman

The ceremony dedicating UNCW's African-American Cultural Center in honor of the late Dr. Leroy W. Upperman will be held at 3 p.m., Aug. 29, in the University Union Living Room. The ceremony will be the official ribbon-cutting event naming the center in memory of the Wilmington physician. A tour of the Upperman Center will follow.

In 1991 Dr. Upperman established an irrevocable charitable trust that awarded approximately $400,000 to the university. He died Feb. 26, 1996. The trust will fund multiple endowed scholarships for African-American students and also support programming efforts of the Office of Minority Affairs. This is the largest contribution ever to UNCW by an African-American, according to Tyrone Rowell, interim vice chancellor for University Advancement.

The Upperman gift will serve as a "major addition to the UNCW financial aid program to recruit and retain academically strong African-American students in keeping with Dr. Upperman's philosophy of quality and excellence." Rowell said the first scholarships are expected to be announced next spring to recipients enrolled for the 1997 fall term.

Established in 1994 and opened in 1995, the African-American Cultural Center exists to provide all students, staff and faculty and the community an opportunity to explore the heritage, arts, literature and history of African-Americans. The center is dedicated to the promotion of increased knowledge and awareness of the African-American culture.

Dr. Upperman, who maintained a medical practice in the Wilmington area for 50 years, was active in the community. He served on the Board of Directors of the Community Boys and Girls Club, the United Way, the Greater Wilmington Chamber of Commerce, the Wilmington Redevelopment Commission and the New Hanover County Human Relations Commission. He was a lifetime member of the NAACP and a founding member of the Wilmington chapter of the Kappa Alpha Fraternity.

William Gates of "Hoop Dreams" Comes to UNCW

"Hoop Dreams" is the remarkable, true story of two contemporary inner-city African-American high school students, William Gates and Arthur Agee. From the inner city to the all-white prep school to which they are recruited, the film spans five years.

After his graduation from Marquette in the fall of '95, Gates set up the Hoop Dreams Foundation to give scholarships to high school and college students.

Gates will speak at 8:15 p.m., night, in the University Center Ballroom. "Hoop Dreams" will be shown after he speaks.

Sounds of Summer

The fifth Sounds of Summer concert will feature the reggae music of the Amateurs 6:30 to 8 p.m., Aug. 22, at the Gazebo.

The concert is co-sponsored by WECT-TV6 and UNCW. Families are encouraged to bring lawn chairs and a picnic basket or they can purchase food from a vending cart. No alcoholic beverages are permitted. In case of inclement weather, the concert will be rescheduled for Aug. 26. For more information call WECT-TV6 at 791-8070 or visit the Internet site <http://www.wect.com/events>.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

UNCW International Friendship Program

The Office of International Programs invites faculty and staff to participate in the International Friendship Program by serving as a host to a UNCW international student. The program is for individuals, couples or families who would like to assist an international student in getting settled and feeling welcome in a strange, new environment. Hosts are asked to meet students at the airport, if possible, and to engage in some activity with the student at least once a month during the fall semester. For more information call Heather Smith, ext. 3685 or E-mail Smithh.

Interlibrary Loan Requests

Effective immediately, faculty, staff and students should make all interlibrary loan requests electronically through the library catalogue or via the World Wide Web. If using the library catalogue, choose "G" from the main menu and follow the screen prompts. From the World Wide Web, choose "Interlibrary Services" from the UNC Coastal Consortium home page and follow the prompts. The url for the consortium is <http://uncclc.coast.uncwil.edu/>. As of Aug. 16, paper request forms will no longer be used for ILL. Call ext. 3273 for more information.

Non-Traditional Students' Social August 28

The annual Non-Traditional Students' Social will be held from 4 to 7 pm., Aug. 28, in the University Union Living Room. All students 25 years of age and older are invited to this informal and informative reception. Representatives of many university departments and offices will be on hand to welcome students and answer their questions about campus services and academic matters. Faculty and staff who would also like to attend are urged to do so to help welcome non-traditional students. If you have questions, contact Diane Edwards in the Dean of Students Office at ext. 3119.

Carrot Top to Perform at UNCW

The red-headed Carrot Top has become one of the top entertainers in the country. His live show has evolved into a spectacle of lights, lasers and music. Join the comedian at 8 p.m., Aug. 23, in Trask Coliseum. Carrot Top's popularity continues to grow after winning the 1994 American Comedy Award for Best Male Stand-up. Tickets are $9 for students and $12 for faculty, staff and public. They can be purchased at the University Union Information Desk, Kenan Auditorium Box Office, Manifest Tapes and Discs and School Kids Music and Video.

Chancellor Student Hours

The chancellor will hold student hours 3 to 4 p.m., Aug. 26.

University Women Social

The University Women of UNCW wish to invite all female faculty/staff and spouses of male faculty/staff to their fall social at 7 p.m., Aug. 28, in Center Stage Cafe. The purpose of this event is to welcome new folks to campus, socialize and introduce the organization whose main purpose is to give scholarships to deserving female students. Ida Newton, of INTRAVEL, will be the guest speaker. She will speak about different forms of travel.

SEANC Scholarship Raffle

Feminist Colloquium

The Feminist Colloquium will hold its first brown-bag lunch meeting at 12:15 p.m., Aug. 29, in the Faculty Common of Morton Hall. The reading to be discussed is "How Being a Good Girl Can Be Bad for Girls" by Deborah Tolman and Tracy Higgins. The article is on reserve or call ext. 3764 for a copy. All are welcome.

Poster and Print Sale

A poster and print sale will be held 9 a.m. to 5:30 p.m., Aug. 22 and 23, at the University Center.

Student Timesheet Deadline

The student timesheet deadline for September payment is 3 p.m., Aug. 28, in the Payroll Office. Pay day will be Sept. 13. The student timesheet deadline will be posted in Bulletin on the VAX for seven days prior to the payroll deadline.

Student Absences

The Office of the Dean of Students cannot and does not excuse student absences in cases of emergency (e.g., extended illness, hospitalization, death in family, etc.). If the student or parents are unable to contact instructors directly, a member of the office's staff will pass information onto the department. This notification serves to relay the information and is not a verification.

Shared Leave Donations

Shared leave donations are urgently requested to help three employees avoid financial hardship: Mary Ann Strickland, fine arts and the Dean's Office, Barbara Jackson, Student Development and Don Mintz, Physical Plant/plumbing. Any leave-earning employee may donate vacation leave to these employees by sending an approved leave form to Human Resources. Call ext. 3161.

Ordering T-Shirts

Purchasing has established a new contract with Seaspray Designs on Kerr Avenue for ordering T-shirts. Joe Keffer, the UNCW representative, can be reached at 762-0153. Artwork that was on file with the former vendor, Seaside Designs, is now at Seaspray. Any job that has an outstanding workshop sheet from Seaside will still be honored at Seaside. When ordering T-shirt printing, departments need to go to Seaspray Designs and complete a workshop sheet specifying quantity, style, color and art charges. The contact person, department, requested delivery date and phone number should be included. The department must input an electronic requisition referencing the vendor job number and send a copy as an attachment to Purchasing. Call ext. 7058.

Microcomputer Support

Faculty/staff whose desktop microcomputers are not functional should contact the support person or their liaison for their building. Faculty/staff who need assistance with functions on their computers should contact either the OIT help desk at ext. 3883 or Dana Ward for training at ext. 3803. Contacting the correct person will improve response time to problems. Please have your FAS number, located on the front of your machine, ready when you call in for service. The FAS number will be used as a reference/control number. Call Jeff Jolly at ext. 4015 for Hoggard, Social and Behavioral Sciences Building and James Hall; Steve Perry at ext. 3103 for Randall Library, DeLoach Hall and the new Science Building; Sam Chance at ext. 3096 for Morton Hall, University Union, University Center, Trask Coliseum and Hanover Hall; Dawn Boyes at ext. 4184 for Friday Hall, Westside Hall, Kenan Hall, Burney Student Support, Residence Life and Bear Hall (Philosophy and Religion and Dean of College of Arts and Sciences) and Kevin Violette at ext. 3096 for Alderman Hall, Wagoner Hall, Kenan Auditorium, Wise House, CMSR and King Hall.
